The matter of rental of the Town Hall to the High School pupils for plays, dances, rehearsals, etc., was discussed and it was decided that this Board had no authority to depart from the established schedule of rates for this purpose under the various votes of the Town on the subject.

The Committee on Town Hall reported concerning the feed wires for electric lights entering the Town Hall Building and it was voted that the wires connecting with the Town Hall Building in the rear be placed underground if possible.

The Town Hall Committee was authorized to make the changes recommended in the ventilating plant in the basement connecting with the police quarters in the Town Hall Building the same to be charged to the Police Department.

The Town Engineer submitted an estimate of the extra expense for laying the Lawson Road drain across Highland Avenue at a grade 8 feet below grade of about $150 and the Clerk was instructed to transmit the estimate to the parties interested.

A letter was received from Robert S. Goff Vice President and General Manager, Bay State Street Railway Co., under date of March 24, stating that they would as near August 1, as they could, consistent with prior obligations as to work of their track force, relay the track in Main Street from the Medford Line to Madison Avenue in conjunction with the street work of the Town.

The Clerk was instructed to make a list of contractors from whom to solicit bids for granolithic sidewalk work for 1913.

A letter was received and filed from W. A. Murtfield Co., soliciting an opportunity to bid.

J. A. Laraway appeared before the Board and asked that the Washington Street sidewalk be extended from Cross Street to Forest Street.

Mr. Laraway also complained of the way in which the Railroad Company had left Forest Street and damage that had been done to abutting premises by cutting up grass plots, leaving stones and rubbish, breaking cement driveways, etc. The matter was referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges.

Mr. Laraway asked that an additional street light be placed in Walnut Street at some point between the present one light and the incandescent next to the Parkway to light the bridge. The matter was referred to the Committee on Street Lights.

The Town Engineer was present and explained the situation, and the matter was referred to the Committee on Street Lights.

Brown for a granolithic sidewalk extending the length of his lot on Stratford Road, whereon a combination stable and garage is being erected said sidewalk not to be erected until the driveways to the stable are completed. A request was received from Edgar M. Young for the establishment of the grade of Foxcroft Road from Wedgemere Avenue to Salisbury Road. The Town Engineer reported that he had made a profile and probable grade line for that part of Foxcroft Road which lies between Wedgemere Avenue to Cambridge Street and which was at present a private way and stating that if the Board would authorize him to set grade stakes along Mr. Young's frontage he would do so at once. The Engineer was so authorized and the Clerk instructed to notify Mr. Young that only a probable grade could be given him at this time, the street being a private way and that this action on the part of the Board was not binding upon the Town.

An amended order was passed for the construction of an underground conduit by the Telephone Company on Washington Street from their office to Forest Street rescinding the order of March 18, which provided for the construction of the conduit in intersecting streets "as far as the first pole belonging to said company." The new order provides that this construction in intersecting streets shall proceed only "as far as the first or second pole," without regard to ownership. Otherwise and with the insertion of the statement that this order is "Granted in place of an order of similar import granted March 18, and hereby rescinded" the present order is the same as the original.

A letter was received and referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges from Henry D. Moore, 696 Drexel Bldg., Philadelphia, Pa., asking that Loring Avenue be improved in order that he might put a curb down and do his part towards putting it in shape.

Mr. Andrew Erickson of 53 Loring Avenue, appeared before the Board and asked that something be done to remedy the present alleged poor condition of Loring Avenue, and his remarks were seconded by Mr. Whitfield L. Tuck. The matter was referred to the Town Engineer as involving a matter of surface drainage.

RELIEF MEETING.

Committee to Solicit Aid Appointed by the Selectmen.

A meeting to take action in aid of the flood sufferers of the Middle West was held in the Town Hall on Sunday afternoon. The meeting was called to order by William J. Daly, chairman of the Board of Selectmen. Samuel I. Elder, Esq., offered a motion, that the Board of Selectmen select a representative committee of citizens to solicit contributions of money and clothing for those who had lost homes and employment by the flood and fires. Representative Winfield F. Prime spoke of the good work which Winchester had done on similar occasions and expressed the hope that no one would consider himself too poor to contribute his mite. He believed that one day's income from each working person in Winchester would be a fitting contribution from this town.

The Selectmen on Monday evening appointed the following committee under the chairmanship of Mr. Lewis Parkhurst:

Lewis Parkhurst
Sylvester H. Taylor
James J. Fitzgerald
James H. Roach
James H. Dwinell
John Nowell
John L. Aver
Daniel Murphy
Nathan H. Taylor

OBJECTS TO FILLING PONDS.

Winchester, Mass., March 29, 1913.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

I noticed in the records of the Selectmen's meeting a week or two ago that reference was made to some action being taken by the board toward the filling of the pond at Wedgemere, and in such action is seriously contemplated by the Board of Selectmen I desire to protest.

The waterways and ponds in our town constitute one of its most beautiful features, and anything which is done to fill them up, in my judgment will cause great injury to the beauty of the town. None of our streams or ponds should be filled except where Mr. Whitney is filling the pond on Main street, and the pond lying between the Woburn branch and the main tracks of the Boston & Lowell Railroad, with the exception of the river or stream which must always be kept open. Nothing has been done by any one in the care and improvement of our ponds and streams since the same were abandoned by the City of Boston as a source of its water supply, and consequently they have filled up more or less, and in a measure become polluted.

The pond opposite the Wedgemere station can be dredged or dug out at a relatively small expense, the material coming therefrom can be placed upon the knoll adjoining the pond, which was stripped of its loam by the Metropolitan Park Board, ever since a most unsightly spot, and with the covering in by the material taken from the pond and by sowing a little grass seed, the appearance of that locality can be greatly improved. To dig out the Aberjona River and clean out the pond in the center of the town cannot entail great expense, but whatever it may cost it will be money well spent in the beautifying of the town. In my opinion it is a wise and beneficial expenditure of town money to beautify the ponds and streams within its borders, and I trust our Board of Selectmen will neither be a party to, nor permit the filling up of the pond opposite the Wedgemere Station.

REV. GEORGE B. SPURR INSTALLED AS PASTOR.

Installation exercises marking the advent of Rev. George B. Spurr as pastor of the Third Congregational Unitarian Church of Hingham were held last Sunday afternoon. A number of clergymen took part and the full congregation attended.

The invocation was said by Rev. L. C. Dethlefs of Hyde Park. The scripture reading was by Rev. George H. Lewis of the Universalist Church of Hingham. Rev. Charles E. Park of the First Church of Boston, a former pastor at Hingham, preached the sermon, after which the prayer of installation was pronounced by Rev. William R. Cole of Cohasset. The charge to the pastor was delivered by Rev. William I. Lawrence of Cambridge. Ex-Gov. John D. Long extended the welcome of the church, and the address to the people was delivered by Rev. William F. Fenn, D. D., of Cambridge. The benediction was pronounced by the new pastor. Mr. Spurr comes to Hingham from Petersham, Mass. He is a son of the late Thomas S. Spurr of Winchester for many years town treasurer.

THE TIGERS LOST.

The Lakeviews turned the tables on the Nelson Tigers last Friday when they took a 9-0 game from them. The game was captured by Boyle's terrific home run. Sullivan and Hargrove pitched and the game was hard fought in every sense of the word.

WAS A SPECIES

OF ROBBERY.

Several weeks ago the STAR commented on the fact that the post offices were not dealing fairly with the public in cases where the regular postage stamps were put on parcels instead of parcel post stamps. Of course it was a mistake to put these stamps on parcels, but nevertheless it was wrong to cancel the stamps and compel the recipients of such packages to also pay for parcel post stamps. It was a species of robbing the public, but now it is pleasing to note that the post office department has a postmaster general who had fairness enough in his make up to quickly recognize the injustice of taking this money from the people, and has ordered annulled the parcel post regulation which requires double postage collected from the addresses when ordinary postage stamps have been affixed to parcels. Mr. Burleson holds that the people ought not to suffer from negligence of postmasters in not seeing that parcels bear proper stamps.

In the future all parcel post packages mailed with ordinary postage stamps and other mail-bearing parcel post stamps will be returned to the sender before the stamps are canceled.

The late Postmaster General Hitchcock did many things while in office that were not for the interest of the general public and this was one of them.

MEETING OF TREE WARDENS.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

Dear Sir:—I enclose circulars of the School for Tree Wardens which was in session last week at the Massachusetts Agricultural College. Not many men from the eastern part of the State are here but many from central and near by towns. It is planned to hold a longer term next year and I firmly believe it is the best opportunity that has ever been held out to any one to fit himself for the duties which bear rather heavily at times on the man who holds the office either of Tree Warden or Local Superintendent for the suppression of moths.

Very truly yours,

Samuel S. Symmes.

The subject discussed was spraying, materials used, cost of spraying, danger to animals, etc.

VICTORIA REBEKAH

LODGE ENTERTAINED.

The Star of the Zenith Rebekah Lodge of East Boston visited Winchester last Friday as the guests of Victoria Rebekah Lodge of this town. The evening was a regular meeting night and the affair was held in Masonic Hall.

A picture of the first officers to Victoria Lodge was presented to the visiting lodge, the presentation being made by Past Grand George A. Ambler. Remarks were made by the Noble Grand and Vice Grand of Ida Butler Lodge of Arlington and of Stoneham Lodge. A banquet followed the meeting in the lodge room at which Mrs. Etta M. Powers, Noble Grand of Victoria Lodge, presided.

MRS. SUSAN COCHRANE.

Mrs. Susan (Wilson) Cochrane, aged 78 years, died at the Home for Aged People on Kendall street, Saturday. She had been in poor health for some time, but her death was caused primarily by an attack of pneumonia.

Mrs. Cochrane was the widow of the late David Cochrane. Her maiden name was Webster, and she was a native of Sandwich, N. H. She had been an inmate at the Home for the past five years.

Funeral services were held at the Home on Monday afternoon at four o'clock, conducted by Rev. Henry E. Dodge, pastor of the First Baptist Church. The remains were taken to Sandwich, N. H., for interment.

WORCESTER—PRIEST.

The wedding of Miss Helen Louise Priest, daughter of Mrs. S. R. Priest of Wildwood street, and Mr. Clarence Irving Worcester, son of Mr. George H. Worcester of Beacon street, Boston, was quietly observed at the Unitarian Church yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Joel H. Metcalf, pastor of the church, the only attendants being the mother of the bride and Mrs. George S. Bartlett of this town, sister of the groom. The couple left on a short wedding trip immediately after the ceremony.

The advertised list of neglected deposits in one Boston savings bank nearly filled four newspaper pages, but it appears that the amount of the deposits in ninety-five per cent of the cases does not exceed five cents.

The question arises in many places whether to let out construction—such as highways, water and sewer pipes—to contractors who employ non-resident labor or to have the work done by citizens at day work under the supervision of heads of departments. Probably there would be a larger outgo by 20 to 25 per cent the last way, but on the other hand the work is a help to some and would enable them to preserve their independence as regards finding outside help necessary, and the money is kept in circulation in town. The saving, then, in employing outside contractors and workmen is perhaps more apparent than real. —Reading Chronicle.

The funeral of Patrick Craughwell took place last Friday morning. High mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Mary's Church at 9.30. Rev. Francis E. Rogers being the celebrant. The fire department was called to the Winchester station on Monday evening for Dr. H. S. Olmsted's automobile, which caught fire in some unaccountable manner. The car had been standing at the station for some time before the blaze started, and it is thought the carburetor caused it in some way. The damage was not large.

On Tuesday morning the auto chemical was called to the house No. 4 Maple road at the Highlands for an overheated furnace, the smoke pipe getting red hot. The house is occupied by Mr. David H. Chapin. No damage resulted.

The Easy Laxative

In justice to yourself you should try Rexall Orderlies,—your money back if you don't like them. They are a candy confection that really do give easy relief from constipation.

Good health is largely dependent upon the bowels. When they become sluggish the waste material that is thrown off by the system accumulates. This condition generates poisons which circulate throughout the body, tending to create coated tongue, bad breath, headache, dull complexion, nervousness, biliousness and other annoyances.

Avoid harsh cathartics and physics. They give but temporary relief. They often aggravate the real trouble. They are particularly bad for children, delicate or aged persons.

Rexall Orderlies

Come in tablet form, taste just like candy and are noted for their easy, soothing action upon the bowels. They don't purge, gripe, cause nausea, looseness, nor the inconveniences attendant upon the use of purgatives. Their action is so pleasant that the taking of Rexall Orderlies almost becomes a desire instead of a duty.

Children like Rexall Orderlies. They are ideal for aged or delicate persons as well as for the most robust.

They act toward relieving constipation, and also to overcome its cause and to make unnecessary the frequent use of laxatives. They serve to tone and strengthen the nerves and muscles of the bowels and digestive organs or glands.

Make Us Prove It

We guarantee to refund every penny paid us for Rexall Orderlies if they do not give entire satisfaction. We ask no promises and we in no way obligate you. Your mere word is sufficient for us to promptly and cheerfully refund the money.

Doesn't that prove that Rexall Orderlies must be right? You must know we would not dare make such a promise unless we were positively certain that Rexall Orderlies will do all we claim for them. There is no money risk attached to a trial of Rexall Orderlies, and in justice to yourself, you should not hesitate to test them.

Rexall Orderlies come in convenient vest-pocket size in boxes: 12 tablets, 10c; 36 tablets, 25c; 80 tablets, 50c.

CAUTION: Please bear in mind that Rexall Remedies are not sold by all druggists. You can buy Rexall Orderlies only at The Rexall Stores. You can buy Rexall Orderlies in this community only at our store:

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

In behalf of popular town government and home rule I wish to tell your readers, that the joint special committee on Municipal Finance, in their report House document, No. 1803, pages 18 to 26, recommend that our Assessors be appointed by the Selectmen and approved by the State Tax Commissioner. UNITARIAN MEN'S CLUB DINNER.

The annual dinner of the Unitarian Men's Club was held in Metcalf Hall at the Unitarian Church on Friday evening with an attendance of about 100. The evening was a most entertaining one for those present, the committee providing a most successful program.

A reception was held previous to the dinner given to the pastor, Rev. Joel H. Metcalf. Mr. Charles C. Rogers made a most capable presiding officer. Remarks were made by Rev. Mr. Metcalf and Rev. Lewis G. Wilson, Secretary of the American Unitarian Association, the latter giving an outline of the work and aims of the Association.

Prof. Harrison W. Smith, M.I.T., gave a most interesting talk, descriptive of a tourney among the head hunters of Sarawak on the island of Borneo. Prof. Smith spent a year among these people as the guest of the representative of the Rajah of Borneo. He travelled with this official all through the island, visiting not only the tribes along the coast, but those of the interior, who are seldom visited by white men, and was thus able to speak of the customs and habits of the people in a most entertaining way. He displayed with his talk many stereoscopic views, said by those who saw them to be some of the finest they had ever viewed.

During the evening selections were given by a concert grand victrola.

Smitters, a clerk in the office of Seton and Catesby Edwin Murphy
Jenkins, servant to Letterblair Franklin Lane
Fanny Hadden, the Dean's orphan niece Gretchen Avery

Captain Letterblair Litton, of the Irish Fusiliers Raymond Strawbridge

JUNIOR RECEPTION.

The Junior Reception given by the Junior class to the Senior Class of the High School was held last Saturday evening in the Town Hall. It was largely attended by the students of the upper classes and many out of town friends.

The decorations were the same as those at the Pop Concert.

A five piece orchestra furnished the music for the dance and Young catered.

The Grand March was led by Flora Dean, president of 1912, and James Pennington, president of 1913. About fifty couples were in the march.

The matrons were Mrs. Arthur W. Dean Mrs. George A. Woods, Mrs. Elizabeth C. Wixom and Mrs. Wilbur S. Locke.

The committee in charge of the dance were Miss Elbra Dean, Miss Martha Locke, Mr. Bryant Woods, Mr. Douglas Case and Mr. Loring Gleason.

TEACHERS' CLUB ENTERTAINED.

An entertainment and social was held by the Winchester Teachers' Club on Thursday evening in the Assembly Hall of the High School and was well attended by the teachers and invited guests. The entertainment consisted of a farce entitled "The Scheme That Failed," in which the parts were taken by Miss Edith G. Cheesebrough, Miss Mary L. Hurley, Miss Gertrude F. Greene, Miss Flora E. Jensen, Charles J. Otis and Edward E. Thompson. Refreshments were served and dancing rounded out the evening. The affair was in charge of a committee consisting of Miss Mary H. Barr, chairman, Miss Gertrude F. Greene, Miss Louise M. Taylor, Miss Elizabeth T. Cullen and Ralph B. Delano.

PARISH OF THE EPIPHANY.

On Wednesday, April 16th, the Men's Club of the Church of the Epiphany will hold a smoker in the Parish House. The club will be addressed by Leo Leary, Esq., one of Harvard's most famous end rushes and Coach Houghton's right hand man in the development of Harvard's wonderful football eleven of 1910, 1911 and 1912.

Mr. Leary will speak on the subject of the making of a successful football eleven and his talk will be illustrated by stereoscopic views of Harvard players in action and views of some of the plays which were so successful against Princeton and Yale.

On May 7th, John C. Sanborn, Esq., Representative to the General Court from Lawrence and member of the Committee on Ways and Means, will tell the true story of the Lawrence strike. All the men of the parish and their friends are invited to these smoke talks.

RURAL CARRIER RESIGNS.

Mr. Albert MacLellan, who has been the rural mail carrier for this town for many years, in fact ever since the death of the first carrier, Mr. Moses P. Richardson, has resigned. He leaves the last of this week for Idaho, where he has relatives, where he will probably make his future home. His family will remain in Winchester for the present. At the present his position is being filled by his father, Mr. Joseph MacLellan, who was first substitute for this route.

Editor Hoag Confesses

"For many years, as Editor and Proprietor of the Pine Plains, N. Y., Herald, I have advertised Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. While I enjoyed not only the business relationship but the personal friendship of Dr. Kennedy, I have never, until now, paid him a long standing obligation. For many years, as my friends so well know, I suffered excruciating pains from rheumatism. Many were the nights when it was impossible to sleep. Without much faith, I admit, I tried as a sort of last resort, a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, just as thousands of others had done before, and like them I found permanent relief. Favorite Remedy has stood the test of time and I believe it is the best medicine in existence for effectually expelling the cause of rheumatism—uric acid. My regret is that I have neglected to make this frank confession long ago. It makes my friends do their work properly, tones up the liver and makes one feel that life is worth living. I publicly and earnestly advise all my friends who are suffering from troubles that arise from unhealthy kidneys and liver, to get a bottle of Favorite Remedy at once. There is no use in putting it off as I did. S. T. HOAG, Editor."

Write to Dr. David Kennedy Co., Rondout, N. Y., for free sample bottle and free medical book containing valuable information. Large bottles sold by 40,000 druggists.

THE FORTNIGHTLY.

The annual concert of the Fortnightly Choral Class was given in the Town Hall on Monday, March thirty-first. The class was assisted by Mrs. Olive Winchey, soprano, and Mrs. Faye Hoyt LeFavour, accompanist, and the director, Mr. J. Albert Baumgartner appeared both as piano soloist and accompanist for Mrs. Hilton. The program was admirably contrasted, the sombre stately music of the Joan of Arc forming an effective background for the delicate beauty of Fontenailles' graceful Legend of Minna, and the lighter music of Nevin and Osbourne. The work done by the class showed the results made possible to a group of people who are willing to work faithfully under the leadership of a thorough musician, who gives generously of time and strength, in order to set only the highest standard of clean-cut ensemble work.

The beautiful lyric quality of Mrs. Hilton's voice showed to great advantage, both in her work with the chorus and in her solo numbers, and her pleasing personality won her audience.

Mr. Baumgartner accompanied her in a group of songs, with perfect artistry. In response to an encore, she gave Bartlett's "I love you, sweet," with fine feeling. The pianoforte solos of Mr. Baumgartner were most interesting. The Faschingsswauk aus Wien was given with breadth and true comprehension of Schumann's matchless art in composition, the lighter numbers of Faure and Liszt with facility and delicacy of expression, and the encore, a Liszt Allegro, with a fire and dash irresistible. The class and the club are fortunate in having the services of a director of music of such eminent ability, both as a teacher and performer. Mrs. LeFavour the accompanist in the class work, is deserving of the highest praise for her sympathetic and finished rendition of her part in the program—really the foundation on which the singers were enabled to build their work with sureness. She was remembered with flowers, the expression of the gratitude of the club for her unselfish and unremitting work in the interests of the Choral Class, which owes its inception to her determined effort, and its progress, in a large measure, to her untiring interest and help.

Such an organization as the Choral Class offers to the members, of a club large opportunity for both pleasure and profit.

Tickets for the Boston Art Club—Exhibition of the Boston Society of Water Color Painters, March 28 to April 12 may be obtained from Miss Quimby, Chairman of Art Committee.

The annual meeting of the club is to be held April 14, at 2:30. Tea will be served.

The Home Economics Group will meet on Monday, April 7, at 3 p. m., in the small town hall. Mr. Ewart of Arlington will give a charming dish demonstration lecture. The printed receipts will be for sale at 5 cents each. All members of The Fortnightly are cordially invited. Please show your Fortnightly membership ticket at the door. Persons not members will be admitted upon payment of 25 cents.

THE COLONEL'S MAID.

A big audience attended the production in the Town Hall last evening by Winchester Council, No. 210, K. of C. The play was entitled The Colonel's Maid, being a comedy in three acts, and staged under the direction of Mr. Charles J. Harrold, Winchester's well known and popular coach.

The actors took their parts exceptionally well, several of them having already made several successful appearances previously in town theatrically. The two widowers, Messrs. Leonard and O'Connor, provoked many laughs by their antagonistic attitude, and the parts of their children, by Miss Dowd and Mr. Caulfield, were equally well taken in a much different manner.

Miss O'Leary as the widow was fully up to the expectations of a most appreciative audience, and if such were possible, even improved on her previous characters. Miss Noonan, Mr. Callahan and Mr. Keane all came in for their share of applause, and their efforts certainly earned it; and last but not by any means least, Dr. O'Connor as the Chinese cook was good. Good expressions in every way—good as a destroyer of the English language, and good as a very necessary factor to the happy ending of the farce.

The characters were taken as follows:

Dancing was enjoyed after the play, the ushers being Messrs. The play was under the direction of the following committee:

Col. Robert Rudd, a widower of North Carolina. Mr. John P. Leonard Col. Richard Byrd, a widower of South Carolina. Dr. Edward M. O'Connor Marjorie Byrd. Miss Emily Dowd Bob Rudd. Mr. Martin I. Caulfield Mrs. I. John Carroll, a widow, and Colonel Rudd's sister-in-law.

Miss Agnes V. O'Leary Julia Carroll, her daughter. Miss Frances T. Noonan Ned Graydon. Mr. Stephen T. Callahan Mr. James Baskom, Colonel Rudd's lawyer. Mr. Patrick J. Keane as Cning-Ah-Ling, the Chinese cook. Dr. James H. O'Connor T me—The present.

OBSERVATIONS.

I am glad to see the Chairman of the Board of Assessors is giving some statements on assessing, but I shall be more interested when he gets to personal property and incomes from trade or profession, as those are more bothersome and difficult and have been most neglected by Assessors generally. We have made considerable improvement with them in the last three years, but there is still much to be done. The Town Engineer's statement on page 130 of the town report, regarding the desirability of having Assessors' plans for the parts of the town not now covered, is important and should receive the attention and action of the Assessors this year.

If the surface drainage and sidewalk, bonds are issued this year, our debt will be up to half a million dollars again and it should be then "peeled" and not be permitted to go above that figure. Besides our town debt, we also have a large Metropolitan debt with a corresponding interest charge. The interest charge on our town debt is up to $19,000 again, it had got down to under $17,000 two years ago.

Our tax rate this year should not be over 17.25, but it was a dollar higher than it should have been last year, and the regular town appropriations have been increased about seven thousand dollars this year, some part of which was to pay deficits. We are appropriating money enough and the question is, is it being expended to best advantage, particularly on the streets.

Three years ago the hostler expense of the town stable was $1100, two years ago it was $1600, but last year it was $3600, and with about the same number of horses each year. What will it be this year and what explanation have the Selectmen for such an expense for fourteen horses? They would make no explanation at the town meeting, they made none in the town report. Electric lighting cost three times more last year than it ever did before in this queer stable, and yet I haven't heard that they worked there nights. Perhaps the horses are being massaged with electric current.

Louis D. Brandeis' appeal to the convention of Congregational ministers last Monday in Boston that they arouse the consciences of the people to compel the railroads to tell the truth and treat the public fairly, is certainly very amusing when the ministers have ridden for years on free passes. It is almost as good a joke as the Washburn bill provision which was amended at the behest of the reporters and newspapers so that as it now reads, railroads and street railways may give passes to almost everybody they please. The Transcript gave this provision a scathing editorial Saturday, but so far the rest of the papers have kept quiet as they naturally would considering that they share in the "pork."

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

The coming week at the Castle Square will, after the long run of "Believe Me, Xanthippe" bring a welcome change of program. The play will be "The Darling of the Gods," famous all the world over as one of the most thrilling and powerful of dramas dealing with Japan and Japanese life.

The plot of "The Darling of the Gods" tells a picturesque tale of old Japan in the days before the western invasion. It is in four acts and twelve scenes, and in them are revealed the quaint life and customs of an extraordinarily interesting nation.

There are three leading characters in "The Darling of the Gods." These three are Yo San Zakkur, The War Minister and Kara, and they will be acted at the Castle Square respectively by Mary Young, by John Craig and by William P. Carlton, the latter rejoining Mr. Craig's company after an absence of two seasons.

MARCH MUSICAL.

The annual March Musical of the First Congregational Church occurred last Friday evening. Never in the history of the church has there been so large an attendance at a Musical. There were fully 400 present.

The string quartette, under the able leadership of Mr. Frederick Mann played exquisitely and gave great pleasure to all. The greatest number on the program was the quintet Opus 44 by Schumann, which was given by piano, 2 violins, viola and cello. The piano has a very prominent part and was ably handled by the accomplished and popular organist of the church, Mrs. Irene Osborne Grant. Her touch is very firm and delicate, and her quick intuitive powers and abundant study and preparation place her in the front rank of Boston Musicians. Her many friends in the church and in Winchester will be pleased to know that she has been secured for another year as organist.

The stringed quartet of Symphony Orchestra players included Frederick Mann, first violin; Julius B. Theodorowicz, second violin; Valdemar Berliner, viola, and Louis Nast, violoncello.

Too much cannot be said of the sympathetic and charming personality of Mrs. Lorence Munson Woodside, who gave stories and readings, interpreting many terms and conditions of real life. Her introductory poem on "Music" by Henry Van Dyke was a revelation of the direct effect of sympathetic tone on the ear of the listener.

Mrs. Woodside possesses rhythm to a marked degree and carried all with her. Her Norwegian Dialect Lyrics and Translations are pre-eminently her own unique possession. She is in a class by herself. The large audience accorded her a splendid and unanimous tribute of praise and appreciation.

At the close of the program a reception was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Hodgdon, Mr. and Mrs. Woodside and Mr. and Mrs. Grant.

The ushers were Reeve Chipman, Gordon Parker, David J. Witmer, Arthur W. Hale, Robert E. Fay, Ralph E. Guillo, Walter L. Rice, Ralph B. Redfern, Kenneth P. Pond and Flavel Shurtlett. The hostesses were Mrs. Frank W. Hodgdon, Miss Frances Elder, Mrs. William L. Palmer, Mrs. Elbert C. Wixom, Mrs. Harrison Parker, Miss Katherine Ordway, Miss Alice M. Richardson, Miss Caroline L. Pond, Mrs. Arthur W. Hale, Mrs. Edward H. Stone, Miss Alice Joy, Miss Minnie Joy, Miss Ella C. Abbott, Miss Abbie M. Dunham and Miss Helen Pressey. The refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Walter L. Rice, Mrs. Joseph M. Witmer, Mrs. Hugh J. Erskine, Mrs. Joseph F. Ryan, Mrs. Flavel Shurtlett, Miss Fay Bartzsch, Miss Oral Wheatley, Miss Elizabeth Ordway, Miss Katherine Ordway, Miss Constance Lane, Miss Marguerite Heath, Miss Charlotte Stone, Miss Bessie Grant, Miss Deborah Hicks and Miss Edna Hawes.

The programs were very pretty and contained on the title page the following paragraphs written by the Minister, Mr. Hodgdon:

"The March Musical is intended to be an integral part of our church ministry. We enjoy music, humor, pathos, beauty in form and expression and fellowship because we are souls. This church is for the soul.

There is saving power in the sense of humor and tears are so cleansing that they are needed everywhere except in Heaven. Blessed are they who reveal the humor and pathos of life for they, too, preach the gospel of redemption.

"We men can beat time into music because the Maker of the universe is the Eternal Musician. Music is the language of the soul. Love always sings and true prayer is rhythmic. To fill a nation with music is a lofty form of patriotism. To teach a church to sing opens the road that leads straight to the spiritual and the eternal.

This church stands for genuine freedom of thought, warm-hearted fellowship, moral earnestness and the practice of the presence of God. Our creed is a life filled with the spirit of Christ. We invite all without a church home, to whom these qualities appeal and with no regard for anything else whatsoever, to come and be one with us."

The affair was in charge of a large corps of women of the church with Mrs. Margaret L. Weber and Mrs. Reeve Chipman, Chairmen.

INVASION OF THE RIGHTS OF CITIZENS.

The following taken from the Boston Times, is printed by request:

House Bill No. 1722, relating to tuberculosis, which is pending at the State House, is a measure that contains so many highly objectionable features that it should arouse the opposition of all intelligent and liberty loving citizens of the old Bay State. The powers it delegates to an appointive board are so sweeping and autocratic in character, and contemplate such a radical invasion of the rights of the citizens without due process of law, that we strongly incline to believe that the endorsement it has received from many quarters has been given under a misapprehension of the character of its provisions.

Section 1 provides that: "The State Board of Health shall be constituted as at present. In addition to the powers and duties now conferred upon it, it shall have full authority and police power to enforce its orders. It shall have final authority in all questions relating to tuberculosis; final jurisdiction in all differences in methods of administration; conflict of authority and other questions which may arise among subsidiary boards."

"It shall have supervisory and compulsory power over subsidiary boards."

The sinister significance of the arbitrary power thus sought for the Board of Health will be apparent if we call to mind the fact that last November a citizen of Haverhill, at the instigation of the health authorities, was arrested and incarcerated in the city hospital of that place, on the ground that he had tuberculosis and was a menace to the public health. The fact that the man and his own physician claimed that he did not have the disease, and that being confined with tuberculosis patients endangered his life, had no influence on the health authorities.

Now, under the sweeping provisions of this bill, it would be possible for the Board of Health to arrest and send to detention hospitals any citizens who, in the opinion of its members or the doctors selected by it to examine the patients, were afflicted with tuberculosis, and to condemn to incarceration in isolation hospitals those who in the opinion of these same doctors were incurable.

The potential danger of such a provision will be readily seen when we remember that more than 90 per cent. of the autopsies performed in recent years by leading European physicians upon persons who had come to death in the hospitals from various diseases, showed that at some time in their lives the persons had had tuberculosis, although in the majority of cases, at the time of death, there was no evidence that the patients had ever suffered from this disease. How many of those persons, who probably never even suspected that they had tuberculosis, would have escaped death from that disease, if they had been pronounced victims of the white plague by physicians, and had been confined in hospitals with others suffering from the disease?

Not content with the sweeping, dangerous and undemocratic power given this appointive board over the citizens, the measure goes further and delegates to the board arbitrary power which would enable it to prevent treatment favored by any subsidiary board, or by the patient, in spite of the fact that various theories obtain in regard to the best method of treating tuberculosis.

Passing over several other highly objectionable provisions giving dangerous powers to the state board—powers which in some instances, such as in sections 6 and 7, would offer a fruitful field for graft at any time the officers should be men susceptible to great temptations, we come to section 14, which reads as follows:

"The charge for the support of the inmates of said hospitals as are of sufficient ability to pay for the same or have persons or kindred bound by law to maintain them, shall be paid such inmates, such persons or such kindred at a rate to be determined by the trustees of said hospitals. The board of such inmates as have legal settlement in any city or town shall be paid by said city or town if such patients are received at said hospitals on the request of the overseers of the poor of said city or town. The trustees may, in their discretion, receive other patients who have no means to pay for treatment, and the board of all such patients shall be paid for from the treasury of the commonwealth."

This section impresses us as one of the most amazing examples of disregard for the rights of the citizens that has been afforded in our commonwealth. Here we have a board dominated by a school of practice that does not represent the beliefs of tens of thousands of highly intelligent citizens, given power to force upon the patient empirical treatment, that is not even claimed to be curative in most cases—treatment that may be dangerous to the patient, and yet he is to be compelled to pay for his board and treatment incident to his incarceration, the price for the same being left to the trustees of the hospital.

One can scarcely credit his senses when tracing such provisions in a bill seriously offered in a great democratic state. A stranger might well wonder what he was not in Russia instead of in the commonwealth of Otis, Adams and Hancock.

This bill impresses us as being at once one of the worst and one of the best measures that has been brought to public attention—worst in its dangerous, iniquitous and undemocratic provisions—its delegation of despotic power to appointive boards who at once exercise the legislative, judicial and executive functions of government, and in its disregard for the rights of the citizens; and best, in that it clearly reveals the lengths to which the political doctors, bent on establishing a medical hierarchy whose keynote is compulsion, plan to go in overriding the right of the citizen to employ the practitioner of his choice, in a field pre-eminently experimental.

WHERE LATIN IS NOT TAUGHT.

Boys and girls in the schools of Spanish America do not have to worry over Latin. The study of ancient language has been practically eliminated in Spanish America, according to a bulletin on Latin-American Universities and Special Schools just issued by the United States Bureau of Education.

Latin is not included in the curricula of secondary schools in many of the following countries: Argentina, Bolivia, Chile, Costa Rica, Cuba, Ecuador, Guatemala, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay, Peru, Salvador, and Uruguay. It is taught to a limited extent in the classical schools of Haiti and Colombia. Some Venezuela high schools offer courses in Latin, but the studies are very elementary. "Notwithstanding reasons of kinship of speech, pride of race, and scholastic tradition," says Dr. Edgar Ewing Brandon, author of the bulletin, "Latin, as well as Greek, has almost wholly disappeared from the curricula of South and Central American educational institutions." In some countries it is positively forbidden by law to teach Latin in the schools.

In the universities there are usually courses of lectures on the history of classic literatures, but these are given in the mother tongue and the students who take them are not required to be able to read the original. In the Instituto Pedagógico of Chile, an elementary course of three years in Latin is required of those preparing to teach Spanish and French, but even here Latin is not taught for the sake of Latin, but as a suitable background for the scientific study of Spanish or French grammar. A similar plan prevails in the University of Buenos Aires.

"The disappearance of Latin was not effected without a contest," says Dr. Brandon. "Many educators trained under the old system recognized the value of the subject in any scheme of education, and fought valiantly for its retention. Some states wavered in their policy; under one regime it was abolished; under another restored, only to be cast out again when its opponents returned to power. Argentina fluctuated many years in her policy; Uruguay but recently discarded the subject."

Various reasons are assigned for the abandonment of Latin. The question of church and state, an important one in Latin America, is involved to a large extent. In addition there is the motive of utilitarianism, strong in the present-day Spanish American, whose chief ambition is to be "modern." He feels that Latin is an antique, out of place in modern life. He conceives the purpose of education to be distinctly practical and useful. According to his view the school must be a direct agent in the regeneration of the nation; it must advance civilization, develop the natural resources of the country, and bring it into touch with the most progressive of its neighbors; and in this program of practical accomplishment the Spanish-American finds no place for Latin.

PROFITABLE DAILY TITHING.

"Daily Heavenly Manna." This little book is having the largest circulation of any of its kind and is conceded by Christians everywhere to be the most helpful.

If Christians allow the rush and crush of selfish ambition to deprive them of their daily portion of heavenly food, they must not be surprised if they grow spiritually leaner day by day, and if the peace of God gives place in their hearts to the discontent which is growing in the world, notwithstanding the multiplication of our comforts and privileges.

Daily Heavenly Manna contains a collection of Scripture texts with appropriate quotations for every day in the year. Surely the little title of time daily spent in partaking of its morsels of heavenly counsel cannot fail to profit all who partake. It is published to do good—not for profit.

Your Friends' Birth Dates. An autograph and birthday record feature in this book is a great convenience. Opposite each day of the year are blank lines upon which you can secure the autographs of your friends and be reminded of their birthdays as they occur. This makes the book more valuable yearly. In ten years you would not sell it for ten dollars.

Besides it has a place for Birth Records, Marriage Records and Death Records. Also it has a table showing the day of the week of any date for one hundred and fifty years.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE DEPARTMENT.

Conducted by Winchester League.

The subject of paramount interest, last week, among Suffragists and Anti-Suffragists was the action of the House of Representatives on the Suffrage Amendment to the Constitution which had been brought to its third reading and final vote as to whether the measure should be submitted to the voters to decide. Though the House failed to give the required two thirds majority to secure such submission the gain to the cause was so great that one cannot spend much time in regret; rather we shall take heart to work with redoubled order. When we realize that never before have we succeeded in getting our bill out of committee, that the question was "taken seriously, for the first time" as one of the speakers said, and that a change of only eleven votes out of the two hundred and thirty-two that were cast, would have carried the bill to the next Legislature for final settlement, we surely have reason to greatly rejoice.

There was a marked change in the respect evinced by the members of the House during the debate, and the usual levity supposed to be funny in the manner of answering the roll-call, was conspicuously absent. Though one Republican speaker was honest enough to announce that he was willing to quibble on the suffrage plank in the Republican platform implying that he felt that the "straw vote" that had been proposed would let the party out from its promise, it was refreshing to hear several Republican speakers, fearlessly declare that they believed the plank meant the submission to the voters and that they were elected with the understanding that they would vote for such submission, even though they, individually, might vote against suffrage when the opportunity arrived.

One young speaker, in the morning, called attention to one phase of the question, which I have wondered has not been more dwelt upon, namely, the preponderance of power that may accrue to the equal suffrage states over the non-suffrage states, because of their doubled electorate. Under present conditions, this does not exist, or is not so apparent, but should the present agitation for election of President and Senators by direct vote of the people, prevail, the non-suffrage states would be at a tremendous disadvantage. One of the speakers in the afternoon, perhaps the same one, said that, during the recess, several members had told him that such a contingency had not occurred to them. So political expediency may eventually come to the aid of justice in conservative Massachusetts and save our loved state from coming into line, at the very end of the procession. We are told that the "straw vote" is under consideration by the Senate, with several other suffrage measures, and a House Committee favors it; but with 56 per cent of the Republican members, 71 per cent of the Democratic members, the five Progressives and one Socialist, on record as favoring the straight amendment, and the Senate generally favorable to the same, we cannot believe that such a makeshift, which will be expensive and show nothing in the end, can possibly be carried.

The last gun to be recorded is Alaska. The Legislature has granted equal suffrage to its women unanimously. Being a territory, the Legislature has a right to grant this, without submission to the voters.

MR. JAMES F. BUNTING.

Mr. James F. Bunting of Stratford road passed away on Monday morning at his home. Although he had been in failing health for some months, his death was a sudden shock to many of his friends and acquaintances. He was 61 years of age.

The funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Perry Bush of Chelsea this Friday afternoon at the residence at two o'clock. The burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

Mr. Bunting was a native of Swampscott. He was one of the oldest and best known fish merchants of Boston. His father was one of the founders of the firm of Bunting & Emery, with whom Mr. Bunting was associated as a young man. For the past 35 years he had carried on a wholesale fish business himself on T Wharf, and at the time of his death was treasurer of the Boston Fish Company. He was a director of the T Wharf Corporation and a member of the New England Fish Exchange.

As a mark of respect the flags along the water front and on the fishing vessels have been at half mast during the week, and will remain so until after the services today.

Mr. Bunting never took any active part in politics or public affairs, his business and home life taking his entire attention. He was a member of Charlestown Council of the Royal Arcanum and of the Calumet Club of this town.

He is survived by a widow, who was Miss Carrie M. Nickles of Chelsea, and a daughter, Miss Florence M. Bunting of this town. Mrs. Bunting is prominently identified with the work of the Woman's Charity Club. For the past 15 years the family have made their home in Winchester.

MELLEN OF NEW ENGLAND

A Railroad President Who Combines the Practical Operator and the Financier.

The Story of the Evolution of a Clerk in a Small Railroad Office into the President of a Great System.

There are two types of railroad presidents more or less familiar in this country. One is that of the practical operating president, a man who has come up from the ranks of railroad operatives to head a big system and who leaves the delicate problems of railroad finance to be worked out largely by others while he runs the road. The other type, evolved in the last quarter century, is that of the financier-president whose environment has been almost wholly that of the world of finance and whose mind as president is almost entirely concentrated on the financial phase of the transportation problem. Such a man was the late E. H. Harriman.

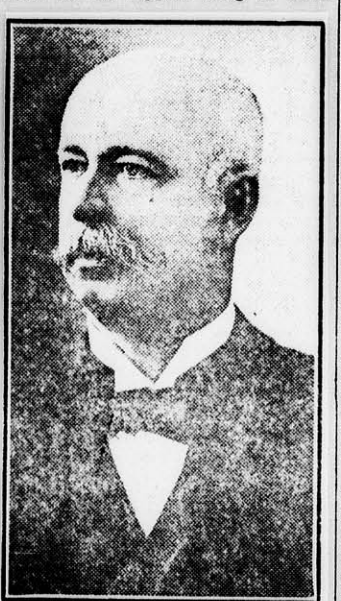

Today almost every railroad system in this country is commanded by one or the other of these two types of men. It has remained, however, for a New England boy who went to work chasing figures on waybills at the age of eighteen to furnish the transportation world with still another type—a type that is a combination of the other two. This boy, who fought his way up from behind a clerk's desk in a little railroad office in New Hampshire through the various grades of railroad workers until he today is conceded to be not alone a practical operating railroad man, but a financier of rare ability, is Charles S. Mellen. In him the two types have been combined as they have been in probably no other railroad executive since cars first ran on rails.

Nobody who knew Mellen at the time that he was a clerk in the little railroad office in Concord doubted that he would eventually make of himself a pretty good practical railroad man, but there aren't many of his friends of those early days who discerned in him the financial genius which has made him such a marked figure in the transportation world. It was this genius which led to his selection as the head of the New York, New Haven and Hartford road when it was seen that the transportation problem of New England, perhaps the toughest the railroad business had to offer anywhere, required a combination of the two types of railroad executives. It took that New England boy a little over thirty years to pull himself up over the heads of others until he reached this commanding position where his combination of talents could have full swing. If you asked him how he did it he would tell you by hard work.

Hard work has been the keynote of his life. He works harder today than he did when he was a railroad clerk. He never stops working. But other qualities in his New England character also probably lie at the bottom of his success. Back in his clerk days a Concord friend, Charles Nichols, once asked him to write in his autograph album. In that album, which is still preserved, he wrote that his favorite character in history was Napoleon I. The trait of character he most admired, wrote this young clerk, was honesty in a man and constancy in a woman. The trait he most detested in each was "gossiping." In those answers this transportation master of today was reflected. A Napoleon in the transportation business many might call him.

Perhaps the first stroke of genius Mellen displayed was in his selection of the railroad business, for his father, George Kingsbury Mellen, was a hatter. The son, Charles S. Mellen, was born in Lowell, Mass., Aug. 16, 1851, but the family was an old New Hampshire one and moved to Concord when he was four years old. Although his father had a good business in Concord, young Mellen no sooner graduated from the Concord high school in 1869 than he picked out the job of a clerk in the Northern Railroad's station in Concord, paying $25 a month, as the beginning of his career. He was neat in dress and pleasant in manner, and he began mastering the railroad business then and there. He never looked at the clock. After three years he switched as a clerk to the Vermont Central, but returned in a few months to Concord and the Northern road. He was still a clerk, but he was good at figures, and he went ahead. In 1880 he had got up far enough to be assistant to the general manager of the Boston and Lowell. In 1883 he was superintendent and then, in 1884, was made general superintendent. From being a clerk he had learned to run a railroad, to operate its trains as well as look after its receipts, and had picked out the traffic end of the railroad game as the biggest thing to know about it. In that he was shrewd, as any railroad man will concede. Long before he became head of New England's transportation lines he was known among railroad men as one of the greatest traffic men in the railroad world. It was not long before he began to show that in addition to being a remarkable traffic expert he could be a wonderful financial manager as well.

First he built up the Boston and Lowell, while holding the job of general superintendent. Then he went to the Union Pacific to become assistant manager and finally general traffic manager, and then he came back to the East and as general manager built up the old New York and New England road.

By 1892 this New England boy, who had started in on railroad ledgers just after he got through high school, was made vice president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford. In 1897 he was picked to rehabilitate the Northern Pacific railroad, and then there came into prominence not alone his familiarity with the technical side of the business, but a grasp of financial problems seldom seen outside those whose training had been in the banking business.

The man who had first made himself a railroad traffic expert and then a railroad financier quickly became a familiar figure throughout all the great Northwest. He was still concerned chiefly with the actual operation of a railroad. He converted a poorly built railroad into one of the best constructed systems in this country and saw its net earnings almost doubled. Nobody ever fooled him. In 1903 the directors of the New Haven elected him president of the road, and it was then that the former New England railroad clerk returned to his native heath to solve the difficult transportation problem which its very peculiar geography and other conditions presented. A problem which has required all the knowledge accumulated in those early years of practical operating work, and in addition, that wonderful faculty for carrying through large financial matters which has distinguished his later years. With the same remarkable assiduity which characterized his work in the railroad office at Concord Mr. Mellen has gone at this task that has meant so much for New England—the job of giving New England a unified transportation system—putting into it even more energy than he had applied in the Northwest. What he has accomplished is known only too well. It could have been done only by a man who had the railroad business from the bottom up at his finger tips and was at the same time a master of finance.

And yet this product of a small New England town, this man who has knit a great railroad system of many different elements together, who has made electrification a fact and not a fancy, has all the while been able to see the fun in life. He is a fine public speaker. He is also a wit. There have been few occasions when public meetings at which he has appeared have not been illumined with his witty sallies, revealing a side to his nature of which many are ignorant.

Once he faced a crowd of angry commuters at a public service commission hearing in New York. They had come to bait him, believing him to be an ogre. To their evident surprise, they found confronting them the most genial of men, whose jokes and pleasantries completely disarmed them. To his plea not to strip his railroad bare they had retorted that when it came to the stripping process commuters didn't have anything like the opportunity the railroad had.

"And that's the reason I keep my hair short," quickly came President Mellen's response, and one look at his head convulsed those same commuters. It was the same when the man who faced them so pleasantly remarked in similar good humor that there were always some people traveling on a railroad who expected to ride free "and have a chromo thrown in." The spirit of the gathering instantly was changed by Mr. Mellen's nimble wit. They went away his friends. Before legislative bodies or in the congenial privacy of his New Haven club he has evidenced this same faculty for seeing the fun in things. He is also full of sentiment, particularly in connection with things relating to New England. He is a book lover whose chief hobby is his library. He is also a musician. He studied music when a boy and has never lost his love for it.

Notwithstanding an impression to the contrary, he is the most Democratic and entertaining of men, with a great sense of justice. His recognition of old friends in Concord is a byword, and to this day many in that New England town recall how when diphtheria visited the Mellen home and one after another of the family was stricken, including the mother, the man who is now the head of New England's transportation system turned to and did the nursing for them all.

Such is the man who from that early job in Concord has risen to the top of the transportation business, a good talker, a delightful host and entertainer whose hospitality at Stockbridge is famous, a favorite at all reunions, whether it be his associates of today or the fellow employees of his youth, a keen philosopher, but a railroad man above all and of almost a unique type.

THE SALE OF A BIRTHRIGHT.

Genesis 27:22-34—April 6.

"Esau . . . for one morsel of meat sold his birthright. For ye know how that after ward when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected."—Hebrews 12:16, 17.

In olden times, and still in some countries, the birthright belonged to the first-born son. At the father's death the oldest son took his place at the head of the family; and the property became his. Today's lesson discusses a birthright which included great Divine promises. Abraham's estate went to Isaac, the others of the family receiving their portion through him. Abraham was very rich; but the possession which he prized most highly was the Covenant—that eventually all nations would be blessed through him and his seed. This great promise Isaac inherited.

Isaac had two sons, Esau and Jacob—twins, Esau the elder by a few minutes only. Esau was hairy, ruddy, full of vigor—a hunter. Jacob was smooth-skinned, dark-complexioned—a tent-man, or home-keeper. As temperamental opposites agree best, Isaac loved Esau more; while Rebecca preferred Jacob.

The quiet, studious Jacob thought frequently of the great blessing which God had promised his grandfather Abraham, a share in which he had missed by an accident of birth. Esau, full of animal spirit, thought more of pleasure, and considered the Divine Promise as secondary and rather visionary. When the two were about thirty years old, Jacob one day made himself some lentil soup. As he was about to partake, Esau came home hungry, and begged for it. Jacob agreed to give the soup on condition that Esau would give him the birthright. Careless Esau swore away his birthright for a mess of pottage, thus signifying that he had no particular faith in God or His promises of future blessings.

Time passed. Isaac married beauteous wives when he was forty. Isaac was then more than a hundred years old, and blind. He realized that the time had come for him to give his blessing to his heir as instead of a written will, the present custom. He therefore instructed Esau to prepare him a dinner of venison, before receiving his formal blessing.

Rebecca heard Isaac's instructions to Esau, and remembered that the birthright had been sold to Jacob. She prepared the kind of stew which Isaac preferred, using the skins of kids to cover Jacob's neck and hands, that Isaac might mistake him for Esau. As Jacob had bought all of Esau's rights, she thought it not improper to clothe him in Esau's garments, and instructed him that she would take the responsibility for the deception.

Jacob carried out the program and got the chief blessing. Esau came in later with his venison stew, prepared to violate his contract made under oath, and was greatly disappointed to learn that his blessing was gone. Although he received an inferior blessing, yet he had the spirit of murder toward his brother for carrying out his part of the contract.

Earthly Loss Spiritual Gain.
The account shows that Jacob's interest in the birthright was not in the earthly inheritance, but in the spiritual promise. He left home and went to work for his uncle. But having the birthright privileges of the Covenant, he felt rich.

St. Paul shows that at the birth of these two men it was specifically declared that the elder should serve the younger (Romans 9:10-13). Doubtless this guided Rebecca in thwarting Isaac's love for Esau, which impelled him to ignore the Divine prophecy.—Genesis 25:23.

It is not for us to defend the deception of Isaac, or to recommend this course to others. Nevertheless, we should notice that the Bible distinctly states that God's loving favor was with Jacob.

This was because of his reverent love for God and the Oath-bound Covenant. Not a word of condemnation is given Jacob Esau, however, is called wicked and profane because he sold his birthright for a mess of pottage. No teacher in the name of the Lord, therefore, should be wiser than God's Word.

The experiences of these brothers were typical. The application of the antitype is merely to the consecrated people of God. Only those begotten of the Holy Spirit have a birthright in the highest sense. Only they can well be "a mess of pottage." The world, however, is measurably justified in striving for its various prizes, having nothing better.

But the spirit-begotten heirs of the Divine Promise become such by promising absolute loyalty to the Lord and to the principles of Justice and Mercy. These must self-sacrificingly walk in the Master's footsteps, else they cannot share with Him the glorious outcome. Only those who attain a share in the Kingdom will have a share in its wonderful work of blessing and uplifting humanity.

BOSTON THEATRE.

As those who have gone for fresh scenes and adventure to a life in the far west, have been fascinated by the out-of-door life of perpetual and hazardous excitement amid wild surroundings, so all Boston has been almost spell bound with a strange fascination at the thrilling scenes of Western life brought to their door so to speak, in the graphic pictures presented in Klay and Fringer's massive production of "The Round Up." It is the vivid reproduction of scenes in which Indians, Cowboys, Ranchmen, Chivalrymen, and some western men and women and dozens of horses are concerned, which so many have read about but which so many have actually seen, that have made "The Round Up" so absorbingly interesting to the vast city public and to crowds from many neighboring towns. "The Round Up" is one of the greatest successes ever known in Boston.

No one should miss the new remaining opportunities of seeing this great play. For those living at a distance from Boston, special attention is paid to mail orders containing cash or money orders, and addressed, stamped envelope, which are promptly filled.

Regular matinee Wednesday and Saturday.
Special prices will prevail during "The Round Up" engagement, 25c, 50c, 75c and $1.00. No seat over $1.00.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE.

Charley Case, known the country over as "The man who talks about his father," returns to B. F. Keith's Theatre next week after an absence of nearly two years. This is his first appearance in the East in two years. There are few vaudeville patrons who have not laughed at Case and his funny stories about his father. This time he brings a wealth of brand new material, never before heard in Boston. The wonderful Thomas A. Edison Kinetophone or Talking Motion Pictures will enter upon their seventh week.

Another big feature will be Gertrude Vandervelt, late feature of "The Red Widow," and George Moore, will appear in a series of up-to-date songs and dances, and Gallagher and Fields, America's greatest travesty artists, in a brand new farce comedy; the Great Davis Family of European acrobatic marvels, including the only lady understander in the world, in startling feats of strength and agility; The Bradshaws in a novel specialty; Charlotte Ravenscroft, the singing violinist; and many others yet to be announced.

Week of April 14th, "Peter," the wonderful Chimpanzee.

SEGREGATION OF THE SEXES.

In September, 1912, at Everett, Wash., the boys and girls were separated for classwork in the greater part of the high school work. Beginning with February, 1913, the eighth grade pupils (all of whom are now gathered at the Central building) were also segregated into boys' classes and girls' classes for all of their work. This step, both with reference to the high school and the eighth grade, has been taken in the belief that there is enough difference in the way the minds of boys and girls attack a subject to classify them separately. Teachers find themselves presenting subject matter in a different way to a class of boys than to a class of girls. So far the testimony of the teachers has been favorable to the segregation in this respect. It is thought to be much better to have the boys and girls separated in the grammar and high school grades for the reason that this is just the stage when boys and girls are apt to become too conscious of the attractions of the opposite sex. This plan also facilitates the classification of pupils for their industrial work.

SUBSTANTIAL DEVELOPMENT.

Winchester Ranks Foremost Among Northern Suburbs.

When one considers the enormous growth and development of New York City and its environs, with its bulk of astounding figures and the big fortunes made in a few months, he is apt to forget that this section is also increasing in wealth and population of a substantial and permanent character.

This is especially true of the suburbs of Boston, of which the town of Winchester ranks without question among the first. Its growth during the past few years has been steady and progressive, and today it is looked upon by home seekers as the most desirable place within easy access of Boston in which they can choose to reside. Other places in this vicinity may unquestionably have erected a greater percentage of dwellings and may have a greater increase in population in proportion, but the question of quality, both as applied to the nature of the dwellings erected and the class of occupants which form the increase, cannot be considered in such a comparison.

Winchester has a growth to its credit as conservative and as progressive, yet without as rapid, as its beauties, donated by nature must bring to place it in this enviable position. Located between two broad sloping hills, with its center fairly in the middle of the fertile valley running between it has expanded year after year and month after month, each period witnessing the steady growth increasing with ever quickening strides. Fertile land, last year used by a truck farmer, this year becomes an attractive residential district, cut with broad avenues and dotted with charming dwellings, a delight to the city weary and a profitable investment to the land seeing suburbanite. Last year the rich loam fed row upon row of juicy celery, this year it brings forth a carpet of green lawn, to make fitting setting for some attractive home.

No better illustration of this statement, incredible as it may appear, can be furnished than by a visit to the west side of the town. This section has probably developed more rapidly than any other section it is true, yet it is still along the same steady, conservative lines. Three years ago the Wedgemere avenue section, between Church street and Calumet road, contained but a few dwellings. Today there are houses on almost every lot available, ranging in value from $10,000 to $30,000.

The natural growth was along this broad avenue, with its 20 foot grass plot, fine shade trees and granite-like sidewalks, to Wildwood street. Last June this land was under cultivation by a local farmer. Sold at that time, a tract of 500,000 feet was divided by a continuation of the avenue, laid out in lots of substantial size, and its development commenced. Nine months have elapsed, four or seven winter months. Today three fine residences are already erected, costing from $10,000 to $15,000, two more are to be started immediately, and plans are underway for still another. The month of June will see still more of this Alladin-like transformation, for by that time the shade trees will be in place, the sidewalks completed, and other houses in the process of erection, besides the completion of another street through the property—Salisbury road.

To be sure this land furnishes a natural, and possibly the only available means for the growth of this section. To the Mystic Lakes it is built up. Its development was just as steady and as natural as the rising and the setting of the sun upon this beautiful spot. That Mr. Farmer would stop raising celery on this fertile land was equally as certain a year ago.

With the coming of the automobile, furnishing a quick and easy means of travel the people are moving countryward. Enabled to view all of the available places for residence, is it anything but natural that the unquestioned beauties of this section furnish the greatest attraction?

The residences erected add to the attractiveness of the neighborhood, and those already built include examples of the finest Colonial and plaster dwellings to be found around Boston. In the immediate neighborhood are two more fine cement houses, which will cost when completed from $17,000 to $18,000. These are two of a group of five, and they will all be well along towards completion by the end of the year.

The development of Winchester has been watched by a few for a number of years; it is now the object of interest to many, and the investment in Winchester real estate is universally agreed to be today one of the safest and most conservative uses to which any homemaker can put his money. Where the ultimate expansion will carry these modern homes, shady streets and ever coming suburbanites cannot be answered at once. That the growth will continue as an expansion of the settled portions is unquestioned, for the man of today, looking for a place to settle and invest his money, will not invest in property in any but a guaranteed neighborhood; a place where values increase with the

On the petition of George L. Lochman and others for an additional street light on Fenwick Road, Committee on Street Lights recommended that the petition be refused and it was so voted.

CLASS OF 1895.

BASE BALL APRIL 19.

W. H. S., Class of 1895, will Play on Manchester Field.

In looking over the High School Base Ball Schedule which appeared in a recent issue of the STAR, we note with pleasure that we are to see the boys of the old 1895 team in action on the morning of April 19. In the past two years this game has proved to be the real event of the High School schedule. In 1911 this team, then sixteen years out of school, announced they would play our High School Team on Memorial Day morning. Taking great pride in the fact that after sixteen years it was possible to get a High School team together, we went to Manchester field wondering how large a score the younger boys would roll up against the "ancient" '95 organization. Few of us will forget our surprise when the final score of that game read '95 team—13; W. H. S.—6.

Last year the score was W. H. S.—2; '95 team—1. Although the final result was the reverse of the previous year, those of us who saw the contest went away deeply impressed with the fact that men with almost no opportunity to practice could give the boys such a battle royal. Many of us enjoy a good game of ball, but seldom can one see such a game between those who fought for our school eighteen years ago and a team representing the same school today. We predict that those who do not plan to see this game will miss an athletic event of merit and historical importance.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB.

The annual meeting of the Winchester Boat Club was held at the club house on Upper Mystic Lake Tuesday evening with one of the largest gatherings in the history of the organization. President Charles A. Gleason presided and the reports of the officers showed the club to be in a flourishing condition.

The election of officers took place, resulting as follows:

President—Hermann D. Murphy
Vice-President—Vincent Farnsworth
Secretary—William M. Little
Treasurer—G. Dwight Cabot
Fleet Captain—Frank H. Gerlach
Directors—Charles A. Gleason, George B. Smith, Preston E. Corey, James H. Gerlach, Schuyler F. Horton, Edgar M. Young, Dexter P. Blaukie, Charles S. Tenney.

Mr. Hermann D. Murphy was selected for the office of President during his absence in the Azores, the nomination being made in anticipation of his acceptance. Mr. Murphy did not receive the notice of his nomination until too late for the posting of another selection, and as he is to be fully occupied during the summer away from town, felt that it would not be wise to accept the office. In order to facilitate the matter Mr. Murphy allowed his name to stand, and received the election, and he has tendered his resignation to the Directors. The new head of the Club will be appointed by the board of directors at its first meeting. One other change in the list of officers was made following this, Mr. William M. Little taking the office of secretary in the place of Mr. T. Price Wilson.

A new war canoe has been ordered for the Club, which is expected this month, and it is anticipated that the members will take active interest in racing this year. With the arrival of this racing boat the club will possess the best fleet in this section, having a single, tandem, four and war canoe.

Following the election lunch was served. It is anticipated that the Club will open its house the latter part of this month.

MR. MURPHY APPOINTED MEMBER OF N. Y. C. C. SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

Mr. Hermann Dudley Murphy of this town, the well known artist, has been invited by the New York Canoe Club to be one of its Special Committee of five to take charge of the trial races to be held this summer for the purpose of selecting a representative from the United States to meet the Canadian challenger in the sailing canoe race for the Club's trophy.

The Canadian challenger will probably be the best canoe sailor which that country can produce. The N. Y. C. C. will hold a series of trial races, open to the canoe sailors of the United States, at New York during the summer. These races will be under the direction of the Special Committee of five, and will be eliminative, the winner to meet the challenger this fall.

Mr. Murphy has been requested to participate in the trials, and will undoubtedly make a good showing in the events. He will leave early in June to arrange for the races, and will attend the trophy race later.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

The Spectator frequently wonders how many parents ever visit the public schools. How many parents have ever met the woman who has as much if not more to do with shaping the child's development as the parents have? Visiting school is one of the old-fashioned customs that The Spectator thinks mothers have made a great mistake in dropping. When The Spectator went to school he remembers it was a regular custom for each mother to visit school at least once every term. Do you remember when your mother used to visit school? Remember what a half delightful and embarrassing and wholly exciting occasion it was? Remember how, when the little girl who sat nearest the door had answered the knock, you saw it was your mother and ever so many of your friends turned up at you and you grew red? And then remember how often teacher called on you and how brilliantly you read and discussed on the blackboard and answered questions in geography—because, of course, the teacher gave you all of the easy ones? And remember how fondly the teacher shook your mother's hand when she rose to go and smiled at her and held the door open for her and how funny it seemed that that aristocratic, stern-faced person should be doing all that for a member of your family? Of course you do if you went to school when The Spectator did—how many years ago he will leave to you. But the child of today doesn't have that to remember. For somehow or other mothers do not visit school nowadays—at least not near so often as they should. And yet there is far more need of it than there used to be. In those days each teacher was a well known personage in the community. Very often she was indigenous to the soil. Anyway she was a comparatively small quantity and as such could be constantly under the eyes of the parents. Today all that many parents know about the teacher is her name. Don't you think it would be a good thing for you to know a little more than that? Every parent in Winchester should know what their child's environment is, should have some definite picture when he talks about the school room and his mates and his teachers and should be able to take a more intelligent interest in his affairs. The trip will hardly take more than a couple of hours at the most and The Spectator is sure it will bring you into closer touch with your children than two or three days spent for that purpose in any other way.

The other day The Spectator overheard a well known gentleman say that the old-time woman was far superior to the modern woman. The statement set The Spectator to thinking. The highest type of the old-time woman is identical with the highest type of the modern woman, environments and conditions alone being different. Our grandmothers looked to the ways of their households, they wove and spun, the baking was carefully superintended, they personally supervised the moral and physical welfare of their servants. To their children they gave the most conscientious forethought. They taught them the fundamental elements of an essential education and instilled into their minds those principles of honor which form a safeguard for all healthy living. The modern woman does not have to weave or spin. The ever increasing wonderful inventions of man have lightened her household labors and made it possible for her to devote a part of her time to the philanthropic movements of the day, which an enlarged civilization has brought within the scope of her influence. The present tendency of human society is to congregate, and in consequence we have the subject poor at our very door. With the increased advantages of education for her children the modern woman has time, while looking after their welfare in every way, to devote a part of her energies to the amelioration of the woes of mankind in general. But while the conditions are so different, the modern woman, as well as the old-time woman, has high ideals and finds the most perfect expression to her individuality in her home. The man goes out into the rude world to obtain means of subsistence that he may maintain the home; he depends on the woman to use those means to create the home. In the artistic development of her finer faculties she creates an atmosphere which soothes him after the burden of the day. There may be only a little money to expend, but the woman is the genius of the home, and out of the little things she evolves the artistic whole, which appeals to the best instincts of man. The true woman finds her highest enjoyment in molding the future of the babe at her breast. The instinct of protection for the helpless little one makes mother love show the attributes of both hawk and dove. To direct the mind of a little child, with the dew of heaven still upon his brow, is an education of incalculable value to the mother. To meet fearlessly those pure, searching eyes, to guide that restless, penetrating mind with its gaze turned upon the unanswerable questions of the universe, satisfies the intellect and purities the soul. The highest need of praise for the ideal woman falls from the lips of her husband. When he comes in weary from the day's labor, she ministers with loving solicitude to his bodily needs, and when he is rested, she shares with him that keen intellectual enjoyment which comes to the thinking mind from the perusal of good books. Home is her little Kingdom which she turns to star-like radiance, that it may shine beacon-like to other women and men within the radius of its light—a little Kingdom in which she may mold that part of the human race for which she is responsible. The old sayings that the wife is the home queen and that the home is the natural province for woman's best endeavor were founded in very wisdom, for almost all men of note have declared they owed the supremest lesson of life to their mothers. "The way the twig is bent, the tree's inclined." The early training of a boy makes a bulwark for him in later life. Education does not begin at school and does not end at college. The child gets his creed, his earliest knowledge and his first opinions in his manners, his sense of duty and honor at home. An old home life has its carefully preserved traditions of purity, refinement, courtesy and courage, and so becomes a mold of strong and beautiful characters. No increase of power, or wealth or of learning could repay a nation for the loss of this sweet and invigorating influence—the moral culture of a genuine home life. The modern woman, though she enters more avenues of usefulness than the old-time woman, yet finds her truest enjoyment in her home. To give herself, with all the self-denying which that involves to her little family, brings its compensation. To subdue all selfish tendencies for the sake of giving pleasure to others develops, strengthens and refines her womanly nature. To share the responsibility of home keeping with the man of her choice, to know that the delights in her very presence, to find in the citadel of his heart a refuge from the storms of life—this is the opinion of The Spectator is the golden crown of a woman's being.

The Spectator begs to thank some kind friend for the very beautiful Easter card sent him last week.

LAST ORCHESTRAL CONCERT APRIL 15th.

The last Orchestral Concert of the season takes place at the Town Hall April 15th, next Tuesday.

The program is a most interesting one and is sure to be thoroughly enjoyed by the audience. It includes the Overture to "The Magic Flute," Haydn's "Military Symphony," Selections from Lohengrin, (Ham's arrangement) and a most beautiful orchestral number ending with Wagner's stirring overture to "Rienzi."

The soloist of the evening will be Mr. Alexandrovitch Podnos, the talented young Russian violinist who has filled the position of Concert Master to the Orchestra so acceptably this season. Mr. Podnos' principal number will be Mozart's Fourth Concerto for violin and orchestra and in the second half of the concert he will play some very interesting violin numbers with piano accompaniment.

Tickets for the concert are now on sale at the Winchester Exchange and at Knights Drug Store.

CREATED MUCH TAXIBLE PROPERTY.

During the past eight years Mr. George C. Ogden has created in Winchester over $500,000 of taxable property. This is all in new buildings, and all of them of first class construction, and all occupied. These houses are in the vicinity of Park road and on Symmes road and on the hill near Symmes corner. He built the streets in good condition, constructed granolithic sidewalks and gutters, and all of these did not cost the town one dollar. Many of the houses are owned and occupied by new residents of a very desirable class. He has about a dozen lots of land at Symmes corner that have not yet been built upon, but on which he will erect houses as expeditiously as possible.

Mr. Ogden has gone much to make Winchester a town of beautiful residences, and he deserves praise for his thoroughness in details and embellishments.

CALUMET DINNER.

Twelve artists gave the program, which consisted of songs by young ladies, banjo playing, dancing, monologues and character songs.

The annual meeting and election of officers, which was to have been held on the same evening, was postponed to this Saturday night.

"Clincher" Paint

We know a paint which holds to the wood like a driven nail. Seals and lumbers is porous. The pores are the empty cells. White lead paint, which dries on the wood in the form of a solid, elastic film, fastens into these pores, and the whole coat of paint is actually riveted like armor-plate to the surface it decorates and protects.

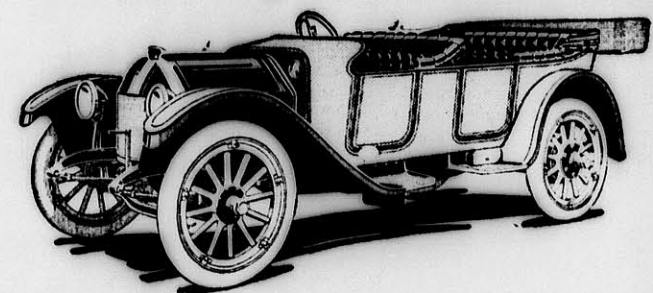

Red Seal White Lead and Pure Linseed Oil

make the paint that spreads into a solid body. It becomes a part of the wood itself—an outer layer that preserves the life of the lumber.

We sell it as well as other painting requisites. Come in and have a talk with us about painting.

AN EASTER HYMN.

The following was taken from the Congregational Church Calendar of last Sunday—and we reproduce it for the benefit of the many readers of the STAR not only because of its beauty, but also because of the extreme age of the author:

This hymn was written by Mrs. C. F. Dole, aged 95 1/2 years, who is the mother of Rev. C. F. Dole of Jamaica Plain, and was sent by Rev. F. H. Means to the pastor, who wishes to share the surprise and delight of it with you.

It comes, sure as the rising sun,
Earth's resurrection sign;
And so we think of vanished friends
Who now immortal shine.
Not in the silent grave they lie,
But radiant with life
They wear untiring beauty, won
Through noble earthly strife.
Thanks be to God, that Nature gives Mark of His constant care;
And jubilate the songs she sings,
O'er earth renewed and fair.
Thanks be to God, that from the tomb,
Christ, our dear Lord arose;
And grateful songs we offer Him
On whom our hopes repose.
So at this Easter tide we join
Earthly and heavenly choirs,
And render glory to our God
Whose love our own insures.
O glory, glory be to Him
"The Ancient of Days," Whose life's forces everywhere
While they declare His praise.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY.

The play given by the Senior and Junior classes of the High School last Saturday evening in the Town Hall was the best that has been given for a number of years. The play presented was "Captain Lettarblair," a comedy of three acts written by Marguerite Merriam. It was presented under the personal supervision of Mr. Robert Hawes Burnham, assisted by Mr. Charles J. Harrold, stage director. Mr. Burnham deserves great praise for the excellent manner in which the play was given.

The leading parts were taken by Gretchen Avery in the role of Fanny Hadden and by Raymond Strawbridge in the role of "Captain Lettarblair." Gretchen Avery was very charming in both her appearance and in the manner which she acted. Raymond Strawbridge no doubt was the star of the cast. Richard Noyes was well chosen to the role of the Dean of Ambrose. Way Rohnman had a very hard part as Francis Merivale and he acted it well. Gilbert Swett, as Pinkney and Franklin Lane as Jenkins were full of fun and kept the audience laughing most of the time. Elizabeth Fiske, as Polly Messiter was well chosen for that part and acted it in a very charming manner. Lillian Henderson took the part of Hyacinth Messiter, a maiden lady and she was well suited for that part. Loring Gleason, as Mr. Seton, Fanny's trustee, and Edwin Murphy, as Smithers a clerk acted in a business like manner.

The music was furnished by an orchestra and after the play dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

The cast of characters was as follows:
Dean Ambrose Richard Noyes
Mr. Seton, Fanny's trustee Loring Gleason
Pinkney, the Dean's private secretary, a student and afterwards a subaltern in the Irish Fusiliers Gilbert Swett
Polly Messiter, her niece and the Dean's goddaughter Elizabeth Fiske Hyacinth Messiter, a maiden lady Lillian Henderson
Francis Merivale, a neighboring Squire, a suitor to Fanny, Way Rohnman
Fanny Hadden, the Dean's orphan niece Gretchen Avery
Captain Lettarblair, Linton, the Irish Fusiliers Raymond Strawbridge
Smithers, a clerk in the office of Seton and Catesby Edwin Murphy
Jenkins, servant to Lettarblair Franklin Lane

ST. BARBARA DANCE.

The St. Barbara Committee of the Woman's Guild of the Church of the Epiphany held its first dancing party on Friday evening, giving a most delightful affair in the Town Hall. About 175 attended. The hall was decorated with palms, evergreen and oriental rugs, making a most tasteful and attractive setting. Old fashioned dances were enjoyed with the newer ones, making the evening attractive to both old and young alike. During the dance punch and trappé was served. The affair was in charge of a committee of thirty five under the direction of Mrs. Chester B. Kelley. Mr. Sylvester H. Taylor had charge of the dancing. The proceeds of the dance will go to the Guild appropriation for the completion of the parish house.

Very Respectfully,

PRESENTED WITH PICTURE AND BOUQUET.

There was a double significance attached to the opening of the Woburn Co-operative bank in its new quarters in the Five Cents Savings Bank building yesterday. It not only saw the prosperous bank excellently situated and well-started on another successful period, but it was also the inauguration of the 27th consecutive term of James Skinner as president of that institution, and the directors fittingly commemorated both events by presenting to the worthy president, a handsome picture, and a large bouquet of carnations. Mr. Herbert B. Dow made the presentation on behalf of the directors.—Woburn Times, April 10, 1913.
Mr. Skinner is brother to Miss Jennie E. Skinner of this town.

No Restful Sleep for Seventeen Months!

Dangerous, distressing Kidney and Bladder Trouble removed by Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

Mr. C. H. Smith, 320 Washington St., Providence, R. I., writes: "I thank you for the free sample bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy you sent me. Since taking this I have continued its use and have used three large bottles, with much relief. I had been troubled severely with constipation for years. My case was supposed to be chronic. Now my bowels are regular. I was also a great sufferer from Kidney and Bladder trouble and for seventeen months I had no rest at night, as it was necessary to get up so often, sometimes as often as twice an hour. I am pleased to say that now I do not have to get up more than twice during the night and sometimes only once. Your Favorite Remedy has proved a blessing to me. I feel better all over, as well as the blooded eyes. I sincerely thank you, for if I had not first tried the sample bottle I would to-day probably be in the same old condition, with aches and pains and all tired out."

SELECTMEN'S MEETING.

tinuous sidewalk. Referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges.

In the matter of the petition received from C. H. Lewis, January 6, 1913, for permission to enter the surface drain with roof water from his property at the corner of Church and Wildwood Streets, the situation was discussed with the Town Engineer who was present and he agreed to make further recommendations.

Voted: The Superintendent of Streets is instructed to see that each gang of department employees three or over in number shall have a working foreman who shall be held responsible for the men and who shall receive an extra wage while so employed.

A letter was received from Wm. R. Marshall, 7 Cliff Street, asking for permission to construct a granolithic approach or wall 2 or 3 feet wide through the parking in front of his residence to the street and also to widen the granolithic apron that was constructed last Fall from the street to his garage. Referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges.

A petition was received and referred to Committee on Street Lights from Charlotte A. McIntosh, Anna S. Woodbury, Harriet R. Linscott, Edward M. Messenger, for installation of two incandescent street lights on Stone Avenue.

A letter was received from the Superintendent of Streets relating to the sale of a tip-cart and referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges with full power.

The Committee on Ways and Bridges reported obtaining a price on crushed stone from the Waltham Company and the Essex County Trap Rock Company, the freight in either case amounting to 45 cents to Winchester and recommending the purchase of 5 or 6 cars of 25 tons each for repairing streets, and the authority was voted.

Voted, that the Lake Street Bridge be repaired at a cost of not exceeding $300.

The Committee on Ways and Bridges reported that the Board of Selectmen at the request of the officials of the Bay State Street Railway Co., inspected the turnout on Forest Street, Friday April 4, the object being the widening of the street and the extension of the turnout. After the conference it was the opinion of the Board that such widening may be had to the best advantage through a widening of the roadway at that point by taking about 10 feet from the Hoyt estate on the southernly side of Forest Street.

On the petition of Michael Nelson presented Jan. 27, 1913, the Committee on Street Lights recommended that a 60 c. p. light be installed on Loring Avenue opposite Wendell Street about 250 feet south of Cross Street and the Clerk was instructed to order the light installed.

On the petition of the Middlesex County National Bank presented March 24, for the relocation of an electric pole in front of their building the Committee on Street Lights reported that until the whole matter of lighting Church street was passed upon they would not recommend any change in the present location of poles.

On the request of J. A. Laraway presented March 31st, for an additional light in Walnut Street

HER EXPERIENCE.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

A meeting of the Anti-suffrage Association was held at the house of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Newell, Main street, Wednesday, April 2.

A member who had attended the debate at the State House, March 25, when House bill No. 19 was killed, gave an interesting and astonishing report of her experience. She found herself in a group of suffragists, who, when they found she was an anti-suffragist, plied her with questions and made such remarks as make one wonder if the man was not right who said he thought the unseemly struggle certain women were now making to do men's work was affecting their very nature. If not their nature, it would certainly seem as if the manners of these women at the State House had been affected. We could not help remembering that President Briggs of Radcliffe College once said he thought that "A political competition of both sexes is less likely to elevate men than to degrade women."

The accusation is sometimes brought against Anti-suffragists that many of them—especially the founders of the Association—are women of leisure who do not want to take the trouble to vote themselves and who do not take enough interest in the working-woman to help them win suffrage. In rebuttal of such a statement Mrs. Wm. Cummings read an article printed in the Sunday Herald, in which a little sketch of the work of the Boston leaders in Anti-suffrage is given. It shows how active they have been for years in promoting good work of all kinds for progress and uplift of woman; and it is their wide experience that has brought them to believe that suffrage would not help women of any class—neither the working woman nor the woman of leisure.

Miss A. M. Symmes then read a letter written by Mrs. Kate Gannett Wells, and read before the Committee on Election Laws in 1900. Mrs. Wells says in part:—"My reasoned conviction against the expediency of woman suffrage has strengthened rather than lessened as years have gone by. Both pro and anti-suffragists are working alike for human freedom and growth; and in so far each honors the other. It becomes, then, a question of method between us. As a method I believe suffrage is unwise; for women can work more disinterestedly in both public and private positions if they are not affiliated by votes with one or another party. . . . It is thus for the sake of the whole country that we plead—that suffrage may not become an impediment to woman. Our country needs that one half of its people at least should be freed from the restrictions of political organization and ready to work for home, school, and state as women, and not as partisans."

Miss Nourse read a very able paper by Mrs. Grace Duffield Goodwin, another of the thoughtful women of our country who has been converted from suffrage to anti-suffrage. She says: "I used to be a suffragist, concerned for women whom I thought would be benefited by the extension of this privilege, but after much reading and thought could find no ground to stand on." She calls attention to the fact that the last map of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union has the Woman Suffrage States printed in black, because it is impossible in these states to get any reformatory or prohibitive liquor legislation through to any great degree; and yet in face of this fact, the suffrage party still claim that if women have the vote, they will close saloons and wipe out the liquor traffic.

Mrs. Goodwin also calls attention to another fact, which in simple fairness ought to be emphasized: Not more than nine per cent.—probably less—of the women of the country are interested in suffrage; and yet we are told that it is the great overwhelming desire of the women of the country. The remaining ninety-one per cent. are not considered by agitators on street corners and in parades. According to them the women who want suffrage are the only women to be considered. The large majority are to be coerced. And this they call justice.

The women of the Winchester Branch of the Anti-Suffrage Association feel glad that our Representative in the Legislature, in spite of great pressure brought to bear upon him by suffragists stood firmly for what he saw as justice and right; and a resolution expressive of their grateful appreciation of the service he had rendered them, was sent to him from this meeting.

Anti-Suffrage.

MRS. SARAH LAIDLAW.

Mrs. Sarah Laidlaw, wife of William Laidlaw, died Tuesday at her home, 28 Chapin court, aged 51 years. She had been ill for several years and her death was not unexpected.

She was born in Montreal, Canada, and before settling in Winchester lived for some years at Manchester, N. H. Her husband is employed at the Puffer Manufacturing Company and they have lived in Winchester for about ten years. She is survived by only her husband.

The funeral was held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence. The burial was in Wildwood. Rev. Henry E. Hodge of the Baptist Church officiated.

NAPOLÉON SAID:- "Every DELAY gives OPPORTUNITY for DISASTER"

Any disaster that MIGHT happen to YOU will be softened upon REFLECTION about the AMOUNT of insurance for which YOUR body is insured, preferably in the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE, or HARTFORD same being one of the STRONGEST and OLDEST of America's insurance companies.

To die, UNINSURED, is to entail pecuniary LOSS upon one's FAMILY or ESTATE, or BOTH. As TIME SLIPS BY, the COST RISES; if health DEPARTS, then LIFE insurance is IMPOSSIBLE.

With the MANY forms of INVESTMENT endowment insurance, there is no truth in the fallacious sophism, "HAVE TO DIE TO WIN," as THOUSANDS may be paid you, IN CASH, while living, if you demand this form of insurance.

The only EVIDENCE requisite will be a policy (new terms) granted by the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE IN-

SURANCE COMPANY, which, if you are fortunate to pass a favorable medical examination, may be issued. SEIZE AN OPPORTUNITY and CALL at the MINOT BLDG., 110 DEVONSHIRE ST., BOSTON, Fifth Floor. FRANK L. RIPLEY, ANNUAL MEETING.

Secretary's Report.

The Winchester Visiting Nurse Association presents its fourteenth annual report. Its work has continued along familiar lines, "to give the best home nursing possible," and in addition, the Association has realized the dual purpose of its organization, "to establish and maintain a Hospital."

The Winchester Hospital was opened for patients March 11, 1912. Those in charge of its management have worked hard and faithfully to make a record for economy and efficiency and are ready to be judged by the result—the experiment has been worth while, if it has proved the need of a Hospital in Winchester, now is the time to provide for its continuance and to place it on a permanent basis.

The Visiting work has not been neglected for any new interest—the visits of the nurses in the homes are of the greatest importance, bringing them into friendly relations with every member of the household.

Two nurses have been kept busy throughout the year, making 3105 calls, 1331 of which were free.

The Association regrets to lose Miss Billings and Miss Stevens, who have been identified with it for nearly twelve years, and whose sympathetic and devoted have been great factors in its success.

Miss Billings resigned in July and Miss Stevens took charge, with Miss Field as assistant.

On the first of February, Miss Stevens was granted a three months' leave of absence and for a few weeks, Miss Field with Miss McLaughlin did satisfactory work. During the last week in February, Miss Alice M. Clark came to take charge, from a similar position in Cambridge. Miss Clark receives calls for her services through the Hospital telephone, making possible a closer connection between the different parts of the work; and it is expected that, in September, the pupils in the training school will be able to assist in the visiting work.

There has been a large increase in the number of members and subscribers; contributions of work for the supply committee from individuals and societies have been generous; and it is found that the advertisement of any want in the Winchester STAR brings a quick and liberal response. The Association gratefully acknowledges the gift of a receipted bill from the Winchester Laundry Company, the usual contribution of gas from the Arlington Gas Light Company for the June Breakfast and legal services from Mr. Joslin and Mr. Curtis Nash.

In the absence of Miss Billings, the Social Service Committee, Mrs. Carpenter, chairman, has had charge of the work of that department and has given help in many difficult cases. Cases of tuberculosis are cared for by this committee and it maintains a Baby Clinic and a Sewing Class. In all its activities, the Association strives to keep in mind the greater need—not alms but a friend.

Anna T. Gilman,

Secretary.

Finance Committee Report.

The report of the Finance Committee is a most gratifying one. Against a membership of 292 last year we have 350 this year, a gain of 58 members, being the largest membership we have ever had. The subscriptions have also increased. The amount this year being $319.75.

We have received the customary $360 from the Fletcher Fund.

The June Breakfast proved very successful, netting us $773.27, there being 124 tickets sold.

As there are so many new residents in the town, we hope the coming year will prove a banner one for the Association.

Respectfully submitted,

Clara H. Palmer,

Chairman of Finance Committee.

Report of the Supply Committee.

As in past years, the different church societies of our town have been generous in their work. We are indebted to the Western Missionary Society of the Congregational Church for 36 dozen pads and 12 packages of cut gauze sponges.

The Mission Union of the same church has made 87 packages of cut gauze, pulled threads for many yards of bandages and given to warm night garments, 18 infants' dresses, 8 gertudes, 6 blankets, 12 bands and other articles.

The Women's Guild of the Parish of the Epiphany has given a half dozen infant's blankets, and $5.00 to be used to purchase sheets as they are needed.

The Daughters of Isabella Church of the Catholic Church has given 3 baby night dresses and 2 children's night dresses and much valuable assistance in fitting out a tubercular patient for West field Sanatorium.

The Ladies' Friendly Society of the Unitarian Church has made 11 dozen towels, and cut and folded 1050 sponges.

Mr. Henry Nickerson, as has been his custom for many years, kindly donated a bale of 134 yards of gauze for bandages.

The Supply Committee has made 525 packages of sponges and many pads, besides pulling threads and cutting gauze for bandages. Of which Mrs. F. M. White has rolled 665 yards.

We have sold to patients 52 1/2 dozen pads, 52 yards of gauze and 11 to 15 of lint.

Many gifts have been received from the townspeople, which have been distributed where there was most need. More than 500 garments have been given to make people comfortable. Bedding, beds, sponges, mattresses, chairs, hats, shoes, stockings, gloves and many sick room comforts have been given to different families.

In response to a request made through the Winchester STAR for warm bed clothing eight comforters were promptly received, one of the many instances of interest taken by the town in the Visiting Nurse Association.

Mary M. Foster,

Chairman.

Report of Social Service Committee.

The Social Service work of the Winchester Visiting Nurse Association, carried on by a committee especially appointed for this purpose, is in its second year of activity and is being projected in much the same lines as those laid out last year.

As the work of this branch of the Association has to do mostly with the prevention of suffering and disease its two important conferences are those for the mothers with their young babies and the class for the prevention of tuberculosis.

Both conferences have been held in the Rooms of the Winchester Visiting Nurse Association in Waterfield Building with the exception of the hot summer months when the School Committee and Superintendent of Schools very graciously offered a large airy room in the Prince School for the Baby Clinics. The Physicians in charge of these conferences for the past year have been Dr. Brown for the Tuberculosis Class, Dr. Putnam, Dr. Gale, Dr. McCarthy and Dr. Cutter for the Baby Clinic.

Since last fall Dr. Gale has had full charge of the baby conference and has had a most able assistant in Miss Elsie Wullop.

The State Tuberculosis work which is being each year more intelligently and extensively carried on is a great help to the small towns struggling to cope with the work within their own borders. The notification by the State of new cases coming into a community is of the greatest aid to the local workers.

The City Hospitals are doing much social service work and following as far as possible the patients discharged from their direct supervision. This Association has received many notifications both from the Hospitals and from the State of patients coming to this town and it has been possible either through this Association or through the School Physician or nurse to continue to aid and advise these patients, helping them in all possible ways to regain health and courage.

The Sewing Class for mothers which was so successfully carried on last year by Mrs. Wills has been continued this year with good results under the able direction of Mrs. Fredman F. French, with Miss Leslie Taylor, as assistant.

Each person this year who has in any way been connected with the work of this group has felt the sweet and lasting influence left by Mrs. Wills as a precious inheritance to those who were to follow in her footsteps.

The Sewing Class for young girls has been directed by Miss Eleanor Briggs and Miss Emma Farnsworth. Their enthusiasm and interest in the class has inspired the little people to accomplish fine results not only in practical sewing but in ornamental work as well.

To give a full report of the Social Service work of this Association would be an almost endless task. It would mean the recounting of visits for help and of sympathy to those suffering and weak, visits of cheer to those losing courage in life's hard battle; visits of practical assistance where house rent, furniture, clothing and food are needed to be supplied.

The Nurse coming with her cheery smile to bring relief and comfort to her patient, works hand in hand with the Association member and together they plan the outfitting of those patients who are to seek in the Sanatorium the help we cannot give as well here in Winchester.

We are constantly gladdened by the good results obtained through this outside help.

Mothers, fathers and children come back to us again not only stronger and in better health but with renewed courage and an added interest in life.

After the long days of illness are over and the patient begins to feel an ambition to take up life's duties again and to add his contribution to the family exchequer then comes the question of the right kind of work for this one to do and this is one of the most serious questions the Association has to solve. But in time the right solution comes and the occupation found most suitable to his needs.

It would be impossible for the Social Service Committee to express to everyone, to whom we are indebted the appreciation we feel for the ready response we have had to all appeals for assistance.

The help has often come from interested friends whose names have been withheld.

We only hope those friends will understand how far reaching their help has really been.

Mary W. Carpenter,

Chairman Social Service Committee.

Report of the Chairman of the Hospital Committee.

Two years ago, at the annual meeting of the Visiting Nurse Association, the President, Mrs. Joshua Coit, asked the Association to vote upon the following question, "does the society deem it wise to establish a hospital in Winchester?"

When the answer was given in the affirmative, even those women who were most in favor of the movement were overwhelmed with the thought of the responsibility thrust upon them. But nothing daunted, they put their shoulder to the wheel and pushed the load faithfully and persistently until at the close of the first year they can look back with a certain degree of satisfaction on the work accomplished.

Through the influence of Mrs. Houghton we were fortunate in having with us at the beginning of the work, Miss McCalmont, a young woman who is authority on all matters pertaining to hospitals, she is a woman very much in demand, commanding a large salary, yet through her friendship for Mrs. Houghton and her love for the cause she gave us nearly two weeks of her time, coming to us early in May and again in June, during which time she gathered data from which she made up our first quarterly report. We being somewhat conservative have not carried out all of her suggestions, but her advice has been of the greatest assistance. Her willingness to come to us in our time of need proved her to have the spirit of sacrifice which dominates those engaged in her profession. That the need of a hospital in Winchester is no longer a question, all agree it has been proved beyond a doubt that a home in our midst where our dear ones can be cared for during illness is a necessity, and it is one of the duties that our town owes to its inhabitants to support it so generously that those who go there to help will receive the best surgical and medical treatment that can be had in this locality.

The steadily increasing number of patients admitted shows that we have the confidence of the community and that the dread of going to a hospital is fast disappearing.

We have heard the criticism that no charity cases are cared for. That this is an error can be seen when one understands that our lowest price for the care of a patient is only $10.50 per week, while it is estimated by hospitals of larger capacity and longer standing than ours, that the lowest price per capita is not less than $2.00 per day. As we have no endowment fund it is not possible for us to take patients who are unable to pay the minimum charge, excepting as they can have the use of one of the free beds.

From Dr. Winsor's family in memory of their father, we received $500.00 which enables us to maintain one free bed for one year.

Mr. Shultz, one of our townsmen, has given a sum sufficient to maintain one free bed for six months while the "Daughters of Isabella," a society connected with the Catholic Church, provided a free bed for working girls for three months. Thus through these gifts it has been possible to give hospital care to many who could in no way find help without being taken to some charitable institution out of town. Those who have benefited by this care have expressed their appreciation of the many kindnesses shown them while in the hospital. We work at a great disadvantage in having only two private rooms, our greatest source of income, for in many instances we have been obliged to refuse admission to patients who wished to be cared for at the Winchester Hospital.

This is a disappointment to the doctors who recommend the hospital to their patients as well as the patients themselves. This is only one of the many ways in which we suffer from lack of sufficient room. Since October the house has been practically full and the Superintendent is often at a loss to know how to care for emergency cases with the house taxed to its utmost capacity. Our nurses also suffer for want of room. They are lodged in the third story which is uncomfortably warm in summer and not properly heated in winter. The dining room is separated by only a thin partition from one of the wards so that there can be little relaxation during the hours when it is most needed. The portable house given by Mrs. Mead and Dr. Cutter is the only place where the nurses can throw off restraint and forget for a time their arduous duties. We wish to make mention of the fact that Mrs. Reynolds, a former owner of the hospital property, and who now lives in an adjoining house has most kindly given us the use of one of her rooms for our night nurse who has thus been assured of a quiet resting place during the day. For the first six months of our existence we depended for our help on graduate nurses. Finding this very expensive and not wholly satisfactory, the question of starting a training school became a serious one and after due consideration the Board voted to adopt this method of training our own nurses.

We were fortunate in securing four young ladies who came to us highly recommended and on the 26th of August they entered upon their probation period of three months; they have shown an aptitude for the work and at the present time we are obliged to hire only three graduate nurses, namely one head nurse, one night nurse and one operating nurse. The girls in training will soon take turns in assisting Miss Clark the new Visiting nurse. We are most fortunate in having the nucleus for a hospital and society in the "Winter Club." The young ladies belonging to this club have rendered great assistance in not only making but furnishing material for curtains, screen covers, tray cloths, etc., besides doing all of the hospital mending, no small item where everything must be sent to the laundry. A complete list of the work done by this club will be printed in the annual report.

Our first donation day was observed October 28th, when many people visited the hospital bringing substantial gifts. Our thanks are due to the friends who by their gifts have shown a deep interest in this new venture. To the doctors, who have been the best judges of the work, we owe our thanks for their kindly criticism and hearty cooperation.

This work although primarily an outgrowth of the Visiting Nurse Association could never have been undertaken without the financial support of a large number of our townspeople.

I cannot close this report without referring to the faithful and intelligent work of our superintendent, Miss Grace Cushing, to whom is due much of the success of the first year of our Winchester Hospital.

Your committee hopes that before the close of another year, through the generosity of the citizens of Winchester our hospital will be so equipped that more and better work can be done, and that profiting by the experience of this year your committee will be able to discharge the trust committed to it with more wisdom and with greater benefit to the community.

BOSTON THEATRE.

The welcome that has been accorded Maelyn Arbuckle in "The Roundup" at the Boston Theatre, the past two weeks shows that it has not lost a whit of its popularity, and the capacity audiences since the opening have been genuinely enthusiastic. The wild scenes of Western life appealed alike to the orchestra and the gallery, and proves even to a casual observer that players of all classes enjoy melodrama.

There is little call to go into detail again about the piece itself, but it may be noted that a second view of the wonderful battle scene gives one a profound respect for the amazing knowledge of stagecraft evinced by the actor who devised and brought to such excellent completion one of the most realistic fights that the modern stage has known.

A special bureau has been established for the expeditious handling of mail orders, which when sent with cash or money and accompanied by addressed, stamped envelope receive immediate attention.

An announcement that had been hailed with delight by thousands of theatregoers all over New England, is the return of Peter, The Great, the wonderful Syrian wonder who comes to B. F. Keith's Theatre next week after a triumphant tour of the world. On his last visit to Boston Peter had the whole town by the ears. He visited all the important persons in and around Boston, including Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, and dined at the Touraine. He is without question the most wonderful chimpanzee that ever was brought to this country. Peter dresses and undresses himself, eats with a knife and fork, runs a typewriter, rides the bicycle, roller skates, in fact does everything except talk. He is best described by the phrase, "He was born a monkey but he made himself a man."

Peter's engagement is for one week only. Other attractions will be B. A. W. C. T. U. NOTES.

In an endeavor to prove that society is really growing better rather than worse, students of social progress call attention to the change in the form of present day social service from that of other years. They show that while the reformers of the twentieth century may appear to work less for the salvation of the individual and in the eyes of many may not so literally fulfill the requirements of Christ's "Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of the least of these my brethren," as a matter of fact the service rendered may be broader in its scope and of more lasting value to the world.

"Formerly temperance workers," says Professor Ross of the University of Wisconsin, "devoted their efforts to an endeavor to persuade a man not to drink, in the hope of reforming him. Nowadays we see that the thing to do is to throttle the liquor traffic." In accomplishing this latter, and far more difficult and dangerous task, we are performing for society a "once for all" service which will save hundreds of thousands of boys and girls from the temptations and allurements of the liquor evil.

While we recognize that the rescue missions of our cities are doing a work the value of which is unmeasurable, we must magnify the necessity for the "once for all" service which shall render unnecessary a large part of this form of endeavor.—The Union Signal.

NEWS TO HIM.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

In your issue for last week under "Observations" Mr. John H. Carter says that the address of Mr. Louis D. Brandeis to the Congregational Ministers was "certainly very amusing when the ministers have ridden for years on free passes."

Some of the Ministers of Winchester and vicinity very much wish he would be more explicit, for evidently he is misinformed or else there is something "going around" of which they are totally ignorant.

I trust we may have some more "Observations" on the subject.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING.

Fitzgerald Contracting Co. Awarded Contract for Floor at Town Hall.

April 14, 1914.
The Board met at 7:30 p. m. All present.

The Clerk reported that the records of the meeting of April 7th, 1913, were read and approved.

The Board proceeded to the nomination of two registrars of voters.

The Committee on elections to whom the letter of the Progressive League, was referred April 7th, regarding the representation of the Progressive Party on the Board of Registrars of Voters reported that the authority for the appointment of Registrars of Voters is found in Section 25 of Chapter 56A, acts of 1907 which provides "in every town having three hundred voters, as provided in the following section, there shall be a board of registrars of voters consisting of the town clerk and three other persons who shall be appointed by a writing signed by the Selectmen and filed with the town clerk," one registrar being appointed annually for a term of three years.

Section 27 is as follows: "In the original and in each succeeding appointment and in the filling of vacancies, registrars of voters shall be so appointed that the members of the board shall, as equally as may be, represent the two leading political parties at the preceding state election, and in no case shall an appointment be so made as to cause a board to consist of more than two members, who, including the city or town clerk, are of the same political party."

In section 1 of said chapter relating to the construction of terms is found the following: "Two leading political parties shall apply to the political parties which cast the highest and next highest number of votes for governor at the preceding state election."

The votes for governor at the last state election were as follows:

Foss	Democratic	103,181
Walker	Republican	143,667
Bird	Progressive	126,102

It appeared to the committee correctly clear that the Registrars of Voters must be so appointed to fill the vacancies now existing that the members of the board shall, as equally as may be, represent the Democratic and Republican parties.

A letter was received from Thomas Barrett, Chairman of the Wilson and Marshall Democratic Club and from Frank E. Rogers, Recorder of the Citizens' Independent Club of Winchester, recommending Henry E. Lewis of Webster street. The following nominations were made to hold over one week under the rules, namely:

T. Price Wilson (Republican) for the three years ending May 1, 1916.
Howard S. Cosgrove (Democratic) to serve the unexpired term of John T. Cosgrove, deceased, ending May 1, 1915.

Nomination of an Inspector of Buildings to serve for the twelve months ending May 1, 1914, was taken up. An application for this position was received from Patrick L. Fitzgerald.

Maurice Dineen was nominated Inspector of Buildings for the year ending May 1, 1914, the nomination to hold over one week under the rules.

The Committee on Accounts reported in favor of the appointment of Miss Winifred LeDuc of 21 Thompson street as Assistant General Clerk, for a probationary term.

Applications for bank clerks licenses were received from Charles Feinberg, N. Robinson, M. Tiger, Simmel Winer, with approval of the Chief of Police, and referred to the Committee on Licenses.

Applications for licenses to transport liquors were received from the American Express Co., Kelley & Hawes Co., with reports from Chief of Police and referred to the Chairman and the Committee on Licenses.

The Chairman reported that Committees from the cities of Medford, Woburn and Somerville desired to meet with a Committee from this town to act upon a proposition to secure a through line of cars from Medford Square to Sullivan Square Terminal by way of Mystic Avenue. Referred to the Committee on Corporation.

At 8 p. m., in accordance with advertisement duly published in the Winchester STAR bids were opened for doing certain work in the basement of the Town Hall as per the following specifications supplied to each bidder, namely:

The work consists in removing the existing cement concrete floor in the Town Hall basement, and replacing it with a cement or granolithic floor to be constructed according to a plan on file in the Town Engineer's office.

After consideration of the bids the Town Hall Committee recommended that the following work be done in the basement of the Town Hall Building under the bid submitted by J. J. Fitzgerald Contracting Co., namely:

Granolithic Steps	$205.00
Concrete wall and Coal Bin	56.00
Catch Basin and Drain	37.50
Total	$322.50

It was voted to award the contract to the J. J. Fitzgerald Contracting Company, as above specified.

SIMON — WEBSTER.

The wedding of Dr. Harold Francis Simon of Church street, son of the late Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Simon, and Miss Lillian M. Webster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Webster of Malden, was quietly observed at the home of the bride's parents, No. 347 Pleasant street, yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. The ceremony was attended only by the immediate relatives of the couple, and was performed by Rev. Richard Eddy Sykes of the First Universalist church, Malden. The couple were unattended.

The groom is well known in this town, where he has been a practicing physician for the past five years. The bride is a popular young lady of Malden, and a prominent member of John Adams Chapter, D. A. R., of Boston.

Following a month's trip to California, Dr. and Mrs. Simon will take up their residence at 31 Church street.

ORCHESTRAL ASSOCIATION CONCERT.

The Winchester Orchestral Association gave its Spring Concert last Tuesday evening, April 15th, in the Town Hall. The programme was as follows:

Mozart Overture to "The Magic Flute"
Haydn Symphony in G Major
Mozart Concerto for Violin and Orchestra No. 4
Hannum Grand Phantastie on themes from "Lohengrin"
Violin Solos (with piano)
(a) Ravi "Cavatina"
(b) Dvorak "Humoresque"
Wagner Overture to "Rienzi"

When S. Nikander brought his libretto of the "Magic Flute" to Mozart and asked him to compose music for the opera, Mozart said: "If the music is not successful, don't blame me, for I have never written fairy music." Then, in that often mentioned pavilion in the garden near the theatre, Mozart composed the music of the opera and overture, lavishing the treasures of his genius on both to such purpose that Rossini, (a master of operatic composition,) when trying to compose a "fugued overture" on the model of Mozart's, said: "I've had to tear them all up; the great model is too overpowering!"

Extemporized by the E-flat major chords, (supposedly "Masonic"), which open the overture and recur later, the overture is an elaborate fugue, treated with a brilliancy, richness of tone color and breadth, that no composer has yet excelled. It stands today as a rich and perfect model for like compositions. Mr. Hadley's reading of the Mozart overture was excellent, and the orchestra wove the fugue web of tone deftly, with just accent and clear tempo.

Of Haydn's "Military" Symphony it is hard to speak, without comparing it to Mozart's music. Haydn and Mozart; so alike, so different; must always stand together in musical history. Haydn, a healthy, energetic boy, son of a wheelwright, who was taught cleanliness, sobriety and industry by his parents, culled by his early teachers, who worked at musical tasks, played the fiddle at weddings, sang in streets and cafes to earn his supper, and often starting, worked at night in a dim, cold attic, composing; lived almost all his life in fame and affluence, courted, honored and loved. Mozart less robust than Haydn, was trained carefully in music by his musician-father, a "wonder-child" at six years, lived largely among courtiers, noblemen, and cultivated musicians. Yet all his life he was poor sometimes destitute, and never understood, and died thus, and when he was dying and managers and noblemen besieged his door begging for his music and offering gold, he smiled at Sussmayer, and said: "They come too late!" Both Haydn and Mozart were cheerful, brave, and religious, and both were musical geniuses. Haydn had a simple human sympathy with all men and manners, and loved them; while Mozart, less robust, more imaginative and sensitive, was almost a pure musical genius. Haydn's genius was primarily receptive; Mozart's was preceptive. Haydn was the limit, singing early, lovingly, from the human heart of things; Mozart was the lark, singing as sweetly, but soaring heavenward as he sang. This contrast of the composers is well shown by the overture. The symphony sings, laughs, loves, with sweet human voices. So does the overture, and also it soars. We would not ask a better rendering of the symphony than Mr. Hadley and the orchestra gave, for it had just accent, clear rhythm, and especially in the Allegretto, richness of tone.

Mr. Podnos ambitiously chose a Mozart concerto for his chit solo. His technique was amply sufficient, his style easy, and his rhythm true. In the two cadenza passages his chords were sure and harmonious, and his stopped harmonies clear and in tune. His tone is not large, but is sweet and clear, and he obtained from forcing it even in the forte passages. He was at his best in the Mozart concerto, which was an admirable performance of a difficult work. The Ravi "Cavatina," so little played at concerts now, sounded under Mr. Podnos's bow as a beautiful and graceful song, and was played with delicate artistry and rich tone. Less happy was his interpretation of the "Humoresque," for though his tone remained clear and warm, his tempo and accent often sounded forced and abrupt, making the music more praiseworthy and nervous than humorous. He is, however, a violinist of undoubted talent and ability, and his playing was warmly received and loudly applauded.

Hannum's "Phantastie" on "Lohengrin" was played with vigor and feeling, and with excellent tone, especially in the strings, and in the "Rienzi" overture the orchestra responded to Mr. Hadley's call with a rising crescendo that swelled, vibrated, rose into a crash of sound, and then swept on like one great wave, ever with tossing crest, but balanced and unbroken. In it one could hear the brazen-throated mob surging up the Capitoline Hill, with the thunderous roar of triumph.

The concert was genuinely applauded and appreciated, and undoubtedly, was generally more enjoyed than any other of the season, successful though they were.

Next season the Orchestral Association promises even better things. Already these concerts have become an institution, and are crowded, and enjoyed.

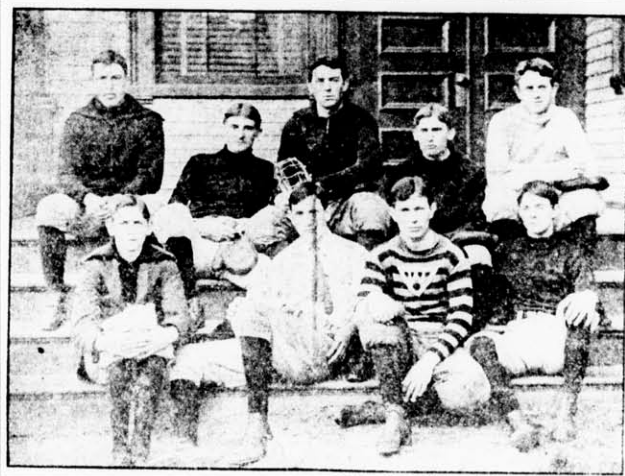

COMUNICATION.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

Owing to the many rumors to the effect that Branch Lady Redmond, No. 916 L. N. B. S., has disbanded, I feel it my duty at the present time to say all such statements are untrue and without any foundation whatsoever. Lady Redmond is the only Ladies Branch of the Order in the town up to this date and it gives me pleasure to say it is in a flourishing condition and holds its regular meetings every second and fourth Wednesday of the month at 8 o'clock in Court Pride, F. of A. Hall, Locom Building.

Respectfully,
Isabel L. McKenzie,
Branch Chief Ranger.

W. H. S. Base Ball Team of 1895.

Top Row—C. L. Mitchell, right field; J. Nowell, 21 base; G. Payne, catcher; J. Russell, 8 stop; R. Rotherham, 1st base.

Tomorrow morning, April 19th, at 10 o'clock, occurs the annual base ball game between the High School and the old team of 1895.

Base ball has grown to be a necessary part of High School life, but, whereas, money is appropriated annually by the town to care for the running expenses of all branches of school work, the athletic teams must rely upon receipts collected at games, or resort to a canvass for private subscriptions.

ATTEND THE PLAY.

Proceeds from Colonel's Maid for Western Flood Sufferers.

In the town hall next Tuesday evening the local council, K. of C., will repeat their recent drama, "The Colonel's Maid" for the benefit of the western flood sufferers.

This play is well worth attending. At its recent production it was given before a crowded house, and was voted by all to be one of the best entertainments of the winter.

A request is made to all our townspeople to set aside this evening and attend. They are assured of an evening of pleasing entertainment and will assist in this movement of nation wide relief. Tuesday evening, April 22nd.

The Mystic Valley Orchestra has kindly volunteered to furnish the music for the entr'acts and for the dancing which will follow the entertainment.

OLD BALLADS WITH TABLEUX

The program of the concert to be given by the choir of the Epiphany Church in the Town Hall, next Friday evening will include such interesting numbers as Fanning's "Song of the Vikings," Pinson's "Crusades," and "To thee, O Country," by Enclberg, interspersed with a number of old ballads like "Annie Laurie," "My Love is Like a Red, Red Rose," "Drink to me Only with Thine Eyes," "De Lorie," and "We'll Thine in the Cold Blast," which will be illustrated by living picture tableaux. Solos will be rendered by Master Max Passano and Master Kenneth McLeod who will also sing a duet. Miss Adams, who gave great pleasure with her readings at the concert last year will again take part and Mr. Kendrick, the violinist, will add to the pleasure of the audience with some violin solos. The tableaux vivants will be under the personal direction of Mr. Sylvester Taylor, who arranged them last year at which time they were such a marked success that it was decided to repeat them this year.

The Epiphany Choir, under the able direction of Mr. I. Albert Wilson, the Choir master and organist, has developed into one of the finest boy choirs in the State, and to all those who enjoy choral music the forthcoming concert will be a decided treat.

Mr. T. Price Wilson, former secretary of the club, was appointed President.

Seven new members were elected to the club, and the season opens with the non-resident list full and several names on the waiting list. It is anticipated that the resident list will rapidly approach its limit during the next month, and in view of this, and the constantly increasing demand for accommodations, a committee will be appointed to consider the enlargement of the hall and locker room in carrying out the plans of last year's board, which placed a permanent covering over the roof garden. It is the intention to place side walks on the roof garden and open it into the present hall, which will increase the available space for dancing and social events about double. An opening at the rear into the locker room will provide space for about one-third more lockers.

The war canoe which is under construction is expected to arrive at the club about the first of May, and Fleet Captain Frank H. Gerlach is actively at work collecting material for the crew. With four fine racing boats at their disposal, it is probable that this branch of the club will be very active.

The High School boys have been granted their usual privilege at the club to train for the Lawson trophy race to take place June 17th, and will begin work at once.

The Club will be open for the 19th and 20th, and will open for the season on Saturday, May 3rd.

MRS. ELIZABETH E. DOWNS.

Mrs. Elizabeth E. Downs passed away at her home on Main street Tuesday after a period of invalidism extending over five years. She was 63 years of age.

Mrs. Downs was born in Milton. Her parents were Joseph and Elizabeth Pauline (Waldmyer) Blank. Previous to her marriage in 1872 to George W. Downs of Roxbury, she resided for a time in this town, and following his death in 1892 she again came to Winchester and made her home having resided here continuously for the past thirteen years.

In September, 1907, she was stricken with paralysis, and since that time had been an invalid, being practically confined to her bed. Although of a robust and energetic nature she bore her affliction with great cheerfulness and fortitude. Her death followed a natural decline covering the more recent period of her illness.

Mrs. Downs is survived by one son, Mr. Jere A. Downs, of the firm of Hayden, Stone & Co., of Boston, and one daughter, Miss Elizabeth S. Downs, both of this town and with whom she made her home. Three brothers also survive her, Messrs. John S., Philip J. and Benjamin F. Blank, all of this town.

She was a member of the Unitarian Church, and a former member of the Fortnightly.

The funeral services were held at the residence, No. 433 Main street, yesterday afternoon at 2:30. They were of a simple nature, with selections by the Lotus male quartette, and were conducted by Rev. Joel H. Metcalf, pastor of the Unitarian Church.

The display of flowers was very beautiful and profuse. The remains were interred in Wildwood Cemetery, where short services were held at the grave.

WEBBER—SMART.

The wedding of Miss Ruth Smart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington F. Smart, and Mr. Harold Townley Webber, son of Mr. Isaac R. Webber of Main street, was quietly observed at the home of the bride's parents, 25 Dix street, last evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James Reed, of the Church of the New Jerusalem, Boston, and was witnessed by the members of the two families and a few intimate friends.

Miss Hazel Smart, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mr. Ralph Watson of Pittsburgh was best man. The couple will sail on a southern trip, and on their return will make their home at Harvard, Mass.

THE FORTNIGHTLY.

Annual report of Recording Secretary, 1912-1913.

The year 1912-13 should be placed on record as the year when The Fortnightly became five hundred strong. Again we have amended our by-laws and admitted fifty new members, notwithstanding which accession we now have a waiting list of twenty-nine. The average attendance has been about two hundred and fifty.

The program of the year has covered a wide range of subjects in its lectures. Literature has been ably represented by Leon H. Vincent in a lecture upon "Scotch Humor and Sentiment" and by Professor Vida D. Scudder in a discussion of Mallory's "Morte d'Arthur." Art has been practically illustrated in a stereopticon lecture on "English Cathedrals" by Rev. Charles T. Billings, and music and poetry have been combined in a lecture on "Folk Songs" by Professor John Patton Marshall. Nature has been depicted with the stereopticon by Herbert W. Gleason in a talk on "Luther Burbank," and current events and pure food have been dealt with by Henry C. Long and Professor Lewis B. Allen, respectively. Last of all, our own responsibilities and opportunities have been laid before us, by the Rev. A. Z. Conrad, in his address on "The Woman Worth While to the Modern World," and by our own President in the "Glimpses of the Biennial" which she brought to us.

Beside the lecture course the program has provided several delightful afternoon entertainments. There has been Irish Story telling by Miss Margaret E. Sayward, Interpretative Dancing by Miss Virginia Tanner, and Folk-dancing by our own High School girls. The folk-dancing was given at our Home Day which was in charge of the Social Committee, and which took the form of a very attractive reception to Mrs. Eugene N. Foss with our President and two of the Vice-Presidents of the state federation.

The other two afternoon which were provided by home talent proved even more interesting than usual. The Choral Class under Mr. J. Albert Baumgartner gave a remarkably fine concert, and the Dramatic Committee made a reputation for itself in its presentation of "The Amazons."

The social life of the club has been well maintained by the Social Committee. Refreshments have been served at our regular meetings, as well as at the reception and home day, and a corps of ushers has helped greatly to promote general acquaintance among the members.

The class work, too, has been valuable in bringing the members together in small groups where all could become acquainted. There have been three classes for members in the departments of Art, Literature, Household Economics, Civic, Music, and Drama.

The Art Committee, Miss Cora A. Quimby, Chairman, has conducted a class for the study of English Cathedrals, with papers and reviews by the various members. The Art Committee has also kept in touch with art conferences, supplied the club with tickets to the Boston Art Club, and decorated the Town Hall for two receptions.

The Literature Committee, Mrs. Sarah L. Kneeland, Chairman, has been the centre of a group which has studied Modern Authors, papers and selections being supplied by the members.

The Household Economics Committee, Mrs. Henrietta S. Wixom, Chairman, has taken up the study of Textiles, and Economy in Food-Buying and Meal Planning. Mrs. Wixom herself has given a most interesting course of lectures on Textiles, and outside speakers have addressed the class on the various subjects. This Committee is also responsible for the very energetic Fly Campaign of last summer.

The Civics Committee, Mrs. Amy B. Mitchell, Chairman, has given a course of ten lessons in Parliamentary Law under Mrs. Electa M. Sherman.

The Music Committee, Mrs. Ida H. Tufts, Chairman, has conducted a most successful Choral Class, supplied the annual concert of the club, and furnished incidental music at a number of meetings.

The Dramatic Committee, Mrs. Mabel T. Clark, Chairman, has interested a Father Maguire of St. Mary's Church. Miss Mary Brophy of St. John's, Newton, was bridesmaid and Mr. Michael Rowen, brother of the groom, was best man.

THE MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION.

Mrs. Annie Norris, nurse, connected with child welfare work in Boston, under the direction of the Visiting Nurse Association gave a most helpful talk to the Winchester Mother's Association at their regular monthly meeting held at the High School, April 16th. Practical outfits and patterns were shown, also pictures of articles used in demonstrations given in various cities by the committee on Childhood's Health Exhibitions of Boston. This work was started in 1910 by Dr. Henry I. Bowditch; it is only recently, however, that such methods have been applied as a means to guide unknowing mothers through the difficult first years of their children's lives.

Refreshments were served at the close of the games.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

A most estimable gentleman here in Winchester gives The Spectator to understand that those whose generous instincts prompt them to go to far countries carrying a message of spiritual enlightenment would have done better to stay at home and minister to the need of the next door neighbor. It has been The Spectator's observation that when those who are unselfish extend the helping hand to some one in the immediate vicinity, such persons are likely to be told that they had better expend their surplus energies on their own development. But when a man remains deaf to the plea to come over to India, and is equally indifferent to the welfare of those around him, considering his own ease and comfort first of all, he is told that he ought to think of others instead of indulging himself. So that which ever course is chosen, a man who does anything for anybody, including himself, is certain to incur criticism. The only way to avoid unfavorable strictures altogether is to live a hermits existence, and even then there is the still small voice of conscience to reproach the procedure. The real missionary, whether to foreign parts or to neighboring dooryards, is abroad to do what good he can, heedless of the cynic and the scoffer, seeking only the opportunity to serve, and not asking when and what the reward shall be. He does not look for immediate results, neither does he expect that his beneficiaries will rise up to acclaim him as their benefactor. He goes on working cheerfully and hopefully, outdoing Wilkins Micawber in his blithe confidence that things will somehow soon take a turn for the better. The man who cannot wait to see the fruition of his sacrifice and his devotion has no call to be a missionary anywhere. The man who does harm is always more quickly recognized than the man who does good. Destruction is more noisily conspicuous than constructive, upbuilding processes. The greatest missionaries have been the most patient of men in their willingness to wait, with no expectation of spectacular, immediate results. There are many missionaries in Winchester and elsewhere where whom no board of missions is supporting; many are not the recognized and salaried agents of any of the churches. Whoever to any home the gospel of love and light is brought, whoever the messenger may be, a missionary service has been rendered, and the missionary spirit may be shown as truly by the member of the family who tries to be brave and cheerful under difficulties as by those who carry to China or to India a better code of ethics, a higher order of morality, a more elevated standard of precept and practice.

Figuratively speaking, if one is wise, it is with both hands and feet. He approaches the subject of mental and moral development for children in any of its hundredfold aspects. Years ago The Spectator heard a woman say of her little brood of boys and girls that she had always allowed them every freedom, had persistently "spoiled" them and left them to "paddle their own canoe"; that they were hers and she was at liberty to follow out her own sweet will in their management, expecting them finally to measure up to the standard of the "red tape" variety. They were little then; they are grown now, and in the long years between did not enjoy their full inheritance of lovable childhood. The impartial onlooker gets a better view than does the loving parent, who is prone to forget the child's right to sufficient discipline to make him attractive to others. He loses immeasurably by his lack when he exhibits his wayward outbursts and ugly little tricks away from the protection of parental love and sympathy. He cannot be blamed; it is the natural product of over indulgence, yet it is hard on a child, an injustice to him, to allow him to accumulate a rank growth of weeds, when Nature intended a garden of flowers. Years ago three little girls were left with friends by their mother, who was forced to leave their home in search for health. Her parting admonition to the merriest, but most mischievous, willful little maid was: "Remember, mother always will love you, no matter what happens; but no one else will, unless you keep yourself sweet and lovable." And the long years that have passed have not effaced that remark from the little maid's mind. The unsightliness and lack of beauty in an ungoverned child count for nothing when compared with his own loss; and any reasonable person, though a rank outsider, can see beauty and loveliness in a child that falls far short of perfection. It is the flagrant exhibitions we display and witness too frequently, that make it impossible for the irresponsible little offender to gain an affectionate foothold anywhere outside his own home. Fortunately, discipline and government are words which permit pretty elastic interpretation and do not mean the heavy hand of authority or eternal vigilance. Example is worth more than endless amount of talk. A boy who can think and not recall a profane word ever uttered by his father is apt to hesitate long before he makes his first break. If he sees his father courteously give up his chair to another, he is not likely to make a wild scramble for the best of the room afford. If the father exhibits just the ordinary traits which constitute what we are pleased to term, "a gentleman," the boy feels out of harmony at the first exhibition of boorishness and churlishness. As to the reaction of lack of discipline and government upon the parent, "that is another story," one with which we are all familiar. And still fear and trembling grow apace.

The Spectator always has been an ardent lover of God's feathered creatures, the birds. That the public schools do not teach the children more about the birds has been a matter of regret to The Spectator. Jeannette Marks and Julia Moody, in their work captioned, "Holidays with the Birds," call attention to the fact that the birds can teach our children many things—how to be neat and clean, how to sing and to live together joyfully and in peace. All the world will be more interesting when the children know how beautiful and useful the birds are. One wise parent here in Winchester has her children visit the little birds, make friends of them, spread a table for these other little Americans, and teaches her children to never, never forget that the earth and trees and brooks and sky of this wonderful old world could not be so beautiful without them! WEDGEMERE POND.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

It is perhaps advisable, in view of Mr. Joy's letter in the STAR, to explain to the citizens of Winchester, the proposed plan of treatment of the Wedgemere Pond. At Wedgemere we have a condition as follows:

The Avergon river enters this pond at its northeastern end, turns abruptly to the west and south and leaves the pond at its southwestern end. The flow of the stream in this manner causes a strong back eddy which circulates around from the southwestern end of the pond to the northeastern. This eddy at the highest elevation of the water flows over mud flats that are very little covered by the water. There also enters this pond from the east, a large surface drain pipe which carries into the pond a large amount of surface dirt. This dirt, together with the washings of the Aberjona River, are carried around in the back eddy and as the velocity of the current slackens, are deposited in the northwestern end of the pond.

This is a condition which exists today and will exist whether the present pond is dredged or not. The natural conditions are such that an ideal filter bed is formed and even though the pond were dredged in course of time the northwestern part would fill up again. The plan which is now under consideration is designed to prevent existing conditions for all time and at the same time preserve all the natural beauty possible. The channel of the river is to be confined within such limits as will enable the stream to clean its channels by its own flowage. This does not necessarily mean that the river is to be made to flow in a small narrow channel.

The proposed new channel is practically the one proposed by Mr. Kellaway in the treatment of Wedgemere Pond as stated in the Waterways Improvement Committee report and will be about 160 feet wide in the middle and will narrow at both ends. The land made by filling in can be planted with shrubs and made extremely attractive, while the area of water will be as large as is possible to have and remedy conditions for good and all. The stagnant water that now exists and will always be present whether under present or similar conditions, is a menace to the health of the town. It is an ideal breeding place for Malaria mosquitos. There are in Winchester in their season, many mosquitos of this variety that transmit Malaria and all that is needed for a first class epidemic of Malaria is that some person having Malaria come among us and be bitten by the mosquitos, who in turn will transmit Malaria to others.

It seems as though Winchester should take steps to clean up permanently all such breeding places. This one can be thoroughly, permanently, and beautifully cleaned out by the plan now under consideration.

Clarence E. Ordway, Chairman.

LOCAL TAXATION.

Personal Property.
No. 3.
All personal property situated within the Commonwealth, and all personal property wherever situated, belonging to inhabitants of the Commonwealth, unless expressly exempted by law is subject to taxation. All persons owning such property, or having it in their possession as executors, guardians, or trustees, are required to make sworn returns of same to the Assessors, in accordance with notice in another column of this paper. Any person who fails to make such a statement may be taxed or doomed by the Assessors for any amount they think proper, and after the tax is made, no abatement may be had unless applied for within six months from date of tax bill or notice, and the required statement made to the Assessors, and then only so much of the tax may be abated, as exceeds by more than fifty per cent what the tax would have been, if the statement had been made to the Assessors at the proper time. This power given the Assessors must be used discreetly, or it may defeat the purpose it was intended to accomplish. When writing of personal property it is generally divided into two classes, tangible, or that which may readily be seen, and intangible or that which may easily be concealed. In the former class we find, general merchandise, machinery, cattle, vehicles, vessels and household, office and store furnishings. The merchant or manufacturer adds the tax to the price of his goods, and as in nearly all forms of taxation, the ultimate consumer is in reality the one who finally pays the tax. These forms of personal property are generally seasonably taxed, with the exception of household furnishings, and these it is difficult to tax equitably for several reasons. One is that Assessors may not enter a dwelling without permission of the owner or tenant, and in order to accurately tax such property it would be necessary to enter practically every dwelling in the town, each and every year, as otherwise many changes would occur of which the Assessors would have no knowledge. Another reason is the difficulty of fixing the fair cash value, for most house furnishings depreciate in value very rapidly, and if sold second hand they bring only a fraction of what might be considered a fair value, and as one thousand dollars worth is exempt from tax, in most cases there is little of taxable value left. Another difficulty is the fact that the furnishings of a house may belong to different members of the family, or even relatives, and as each person is entitled to one thousand exemption, no one of them may have anything in excess of that amount.

If a person has a horse or cow, even though of very little value, they must according to our law be taxed, and why should household furnishings to the extent of a thousand dollars be exempt? The more one studies our tax laws, the more evident it becomes that our state laws are antiquated, unsentimental and unsatisfactory in their results, and our Massachusetts tax laws need a thorough and somewhat radical revision.

The next article will treat of the taxation of intangible personal property.

FUNERAL OF ALFRED RICHARDSON.

Alfred William Richardson departed this life on Wednesday, April 9, 1913, at the home of his parents, 22 Chester street. The funeral was held Saturday, April 12, at 2 o'clock from the New Hope Baptist Church of which he was a faithful member. Rev. William Smith, pastor of the church, officiated. His text was found in the 90 Psalm, 6th verse, "In the morning it flourisheth and groweth up; in the evening it is cut down and withereth." Miss Bessie Hunt sang, "Flee as a Bird."

The deceased was born in Winchester, Mass., April 28, 1898. He leaves to mourn his loss a devoted mother and father, one sister, an uncle, besides a large host of friends.

He was attending the Winchester High School, being a member of class 1915. He was liked by his classmates, for it was shown by the beautiful floral piece they gave in his memory. His life brings to our minds the last few lines of Longfellow's "Psalm of Love": "Lives of great men all remind us, we can make our lives sublime, and departing leave behind us footprints on the sands of time; Footprints, that perhaps another, sailing o'er life's solemn main, shall take heart again. Let us then be up and doing, with a heart for any fate. Still achieving, still pursuing, learn to labor and to wait."

Pity the Unpainted House!

What you go out in the pouring rain wearing your best clothes if you had no protection such as an umbrella or raincoat? Not if you could help it, you say.

Yet some people expose expensive material to the elements without adequate protection. The building material in your house is expensive and should be protected. Otherwise it will be ruined as surely as the fine clothes you wouldn't wish to wear out in the rain.

Dampness causes decay in wood-work. If you keep out the dampness you keep away decay. Paint made with

MIXED BOWLING TOURNAMENT

Interesting matches were rolled in the mixed tournament at the Calumet Club at the close of last week. By taking all three points from the leaders, team 1 created a four team tie for first place. This match was well rolled, team 1 making a total of 1064, and its opponents team 6, making 1007. Mrs. Wilson was high for the ladies with a single of 91 and a total of 176. Dr. Olmsted made a new record for the gentlemen by rolling a single of 140 and a total of 239. On this same evening team 2 won all three points from team 5. The second string was very close, the winners taking it by one pin. Mrs. Hines, with 85 and 161, was high for the ladies, and Mr. Wiggins with 116 and 214 excelled for the gentlemen.

The following evening team 4 won three points from team 7. The only close string was the second, which was won by four pins. Mrs. Simonds and Mrs. Carlton were close together at the head of the ladies' rolling, and Mr. Brown and Mr. Simonds each totalled 189 for the gentlemen's best work. On this evening team 9 won three from team 3, making easy work of it. Mrs. Tompkins had single for the ladies with 92, and her total of 166 was also the best. Mr. Smalley rolled the best single with 101, and the highest total with 194.

MAKE THE SCHOOLS THE MACHINE OF DEMOCRACY.

This editorial from a recent New York paper will probably be of interest to the People's League and others who have democratic education at heart.

In a current article, Miss Margaret Woodrow Wilson, the President's daughter writes about the so called "social centre movement" and shows how the grown up people of an American community may some day come to regard the schoolhouse as a town meeting house and may raise up there a solidly organized non-partisan public power—"a machine of democracy."

This idea that a genuine democracy cannot exist without a bone-structure and a spine to support a steady purpose and express a consistent will is a true and fruitful idea. It applies to the democratic education of children as well as to the democratic government of adults.

Miss Wilson has made a contribution to the vocabulary of sociology. We need that phrase, "The Machine of Democracy," because the principal trouble with democracy hitherto has been that it has broken up the machinery. Democracy has never been half so well organized as its enemies. It has never known how to belt and gear its forces together.

What we want in the public school system is the freest possible democracy, plus the highest possible organization. We want to make the educational system a colossal engine of democracy.

The existing school system is not democratic. It is oligarchic or monarchic. The advantage of the present system lies in the fact that it is not self-contradictory and chaotic. At least and at worst it really is a system.

It is better to have a bad system of education than no system at all. But we are not shut up to that choice. We have another—a inspiring alternative.

We can convert the school system into a gigantic engine of democracy. This is the right time.

A NATIONAL LOSS.

The following letter was received too late to be read at the Complimentary dinner to Hon. S. W. McCall at the Hotel Somerset recently:

House of Representatives, U. S. Washington, D. C.

April 18, 1913.

Mr. George W. Anderson, care of Lewis Parkhurst, 29 Beacon street, Boston, Mass.

My dear Sir:

I beg to acknowledge with great pleasure the invitation to attend the complimentary dinner to Mr. McCall. One of the distinct and definite pleasures of my life has been meeting, knowing and enjoying Mr. McCall as a Member of Congress. His leaving Congress is not only a great National loss, but a source of sincere grief to me. Mr. McCall is the ideal type of a statesman. To him in party government is a means, not an end, and his views and actions have been based upon a purely patriotic devotion to the best interests of the country.

I wish very much it were possible for me to attend the dinner and thereby give added expression to my affectionate regard for Mr. McCall, but I regret that it is not practicable for me to come. I am proud that you are giving him this evidence of your regard, because no man in America is better entitled to the approbation of pure-minded and intelligent patriots.

Yours very sincerely,

James R. Mann.

DANGER FROM GOLF BALLS.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

The startling frequency of injuries resulting from the bursting of certain golf balls during the past year has led to the suggestion that we sound a warning note to parents and others as to the dangers surrounding the rather common practice among children of cutting open, or putting down, or stripping off the cover of golf balls.

At least one ball, and perhaps others on the market, have in the centre a sac containing a caustic substance under considerable pressure. If the sac is pricked, cut or subjected to sudden pressure, as for example, throwing it on the ground to make it bounce, the contents will be thrown a considerable distance into the air and over the person. The danger lies in the resulting burns of the skin and eyes. This caustic, the nature of which at present, is under investigation by the State Board of Health, is so destructive to the delicate tissues of the eye that permanent loss of vision more or less complete, results in most cases, but much may be done by prompt action following the recognition of the cause.

Within a few months we have known of such accidents, three of them in Winchester, one in West Newton and one from Gloucester. One of the Winchester children was so injured that at present she can just distinguish the fingers of the hand held up a few feet away. The Newton and Gloucester children have each lost most of the vision in one eye.

Since there is no way of knowing if a given golf ball, especially if a used ball, is of the dangerous type, it is obvious that children must be cautioned and forbidden to peel off the cover of any golf ball. Warning notices have been posted for some weeks in the clubs over the country, calling attention to this danger but many children never see such notices. This should be an absolutely preventable accident, but will become so only when the danger is known to all. Warnings will be given to children in all the Winchester schools immediately.

Ralph Putnam, M. D.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

The humors of life among a party of American and English who are stopping in an Italian city provide the merriment in "The Man from Home," which John Craig will present at the Castle Square next week.

The title character of "The Man from Home" is a genial American who lives in Indiana, and by his sterling practical nature and strong common sense he saves his niece from marriage with the son of an English lord. This role will be played at the Castle Square by John Craig, who will be sure to bring out all the striking characteristics of the man, and in the hands of William P. Carleton the Grand Duke will prove a dramatic and an attractive figure. Other important roles will be acted by Donald Meek, Walter Walker, Frederick Ormonde, Mabel Colcord and Laurette Browne and the cast as a whole will include the entire membership of the Castle Square Company.

The Annual Meeting of the Corporators of the Winchester Savings Bank will be held in the banking rooms, Wednesday, April 23rd, 1913, at 7:45 o'clock P. M., to elect Trustees and Officers and to transact such other business as may legally come before the meeting.

H. C. SANBORN, Clerk.

Winchester, Apr. 17, 1913.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

MIDDLESEX, ss.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of Sarah Ladd, late of Winchester, in said County, deceased, intestate.

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to William Ladd, of Winchester, in the County of Middlesex, without giving a surety on his bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the sixth day of May, A. D. 1913, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Winchester Star, a newspaper published in Winchester, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court.

Witness, CHARLES J. McINTIRE, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this sixteenth day of April, in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

W. E. ROGERS, Register.

OBSERVATIONS.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

As complete as our town report is there are questions that might well be asked as there is no information on them, for instance, do the call men of the fire department answer all the alarms they should and when members do not what happens to them? There is an impression that the Chief is too easy.

A citizen says my criticisms of the fire department is just a trifle too rough. My answer is that a cost of over eight dollars a week per horse for hostler service and feeding is too rough on the taxpayers. Fifteen hundred dollars a year could be saved by intelligent handling of this stable by the Selectmen. Let them answer this criticism if they can.

I am inclined to agree with Mr. Joy that the small pool at Wedgemere should be dug out and flowering plants and shrubs planted around the edges, thereby getting a much finer appearance than can be got by filling it in. We should be sure of what we want before acting on our rivers and ponds development and there was no proper consideration of the matter when presented at the town meeting as there was no article in the warrant concerning it and few knew anything about it or voted on it, furthermore, Mr. Kellaway's plan provides for the digging out this pool and it seems strange that neither Mr. Parkhurst nor Dr. Allen spoke to Selectman Jewett's motion considering they were on the Waterways Committee on whose report we voted $90,000 to buy the Whitney properties. It is never safe to vote motions of information in town meeting without an article in the warrant so that we may know in advance what is coming. The Committee on Metropolitan Affairs will probably give a hearing on the resolve this week.

The legislature so far has gone along in about the same old way but has not been as radical as it was thought it would be. The public gets very poor reports of the happenings and much of importance is left out and other reports doctored. This is especially true of the associated press reports. The new Journal shows little improvement as yet on legislative matters and seems to travel in the old rut. The free press in the Washburn railroad bill was slashed to pieces before the Ways and Means Committee Monday but none of the Boston papers reported it. There is a reason.

Tax Commissioner Trefry in a report made this week to the legislature shows how we tax only one-fifth of the personal property in the State. That's nothing, our Assessors taxed a man last year on sixty three thousand dollars of personal and the most they had ever taxed him was fifteen hundred dollars, that's one fortieth, and we will get it just one year, that's the worst of it. Our personal property valuation is not anywhere near what it should be and if the Assessors don't brace up this year we will have to drop another member of the Board next year. Why don't they investigate and use their eyes?

It is reported that J. A. Laraway matched his speed with a Boston bound express at the centre crossing yesterday afternoon. As there has been no funeral the outcome cannot be disputed, although the time is questioned. "Joe" says it was easy, but some spectators say it was but a fraction of a second.

TOILET PARLORS and hotel managers apply to my school for graduates: why? because they are thoroughly taught and competent to do good work. I challenge any one to show the equal of our work in up-to-date science and system; a diploma from the Beacon Toilet Studio in hairdressing, manicuring, and the famous Dr. J. "Every DELAY gives

OPPORTUNITY for DISASTER"

Any disaster that MIGHT happen to YOU will be softened upon REFLECTION when the AMOUNT of insurance for which YOUR body is insured, preferably in the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE, of HARTFORD, same being one of the STRONGEST and OLDEST of America's insurance companies.

To die, UNINSURED, is to entail necessary LOSS upon one's FAMILY or ESTATE, or BOTH. As TIME SLIPS BY, THE COST RISES; if health DEPARTS, THEN LIFE insurance is IMPOSSIBLE.

With the MANY forms of INVESTMENT, endowment insurance, there is no truth in the fallacious sophism, "HAVE TO DIE TO WIN." AS THOUSANDS may be paid you, IN CASH, while living, if you demand this form of insurance.

The only EVIDENCE requisite will be a policy (new terms) granted by the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, which, if you are fortunate to pass a favorable medical examination, may be issued. SEIZE AN OPPORTUNITY and CALL at the MINOT BLDG., 111 DEVONSHIRE ST., BOSTON, Fifth Floor, (Telephone, Main 3557 and 3558) asking for B. S. THE FORTNIGHTLY.

class in reading a variety of dramas, old and new. It has also provided two dramatic performances during the year, the club play and the entertainment of the Advertising Carnival. This has meant an unusual amount of work, but it has been accomplished with great good will and efficiency.

Another committee of workers has been the Philanthropy Committee. Mrs. Carrie L. Eldredge, Chairman. The Vacation School was conducted this year with a larger attendance than ever before, the daily average being about 150. The term was a satisfactory one in every respect—the teaching was efficient, the discipline was good, the pupils worked with enthusiasm and the season closed with a balance on hand of $25. No further testimony is needed to the good management of the Philanthropy Committee. The club as a whole has also done some philanthropic work apart from the special committee and special fund provided for that purpose. It has voted to send $100 for the relief of the Ohio flood sufferers.

The Playground Committee, Miss Maude Folts, Chairman, has provided a director and assistant for the Chapin School playground, and ascribes to their efficient supervision the credit for a season marked by a spirit of courtesy and fair play and marred by not a single accident.

The Education Committee, Mrs. Marion Thompson, Chairman, has conducted a class in sewing for working girls, and has provided a scholarship for a girl at Simmons.

The Legislative Committee has kept the club in touch with the federation work of that department, and the Press Committee has kept the public in touch with the work of the club. The press reports have been accurate, frequent, and complete.

The Courtesies Committee has had many opportunities during the past year for the exercise of its kindly offices. Besides many cases of serious illness there have occurred in our membership three bereavements of peculiar sadness. Mrs. Bertha N. Edelson. Mrs. Caroline S. Allen and Mrs. Florence M. Cahot, and in their death the club has lost three of its best and noblest women.

No report of 1912-13 could possibly be complete without some reference to the Advertising Carnival, the colossal proposition of our small, but mighty Finance Committee, Mrs. Mary W. Carpenter, Chairman. This committee enlisted the whole club in the execution of its scheme, and the result was the raising of $1879.48 for our club philanthropies. The Carnival was of value to the club not alone in its large financial return, but in its opportunity for the entire membership to join together in earnest, unselfish work.

Another distinctive feature of the past year has been the sending of our President, Mrs. Nichols, as a delegate to the biennial meeting of the general federation in San Francisco. We were fortunate not only in being able to send so competent a representative of our club, but also in having a delegate who could bring back to us so much of interest and inspiration.

In the state federation, too we have been well represented. Mrs. Wellington has been the state treasurer; Miss Folts, the Chairman of the Civics Committee; Mrs. Herion, Chairman of the Home Economics Committee; Mrs. W. E. Clark, a member of the Meetings Committee, and Mrs. Zueblin of the Literature Committee.

We may well congratulate ourselves on having had so large a representation in the federation. We may congratulate ourselves upon having raised so large a sum at our Advertising Carnival, upon having sent our President to California, and upon having carried on so many successful study classes, and so large a Vacation School. But while we are reviewing the year's achievements with some pride and satisfaction we shall do well to remember that never before has The Fortnightly had so large a membership or so ample an income, and that to whom much is given, of them much shall be required.

Respectfully submitted, Helen A. Hall, Rec. Sec.

On Monday will begin the final week of the Kinetacolor pictures at Tremont Temple. The added scenes of the Inaugural Anti-Suffragette Parades at Washington are giving diversity to the entertainment, while there is also no little enthusiasm over the actual scenes pictured of the Balkan War and of the making of the Panama Canal. A week from next Monday colored motion pictures by the Hochstetter process will be given a limited engagement in Tremont Temple. The subjects will be "The Life of John Bunyan and scenes from the Pilgrim's Progress."

USE OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

Please print the enclosed, from the New York World; "Wider use for schools by taxpayers." I have urged that our school buildings be open for political debates. In the near future, I hope this New York act will be a law in Massachusetts.

Whitfield Tuck.

The use of public schools for social centres and agricultural purposes and school property for athletic purposes is authorized in the Blauvelt bill which was signed by Gov. Sulzer. The law authorizes the board of trustees, with the approval of the voters of a school district, to open the schools for political meetings, registration, primaries and elections.

Mr. Brandeis, the so-called efficiency expert, who some time ago made the statement that the railroads of the country were wasting millions of dollars annually because of a lack of up-to-date methods, now makes a statement regarding the increase of pay for firemen on the steam railroads, in which he says, that the methods pursued to settle the controversy are wrong. "It would be better," he said, "to teach the firemen not to waste so much coal, to educate them to conserve their fuel. To do so would result in a saving of between 50 and 60 millions of dollars annually to the railroads of the country. Out of that amount the firemen's wages would be increased and a surplus could be left for the railroads." Mr. Brandeis evidently made a mistake when he chose the legal profession as a calling.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE

DEPARTMENT.

Conducted by Winchester League.

In view of our recent defeat in the Massachusetts Legislature which forces Suffragists to wait at least three years more instead of a possible two for the fruition of their hopes and the consummation of their labors, so long and patiently endured, it is refreshing to turn to the Pacific States which are so rapidly advancing the standard of political equality and leading woman into her own. It is always instructive to read prognostications in the light of realities. I have been much interested in some private correspondence that has fallen into my hands from California. A friend, living in the little town of Napa in one of those sunny flower-bedecked valleys to the north of San Francisco, wrote concerning the election last fall, in which women, for the first time, took part. "Much has happened as you say, in the world at large and the 5th (of November) brought much rejoicing, did it not? I helped to swell the Wilson plurality and found the little country school house (our polling booth) alive with women, all going about their business as orderly as men, and the men all so kindly and courteous. It poured on that day, but no one seemed disheartened—the roads were alive with machines and rigs and later in the afternoon, when I drove to a train, we encountered just as many. Delightful to see how the farmer's wives are responding—suffragists to a woman. I think you will find the Antis mostly in large centers among the leisure class. Country women work hard and feel it a privilege, as well as a duty to cast their votes in the interest of so much that bears directly upon their own lives. Another, a relative of a Winchester friend, wrote about the same time. "We women in California are having a very exciting initiation into political life; all the various candidates are soliciting our favors, telling us how much they have always thought of us! What they will do for human betterment—women and children in particular—if elected, we had been told by the Antis during our suffrage campaign, that if we got the ballot, the age of chivalry would be finished—men would cease their little polite courtesies, that the sex antagonism would increase, in fact we should find our social life almost unbearable, and should be driven to take refuge in other states where the bold folly of women had not overthrown the amenities of civilization." How natural this all sounds to Eastern ears! But our experience has been quite the reverse; never have we been treated with more respect and consideration, and especially of late. Candidates for office nearly overpowered us with their attentions. But the personal equation we have to eliminate and study principle and results of various policies, read the history of the tariff, study its effect at present, read platforms and compare them, study social and progressive reform, and all other issues to see whether they are progressive or not, and where they will lead." This certainly shows the outlook of an alive and conscientious citizen—can any man show a better. So does experience often refute theory. Later developments will be interesting.

SPIRITISM SAID

TO BE DEMONISM.

A most interesting little brochure has recently come off the press setting forth with Bible proofs that the communications received by and through Spiritist Mediums is of Demon origin. The writer traces his subject through the Scriptures from the time when certain of the holy angels became disaffected. He proves from the Scriptures that those fallen spirits permeate the human dead, with whose past history, spirits, though invisible, are thoroughly acquainted. He shows that they also frequently personate the Creator and the Redeemer, commanding their deceived ones to pray, do penance, etc. This, however, merely to lead them on and to bring them more thoroughly under demonic control. Sometimes by breaking down the natural barrier, the human will, they possess their victim, and rule him more or less to his ruin—frequently sending such to the mad-house. Numerous illustrations, Scriptural and otherwise, are given. The price of the little book is but five cents; it should be in the hands of all interested in Spiritism or who have friends interested therein. Enclose stamps to the Bible and Tract Society, 17 Hicks Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Suffered Awful Pains From Stomach Trouble

Sick Three Months—Could Eat Nothing—Only Relief Was Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

Read what Mrs. May T. Bartlett, of Salem, Mass., says in a recent letter: "I shall never be without Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy again. When I wrote for a sample bottle I was suffering badly with my stomach and from constipation. I could eat hardly anything and I would have awful pains. I was down sick for three months that summer and could take nothing but gruel and beef tea. I am now on my second bottle of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. My stomach is better, my bowels move freely. I used to have severe headaches but do not now. Not only has it helped me, but four of my friends who have been troubled with constipation are using it and have been benefited."

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy has had 40 years of wonderful success in Kidney, Liver and Blood troubles. A physician's prescription, formerly used in his large private practice, and now prepared for general use. Write to-day for free sample and booklet of valuable information. W. H. A. C. BASE BALL.

The Winchester Highlands A. C. has again organized for base ball and expects to put a fast team on the field this season. B. H. Cooper, who played second base on last year's team, is captain, has several of the old standbys back in line. There is also a wealth of material available this year from which to fill the vacant positions. Ken Park will probably hold down first base again, Ed Murphy will be back at short stop, and Cooper will play at third. Harry Bennett will start out at second base and will give all newcomers a run for that job. The outfield positions are open for everybody, and there are several likely candidates in Dick Favor, Lang Burwell, Judge Benet, Wallace McElhinney, Charley Chapin, and Warren Fogg. The team is especially well fixed for catchers, having Ernie Matthews, and Wallie McEwen, both being very reliable as fielders and hitters, as well as having good whips. For pitcher, the Club has Neil White, a former Dorchester High boy, who has shown class on several strong amateur nines throughout the eastern part of the state. Murphy will alternate with him.

The team this year has joined the newly organized Middlesex League composed of themselves, the Progress team and the Puritan team from Somerville, the M. M. M. of West Medford, and the Jepsens of Melrose. The league season opens April 26th with the Winchester Highlands team at West Medford. The regular season will open Saturday the 19th, with a double header, playing the Marathon A. C. of Woburn in the morning at 10 o'clock and the Old Timers in the afternoon at 3. Both are expected to be snappy games. All home games will be played at the Clematis street grounds. The schedule follows:

BOSTON THEATRE.

There is a large element in the playing population which takes an intense delight in a good melodrama, as is shown at the Boston Theatre, by the success of Maclyn Arbuckle, in "The Round Up" and it is very evident that the opening of the fourth week of the engagement on Monday evening, will see a continuation of the same prosperity that has prevailed since the attraction came back.

In this picture of life and war in the far west one finds succession of thrilling pictures of unusual vividness, and after once witnessing the battle scene in this play one has an entirely different idea about the methods of warfare which prevail between the Apaches and the regular troops of the United States.

A special bureau has been established for the expeditious handling of mail orders, which when sent with cash or money and accompanied by addressed, stamped envelope receive immediate attention.

Regular matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

Special prices will prevail during "The Round Up" engagement, 25c, 50c, 75c and $1.00. No seat over $1.00.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE.

Sam and Kitty Morton, of the famous Four Mortons, come to B. F. Keith's Theatre next week as one of the big comedy features of a splendid bill.

This season Sam and Kitty Morton are appearing in a double act, "Back Where They Started." The big spectacular event of the week will be B. A. Rolfe's latest musical production, "Arcadia," with a troupe of fifteen musicians, singers and dancers. This organization introduces all kinds of musical numbers, and among the players are several very pretty girls who wear beautiful gowns. George Felix and the Barry Girls will present most amusing farces.

Marco Belli, in a startling European novelty never before seen in this country; Hanlon and Clifton, the strong men and muscular marvels; Two Allreds, in a novel clowning specialty; Handsets and Meliss; two boys and a piano; and the wonderful Thomas A. Edison Talking Motion Pictures, with all new subjects.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE.

Klaw & Erlanger and Harrison Grey Fiske's superb production of Edward Knoblauch's "Arabian Nights" drama, "Kismet" with Otis Skinner in the stellar role, is now in the fifth week of its very successful run at the Hollis Street Theatre, Boston.

Beyond its literary worth, "Kismet" is a play that provides almost every sort of theatrical entertainment. The plot is intensely dramatic, concerning the many and various adventures of Hajj the beggar of Bagdad, who lived in that gorgeous Oriental capital one thousand years and one year ago.

The large company surrounding Mr. Skinner is quite worthy of the star. Among the prominent players are Fred Eric, George Gaul, Owen Meach, Daniel Jarrett, Charles Darragh, Harrison Carter, Rita Jolivet, Eleanor Gordon, Georgia Woodthorpe, Ivy Payne and Merle Madder.

Owing to the length of the performance, the curtain rises promptly at 7.45 o'clock in the evenings, and at 1.45 o'clock at the Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

WEDGEHIRE POND.

Citizens of Winchester who appeared Monday before the committee on metropolitan affairs went on record unanimously in favor of a resolve carrying an appropriation of $7,000 for filling in parts of Wedgemere pond and deepening the channel of the Aberjona river.

Chairman William B. de las Casas of the Metropolitan park commission told the committee he approved the general project of improving conditions at Wedgemere, but suggested that the appropriation be $10,000 and that his commission be authorized to make improvements along the Aberjona river up to Winchester centre.

Representative Winfield F. Prime stated that the area affected comprises some three or four acres owned by the commonwealth, which since the building of the north metropolitan sewer, has largely become exposed as offensive flats, a menace to health.

Charles F. Dutch, counsel for the town said that the action of the metropolitan sewer board in constructing the sewer connection is aggravating the condition existing over which the town of Winchester has no jurisdiction. "The only satisfactory solution," Mr. Dutch said, "is to fill in the flats, dredge the channel of the Aberjona river so that it will be so confined as to scour by its own current the bottom and thus leave clean the banks."

He read a letter from Dr. Mark W. Richardson, secretary of the state board of health, stating that he concurred fully with the local board of health that such stagnant pools as Wedgemere pond should be eliminated as being a menace by breeding disease bearing mosquitoes; also a letter from Dr. Clarence J. Allen, chairman of the Winchester Board of Health, who declared if such a nuisance existed on private property the owner would be obliged to abate it at once.

Report of the Committee on Licenses was received approving the applications for licenses for hackney carriages from John H. Carpenter, Eugene P. Sullivan, William F. Hargrave, Coleman Flaherty and Charles Snodgrass, approved by the Chief of Police April 14, and the same were granted.

The Committee on Town Hall reported that they considered the desirability of enlarging the room at the foot of the stairs in the Town Hall basement to make the kitchen about twice its present size, taking down the brick wall and changing the partition, putting in a sink; and improving the toilet facilities in the ladies' retiring room upstairs in the Town Hall, at a total cost for both basement and upstairs of $170 to $200. They also recommended the expenditure of about $800 for rearranging partitions and toilet arrangements in the basement at the foot of the stairs opposite the Engineer's office and they were authorized to make repairs as recommended by them at a total cost of about $500, provided the funds of the Town appropriated for the purpose were sufficient.

A letter was received from Winfield F. Prime, Representative, referring to House Bill No. 2249 pending in the Legislature regarding the cost of abolishing grade crossings, one of the material provisions of which it to reduce the cost to Cities and Towns of grade crossing abatements to 5 per cent stating that he had submitted an amendment which would permit Winchester to have the benefit of the 5 per cent provision should the law be enacted and adding that his amendment was being opposed because of its tendency to increase opposition to the bill. A verbal report on the situation was presented by Mr. Pike for the Town Counsel.

The vote of the Town Meeting March 3, 1913, appropriating $1500 for placing a portion of the wires of the Police Department and Fire Department, or a portion of either underground, was referred to joint Committee on Police and Fire Departments.

The vote of the Town Meeting March 3, 1913, appropriating $400 for the observance of Independence Day, was referred to Messrs. Brown and Davidson.

The vote of the Town Meeting March 3, 1913, by which article 46 of the Warrant was referred to the Board of Selectmen, namely:

"To see if the Town will vote to request the Boston & Maine and the New York, New Haven & Hartford R. R. Co., to put a tunnel under the tracks at the crossing at the Railroad Station or do anything in regard to the same."

Referred to the Committee on Corporations.

A letter concerning location of electric poles on Fletcher street from Mr. C. E. Murphy, protesting against overhead wires was received and filed.

An application for license to deal in second-hand articles was received from Edward F. Maguire, and granted under the approval of the Committee on Licenses.

Applications for licenses as common victuallers were received from Christos Athan, Mrs. Clara J. Mullen, Mary W. Carpenter, John Coull, R. A. Ferretti, George D. LeDuc, Caroline J. Murray, Mrs. Sarah J. Rogers, Charles Young, and referred to the Chief of Police.

Applications for licenses to conduct intelligence offices were received from T. J. Campbell, Mary Carpenter, Hannah C. Reardon, and granted under the approval of the Committee on Licenses.

An application for a license to conduct a billiard and pool room at 622 Main street for the twelve months ending May 1, 1914, was received and on the recommendation of the Committee on Licenses the same was refused.

The Committee on Fire Department presented a set of rules proposed for the government of the Fire Department; referred to the Chairman of the Board.

A bond for $1,000 was received and approved from Charles E. Corey to cover construction of granite sidewalk on Cliff street, order for which was given him subject to this condition April 14.

The Clerk reported in the matter of relocation of lines of Swanton st. that a petition together with a plan prepared by the Town Engineer had been filed with the County Commissioners.

On the petition of C. H. Lewis, presented January 6, for permission to enter the surface drain with roof water from his property at the corner of Church and Wildwood streets and on which the Town Engineer made the following recommendations April 14, which were referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges, namely: "Mr. Lewis intends to lay an eight inch drain in the court way between the present building and a new one to be constructed opposite the one now being built, and proposes to connect roof water conductors of these buildings at intervals with this proposed main drain. The outlet for this drain may be in the catch basin on the south westerly corner of Church and Wildwood streets, the whole of the proposed drain to be in the Lewis property excepting that part which will extend under the westerly sidewalk in Wildwood street, or the proposed drain may be connected to the ten inch (10") drain to be constructed by the Town from Central street to Norwood street. I recommend and advise the latter method for these reasons. The space between the present building and the proposed new building will be, accordingly to Mr. Lewis' representative, sixty feet (60') wide, to be made up of walks, planting spaces, and one or more roadways entering the property from Church Street. This single or double roadway ought to be crowned out into Church street. If this is done, a catch basin in the westerly side of the private road and in the northerly gutter of Church street must be built to catch the wash from the new drive or drives from the Lewis property. This catch basin will serve not only for the Lewis property but also for the flow of water in the northerly gutter of Church street, the flow of which will be blocked by the crowning of the Lewis road into Church street. From the proposed catch basin in Church street, the drain may be laid across Church street and connected with the Town drain. The expense of the proposed catch basin and extension of all the private drain laid in Church street ought, in my opinion, to be borne by Mr. Lewis. This will cost about $125. The expense to Mr. Lewis will be about the same whether he carries his drainage to the Wildwood street catch basin or whether he disposes of it by connecting with the proposed Church street drain, since in either case he should be required to construct a catch basin at his own expense, and the remaining drainage work will be greater in length over his own land than it will be in the Church street, and about as expensive one way as the other. I do not advise turning his drainage into Wildwood street basin because this basin has about all it can do at present, the outlet being very shallow and of flat grade, and FOUND!

The Fountain of Eternal Youth by Pitcher Smalley and other members of the '95 Team.

Two weeks ago we ventured the prediction that a game of merit and historical importance would be played on Manchester Field on the morning of April 19. We will not quarrel over the term "merit," but who will deny that this game was an event worthy of record.

Few organizations eighteen years out of school, play such games of base ball as we have seen the '95 team display against their younger opponents in the past three years. We read much in the daily papers concerning the achievements of "Cy" Young and "Christie" Mathewson, but where is the sporting editor when he fails to note, that our townsman Smalley can lay aside his business cares, and without an opportunity for practice, step into the box, and pitch his team to victory. All must acknowledge the headlines of this article are well chosen, and we join heartily with the voice in the grand stand which was heard to inquire "what kind of ball players must the members of this team have been when they were in their prime?"

It was our first opportunity to see our High School team in action on its home grounds, and we must say we are pleased. Such a team is an honor to our school and town. Their spirit will bring them to the close of the season with a majority of their games won. Although it is early, only one real defeat seems apparent and that is an inability to hit the ball Saturday their failure to connect was as noticeable as the older men's errors. The same trouble was even more marked in the game with Reading the day previous.

Saturday's game was lacking in the spectacular plays which have been evident in the two previous meetings. The extent to which it was interesting depends upon the standard by which we pass judgment.

The error column throws the game out of the professional class. From a High School standpoint it was a failure. But viewed by those who are a bit sensitive as to being placed in the "has been" class it was a howling success.

Aside from the sixth inning, Lawson pitched a great game, allowing but one hit, and striking out twelve. In the seventh inning with three men on bases he pulled out of a hole by striking out the next two batters. Russell and Smalley were the fielding stars of the '95 team. Russell also was the batting star.

In the sixth inning, Mitchell was hit. Heath put up a fly to Penalgan. Lyons, Russell and Nowell singled. Ordway was safe on an error and Redfern and Wellman singled. Smalley fanned. Mitchell was hit again, and was out at second on a fielders' choice on Heath's grounder to short.

Gentlemen:—I find that advertisements in the Winchester STAR pay for themselves over and again. I have received many responses from my advertisement, producing business in several instances. The moral is quite obvious.

CLARKE—FRENCH.

Miss Margaret Thomas French and Mr. Stanley Clarke of Washington, D. C., son of Mr. F. W. Clarke of Brookline, were married Saturday, April 19, at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. William Bradford French, 121 Church street, Winchester.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Herbert Mott, a former pastor of the Winchester Unitarian Church assisted by Rev. Joel H. Metcalf, the present pastor. Mr. Richard Warner of Boston was best man. Miss Edith Willard of Lexington was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were, Miss Frances Ellet and Miss Gertrude Robinson of Winchester, Miss Mary Reart of Belmont and Miss Janet Ricker of Poland Springs.

The guests were confined to relatives and a few intimate friends of the bride and groom, making the affair delightfully informal and homelike. A trio consisting of piano, cello and violin played Mendelssohn's wedding march, as the bridal party came slowly down the stairway. The bridesmaids were gowned in white lace embroidered with delicate sprays of roses and wore hats of white lace trimmed with wreaths of tiny roses and bows and streamers of American Beauty satin. Each carried an American Beauty rose. The maid of honor wore a gown of white acordion plaid cloth with a tunic of American Beauty chiffon, her hat was cream straw with American Beauty ostrich plumes. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

The bride, on the arm of her mother, was strikingly beautiful as she passed down the lane formed by white ribbon held by the bridesmaids. She wore a gown of cream white satin and Duchesse lace; her veil was of tulle becomingly arranged in turban effect with clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas.

Mrs. French, who gave her daughter away, was gowned in white crepe de chine trimmed with Duchesse lace and carried white roses.

The ceremony was performed in the library which was effectively decorated with palms, laurels and American Beauty roses.

The newly married couple went directly to Washington, where they are to make their home for the present.

Mrs. Clarke has been closely identified with the social life of Winchester and will be greatly missed by hosts of friends.

RIVINIUS—RUSSELL.

Miss Bertha Louise Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James William Russell of Main street, and Mr. George Ambrose Rivinius, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Clifton Rivinius of Washington avenue, Cambridge, were married on Tuesday evening at the home of the bride. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Joel Hastings Metcalf of the Unitarian Church at 4 o'clock.

The bride was attended by Miss Marjorie Cutting of Oak Knoll and Miss Rebecca Fernald of Bacon street. Mr. A. Russell Ellis of Cambridge was best man.

The residence was decorated for the ceremony with cut flowers and palms, pink and white roses, being used with pleasing effect. The bride wore a wedding gown of white satin. Her veil of tulle was caught with a spray of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids. Her attendants were dressed in pale pink, trimmed with white lace.

Following the ceremony a reception was held, the newly married couple being assisted in receiving by their parents. The ushers for both the wedding and reception were Mr. James W. Russell, Jr., brother of the bride, Mr. Harold C. Upham of Wellesley Hills, Mr. F. Leon of Cambridge and Mr. G. Cogswell Welen of Stoughton.

WINCHESTER KNIGHTS BEAT PICKED TEAM.

The Winchester K. of C. defeated the Woburn picked team last week at Flanders in two out of three strings. The Woburnites lost the first string by four pins and in the second overwhelmed their opponents, but dropped the third by five pins. The total went to Woburn by 25 pins. Frank Davis was high man with 308.

MISS CRAWFORD

HIGHLY HONORED.

Given Medal of Honor for Heroic Service by Chinese Gov't.

Miss L. Jennie Crawford of Hanyang, China, has received a medal of honor from the Vice-President of the Republic of China for her heroic service rendered to the wounded soldiers at Haskow during the Revolution of 1911-12. Miss Crawford went out from the First Baptist Church in 1909 as a trained nurse to the Baptist Hospital at Hanyang, where she has achieved great success in her work and in addition has won this conspicuous honor from the Chinese Government. Thus Winchester has had a part in what Dr. Isaac Taylor, Headland of Peking calls, "The most remarkable intellectual revolution of a whole people that the world has ever seen."

March 12, 1913.
Mr. Frank R. Miller, Clerk of Selectmen, Winchester:

Dear Sir:—I beg to acknowledge your query of March 11, and to say that the Board has no general rule for reports from railroad companies, showing the number of trains on which the number of passengers carried exceeds the seating capacity, but upon complaint that such a condition exists in connection with specific trains, investigates the matter and often calls for the record of the train in question.

Yours very truly,
Charles E. Mann,
Clerk of the Board.

Mr. Charles E. Mann, Clerk Board of Railroad Commissioners:

Dear Sir:—Further replying to your letter of 24th ult. to Mr. Mellen enclosing copy of letter from Frank R. Miller, I am attaching hereto a memorandum showing the number of passengers and number of seats in Southern Division train No. 227, leaving Boston at 5:30 p. m., from February 10 to April 5th, inclusive. I am sorry to find that the memorandum shows that on a number of occasions the train was considerably overcrowded. As a result of our investigation, however, the matter has been taken up, and effective April 7, additional cars have been added and this, I believe, has taken care of the matter satisfactorily. If you find that this is not the case we shall be very glad indeed if you will advise us further.

Yours truly,
A. B. Nichols,

READING A LUCKY TOWN FOR W. H. S.

A rather peculiar feature of base ball in the Winchester High School is the almost unbroken succession of victories at Reading. Year after year no matter how unsuccessful the team is at other places, at Reading it seems to possess a faculty of winning in a close and well played game. Not since 1905, when Winchester lost 5-4 by a very questionable decision of the umpire, has the team lost a game in Reading. All the games have been close, in many Winchester has come from behind, but none have shown any better quality of base ball than the splendid 10 victory of last Friday.

Following are the scores:

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

"The summer will soon be here," said a dear little miss to her mother the other day. "Why my dear, summer is here all the year round," responded the mother, as she put her arm around her child. The smile on the mother's face showed that summer really was glowing in the heart. "The glow from loving hearts not only makes a house a home, but it lights up the dark places of the lives of those with whom we come in contact and starts a responsive glow that is contagious. It spreads from one person to another, until its good influence extends to a wide circle. Some people here in Winchester and elsewhere mourn because they are not able to make friends readily, because they do not possess what they call, 'the power of attraction.' They call it 'personal magnetism,' 'personality' and a dozen other names. But the woman or man who always has 'summer in the heart' need not worry about 'magnetism,' for they will win friends on every hand because they furnish the smile of encouragement of which all the world stands in need. Dark days come into every life. Somewhere there are all of us must bear. We have our losses just as we have our profits. We have our bad days as we have our good ones. But no matter how the storms of the world assail us, we can keep our hearts pure and good and warm. And they will light up and warm our lives as the fire does in the home when outside all is bleak and dreary. When summer comes into the heart it drives away selfishness, coldness, disappointment, etc. 'Contentment is a state of mind,' some writer has told us, and Kirk White sings:

Content can soothe, where'er by fortune placed

Can rear a garden in a desert waste. The optimistic is the Winchesterite who believes in himself and his fellow man. He is the one unshaken by disaster, the one who ever plunges into the water of despair. He has his misfortunes, but he rises superior to them. He has his battles to fight, but instead of lying down his arms he fights on until he wins the victory. His is the spirit that never knows defeat or surrender. The woman and the man who are able to smile at defeat are unconquerable. They not only win their own way but are an inspiration to others. They are the people who turn the sunshine that the world needs, at all seasons of the year. They are those blessed of all who know them—the men and women who have "summer in their hearts."

People cannot be all like-minded, and the sooner that is recognized the better for the peace and progress of all concerned. There can be but one code of morals when it comes to the essentials of right and wrong; but because of the differing characteristics of people and the corresponding lack of uniformity of opinions there cannot be an honest view as to right that may seem all wrong to another. Here may be the chance for some missionary effort, but after that the chance is ripe for the exercise of a spirit of tolerance. So too, in the general matter of opinion while it is not true that there must always be as many sentiments as minds, since there is a common meeting ground for many, still the meeting grounds will be numerous and the making of war between them is not to be sanctioned. There is rarely complete antagonism between their occupants. Emphasizing the points of agreement may not be so exciting a diversion but it is a far healthier one. The same spirit of tolerance and comprehension of human nature recognizes the error of "To endeavor to mould all dispositions alike."

To try to measure the enjoyment of others by our own. When other people's ways annoy us, The Spectator believes it always safe to remember that our ways may not be always acceptable to others, and that here the Golden Rule can be fitly applied to save from harsh judgments and the antagonisms that so easily thrive on impatience and lack of sympathy. The recognition that there must inevitably be diversity of opinion and variety of ways brings also recognition of two errors found in a Winchester philosopher's code:

Not to yield in unimportant trifles
To worry ourselves and others about what cannot be remedied.

Amputation wasted in promiscuous unnecessary small shots will not be available. Nerve energy is so continually drawn upon by the larger issues of life that frittering away of it is less certainly a great mistake. The grandmother's advice "My dear, you cannot exaggerate the unimportance of things" is a good motto for those intense people that other people recognize only as obstinate and fuss. Some men and women here in Winchester as elsewhere look for perfection in their own actions. The world is not so full, apparently of people overanxious to meet all the requirements that the highest standard of conduct would exact that to get uneasy that they are not so good as they ought to be; but it is true that a self-conscious spirit of introspection can breed a morbidness that is untoward to oneself and weakening of all the forces and faculties. A sane view of self is as desirable as a sane view of other matters. Some mistakes of life as one Winchester philosopher sees them are not to alleviate it we can all that needs alleviation; to consider anything impossible that we cannot ourselves perform and to believe only what our infinite minds can grasp. Here is the plea for the helping hand, for the upholding of the faith of others even though we may not see the outcome, and for the encouragement of our faith, that faith in things not seen, eternal, that above all else helps to keep mankind free from the errors of life.

EXCITING RUNAWAY.

An exciting runaway occurred on Sunday evening shortly before six o'clock, when a hack drawn by a pair of horses, was carried by the frightened animals from the Jewish Cemetery at East Woburn as far as Black Horse hill, where Mr. Gordon Parker caught and stopped the team. The horses were left standing and took fright from some unknown cause. They ran down Washington street to Main street, and were ascending the hill at Black Horse terrace when Mr. Parker ran from his house and seized them, bringing them to a standstill. The team thrashed a distance of almost two miles through one of the main streets of the town, and that there was no accident or damage done was miraculous.

KELLOGG—JEWETT.

The wedding of Mr. Henry Jonhott Kellogg, Harvard, '05, son of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Kellogg of Church street and Miss Caroline Dunn Jewett, daughter of the late Nathaniel M. Jewett, of Calumet road, was solemnized in the Unitarian Church Monday afternoon at four o'clock.

The edifice was decorated for the ceremony with laurel, easter lilies and pink roses, and the wedding was witnessed by a large gathering of friends of the couple from this and surrounding places. Rev. Edward Hale of Chestnut Hill performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Joel H. Metcalf of the Winchester Unitarian Church. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Elbridge K. Jewett.

The bride was dressed in a handsome gown of chiffon, draped with satin with tulle veil. She carried a bridal bouquet of sweet peas and gardenias.

Miss A. Natalie Jewett, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. She wore a dress of flowered buff chiffon, trimmed with blue, and carried a basket of old fashioned flowers.

Mr. J. Albert Wilson, organist at the Church of the Epiphany, presided at the organ, and played the wedding marches from Lohengrin and Mendelssohn.

The ushers were Messrs. Donald M. Belcher, George L. Huntress, Jr., Stephen Gifford, Jr., of Medford and Hastings Smith of Brookline.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the residence on Calumet road, attended by a large number of guests. The couple were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. George G. Kellogg and Mr. Elbridge K. Jewett. The residence was decorated with cut flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg will make their home in Palmer, N. Y., where the groom is the resident engineer of the International Paper Co.

AFTER MANY YEARS.

We publish the following article from the "West End News," of Frederickstad, St. Croix, Danish West Indies, of March 26th. The gentleman referred to in this article is Mr. Henry J. Wilde of Mt. Pleasant street, this town, who visited the island last month.

Among the tourists per se, "Gulian" from New York on Saturday the 15th inst., I had the pleasure of making the acquaintance of Mr. Henry J. Wilde, a gentleman of pleasant and agreeable manners.

Asking me several questions, which dealing with, I may say, a remote period of this town, which he found I answered satisfactorily, he pined me more and more, and expressed the delight at the casual acquaintance which he had made, and regretted that time did not permit him to have a longer chat over old times. After a few questions he informed me that he was well acquainted with the island as he had spent a pleasant time here during the years 1866 and 1867, when he was an officer on the "De Soto," one of Uncle Sam's side wheelers.

One can readily understand that after so many years, hardly any of the acquaintances which he made then, would be alive, and so to the questions respecting the person enquired of I had to say to almost all—"dead."

Yes, 46 years ago, our present dead town was pretty much alive with those vessels. There were balls, parties and other amusements got up for the officers, and Jack ashore used to make things hum; he used to spend his money "not wisely, but too well," and the yellow metal and green paper was no uncommon sight among all sorts and conditions of people.

One can readily understand that after so many years, hardly any of the acquaintances which he made then, would be alive, and so to the questions respecting the person enquired of I had to say to almost all—"dead."

AN UNSATISFACTORY BY-LAW.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

Article 7, Section 2 of the town by-law regulating plumbing and drainage reads: "Every building, used as a dwelling, tenement or lodging house, or wherein persons are employed shall be separately connected with the public sewer when such sewer is provided; or if none is provided, with a cesspool constructed of such material and of such capacity as the Board of Health shall direct." This is an unnecessarily stringent by-law as no discretion is allowed in cases where perfectly sanitary drainage facilities exist, approved by the Board of Health, without sewer connection. It is a stiff, mandatory law which has been binding upon all citizens since it was adopted by the town many years ago. The chief of police or any person, (not necessarily the board of health) could complain of many violations of this law in Winchester, not only at present, but in the past. It was a good law for the town to adopt, it should have been enforced in every instance as soon as it was adopted. That it has not been rigidly enforced in the past indicates that no urgent necessity exists for its rigid enforcement at present.

Lately, the Board of Health has notified some thirty or forty citizens they must at once connect with the public sewers opposite their dwelling places under authority of the above by-law. As a member of the Water and Sewer Board, I have been requested in several instances to look into the necessity of such connections where the existing sanitary drainage is perfectly satisfactory to the owner, the Board of Health and all the neighbors. In the cases which I have looked into the existing cesspools are situated so far from dwelling places and are built so well and in such soil that all matter brought to them easily finds its way into the ground and is thus taken care of in the most natural and effective manner. This is particularly so along the bluff on the westerly side of Main street between Walnut street and Symmes corner. The soil is of such an open, porous character and the ground water veins pit it so quickly towards the river valley that the sewage takes care of itself in as full and healthy a manner as if it ran into the sewer. In one instance, a cesspool which has been built and used for twenty years has only fifteen inches of sewage and ground water in it at the present time and it has never been cleaned out once. Under present circumstances it is good for twenty years longer.

In such cases is there any need of arbitrarily enforcing the by-law under consideration? As a sub-committee of the Sewer Board on the subject under discussion, I interviewed the Secretary and most active member of the Board of Health and in reply to the above question he reported that the sanitary conditions in almost all, if not all, the premises which had been decided upon must enter the public sewer, were perfect. No necessity existed from a public health point of view for ordering most of the premises to be connected with the public sewers, but the town by-law above quoted made it mandatory on the Board to take action. It is the majesty of the town by-law in question and the solemn obligation resting upon the health officers of the town to enforce its obligations more than any sanitary need of the town's enforcement that has brought about the late order which will bring needless expense to many citizens. I failed at first to note the fact that the state law on the subject left to the discretion of town boards of health to order public sewer connections, but the Winchester town by-law went further than that and made it mandatory upon all to connect with the public sewers, whether their private drainage system was satisfactory or not. This fact was admitted and it was agreed upon between us that it would be better to amend the town by-law so that the Board of Health could exercise some discretion in ordering citizens to connect with the public sewers. Consideration for the public health, not loyalty to an unreasonable by-law, should be the only reason for the Board of Health to order any one to connect his premises with a public sewer.

In many cases the expense of connecting with the public sewers is a financial burden to many citizens which should be avoided unless such connections are adjudged a necessity by the Board of Health. I personally know that the present order to connect is burdensome to many and if the town knew all the circumstances connected with these cases, it would not approve the rigid enforcement of the present by-law unless the public health demanded such enforcement. The by-law should be amended by giving the Board of Health discretion in the matter. It was no doubt expected that the Board would exercise some discretion in enforcing the by-law when it was adopted. No one has ever complained that the law was not enforced but the better business way is to amend it as soon as possible so that it shall be just and reasonable and then it can be enforced without any just cause of complaint.

The question has been asked what is the penalty if the order of the Board of Health is not complied with. According to the by-law the penalty is not exceeding fifty dollars fine, but if a person complained or should prove that his sanitary conditions were all right and satisfactory to the Board of Health, the defendant would not be probably fined to much extent simply to maintain the supremacy of an unjust Winchester by-law. But no one wants to go to court on such a matter and the better way is to have the by-law amended as proposed so that the Board of Health would have power to enforce it or not according to their discretion.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

"The Wife" is one of the first and most popular of David Belasco's many successful plays. It has been given several times at the Castle Square during the past fifteen years, and it will be revived there by John Craig on Monday for a brief run of a single week. One of the strongest and most powerful of emotional dramas, a vein of comedy runs through "The Wife" that makes it even more acceptable. The cast of "The Wife" at the Castle Square will be a strong one. It will introduce to Boston theatre-goers for the first time Miss Mary Keener, a talented young actress who will next week make her first appearance as a member of Mr. Craig's company. Mr. Craig will be seen as John Rutherford, and other important roles will be played by William P. Carleton, Donald Meek, Mabel Colcord and Florence Shirley.

Another "Hopeless Case"

He Astonished the Doctors—Recovered Without Operation—Used Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

Mr. James Lettice, of Canajoharie, N. Y., writes:

"Some years ago I was attacked with fearful pains in my back and side. I could not control my kidneys at all, and what came from them was mucous and blood. I was in a terrible state and suffered intensely. A prominent physician of Albany, N. Y., decided that an operation was all that would save me. I dreaded that and commenced to take Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. I felt better almost immediately. When I had taken about two bottles, the flow from the bladder was much cleaner, the pain stopped. I was saved from the surgeon's knife and am now well."

The above letter was written in 1900. To prove that the benefit he obtained from Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was permanent, read what he says in a recent letter (in 1912):

"I am enjoying the best of health. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cured me permanently. I have answered many letters asking about it. I shall keep it handy."

Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy has had nearly 44 years of great success in Kidney, Liver and Blood disorders. Not a "patent" medicine, but a physician's prescription, prepared for universal use. Write today to Dr. David Kennedy Co., Rondout, N. Y., for a free trial bottle and booklet of valuable medical advice. Large bottles sold by 40,000 druggists.

WINCHESTER MEN'S BIDS ARE LOWEST.

Through an oversight the bids for concrete floor and other work in the basement of the Town Hall was omitted in last week's STAR, although they were contained in the copy for the Selectmen's Meeting. The figures are of unusual interest as showing that Winchester contractors can do the work at a lower figure than out of town concerns. The highest bid was $1622.25 and the lowest $624.05. The three lowest bids were made by Winchester contractors, and it is to be hoped that when the bids for granolithic sidewalks are called for that this one will go to Winchester men even if their bids are a little higher. Keep the work at home as the town is the richer for doing so.

The bids in detail were as follows:

Bidder	Total
J. I. Fitzgerald Con. Co.	$624.05
Amor Concrete Con. Co.	$694.00
W. A. Murdahl Co.	$915.00
Colman Bros.	$1622.25

Thos. J. Hind.	$1150.00
Simpson Bros. Co.	$848.83
Gibbons Con. Co.	$1501.90

The business of the late John T. Cosgrove, funeral director and undertaker, will be conducted by his sons, H. S. and R. E. Cosgrove, who will give the same careful attention and consideration as heretofore.

MIXED BOWLING TOURNAMENT

The teams in the tournament are dividing things up with each additional match, and on last Thursday night the leaders, team 1, lost two points to team 4, which creates another opportunity for a tie of several of the contestants. Team 1 rolled its usual good game, making two over 500, but team 4 piled up 533 in its second and this was sufficient for it to take the total. Mrs. Brown, with 80 and 87, was high for the ladies. Her total of 167 was closely followed by Mrs. Carleton's 161. Mrs. Flanders rolled high single for the ladies with 89. Dr. Olmsted rolled 110 for highest single, and his 199 for total was also the best. On this same evening team 8 won two points from team 14 with considerably lower scores. Mrs. Kerrison rolled the best ladies' string with 84, and her total of 162 was also the best for the ladies bowling. Mr. Hart had two over a hundred and 207 for total.

OBSERVATIONS.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

Although the Judiciary Committee reported the bill against trading votes in the legislature, the House turned it down. One more nail in the coffin of the two old parties.

A nearby town bought an auto chemical like ours and raised the money by selling six one thousand dollar four per cent bonds payable one each year. What did the machine cost? Let the kindergarten class in municipal finance answer.

Is it the plan to spend the entire twenty thousand dollars for granite walks this year and then come in again next year and ask for as much more? If this is done some needed things will either have to wait or we will have a bounced up tax rate.

The town of Winchester should buy for cash and so get the full discounts and there is no good reason why it should not be done. Are we so doing in all cases?

I replied to Mr. Metcalf's question on free passes last week in a general way but for lack of room or some other reason it was not published.

The railroad bill reported by the Railroad Committee was changed by Ways and Means so that passes could be given to the carriers included in the Inter-State law and policemen, firemen and letter carriers when on duty. But the newspapers and public employees all over the State will try to keep the doors wide open by defeating the Ways and Means amendment, so that it may continue to flourish as it has in the past, and does still. They never have dared to have the bill published and have defeated every attempt to have it. No Boston paper has ever been willing to print a word on the pass evil until the Transcript did this month.

I have not mentioned any stable, but the Town Stable on Linden street, and the Selectmen appear to have no reply to make in or outside of Town Meeting to the charge that it is extravagantly run.

The bill to appropriate seven thousand dollars to improve water conditions at and near to Wedgemere had no chance of success this session as it was introduced too late, and even if Metropolitan Affairs Committee had reported it, Ways and Means would have reported against it, and it would not have passed as the State tax is looming up all too big to get any such bills through now. Try in season next year.

PLAY FOR TOWN FUND.

The drama, "The Colonel's Maid," was presented in the town hall on Tuesday evening by Winchester Council K. of C. for the benefit of the town relief fund for the western flood sufferers. Although the effort met with little support by the town's people, the play was well given and much enjoyed by the small audience. Those who took part were Mr. John P. Leonard, Dr. Edward M. O'Connor, Mr. Martin Caulfield, Mr. Stephen T. Callahan, Mr. Patrick J. Kennedy, Dr. James H. O'Connor, Miss Emily M. Dowd, Miss Agnes V. O'Leary and Miss Frances T. Noonan. All of the actors surpassed their previous efforts, and although they did not have the encouragement of their previous large audience, carried out their parts with vigor and brilliancy. The play was staged under the direction of Mr. Charles I. Harrold.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip T. French are the parents of a fourth daughter, born yesterday.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING.

is likely to become clogged if the drainage of about two acres is turned into it. I submit a sketch of proposed methods as a part of this report."

The Committee on Ways and Bridges reported, recommending that the Engineer's recommendations be followed out and that sewer, water and gas pipes so far as they go should be laid in the same street opening with the installation of necessary of a brick or concrete partition between the gas pipes and the adjoining pipes, the expense of this partition to be borne by the Gas Co. The Committee's recommendation was made in order to disturb the surface of the street as little as possible and to confine it to the smallest possible space. The recommendations of the Committee and the Town Engineer were considered and approved by the Board and referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges to be carried out.

At 8 P. M. a hearing was declared open on the petition of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston, dated March 28, 1913, for permission to construct and maintain underground cables and manholes with the necessary wires and cables therein under the surface of the following streets: Cambridge street between Pond street and the Arlington Line; Pond street between Cambridge street and the Woburn Line.

The Clerk reported that all abutters have been notified. A letter in favor of the petition on condition that the existing poles be removed, was received from Samuel J. Elmer, Mr. Jere. Downs and Mr. George H. Bates were present as interested abutters. The Town Engineer's report on this subject presented April 7, and included in the records of that date was read. Mr. Howard of the Edison Company was present and stated that the underground wires petitioned for were to be used for the purpose of transmitting their high power current between their Woburn and Somerville power stations and that the overhead wires now in place would after the installation of the underground wires be used for transmitting current for house and street lighting; and the hearing was declared closed.

Bids for sewer pipe in response to advertisement duly published were publicly opened and read in the presence of all interested parties who were present, as follows:

B. F. Marsh Co., 70 per cent discount free-on-board Winchester, in car load lots, breakage and inspection guaranteed.

Portland Stone Ware Co., 70 per cent, free-on-board Winchester, 2 per cent cash, 15 days.

Waldo Bros., 70 per cent carload lots free-on-board Winchester, 2 per cent for cash from net bill after deducting freight.

Berry & Ferguson, 71 per cent, free-on-board Winchester, town to stand breakage; 2 per cent cash 15 days from net bill after deducting freight. Berry & Ferguson to reimburse the Town for any breakage over $5 per car.

Eastern Clay Goods Co., 70 per cent discount, free-on-board Winchester, Town's risk of breakage, 2 per cent for cash in 15 days from net bill after deducting freight. If the Town prefers to purchase the pipe, breakage and inspection at the seller's risk, then the price would be 68 per cent discount.

M. B. Paige Co., Peabody, Mass., 72 per cent discount, 2 per cent after deducting freight for cash on the Town's regular pay day.

Referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges.

Mr. Carl Larson of 993 Main street and Mr. C. H. Davis of 7 Hemingway street appeared before the Board and reported that there was an extended demand in their section of the Town for gas service and that they had been unable to obtain it from the Arlington Gas Light Co. and it was agreed by the Chairman that the Board would take up the matter with the Gas Company to see what could be done.

The Committee on Ways and Bridges reported that on the premises of C. E. Corey of Cliff street, surface water was collected and led through a 3-inch pipe to the gutter, and the Committee recommended that Mr. Corey be requested to lay the pipe through the loam space next to the gutter so that it might discharge into a catch basin, the work to be done either by his contractor or by the Town, but if by the first then under supervision; connection with the catch basin to be made by the Town at Mr. Corey's expense, he to bear all the other expense in connection with the change. Mr. Corey was present and expressed his willingness to do anything that was necessary in the matter; the Town Engineer was also present and recommended that the work be done as suggested by the Committee on Ways and Bridges for while the surface water might run only at certain times of the year, yet it would be better in the end to have it taken care of as suggested. The matter was referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges with full power.

A letter was received from the Town Counsel concerning the matter of bringing the abutter's premises to grade on Nelson street and referred to Committee on Ways and Bridges. A bond was received, approved and filed from Frederick S. Snyder, covering his work on the approaches to his residence on Highland avenue, permission for which subject to the filing of this bond was granted April 14.

The Committee on Ways and Bridges reported on the petition of Samuel Gustin presented April 7, for a permit to lay a water pipe across Ridge street, opposite his land and which permit was granted April 14, subject to the filing of a proper bond, that the work was completed on April 15, and was apparently satisfactory. A bond was received from Mr. Gustin, approved and filed.

On the petition of Patrick T. Walsh presented April 14, for permission to lay a granite sidewalk across the loam space and sidewalk at the entrance to his garage, 102 Highland avenue, the Committee on Ways and Bridges reported that the land back of the sidewalk was considerably higher than the street grade; that any drive to be constructed should have quite a deep cut before reaching the sidewalk. The Committee recommended that permission be granted as requested, subject to the above recommendations; the runway to be constructed in accordance with the Town's specifications under the supervision of the Superintendent of Streets on lines and grades to be supplied by the Town Engineer and the filing of a proper bond to indemnify the Town against damage during or by the construction of such runway.

NAPOLEON SAID:-

"Every DELAY gives

OPPORTUNITY for DISASTER"

Any disaster that MIGHT happen to YOU will be softened upon REFLECTION about the AMOUNT of insurance for which YOUR body is insured, preferably in the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE, or HARTFORD same being one of the STRONGEST and OLDEST of America's insurance companies.

To the UNINSURED, is to entail pecuniary LOSS upon one's FAMILY or ESTATE, or BOTH. AS TIME SLIPS BY, THE COST RISES; if health DEPARTS, then LIFE insurance is IMPOSSIBLE.

With the MANY forms of INVESTMENT endowment insurance, there is no truth in the fallacious sophism, "HAVE TO DIE TO WIN." AS THOUSANDS may be paid you, IN CASH, while living, if you demand this form of insurance.

The only EVIDENCE requisite will be a policy (new forms) granted by the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, which, if you are fortunate to pass a favorable medical examination, may be issued. DOUBLE VICTORY

Through fine fielding and clever pitching by Neal White, the club's new pitcher, in the morning game, and batting in the pinches in the afternoon game, the Winchester Highlands Athletic club baseball team was able to win both games of the double-header, 6 to 1 and 11 to 10, last Saturday afternoon.

The morning game was with the fast Marathon A. C. of Woburn, yet the result was never in doubt. The battery for the Highlands did great work, and were ably assisted by their team-mates. Harry Bennett played a wonderful game at second base, and favor did some good work in the field. Hamilton was the star of the visiting team.

The score by innings:
W. H. A. C. 0 1 1 0 2 2 0 0 —6
M. A. C. 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 —1

The summary:
W. H. A. C. 33 6 8 9 27 15 6
M. A. C. 31 1 5 6 24 9 5

For action, the afternoon game with the Old-Timers, was the best. Both teams blew up in one inning and gave five runs to the other. There was plenty of batting, and error after error. McElhiney, who started to pitch for the W. H. A. C. team gave two passes, hit two men and allowed two hits in the second inning. The boys threw the ball all around, and before three men were out, five runs were scored. Up to the seventh inning it looked rather black for a victory for the club, but it happened in the "lucky seventh." Mathews singled, went to second on a wild throw by Richardson and stole third. Hanlon got under Murphy's fly. Park walked and stole second. Bennett walked. Gardner sent up a fly to right which Smith muffed. McElhiney and Chapin each singled. This resulted in five runs, and put the boys in the lead, from which they were never headed.

Mathews caught well and was strong on throws to bases. Harry Bennett again played a great game at second base. The heavy batting was done by Mathews, Murphy, Bennett and McElhiney.

For the Old-Timers, Polley, Gilman and Hanlon excelled at the bat, and Hanlon, Dotten and Polley were the fielding stars.

The score by innings:
W. H. A. C. 2 0 1 1 2 0 5 0 11
Old-Timers 1 5 1 1 1 0 1 0 10
The summary:
W. H. A. C. 26 7 12 13 26* 15 9
Old-Timers 37 10 12 14 24 14 6

*Dotten out, batting out of turn.

W. H. S. WINS.

At Reading last Friday afternoon, Winchester High defeated Reading High in a close game by a score of 1 to 0. The game was practically won by the great pitching of Warren Goddu, who struck out 13 of the Reading batsmen and allowed only three hits. It was he also who scored the only run of the game, by taking a desperate chance by going from second on a short passed ball, and just barely making the plate in safety by a superb slide. In the seventh Reading threatened to score, but were shut out when Maguire made a great running catch in short center-field. Goldsmith also showed considerable skill on first base, taking several difficult chances with one hand. For Reading, Kingman on third base played the best game.

The game was won in the eighth inning when Goddu singled, Freeman walked, and Goddu scored on the short passed ball.

The score by innings:
W. H. S. 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
R. H. S. 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0

Stolen bases, Penakian, Maguire, Phippen, 2; Seaman, Esterberg, Run Goddu. Time 28. Umpire Corcoran.

ASSESSORS' NOTICE

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 41, of Part I of Chapter 490 of the Acts of 1909, all persons, firms and corporations, domestic or foreign, subject to taxation in the Town of Winchester are hereby notified and required to bring in to the Assessors of said Town of Winchester, on or before the

in case of residents, true lists of all their polls and personal estates (not exempt by law from taxation), of which they were possessed on the first day of April in the current year, and in case of non-residents and foreign corporations, true lists of all their personal estates, in said Town of Winchester (not exempt from taxation) which lists must be verified by oath as required by Section 43 of said Part I.

Under the provisions of Section 42 of said Part I, as amended by Chapter 515, Acts of 1909, the above-mentioned lists must be in form prescribed by the Tax Commissioner of the Commonwealth. These blank forms may be had at the Assessor's office, or will be mailed to any address upon application.

Section 47 of Part I of Chapter 490, Acts of 1909, a mortgage or mortgage of real estate may bring into the Assessors of the city or town in which it lies, within the time prescribed by the notice under section forty-one, a statement under oath of the amount secured thereon, or on each separate parcel thereof, with the name and residence of every holder of an interest therein as mortgage or mortgages. HOW TO BECOME THE WORLD'S BENEFACITOR.

One does not become in the large and historic sense the world's benefactor by multiplying and enriching time-honored popular institutions. For conditions and customs are always changing, and institutions are not perpetuated unchanged through long centuries. The old gives way to the new. This is the order of nature and the law of the world's progress.

Many zealous workers for humanity, including philanthropists, overlook this law and bestow their labors and benefactions upon causes that are destined to become outgrown and obsolete by the world's advancement. Thus the gifts of many public-spirited persons do not prove the lasting blessing to the world as was anticipated.

Little known, if not entirely forgotten, are the names of those who multiplied and enriched the pagan temples and schools of philosophy of antiquity, who built the fortresses and castles in the age of feudalism, and who even a few generations ago founded village academies. So it will be with those who are multiplying and enriching present-day popular institutions.

History is made and the world is advanced by the new events and achievements that in a greater or less degree revolutionize conditions; therefore in order to become the real benefactor to the world, one must give his support to some epoch-making new (usually what is deemed impractical) cause. Moses, the Apostles, Luther, Columbus, Samuel Morse, Robert Fulton, Cyrus Field, and William Booth, the founder of the Salvation Army, are among the world's benefactors. They have been a blessing to mankind and have advanced civilization.

The world's benefactor must be progressive-minded and must see great possibilities where others see nothing but failure; he must be in the front rank of thinkers and be engaged in some new effort for the good of mankind.

The writer knows of several golden opportunities whereby a few progressive-minded persons can become a blessing to the world by helping toward epoch-making movements for the good of humanity. In fact there were never greater opportunities.

THE WORD HELL

A Little Book That Contains Some Starting Information.

A little book selling at only five cents, postpaid, is having a very wide circulation—running up into the millions. It contains some very startling information respecting the meaning of the word Hell. It claims to demonstrate, both from the Hebrew and the Greek of our Bible, that Hell is NOT a place of eternal torment, but merely another name for the TOMB, the GRAVE, the STATE OF DEATH. It affects to show that man was not redeemed from a far-off place of eternal torture, but quotes the Scriptures proving that he was REDEEMED from the GRAVE at the cost of his Redeemer's LIFE and that the Scriptural Hope, both for the Church and the World, is a resurrection hope based upon the death and resurrection of Jesus. The book is certainly worth the reading. The information it furnishes is certainly valuable, far beyond its trifling cost. Order it at once from the Bible and Tract Society, 17 Hicks Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

BIBLE STUDY COURSE HATED WITHOUT A CAUSE.
Genesis 37—April 27.

"Love each other."—1 Corinthians 13:4.

THE story of Joseph and his brethren, beautiful in its simplicity, is deeply instructive. One lesson it teaches is the wisdom of a parent in showing too great preference for one child, and thus cultivating amongst the others a spirit of envy. Another lesson is the unwisdom of telling even our dreams to unsympathetic ears; as when Joseph told his dreams to his brethren.

Joseph was not to be blamed for artlessly telling his dreams. Evidently this was the very thing which the Lord intended. The Lord foreknew the jealousy of Joseph's brethren, and the growth of envy in their minds; and He gave opportunity for it. He had already mapped out Joseph's subsequent experiences, which the envy of his brethren merely helped to accomplish.

The most important feature of today's study is that which recognizes Joseph as a type, or prophetic picture of Christ. Joseph was on an errand of mercy to his brethren when they envied him into slavery. His brethren hated him without a cause—merely because he was good, because their father loved him, and because God had fore-shadowed his coming exaltation. They were envious to the point of enmity.

"They Hated Him Without a Cause."

But God's Providence blessed Joseph, and through much tribulation finally brought him to a position next in influence and power to the Egyptian Pharaoh himself. Later, the famine drove Joseph's brethren to Egypt to buy wheat. This was fulfilled his dream that his brethren would bow down to him.

Later on, when Joseph's entire family came to live in Goshen, they all did obeisance to Joseph, as the representative of the Egyptian government, thus fulfilling the second dream. But, until the time came for Joseph's exaltation to power, his experiences looked as if the Lord had less love for him than for any other member of Jacob's family.

"Which Things Are an Allegory."

Like Joseph, our Lord Jesus was also hated without cause. (Psalm 69:4.) The brethren of Jesus were the Jews, who crucified Him. No cause of death was found in Him. It was on account of envy that the Jews called for His crucifixion. His works were good, and theirs were evil; He taught the way of the Lord more perfectly than did they; He declared that some day they and all others would recognize Him as the Messiah. Therefore they hated Him.

Jesus applied this statement to Himself, saying, "They hated Me without a cause." (John 15:25.) In this same connection He plainly forewarns His followers that they must expect to be similarly hated unjustly. Other Scriptures assure us that in God's great Plan, not only Jesus is to be exalted to the Throne as the world's great Messiah, but with Him will be a company of brethren, sharers of the same glory, honor and immortality. These brethren, in God's great Purpose, are required to pass through similar experiences to those of their Elder Brother, Jesus. Their experiences, therefore, are illustrated also in Joseph's experiences.

The Philosophy of the Facts.

We have considered the facts—that Jesus and all of His followers, according to Divine Intention, have suffered shame and contempt. We perceive that, in the case of Jesus and the early Church, the persecutions came from their brethren according to the flesh—the Jews. But all down the Gospel Age, the persecutions of the Church, the brethren of Jesus, have come from their brethren—not Jews, but Christians. As the Jewish religionists in Jesus' day persecuted their more righteous brethren, so nominal Christians have been the chief persecutors of the Lord's faithful followers. See Psalm 69:4-21.

This persecution has come upon faithful souls of nearly every denomination. Sad to say, this persecution has come from unfaithful souls of nearly every denomination. In nearly every case, the persecution has been made for the glory of God. See Isaiah 66:5. Already the world in general, including the Jews, realize that a great mistake was made in persecuting Jesus even unto death. To some extent similar transgressions against His faithful followers have been recognized. Yet the same envious disposition leads to persecution, even in our day.

Why has God ordained that Christ and His faithful followers should thus suffer? In Jesus' case, the Father used these trying experiences to demonstrate His Son's love, loyalty and obedience, as preliminary to our Lord's exaltation to great honor and glory. In the case of the elect Church, it is even more proper that, being gathered from amongst a fallen race, they should be tested to the very last—unto death.

BOSTON THEATRE.

Maclyn Arbuckle in Klaw & Erlanger's realistic production of Edmund Day's famous play, "The Round Up," which begins its sixth week at the Boston Theatre on Monday evening, continues its unbroken succession of crowded audiences. The scenes of the play are laid in southern Arizona and the characters and atmosphere of the region are most graphically and faithfully portrayed.

The battle scene is worked up to a climax of great excitement, bringing tumultuous applause from the audience. In this scene twenty mounted Indians ride along a tortuous path at the edge of a precipice. The attack upon the wanderers in the desert by this band and their routing by a detachment of U. S. Cavalry headed by "Slim" Hoover, the sheriff, played to the hilt by Maclyn Arbuckle, ends the scene with a whirlwind of hurrahs and cheers.

Others in the splendid cast are Robert Vaughn, Gus Christie, Elmer Grandin, Vernon Wallace, William Conklin, Geo. Elliott, James Ashburn, Jacques Martin, Ogden Crane, Harry Cowan, "Tex" Cooper, Edward F. Settle, Grace Benham, Mattie Edwards and Ethel von Waldron.

Regular matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

A special bureau has been established for the expeditious handling of mail orders, which when sent with cash or money and accompanied by addressed, stamped envelope receive immediate attention.

Special prices will prevail during "The Round Up" engagement, 25c, 50c, 75c and $1.00. No seat over $1.00.

Keith's Theatre with a new act and other splendid features will be P. O'Malley and Edna Dorman, the English loquax and the American girl; Ray Conlin; the ventriloquist; Manning, Moore and Rourke, three lively rathskeller entertainers; Du Calion, the English sailor, who performs the most startling balancing feat on an unsupported ladder; the Two Georges, wonderful comedy actors; and several other features, including a new and sensational production, the exact nature of which is kept a secret.

IMPROVE THE ABERJONA AS A WHOLE.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

It is enough to make a horse laugh to read in the newspapers what was said at the State House hearing on the urgent necessity of filling up a little piece of the Aberjona near Wedgemere Station. What a place for an undertaker to start in business. Any one would think that it was the most unhealthy spot in Winchester, when the fact is the town flows across and across of wet, shallow flowed land at the north end of the town in much worse condition than the Wedgemere pond with a stream of water flowing through it. Near the Plans and Swanton street and near Beggs and Cobb's tannery there are large tracts of land flowed a foot or less with stagnant water and covered with washings and sewerage which need attending to much more than the little duck pond at Wedgemere. It is childless to set out to improve one little place in the river and pay no attention whatever to the rest of it. The whole scheme of improving our waterways should be considered at one time, not take one little pool and improve it and let the rest "go hang."

When the legislature appropriates any money for improving the Aberjona, it should appropriate enough to do the whole job well, filling some places and dredging some so as to produce an harmonious effect when completed. It seems selfish and foolish to make such an effort as has been made to improve one little local unimportant part of the river without paying any attention whatever to the rest of the scheme of development. All the "scare things" which were testified to regarding the health of the Wedgemere district would apply with ten times the force to the situation in the north part of the town. The whole subject should be treated as a whole and not in parts.

North End.

W. C. I. U. NOTES.

The question is, sometimes asked, "What organizations are included under the title, 'The Allied Temperance Forces of Massachusetts?'"

The societies working together under this name are the Massachusetts No-License League, the Good Templars, the Total Abstinence Society, the Antislavery League, the Twentieth Century Pledge, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and several smaller societies.

Do not forget the dates of the two great conventions to be held this fall—the World W. C. T. U. Convention at Brooklyn, N. Y., October 23 to 25, and the National W. C. T. U. Convention at Asbury Park, N. J., October 29 to November 6.

Several European rulers as well as our own President are total abstemious. Among the number are King Alfonso of Spain and his mother Queen Christina, Queen Wilhelmina of Holland and her mother Queen Emma, Victor Emmanuel of Italy, the King and queens of Sweden, Carl Ferdinand of Bulgaria, and King George of England.

On Wednesday afternoon shortly after five o'clock, one of the new open electric cars on the Wolburn line, caught fire on Main street near the residence of Mr. J. W. Russell. The car had difficulty in climbing the rise at this point it being at the time thought due to the oil on the street. Instead it was caused by lack of power due to the burned out insulation. When the car reached the top of the rise it was found to be on fire. The passengers and crew hastily disembarked and watched the fire. After a time it was decided to turn in an alarm, and one of the crew ran to the Russell residence and telephoned the fire station. A fire extinguisher from the residence was brought and the flames extinguished before the auto flames reached the street. The electric was badly burned.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING.

The Board has a Busy Session Considering Many Matters.

April 28, 1913.

The Board met at 7:30 p. m. All present.

The Clerk reported that the records of the meeting of April 21, and adjournment of April 25, 1913, were read and approved.

A letter was received from George H. Eustis, Town Treasurer, reporting that he had received $500. from the Estate of the late Robert C. Metcalf for the Robert C. Metcalf School Library Fund, and had deposited same in the Winchester Savings Bank.

A letter was received and filed from Charles E. Murphy, in regard to electric pole location on Fletcher street.

On the complaint of Carl Larson and C. H. Davis presented April 21st, concerning lack of gas service on No. Main street, a letter was received and filed from the Arlington Gas Light Company, stating that they were investigating the matter.

A petition was received from Fred A. Saunders for license to deal in second-hand articles at 11 Irving street for the twelve months ending May 1, 1914 and referred to the Chief of Police.

Petitions for licenses as common victuallers were received from and approved by the Chief of Police, from: R. A. Ferretti, Mary W. Carpenter, Sarah J. Rogers, Geo. D. LeDuc, Caroline J. Murray, John Coull, Charles Young, Christus Athan, Clara I. Mullen, and granted.

In regard to lighting the westerly walk of Manchester Field to the necessity for which attention was directed March 24th, and concerning which conferences have been held with the Metropolitan Park Commission. Mr. Brown reported that Mr. Skillings of that Commission had the matter under advisement, had made certain plans concerning it and if the lights were found to be necessary probably they would be installed without expense to the Town. The report was accepted.

John H. McCarthy was nominated and under suspension of the rules was elected Assistant Engineer of the Fire Department.

Voted, that the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department be and he hereby is directed to purchase 1,000 feet of Underwriters Knit Hose single jacket.

The Committee on Fire Department submitted conv. for rules for the government of the Fire Department and it was voted that the rules as read be accepted to govern that Department and that they be printed in proper form.

The Chief of the Fire Department submitted the following appointments: Combination A—Capt. George Osborne, Lieut. Ernest M. Polley, Ladder 1—Capt. Michael C. Ambrose, Lieut. Hugh Skerry, Hose 3—Capt. Michael J. Quigley, Lieut. John Hesley and the above appointments were approved and confirmed.

A letter was received from David N. Skillings relating to proposed improvement in the sidewalk abutting his property on Mt. Vernon street, leaving the Board to decide whether it would repair the present tar concrete or lay granolithic; asking that edge stone be used if the sidewalk is built of granolithic and asking that if granolithic is used that the trees with the possible exception of two in front of the Christian Science Chapel be removed as they were of little account and likely to die in any event; the walk and the edge stone to be laid around the curve until the street line of Washington street is reached; suggesting also that the granolithic work begin at an iron post a little to the east of his lower driveway, because of the likelihood of the Metropolitan Sewer crossing the street soon and this would avoid doing the work twice. Referred to the committee on Ways and Bridges.

A report was received from the Town Engineer recommending the M. B. Paige Co., of Peabody, and it is voted to accept their bid opened April 21st, for sewer pipe at 72 per cent. discount from list, less 2 per cent. after deducting freight, for cash on the Town's regular pay day. Mr. Lewett reported that he had received word from Mr. Paige that his bid was on the basis of the shipper standing the breakage over $5 per car.

A letter was received and filed from Ralph B. Redfern thanking the Board for the prompt attention given to Summit avenue and stating in regard to the petition filed for a granolithic walk on the west side of Summit avenue that Mr. A. S. Hall who was away at the time the petition was circulated had expressed his desire to assume one quarter of the abutter's obligation on said walk if it was constructed to the edge of the driveway, which extends around his premises.

On the application of the Edison Electric Illuminating Co., for permission to construct underground conduit on Cambridge street and Pond street, hearing on which was held April 21st, a letter was received from the Edison Company suggesting that they be allowed to do the work on Cambridge street under their permission from the State Highway Commission which was sufficient for their purpose and would enable them to work on both ends of Pond street and possibly by the time that work was completed the Board would be in a position to grant the Company right on Pond street. A letter was also received from Mr. Samuel J. Elder stating that if in the judgment of the Board it would not be possible for the overhead wires to be done away with, he had no objection to the underground location; the Town Engineer reported that inquiry in Arlington showed that the Selectmen of that Town had not acted upon a similar petition presented to them but that when the conduit was laid and the cables in place, Mr. LeBaron, Town Engineer of Arlington, could see no reason for allowing the existing high tension wires to remain and that he would order their removal on the ground that the wires now used for house and street lighting were sufficient. After discussion it was Ordered, Notice having been given and a public hearing held as provided by law, that permission be and hereby is granted the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston to construct and maintain underground conduits and manholes, with the necessary wires and cables therein under the surface of the following streets, as requested in its petition dated March 28, 1913, viz., Cambridge street between Pond street and the Arlington-Winchester line.

The locations of said conduits and manholes shall be as shown on plans signed by W. H. Cole and dated March 11th, 1913, on file with the petition thereto.

The foregoing permission is subject to the prompt removal of the existing high tension wires along said location and to the following conditions:

1. All work shall be done to the satisfaction of the Board of Selectmen or such officers as it may appoint to supervise the work.

2. Said Company shall file with the town its agreement to indemnify and save the town harmless against all damages, costs and expense whatsoever to which the Town may be subjected in consequence of the acts or neglect of said Company, its agents or servants, or in any manner arising from the rights and privileges granted thereby.

3. In addition to such agreement, said Company shall before a street is disturbed for the laying of its wires or conduits, execute its bond in a penal sum of five thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of said agreement and of its duties under this permit.

4. Said Company shall comply with the requirements of existing by-laws and such as may hereafter be adopted governing the construction and maintenance of conduits, poles and wires.

At 8 p. m., as advertised, bids were opened for crushed stone, action on which was laid over for one week.

The Committee on Street Lights recommended that the arc light on Walnut street, corner of Thompson street, be replaced with two c. n. incandescent and that the incandescent light on Walnut street near the bridge be changed from 40 to 60 c. n. and the Clerk was instructed to order the changes as recommended.

A bond for $1000 was received and approved from Patrick T. Walsh to protect the Town against damage by reason of his construction of a granolithic runway across the loam space and sidewalk at the entrance to his garage 102 Highland avenue, permission for which was granted subject to the filing of this bond April 21st.

On the request of G. F. Edgett presented April 21st, for repairs to the concrete sidewalk abutting his premises, 9 Lawrence street, due to an excavation required for repairing a water pipe the past winter, the Committee on Ways and Bridges reported that there was a small break in the continuity of the concrete in this sidewalk which was probably filled with gravel, was in no sense dangerous but should be concreted when the general sidewalk work of the Town is being done and the expense charged to the Water and Sewer Department. The report was approved and accepted.

In the matter of disposing of surface water through a special drain from the premises of C. E. Corey on Cliff street, considered April 21st, the Committee on Ways and Bridges recommended that the present arrangement for carrying the water to the gutter be continued on trial; that if the water should flow for more than a few days in a year it should be taken care of by a pipe through the loam space to the catch basin. If the duration of the flow should prove practically negligible any change would be unnecessary; and that Mr. Corey had agreed to connect with the catch basin whenever in the judgment of the Town it might be necessary leaving to the Selectmen the question of financial responsibility.

Report accepted.

In the matter of health conditions at Linden street, the Metropolitan Water & Sewerage Board report that their Engineer had looked into the matter and reported that the conditions were due to the failure to insert a trap in the connection made with the premises and the sewer and not Finance Committee—Vincent Farnsworth, Charles A. Gleason, Schuyler F. Herron.

Owing to the large number of applications for membership from out of town, a committee consisting of Hermann D. Murphy, Schuyler F. Herron and William M. Little has been appointed to consider a revision of the By-Laws and the increase in the number of non-residents to the number of fifty. The directors will meet this evening to consider the report of this committee and a special meeting of the club to act upon the matter will probably be held within a few weeks. It is understood that the season opened this year with the non-resident list filled and already some dozen or more applications are awaiting action.

Mr. Benjamin H. Newlands, for the past year assistant steward at the Calumet Club, has been engaged to fill the position of steward at the club this summer, and has already commenced his duties.

The work of placing the tennis court in shape for the season is underway. The court will be resurfaced with screened blue gravel and laid out by an expert.

Two new canvas canoes for the use of the club members will be added to the fleet this summer.

It is understood that a gift of sixteen watch fobs made of bronze seals of the club emblem have been presented to the club for the best time made by any crew in each of the four boats in preliminary work before the Eastern Division Meet of the A. C. A., which will be held in June. These prizes will be awarded to any crew making the best time in the war canoe, club four, tandem and single, and will afford an opportunity for every member of the club to compete. The trials will be in charge of Fleet Captain Frank H. Gerlach.

The new war canoe is expected within a few days from Stevens of Bath, Me. As it is expected that the City of Medford will hold its big carnival on Mystic Lake this year, and as the Medford Boat Club will probably hold an invitation meet during the summer, the racing will probably be an important feature of the activities of the club.

The entertainment committee is planning for the usual series of Saturday evening dances at the club during the summer, besides smoke talks and an illuminated float night.

ANNUAL MAY PARTY.

Preparations are about complete for the second annual May Party to be given in the Town Hall next Monday evening, by Santa Maria Court, Daughters of Isabella.

The concert will begin about 8 o'clock, and among the numbers to be contributed will be a Spanish dance by Miss Mary V. McGrath, teacher of Athletic dancing and also instructor of the girls' Gymnasium of Brookline, songs to be contributed by Miss Corcoran of Stoneham, Mr. Wm. Kennedy of Brookline, and Hon. James A. Hutton of Charlestown and Miss Helen McNally.

A group of young girls of the town under the direction of Miss Anna Murphy will give the Dutch Dance, Highland Fling and Parasol Dance, etc. Nephew solo by Mr. William S. Cavanagh, Woburn.

Members of the News Boys club of Boston will give Clog dancing, tumbling act and solos on violin and cornet.

Special numbers will also be given in the Rose Garden where refreshments will be served. It is hoped a large attendance will be present and a pleasant evening is assured.

The decorations will be very prettily arranged for the Rose Garden.

W. H. S. LUSES.

Through miserable support given Goddu by his team-mates, Woburn High School walked away with the second league game, last Wednesday afternoon, by a score of 4 to 2. Up to the sixth inning Winchester was leading 2 to 0 and Goddu was pitching great ball, but in the sixth Woburn tied the score through four errors, a scratch hit, and a single. Two more were obtained in the seventh through very stupid work.

As usual the Winchester batters were weak, but nevertheless, Goddu's fine pitching would have won the day, but for the errors. He struck out sixteen, and allowed two clean hits. G. Weafer, for Woburn also twirled a great game, striking out thirteen and allowing only two hits, both by Penabigan. A feature of the game was a circus catch of a hard grounder by Hooper at third base.

Friends of Charles E. Barrett will be glad to learn that his condition continues to improve since his recent operation and he is expected home within a few days.

due to any defect in the Metropolitan Sewer. Report filed.

A report was received from the Town Engineer in response to the verbal request from Arthur E. Whitney presented April 14th, for an estimate of cost of a sidewalk in front of his factory property on Main street, showing that of the total frontage of 400 feet owned by Mr. Whitney about 130 feet seemed to be a fair proportion to be covered with tar or cement walk. Three trees are so located as to prevent the laying of sidewalk curb. The gravel walk from the

HENRY M. SHEPARD.

Henry Martyn Shepard, a resident of Winchester since 1880, died on Friday last after a long illness. He was 66 years of age.

Mr. Shepard was born in Woburn, his parents being John and Sylvia (Field) Shepard. His early training was received in the Woburn schools and at the age of 15 he went to work in Boston. He followed a number of occupations and became identified with the lumber trade, in which he was engaged for a period of 40 years, both buying and selling. Owing to failing health he retired from business some 12 years ago, and since that time his health steadily declined. During his business life he was well known in the lumber trade, and was a man whose ability and opinions were highly respected.

He was married in 1875 to Miss Clara Thayer of Peterboro, N. H., they coming to Winchester to live five years later. He leaves besides his widow one sister, Mrs. John K. Richardson of Wellesley Hills, and one brother, H. Nelson Shepard of Salem.

He was a member of Aberjona Council, R. A., a member of the Congregational Church for over 30 years, and a former member and treasurer of the Calumet club. He served for a number of years as treasurer of the Congregational Church and also as treasurer of the Home for Aged People, besides being a former member of the Overseers of the Poor.

The funeral services were held from the residence on Main street Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and were largely attended by former friends and acquaintances. The service was conducted by Rev. D. Augustine Newton of Reading, assisted by Rev. Arthur Peabody of Rutland, the latter a close personal friend for years, and the former a previous pastor. During the service selections on the flute were played by Mr. Henry C. Robinson, a friend of many years. The display of floral tributes was beautiful and abundant, testifying to the esteem and regard in which the deceased was held. The burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

THE FORTNIGHTLY.

At the business meeting of the club it was voted to have in the program for next year, a Gentleman's Night, a Guest Day and a Children's Day.

Mrs. Root called the attention of the club members to the Club Luncheon, which is to be held May 15, at the Hotel Somerset. Tickets may be obtained before May 12, of Mrs. C. A. Alexander, Tel. 620. Members may take guests if they so desire.

The President, Miss Foltz, for the convenience of the club, announced her telephone number, Winchester 310.

At the close of the business meeting Mrs. Nichols gave an interesting account of her visit to Washington and Baltimore as a delegate to the Council Meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

After a short intermission a group of singers from the Choral Class delighted the audience with the songs, Spring by Gaston Borch, Ave Marie by Franz Abt and, as an encore piece, Canadian Boat Song by Barker.

Following the singers Professor Bliss Perry of Harvard gave an interesting and entertaining lecture on "Local Types in American Fiction." He spoke of the New England type of short stories, as exemplified in the stories of Harriet Beecher Stowe, Mary E. Wilkins, Freeman, Sarah Orne Jewett and Alice Brown. The characters in this type are a mixture of the practical and the ideal, with strong mental and moral fiber and an inability to express their emotions free.

As the New England type of short story has what Professor Perry calls it stenciled background of the farmhouse, the rocky hills, the bare or blooming fields, so the southern short story has its typical background of old colonial house, picturesque dinkies, hospitable, courtly old colonels and their ladies, and beautiful though rather helpless maidens. Against this background moves a story of emotion of passions bred by the southern sun. Such stories as those of Cable, Joel Chandler Harris, Thomas Nelson Page, and Mary Johnston well illustrate this type.

Again, in the western story we have the stenciled pattern type. Here we see the crude, rough background and an entirely different physical kind of American. Bret Harte gives us glimpses of the tough, strong type in his short stories and in the tales of Jack London we meet again the vivid, vital, full blooded character.

Professor Perry closed his lecture by saying that these types are all right in themselves, but what we need now is a writer who can give us a story of a northerner, southerner or westerner, with all his local needs and ideas and yet in spite of his localization, make him a typical American.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL.

Some awnings are very much needed for the Winchester Hospital. One of our generous citizens has offered to furnish one for the sun parlor and the committee will be grateful to any one who will provide one or more for the front windows. As the house faces the West, the afternoon sun in summer is very trying and awnings are almost a necessity. The dishes solicited through the columns of the STAR have been donated. This shows how readily the people of Winchester respond to the needs of our Hospital.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES.

The Friendship class of the Methodist Church met with Mrs. Nestor Davis of Lagrange street last Friday evening. A social time was spent in playing Bible games, after which refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held June 1st, with Mrs. De Rockmont of 11 Bacon street.

Attention is called to the change of meeting place for the meeting of the Home for Aged People to be held Monday evening. It will be held in the general committee room at the town hall instead of in the small hall as announced on the notices.

FLOOD SUFFERERS

RELIEF FUND.

$900 Collected.

The Committee in charge of the Flood Sufferers' Relief Fund held a meeting in Town Hall Tuesday evening at which the members of the Committee turned in their accounts and collections to the Treasurer. When the money was counted the total amount was $895.35 to which was added by a member, $4.65, making the total an even $900.00.

Of this amount, $100 was contributed by The Fortnightly; $26.10 from the performance of "The Colonel's Maid" given last week by the local council of the Knights of Columbus and $15.00 from the Women's Bible Class of the First Congregational Church. The balance of the fund was contributed by over four hundred individuals in sums from ten cents to $25.

The Committee desires to express its thanks to those who have so generously given to this most worthy cause and to the young men and women who so kindly aided the members in making the collections. A sub-committee composed of Mr. D. F. Foley, Mr. James Nowell, Mr. James H. Dwinell and the Chairman was appointed to make special inquiry as to conditions in flooded districts and after thoroughly canvassing the situation to place the money where, in their opinion it was most needed and would be distributed with the least delay and red tape. This sub-committee will publish a report of their actions next week.

A majority of the names of the contributors to the fund is given below. It is impossible to give the complete list as many people gave without mentioning their names and others asked to have their names withheld but any one who gave anything to the fund, whatever the amount, may know his money has gone to help some one who needed it.

PHILOMATHEAN SOCIETY.

At a meeting of the Philomathean Society held last Tuesday evening in the High School Library, several new members were added to the list. Otto Clark gave an interesting talk on the "Alien Land Laws in California," after which Harold Ogden and Francis Locke debated on the question: Resolved that aeroplanes are of great advantage in time of war. Mr. Ogden took the affirmative, and Mr. Locke the negative. After the debate, the judges' decision was announced by Mr. Delano, in favor of Mr. Ogden. In a short speech Mr. Delano pointed out some of the weaknesses in debating, and outlined the proper method of debating.

At a business meeting held immediately after the speaking, the applicants, Messrs. Clark, Locke and Ogden were admitted to membership. It was voted that the office of critic be created. There was considerable discussion on the formation of a triangular debating league, with two neighboring high schools. It was finally voted to take the initiative in forming such a league.

Considerable discussion followed on a joint meeting, entertainment and debate with the girls' Dialectic Society. It was voted to challenge the girls and to arrange for such an event. The next regular meeting of the society will be held in the High School Building on May 20.

CLOSING OF NIGHT SCHOOLS.

The Night Schools for the Italians which have been held in the Night School since Dec. 15, will have their closing exercises Friday evening at 8 p. m. The evening will take the form of an entertainment for the students.

The attendance during the winter has been very gratifying and the progress of the young men remarkable.

The Victrola which will be used Friday night has been kindly furnished by Mr. Steiner & Sons. All members of the school during the winter are invited to attend and bring one friend.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

CONVENTION.

The Sunday School Convention to be held in the Baptist Church, afternoon and evening of Tuesday next is worthy of perhaps extended notice.

The usual good program of such occasions will be in evidence and the supper at 6 p. m., to which it is hoped an attendance present will tax the hospitality of the church. Twenty-five cents is charged for this feature, and it is hoped many Sunday School friends both in Winchester and Woburn, Burlington and Stoneham will attend.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

A medical friend of The Spectator's is authority for the statement that all noises the sound of a child's voice will wake adults from a sound sleep sooner than any other. A man who can sleep through the tuning of a piano, driving nails in wood, a fusilade of gun shots, the unloading of a coal cart and similar noises, says The Spectator's medical friend, will be awakened almost immediately by two or three children talking or laughing together. Their voices have a shrillness and a penetrating quality that nothing else has. Ask a balloonist or an aeroplanist what sounds he hears most frequently when he is in the air and he will invariably tell you children's voices. This is not because he hears more children's voices than those of adults, but because the children's voices reach him when others do not.

Now is the time for the people of Winchester to begin swatting the fly.

The business man who buys space in the STAR is making an excellent investment.

Nearly all the people of Winchester read the STAR; the real reason why this paper carries so much local advertising.

There are some business men who say that the reason they do not advertise in the STAR is because they have all the business they can take care of. The non-advertising merchant who says he has all the business he can handle evidently does not want to be classed with George Washington as a truth-teller. He ranks fairly with Mark Twain as a joker, except that Twain's jokes were never dull or stupid.

The Spectator has received the following communication: Dear Spectator:—If the meek and lowly Nazarene were to come to Winchester and begin to heal the sick and administer to the needs of the people, there are those who would think he was doing it for notoriety, and others who would say he was going to run for office. Such people are selfish, stung and envious creatures, and they can see no health and right motive behind the acts of public-spirited people. They do nothing except for self, and they cannot understand why others do.

Well, of course, there are so called missionaries everywhere, but conditions are no worse than they were at Jerusalem 2000 years ago. Man is rather a sad lot everywhere, full of prejudice and uncorrected errors. But the Lord made man and called him good. Let us accept man on that basis.

One man saves money by imagining that his income is smaller than it is, and putting away the difference.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

"The Fourth Estate" is a play that has made a wide-spread reputation. Its title comes from a saying of Edmund Burke that the newspapers were more influential than all the other estates of the kingdom put together. "The Fourth Estate" is therefore a modern newspaper play, involving scenes and experiences of the present hour.

This crucial scene of the play takes place in the composition room of a newspaper, with all the linotype machines and other paraphernalia in working order and hard at work.

HOME FOR AGED PEOPLE.

The annual meeting will be held in the small Town Hall Monday, May 5, at 7.30 p. m., to hear and act upon the reports of officers, directors and committees; to elect officers and directors for the ensuing year; to consider ways and means for increasing funds of the corporation; to consider the advisability of borrowing money secured by a mortgage of the real estate of the corporation in order to raise funds for the financing of the enlargement of the Home building and to take action thereon.

BASE BALL.

Poor playing and lack of hit when needed, defeated Winchester High in the game with Lynn English High last week. Beyond the excellent playing of Phillips, the Lynn second baseman, and the pitching of Rogers in the pitcher's box, the game was listless and featureless. The final score was 7 to 1, but only two of the Lynn runs were earned.

Newsy Paragraphs.

A meeting of the Winchester Equal Suffrage League was held at the home of Mrs. A. R. Pike on April 23rd. Illness prevented the presentation of the subject, "An I my sister's keeper?" by the President, Miss Wullop, as was planned. In her absence Mrs. Alfred Higgins spoke with great force on "Why I believe in Equal Suffrage." Miss Margaret Elder, by special request read a paper she delivered in Boston last year on "What is the ballot?" and Miss Frances Elder spoke on the "Uses of the ballot," emphasizing that women are seeking the ballot as the simplest and most effective method of accomplishing many objects of great importance to the general advancement and well-being. There was a large attendance of members and friends and three new members were enrolled. Tea was served at the conclusion of the speeches, at which Mrs. W. Holbrook Lowell and Mrs. W. E. Clarke poured.

Waterfield Lodge of Odd Fellows held a smoke talk in the lodge room Monday evening in observance of the 44th anniversary of the institution of Odd Fellowship.

RAY—O'MELIA.

A pretty wedding took place last week Thursday evening when Miss Katherine Ellen O'Melia, daughter of Mrs. Nora O'Melia of this town was united in marriage to Mr. Louis P. Ray, formerly of Woburn, now of Winchester.

The ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock at St. Mary's rectory, officiating clergyman being Rev. Francis Rogers of St. Mary's Church. The bridesmaid was Miss Annie O'Folice of Winchester and the best man was Mr. Joseph Donahue of Woburn.

The bride was charmingly attired in white, with a long train, and carried a white and pink bouquet. The bridesmaid wore white silk with a pink and white bouquet. Following the ceremony a reception was tendered by the happy couple at the home of the bride's mother. They were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Nora O'Melia and Mrs. D. A. Ray. The house was beautifully decorated with carnations and ferns and the ushers were Fred Shaugnessy and John F. O'Melia of Winchester. Guests were present from Cambridge, Woburn, Winchester, Stoneham, Somerville, Arlington and Boston. During the evening instrumental selections were rendered by Miss Elizabeth A. Daly and Mr. Fred Shaugnessy.

After a wedding trip to Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Ray will make their home in Cambridge. The young people were the recipients of many beautiful gifts.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING.

southerly line from the Whitney property to a point near the new factory has always settled and the Engineer would not advise laying any permanent walk on it for a year or more, but would suggest raising it to proper grade with red gravel topped with stone dust; also the removal of the three trees so that a curbing might be laid to show a side walk of the same width as the existing sidewalks but would not advise laying it now. In front of the factory a good walk ought to be laid with a curb. As all the walks ever laid in that section are of tar it seemed to the Engineer that a tar walk would be appropriate now. The total expense of which would be about $108.45 or $54.23 to Mr. Whitney. The total expense for curbing would be approximately for the part which fronts his factory $114 of which Mr. Whitney's portion would be $57. The estimated expense as above is for tar sidewalks and curbing only, covering only about 15 feet and does not include any expense for constructing gravel or stone dust walks along the remaining part of the property. The Clerk was instructed to forward the Engineer's estimate to Mr. Whitney.

A letter was received from Fred L. Carter calling attention to the drainage from the street onto his land on Highland avenue between Fells road and the culvert. The Town Engineer reported that he had inspected conditions and found that Highland avenue grades northerly from Fells road and southerly from Reservoir street to the low point at the culvert which passes under the avenue. The gutter on the easterly side of Highland avenue is well defined for a part of the distance between Reservoir street and Fells road, and carries the surface water from that street in a proper manner, but for the remaining part of the distance to the culvert it is not well defined and shaped with the result that, as the surface water nears the culvert, it spreads out over the easterly part of the avenue which is not macadamized and reaches the culvert at its easterly end. The culvert, which is of stone, and about five or six feet high by about two and a half feet wide does not extend across the entire width of Highland avenue, which is sixty feet wide, but stops fifteen or twenty feet away from the side line. Mr. Carter is depositing material partly on his land and partly within the street limits at the easterly end of the culvert, and the water concerning which he complains, has washed considerable of the loose filling into the bed of the ravine just east of the easterly line of Highland avenue. His suggestion that a catch basin be constructed and from it a drain pipe be laid to the culvert is proper, but I would advise that if the work is to be thoroughly done, the culvert be lengthened to extend entirely across the street, and a sidewalk and gutter be shaped so that none of the surface water could reach the culvert over Mr. Carter's land. I do not know what work would cost, but it does not seem to me that it could be done for less than $200. A much more simple way, but one which could be considered only temporary would be to shape a course for the water by constructing a rough gutter, and making the bottom of it sufficiently hard to resist the flow of the water. The expense of this would be very light.

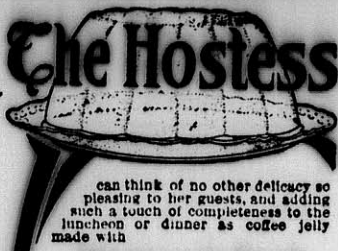

Voted, that the drainage be taken care of by the Highway Committee according to the final recommendations of the Engineer.

The Chairman reported that the County Commissioners gave a hearing on the petition for the widening of Cambridge street, opposite Mr. Fernald's land at the Selectmen's Room, Town Hall Building, April 25, at 9:30 a. m., all the Selectmen having been present except Mr. Pike. The Town Engineer was also present. No opposition was manifested and it was decided that the subject matter of the petition be taken up by the Town Engineer as representing this Board and Mr. Kendall representing the County Commissioners, with the Highway Commission to get the approval of the latter.

In the matter of complaint of Mrs. Annie Donahue of 62 Nelson street, presented March 31, in regard to grading her premises to the sidewalk line, referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges, and concerning which the Town Engineer and Town Counsel have made reports on file and incorporated in the Selectmen's records, the Highway Committee reported that they had agreed to make the necessary alterations.

The Highway Committee reported that in accordance with the vote of this Board passed April 25th, that part of Lawson road which is not constructed was closed on April 26th by means of wooden horses and lanterns, a more permanent barrier to be erected later and recommended that this part of the street remain closed to travel until it has been properly constructed.

Petitions were received from Robert E. Carter for granolithic sidewalk on the northeasterly side of Yale street beginning at the corner of Calumet road and extending 150 feet in a northeasterly direction; from John M. L. Enman for a granolithic sidewalk on Harrison street abutting No. 7; for granolithic sidewalks in front of 15 and 17 Lakeview road signed by L. V. Niles and L. Stanley Redding; from Mr. Antonio Ficciello, representing Mr. Pasquale Ficciello of 116 Swanton street, applied for a granolithic sidewalk to be laid abutting his property; from James B. Lord asking for a 4 foot granolithic sidewalk in front of his residence on Pine street estimated to be about 482 feet in length; from C. H. Lewis for a granolithic sidewalk in front of the Sanborn estate on Church street, and referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges.

Mr. Jeremiah O'Connell, 7 Oak street, appeared before the Board and asked for the cooperation of the Town in building a division fence between his property and Hose 3 yard and a letter was received from H. I. Carroll, 56 Swanton street, concerning the condition of Hose 3 yard on Swanton street adjoining his property, claiming that it had become a public dump and stating that the fence built by him eighteen years ago had been broken down by material dumped into the yard. Referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges.

A letter was received and filed from Ross & Barbara dated April 25th notifying the Board that they have commenced excavating on Cross street for section 70 for the new Mystic Sewer, contract for which had been awarded them by the Metropolitan Water & Sewer Board.

Petitions were received and referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges from Harry S. Parsons for a granolithic sidewalk in front of his house on Bacon street; from Mrs. Vienna G. Preston for a granolithic sidewalk on Madison avenue from the Moulton property to Goddard avenue, a distance of about 250 feet; from H. A. Norton for a granolithic sidewalk fronting his property 6 Conley street; from William H. and N. M. Stinson for the re-opening of the street drain on the westerly side of Ash street about 8 feet from the northerly line of Myrtle street it being alleged that the drain had been stopped up for nearly two years; and from Sewall E. Newman as agent for and in behalf of Mrs. Lucy R. Woodrough for a granolithic sidewalk on the northerly line of her property, 9 Hillside avenue from the property of Mrs. Rust to the corner of Mt. Pleasant street.

A letter was received and referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges from William R. Marshall in behalf of the property owners on Cliff street all of whom endorsed his request that Cliff street be oiled as soon as this feature of treating the Town roads had been determined, and agreeing to pay for the same on receipt of advice that the work would be done as petitioned for.

A letter was received and referred to the Committee on Street Lights from Mrs. Margaret Abernethy of 8 Lagrange street, protesting against the manner in which certain electric poles had been located on that street.

A letter was received and referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges from Arthur E. Whitney asking that a granolithic or other permanent sidewalk be put in abutting his property 77 Walnut street and suggesting that before any new sidewalk work be done on that part of Walnut street the roadbed should be first well macadamized and the gutters relaid and put in order.

A petition was received and referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges signed by William R. and Mary F. Morehouse, T. L. Freeburn, John L. Ayer, Ripley & Hovey, George S. Tucker, Jr., and James Johnston, asking for a granolithic sidewalk on both sides of Cabot street from Warren street to the northeasterly boundary of lot No. 7, as indicated on plan of land of John L. Ayer.

Voted, that the Superintendent of Streets be and he hereby is requested to report on the advisability of removing the two plank walks across the gutter on Winthrop street from just below Mason street to Highland avenue.

A form of notice and record of deposits for sidewalks was presented by the Clerk and approved to be printed.

Mr. Jewett reported for the Highway Committee in the matter of constructing a driveway across the sidewalk on Mt. Vernon street at the Brown Stanton Block that he had received checks as deposits on account of this work. The matter was discussed at some length and was left with the Committee for such action as they might deem best.

Voted, that the Water and Sewer Board be requested to notify the Superintendent of Streets immediately in writing by mail or otherwise of any openings in any of the public streets and also the date on which they are closed and considered finished.

Warrants were drawn for $1341.97 and $1957.67.

PARISH OF THE EPIPHANY CONCERT.

Frequent encores for musicians and reader and enthusiastic reception of the pictures marked the concert given at the Town Hall Friday evening, April 25, under the leadership of J. Albert Wilson, organist and choirmaster of the Church of the Epiphany. A very large audience enjoyed this musical entertainment, the credit for which is due both to Mr. Wilson and to Sylvester Taylor, who served as pageant master in arranging a very charming series of pictures.

The violin soloist, Frank E. Kenide, gave a spirited and graceful interpretation of several classic works. Mr. Child in the old English song, "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes," made a very favorable impression, as did the young singers, Masters Passano and McLeod who were particularly good in the duet, "I Would That My Love," from Mendelssohn.

Miss Lucile Adams read several selections in a graceful, piquant and thoroughly enjoyable way. She is one of the most pleasing readers Winchester has heard in a long time.

The pictures showed the effects of the long and earnest work bestowed on them by Mr. Taylor who used the greatest ingenuity in devising the scenery, selecting the costumes and attitudes and in doing the other things that have come to be expected of a past master of stage craft.

Of the many excellent musical selections of the programme the audience was especially appreciative of Pinsuti's "The Crusaders" and Johns' "Fa La, La."

HOUSEWIVES' EXHIBIT.

A Housewives' Exhibit will be held under the auspices of the New England Home Economics Association at the Elizabeth Peabody House, 357 Charles street, near Poplar street, Boston, on May 8, 9 and 10, from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

In the food exhibits there will be among other things three well balanced meals for one day; also portions of good, nutritive food equal in value to a glass of milk.

The Elizabeth Peabody House is itself well worth a visit, for it is most artistically decorated and furnished at a moderate cost.

The Exhibit is free to everyone who is interested in the home. The house is only a short walk from the North Station.

WINCHESTER, MASS.

Where Those Good Photographs Come From

OBSERVATIONS.

I do not believe Mr. Whitney's idea of leaving to the Board of Health what houses should and should not be compelled to enter the public sewers is a good one. We accept the report of the committee on by-laws after full discussion and a few minor changes and we should stand by it most certainly on this sewer provision, and take no chances on the personnel of a Board of Health.

If the people of Massachusetts desire to have more to say about their railroads now is the time to buy some of the stock, and unless this part of our blooming country is going to the Devil completely, stocks bought now will prove a good investment. The stockholders own the roads and the special commission recently made an exhaustive and detailed report showing that the assets largely exceeded the liabilities, and this commission was appointed under an act of the Legislature, and its report has stood now for three years without being even attacked.

The Boston and Maine can get money for the needed and loudly demanded improvements from only two sources—the New Haven or the Commonwealth, which shall it be? It is squarely up to the Legislature to act and act now. The New Haven can amply take care of itself, but the B. & M. stands very differently. It's high time to wake up and do something effective if the northern suburbs are to be properly served.

In January 1905 I introduced a bill that if passed would have effectually prevented any railroad from acquiring trolley lines excepting by special authority of the Legislature, but the Railroad Committee reported against it and the report was accepted, and in June of that year the New Haven acquired its first trolley line in Massachusetts which our Supreme Court declared illegal. I have repeatedly introduced bills for publicity in the Railroad Commission's office, and they have been regularly killed. In my opinion Governor Foss will not prorogue this legislature until it has passed suitable railroad legislation, and the people should wake up and make their demands known and not stand any longer for the cheap politics of their representatives. The Washburn and Dean bill should be passed now and the Western trolley bill defeated.

THIRD VICTORY.

The Winchester Highlands Athletic Club base ball team won its third consecutive victory at West Medford Saturday afternoon over the M. M. M. team by a score of 2 to 1, incidentally winning the first game of the Middlesex League season. This puts the club in first place in the standing.

Tyler, who pitched for the M. M. M.'s held the W. H. A. C. batters practically helpless, allowing only two scratch hits, one by Matthews in the first inning and the other by Murphy in the sixth. White, for the W. H. A. C., also pitched a great game, and displayed his mastery when there were men on bases. Matthews caught his usual good game. McElhinney made a great stop and throw from third base, Park played a great game at first, and there was some clever outfielding shown. For the M. M. M.'s Crosby at third, and Brintnall at short were the heling stars. Brintnall and Tyler did the heavy batting.

MIXED BOWLING TOURNAMENT

Team 10 passed team 13, with which it was tied, last week in the Calumet mixed tournament, by taking all three points in their match. Mrs. Blank rolled the best single and total for the ladies with 80 and 141. Mr. Breen with a single of 107 and a total of 198, was high for the gentlemen. On this evening team 11 stepped into a tie with team 8 by winning two points from it. Mrs. Hatch rolled the best score for the ladies with 93 and 169. Mr. Gerlach rolled 111 and 202 for the gentlemen's best score.

On last Friday evening team 1, which previously led the tournament, took another tumble by dropping three points to team 9 thereby going into a tie with it. Mrs. Flanders rolled the best single yet for the ladies, making a string of 113. Her total of 190 was also high for the ladies. Team 4 won all of its points from team 12 on this evening without very much hard work, the scores being low. Mrs. Brown was high for the ladies with 88 and 169. Mr. Clark's 175 was high for the gentlemen.

The constant changing of the position of teams makes the tournament one of the most interesting, yet, no one team appearing to have any decided advantage, and about ten of the fourteen teams are very closely bunched.

NAPOLEON SAID:-

"Every DELAY gives OPPORTUNITY for DISASTER"

Any disaster that MIGHT happen to YOU will be softened upon REFLECTION about the AMOUNT of insurance for which YOUR body is insured, preferably in the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE, of HARTFORD same being one of the STRONGEST and OLDEST of America's insurance companies.

To die UNINSURED is to entail pecuniary LOSS upon one's FAMILY or ESTATE, or BOTH. AS TIME SLIPS BY, THE COST RISES; if health DEPARTS, then LIFE insurance is IMPOSSIBLE.

With the MANY forms of INVESTMENT endowment insurance, there is no truth in the fallacious saying, "HAVE TO DIE TO WIN," as THOUSANDS may be paid you, IN CASH, while living, if you demand this form of insurance.

The only EVIDENCE requisite will be a policy (new forms) granted by the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, which, if you are fortunate to pass a favorable medical examination, may be issued. SEIZE AN OPPORTUNITY and CALL at the MINOT BLDG. 111 DEVONSHIRE ST., BOSTON, Fifth Floor, (Telephone, Main 3557 and 3558) asking for B. S. HENDERSON, Solicitor, who will accord you COURTEOUS RESPONSE, with NO IMPORTUNATE NESS.

NOTICE TO WATER TAKERS.

It is intended to thoroughly scour by "blowing off" the main water pipes throughout the town on Thursday and Friday, May 8th and 9th. This operation may roll the water in some localities, therefore this notice is given that water takers may arrange for dates other than the above for household work requiring clear water.

Per order of the Water and Sewer board.

THE MINUTE WATER HEATER

This is the greatest convenience for heating quickly a small quantity of water, milk, or other liquid that has ever been devised. Attach to any electric light socket. For a quick, comfortable shave, for heating baby's milk and for sick room uses it is ideal. Doctors, dentists and nurses will find it almost indispensable. Circulars and information upon request.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE.

The most mystifying and sensational aquatic novelty ever staged in vaudeville is announced for B. F. Keith's Theatre next week in "Neptune's Garden of Living Statues," a brilliant and beautiful water spectacle. This unique novelty serves to introduce a company of twenty dancers, divers, models, water nymphs, and pantomimists, headed by the Spanish mimes, Signor Caserta and Signorina Lilliant, in their weird and startling "La Danse Dementia." The scene of the remarkable spectacle is laid in a beautiful garden. In the centre of the garden is an enchanted pool of real water. In this beautiful setting is enacted the legend of Neptune's Garden. This wonderful water spectacle will be surrounded by a great bill of all star vaudeville. John and Mae Burke will present their novel comedy skit, "The Rag Time Soldier Man," the Three Hickey Brothers are dancing acrobats; Clara Inge is a dainty little singing comedienne; Graham and Dunt have an amusing comedy called "The Packing Day;" John Higgins is a champion jumper and leaper; the Edison Talking Motion Pictures will present a series of new subjects, and numerous other features will complete a splendid program.

THE LIQUOR QUESTION.

Mrs. Iotham Woods' Bible Class not only listened but acted as usual, on Mrs. Tilton's plan presented to them Sunday, April 20, of placarding Winchester with posters telling the health, waste and money-waste of Alcohol. The movement is state wide and emanates from the Boston Associated Churches. The committee in charge being Dr. Charles Putnam, Dr. John W. Elliott and Mrs. Tilton.

Mrs. Tilton said, "Publicity is the crux of the liquor situation and posters are the one way to get to the people what doctors, economists and social workers now know about alcohol."

Posters to Be.

We mean to tell the public in posters, that liquor in any but the smallest quantity is a poison, very little needed in the practice of medicine; that whereas, the Massachusetts General Hospital in 1899 spent 57 cents per patient, now spends around 13 cents per patient.

This means that alcohol has undergone a revolution in the medical mind. It is not as was formerly supposed, a stimulant but a depressant. The burning sensation does for a moment revive you but any heat would do the same and liquor lowers vitality. If you are cold in the end it makes it harder for you to get warm; if you are tired it puts your nerves to sleep but does not really mend the fatigue. Ex-President Eliot said, "Recent researches tend strongly to show that even the moderate drinking of alcohol is inexcusable."

Alcohol Lovers Resistance.

By lowering vitality alcohol opens the door to disease in general and to tuberculosis in particular. It is such a predisposing cause to tuberculosis that in 1905 the International Congress on that subject resolved to limit consumption and alcohol hand in hand.

Liquor and the Social Evil

Liquor is the pivot of commercialized vice. The great Swiss physician, Forci, said that men must not hope to make much headway against the social evil unless at the same time an uncompromising war was waged on alcohol. No one who has followed the vice surveys of Illinois can fail to see how little impression we can make on the diseases that are threatening the very structure of our health unless we put up an energetic resistance to their pivot, alcohol.

Bill of Costs.

Liquor is responsible for one-fifth to one-third of the insanity in our institutions. One insane person means a yearly loss to the state of around $400 (in productivity). Add to that $175.00 for keep. There are over 30,000 people insane through drink in this country; 30,000 times $575.00 is simply one bill of costs—cost of insanity due to liquor.

Liquor also causes, according to the committee of fifty, around one-fourth of the poverty that comes in organized charity, the poverty that is down and out. The Committee on Domestic Relations in Chicago reports causes of domestic troubles thus:

	per cent.
Liquor	42
Immorality	14
Disease	13
Ill temper	11
Wife's Parents	9
Husband's Parents	7
Mixed too young	4
Laziness	3
Miscellaneous	6

Liquor outweights, you see!

Nearly 45 per cent. of deserted children work back to intemperate parents or guardians.

One half of the crimes committed in Massachusetts in the year were due to drink, according to the 26th annual report of the Massachusetts Bureau of Labor. If drunkenness were included as a crime, 52 per cent. of crimes had direct or indirect connection with liquor.

The United Commissioner for 1911 reported that 25 per cent. of the men who went to prison that year had intemperate habits.

And a Commission appointed to investigate the increase of criminals, mental defectives, epileptics and degenerates, report—

Our investigations strongly emphasize the belief that the abuse of alcohol directly and indirectly does more to fill our prisons, insane hospitals, institutions for the feeble-minded and almshouses than all other causes combined.

We do not allow poisoned milk; we make a great time about pure food and all the time we do nothing about a poison that does all this—enumerated above—and also costs us besides and around $1,800,000,000. That was our drink bill last year.

Our posters are not for drunkards but to say to the thinking man—think this over!—this cost in health and in money.

Liquor and Labor.

Up to three years ago, we are told, labor in Massachusetts was allowed to be neutral about the liquor bills, but lately the bartenders—about 18,000 strong—are insisting that organized labor shall back the liquor interests. The building trades union recent this and under Mr. Ignatius McNulty are putting up a fight to keep labor a free man as far as the liquor interests go. One of the arguments, we are told by union men, sent by the liquor interests to labor, is that if you take away the revenue from the saloons up goes taxes, rents, etc. To meet this we have the following "sticker," not bigger than a stamp:

$1.00 in For every $1.00 out that the State received in 1912 from Liquor Licenses, it paid out over $2.00 in caring for the criminals, paupers and insane brought to our institutions through drink.

When you hear about revenue from liquor, think this over.

Poster Committee.

43 Hawkins street, Boston. The class purchased 100 of these stickers and will use them on the back of their envelopes. They also arranged that the Progress Club should hear Mrs. Tilton and placard the town with her posters.

Look out for Liquor Education through posters and stickers any day now in Winchester.

DEPARTMENT.

Conducted by Winchester League.

"California Reform defeated in 1911 succeeds with backing of new voters," so says The Woman's Journal, adding that Mrs. Alice L. Park writes: "The passage and signing by Gov. Johnson of the 'Red Light and Intemperance' bill, in 1913, is proof of what woman's influence will do when it has votes behind it. The same bill failed in 1911. Women had influence then but it was the kind that suffers eclipse when politicians have no women constituents. Tremendous pressure was brought against the bill. The owners of property in the San Francisco red light district, in receipt of 100 per cent of regular profits and even higher rates, fought for their business interests."

A few more quotations from the private correspondence in California, of which we spoke last week, will show what the exercise of the franchise really means to women—at least some women. Writing on Easter Sunday she says:

"Two elections are in sight early in April. We must vote on city bonds—better fire service and children's playgrounds—all much needed, for Berkeley is growing rapidly and requires a new adjustment to her needs. Then there is a city election of its officers, and there are many candidates whose re-elective claims must be considered—a choice of mediocrities, it seems to me. I fail to see why a lumber man, coal dealer or real estate man, even if successful financially speaking, should feel that they are thereby fitted for Mayor, member of School Committee, etc. I think the German method, of having schools for the instruction of public officials, then civil service examinations, so we could have a choice of really competent men and women for candidates for our municipal officers, and then re-elect them as long as they prove themselves worthy—would help at least to solve the problem of city government."

So women talk over our fences, whether we believe in pensions for mothers and teachers; whether Judge Welser (who has been notorious for his leniency in dealing with assaulters of girls and women) should be recalled, etc., while we swap seeds and lay out our garden walks. You see women retain all their old interest in matters domestic, only extending and broadening their interests to include the city, the state and the nation. I find their conversation all the more interesting for this wider and more objective outlook. Then she went on to discuss the Panama Canal Bill and the nation's disgrace in the matter, understanding it perfectly. How many of our women could do this, or men for that matter? For we found a lamentable ignorance in general, in circulating a petition, recently, concerning this said matter, among men as well as women. Speaking of their "Berkeley Center" she adds:

"We have meetings every two weeks and Senators and Assemblymen of the State have been addressing us lately on various bills and measures before the Legislature now in Sacramento." Where do we find any such interest among our legislators in us, unfranchised women, in the East? Rather, when petitioned, do they say: "We cannot give you our time, as you have no votes." We append the programs of two meetings of this "Berkeley Center": "March 13, at 2:30 p. m. Regular business meeting."

3 p. m. Girls' Training School and bill for disbanding the National Guard of California. Presentation of the proposed bond is for the city of Berkeley by members of the Center. Discuss in from the floor."

March 27, 3 p. m. The County Charter plan proposed by the Tax Association of Alameda County. Speaker Thomas B. Reed.

Reverend our opponents may persist in saying that such activities will not help the world along, they surely must help that such enlargement of women's views and sympathies cannot fail to react favorably on their character and growth. Isn't even that worth while?

Mary E. Allen, Chairman Press Committee.

AN IMPORTANT

HEALTH CONGRESS.

America will soon have an unusual opportunity to find out just what the world wide health movement of the twentieth century really amounts to in the field where its influence is most felt—in the schools. The International Congress on School Hygiene, to be held at Buffalo, N. Y., August 25-30, will be an international summing up of recent achievements in the hygiene of the school.

The congress is international and national. Practically every foreign country and every State in the United States will be represented by delegates. So far all the States but Oklahoma, Arizona, Missouri, Alabama, Maine, Florida, and Kansas, have been heard from favorably. It is estimated that at least 8,000 delegates will be in attendance, 3,000 of them from abroad.

Many of the most prominent scientists and educators in this and foreign countries have promised to present papers and lead discussions at the meeting. A preliminary program of the congress has been issued, copies of which may be procured from the United States Bureau of Education at Washington, from Dr. Thomas A. Storey, secretary-general of the congress, City College, New York City.

Mr. Schuyler F. Herron, Superintendent of the Winchester public schools, has been appointed one of the delegates to this congress from this state by Governor Foss and also by David Snedden, Commissioner of Education of Massachusetts.

TREES AN ASSET.

One of the faults of the real estate development of the newer portions of towns is the failure to set out trees. No one is doing voluntarily what was done in the New England towns so to 100 years ago, and which has prepared for this generation the magnificent rows of elms that are the delight and wonder of visitors from the West. The tree wardens usually plant some trees every year.

ASSESSORS' NOTICE

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 41, of Part I of Chapter 490 of the Acts of 1909, all persons, firms and corporations, domestic or foreign, subject to taxation in the Town of Winchester are hereby notified and required to bring in to the Assessors of said Town of Winchester, on or before the

in case of residents, true lists of all their polls and personal estates not exempt by law from taxation, of which they were possessed on the first day of April in the current year, and in case of non-residents and foreign corporations, true lists of all their personal estates, in said Town of Winchester, not exempt from taxation which lists must be verified by oath as required by Section 43 of said Part I.

Under the provisions of Section 42 of said Part I, as amended by Chapter 545, Acts of 1909, the above-mentioned lists must be in form prescribed by the Tax Commissioner of the Commonwealth. These blank forms may be had at the Assessor's office, or will be mailed to any address upon application.

Section 45 of Part I of Chapter 490, Acts of 1909, A mortgage or mortgage of real estate may bring into the Assessors of the city or town in which it is, within the time prescribed by the notice under section forty-one, a statement under oath of the amount secured thereon, or on each separate parcel thereof, with the name and residence of every holder of an interest therein as mortgagor or mortgagee. If such property is situated in two or more places, or if a recorded mortgage includes two or more estates or parts of an estate as security for one sum, such statement shall include an estimate of the interest of the mortgagee in each estate or part of an estate. The Assessors shall, from such statement or otherwise, ascertain the proportionate interests of the mortgagor or mortgagee, respectively, in said estate, and shall assess the same accordingly. If, in any year, such statement is not brought in, the tax for that year on such real estate shall not be increased merely for the reason that the interest of the mortgagee therein has not been assessed to him.

In accordance with Section 41 aforesaid, all persons and corporations are hereby required to bring into the Assessor, on or before the 20th day of May next, true lists of all real and personal estate held by such persons and corporations, respectively, for literary, temperance, benevolent, charitable, or scientific purposes on the first day of April, in the current year, together with statements of the amounts of all receipts and expenditures for said purposes during the year next preceding, said first day of April; such lists and statements to be in accordance with blanks furnished by the Tax Commissioner.

but the funds at their disposal are more or less limited. In old times young men used to set out trees as a way to observe a holiday. That sounds rather severe nowadays. But at least one would think that real estate owners would stop and think how much their holdings would be improved by nice little rows of trees. A line of good houses minus trees always looks bare and more or less ugly, for even possible defects stand out in bold emphasis. A street with inferior houses but with trees has some element of charm, and its defects are hidden and ignored.

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

A great treat is in store for the members of the W. C. T. U. and their friends. Mrs. Katherine Lent Stevenson, State President, is to be the speaker at the next meeting, which is the thirty-seventh anniversary of the local union. The meeting will be at Mrs. Charles H. Forsyth's, 33 Oxford street, on Friday, May 9, at 3:00 p. m. It is a great privilege to listen to a leader of Mrs. Stevenson's well known ability and reputation as a speaker. Let us show our appreciation of this privilege and our interest in the state-wide work by being present in large numbers to welcome our State President.

The Opera to be given in the Boston Opera House on the evening of May 8th, in aid of the Frances Willard Settlement will be well worth hearing. Members and friends of the W. C. T. U. are urged to procure tickets at once from Mrs. Iotham Woods, 159 Mystic Valley Parkway.

Maine is getting to be a dry region in these days. Gov. Haines is upholding the prohibitory laws with all his might. The sheriffs of five counties have been tried and convicted by the Legislature of failure to enforce the laws against liquor selling. The sheriff of Cumberland County, the largest county in the State, the county in which Portland is situated, is one of those ordered removed from office.

It is cheering to read in the daily papers of the vigorous enforcement of law at the present time, of the closing of saloons in the principal cities, and of the shipping back to wholesale dealers of liquors ordered at April 19, quoting from the Bangor Commercial tells how there were on the wharf one day last week awaiting shipment on the Boston steamer "about seventy-five cases of beer, fifty barrels of draught beer, twenty kegs of whiskey, and many cases of heavy liquors and wines." Let the good work go on.

Temperance workers are hoping great things from the new publicity campaign just started, the object of which is to educate the public by means of posters setting forth in large type the facts about the cost of drunkenness and the crime and disease which it causes. Great good has been accomplished by the use of such posters in France. It is hoped that they may prove equally efficient here.

WINCHESTER COUNTRY CLUB.

Zuehlke, 2 down; P. W. Dunbar, 1 down; A. H. Richardson, 3 down; Robert Metcalf, 2 down; S. L. Reed, 6 down; H. W. Spurr, Jr., 5 down; A. C. Fernald, 2 down; P. A. Hendricks, 3 down.

AUTOMATIC STOPPING

DEVICES.

Since the announcement by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company of its intention to try out two of the many automatic stopping devices submitted in the competition for the $10,000 prize offered by President Mellon, there have been many inquiries for the names of the inventors of the two devices that will be given a trial. There has also been considerable interest manifested in the mechanical principles involved in these devices. The company therefore decided to furnish additional information regarding the devices to be tested and is moved also to do this by a desire to prevent unscrupulous inventors from selling stock in their companies under false pretences.

The two devices to be tried out do not comply with all the requirements called for by the Company's engineers, but both possess considerable merit. They are similar in so far that they are both intermittent contact devices, and the most promising feature of each is that the apparatus is tested each time the train passes over it.

The speed control feature of one of these devices is particularly promising, as it is possible to vary the speed control according to physical conditions and speed desired, so that at one point if the engine should exceed a speed of twenty-five miles an hour while passing a stop or slow down signal, the train would be stopped; while at another point, if he should exceed a speed of fifteen miles an hour under the same conditions, the train would likewise be stopped. It is possible to install this stopping device so that a distant warning may be given by audible and visual signals without stopping the train, and if these signals are not heeded by the engineer, the brakes will be applied in sufficient time to stop the train before reaching the point of danger.

The other device is similar in a great many respects to a number that were submitted in the contest, but it contains certain additional features that the others lack. The winning feature is that there is no electrical apparatus on the locomotive and therefore the device may be inspected by engineers who are familiar with air brake apparatus and valves. The ground apparatus is so similar to existing signal systems that a competent signalman would find no difficulty in maintaining it. Should any moving part, either on the ground or on the locomotive, become damaged or broken it would give a stop indication to the train.

Both systems can be installed so that they will not interfere with the third rail or overhead wires on railroads that are operated by either method. They will not interfere with the present equipment or existing physical conditions of the right of way. Snow, ice and freezing weather will have no effect on them. The brake application will be so gradual that there will be no tendency to injure passengers or damage equipment in case brakes should be applied. They may both be installed regardless of whether they be connected with a signal system or not. This would apply in case a railroad desired a train to slow down at certain places, such as sharp turns or points where slow speed is required. They may also be installed and connected with a known signal system and will compel the engineer to slow down to the proper speed where it is desired to pass a train over a crossover in the direction of traffic from one running track to another.

Which of these are a great many other devices that are similar in their results, the two selected appear to have the greatest merit. The fact that the New Haven road is about to experiment with these devices, which are being handled by the Union Switch and Signal Company of Swissvale, Penn., and the International Signal Company of New York City, is not intended to convey the impression that either one of them will be the final choice of the Company, as it may be found advisable to test a number of other devices that may seem to contain sufficient merit to warrant the experiment. The contest is open until July 1, and there may be submitted before that time devices of much more merit than those already presented.

BEG FOR POMEROY.

A letter to the "Boston Woman's Club" asking club women to join the Twentieth Century Club of Cincinnati in an attempt to free Jesse Pomeroy, 55, life inmate in the Massachusetts state prison, was sent today by Mrs. Dona Easton, president of the Twentieth Century Club of Cincinnati. She writes that he was a boy of 14 when he was given a life sentence for murdering two little girls. "We feel that Pomeroy is being treated with 15th century methods in the 21st century," said Mrs. Easton. "It is an injustice to keep a man under lock and key all his life for crimes committed during the period of adolescence. We do not feel that he should be liberated immediately, but that his abode should be a more comfortable place than a 15th century cell."

Editor Hoag Confesses

"For many years, as Editor and Proprietor of the Pine Plains, N. Y., Herald, I have advertised Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. While I enjoyed not only the business relationship but the personal friendship of Dr. Kennedy, I have never, until now, paid him a long standing obligation. For many years, as my friends so well know, I suffered excruciating pains from rheumatism. Many were the nights when I was unable to sleep. Without much faith, I admit, I tried as a sort of last resort, a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, just as thousands of others had done before, and like them I found permanent relief. Favorite Remedy has stood the test of time and I believe it is the best medicine in existence for effectually expelling the cause of rheumatism—uric acid. My regret is that I have neglected to make this frank confession long ago. It makes my kidneys do their work properly, tones up the liver and makes one feel that life is worth living. I publicly and earnestly advise all my friends who are suffering from troubles that arise from unhealthy kidneys and liver, to get a bottle of Favorite Remedy at once. There is no use in putting it off as I did. S. T. HOAG, Editor." Write to Dr. David Kennedy Co., Rondout, N. Y., for free sample bottle and free medical book containing valuable information. Large bottles sold by 40,000 druggists.

"My work is hard and I know it. My wagon is on my payroll and must earn its salary. That's why I bought a Studebaker. I can't afford to buy a cheaper one."

"Get in touch with a Studebaker dealer, he's a good man to know."

HOME FOR AGED PEOPLE.

Meeting Votes to Enlarge the Building for More Inmates.

Winchester is to have a remodelled and larger home for its aged people. This was decided upon at the annual meeting held in the Town Hall building Monday evening. There are now more applicants than the Home can accommodate, and if the mission of caring for deserving old people is to be brought to its fullest realization, then enlargement was absolutely necessary. The directors have had this in mind for considerable time and have given the question considerable thought. An architect has come over the situation with the directors and he has evolved a plan that will give about a dozen additional rooms besides making many needed changes that will conduce to the comfort of the inmates. The cost will be between $7,000 and $8,000, and of this amount several public spirited citizens have already pledged $2,750. The directors will endeavor not to disturb the permanent fund of the institution, the interest of which is used in assisting to meet current expenses of the Home. It is proposed to solicit contributions to meet the entire cost of the improvement, and the indications are that the money will be quickly forthcoming. Thus the anticipated changes will not prove a burden to the Home.

Work on remodeling the building will be commenced in the early summer, and by next fall everything will be in running order, and the waiting applicants admitted to the Home. The Home has had a prosperous year and the inmates have been carefully looked after. Aside from this but little can be said, as the routine and management is about the same from year to year—the Home performing its mission in a splendid manner.

The President, Mr. Preston Pond, presided at the meeting Monday evening and the reports of the secretary, Mr. C. F. Dutch, and of the treasurer, Mr. H. C. Sanborn, given below, showed an encouraging year. An effort will be made this year to increase the membership.

The following officers were elected:

President—Preston Pond.
Vice Presidents—Marshall W. Jones, Mrs. E. Florence Kelley, Frederick S. Snyder.
Treasurer—Harry C. Sanborn.
Auditor—George H. Carter.
Secretary—Charles F. Dutch.
Directors—the above officers and for 2 years, Mrs. Lenore P. Cummings, Mrs. Edith E. Wood, Miss Alice F. Symmes, Mrs. Grace I. Thompson; for 1 year Mrs. Susan E. Ranlet, Mr. Charles N. Harris.

Directors' Report May 5, 1913.

To the members of the Home for Aged People in Winchester:

During the past corporate year three inmates have died, namely, Mrs. Fullam, June 27, 1912, after a residence in the Home ever since its organization of 18 years and 2 months; Mrs. Cragin, January 27, 1913, after a residence of 2 years and 8 months; and Mrs. Cochran, March 20, 1913, after a residence of about 5 years. During the year the following have been admitted as inmates: Mrs. Mary Caroline Butler, July, 1912; Mrs. Janet Lytton, April, 1913; and Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Henningway, May, 1913.

During the year, the directors have studied the problem of increasing the capacity of the Home and have had plans drawn for both slight and extensive additions. Because of lack of demand, no other action was taken until recently. Since the first of April, however, applications have been received from three more persons than the present house can accommodate. Believing that there is likely to be demand for even further accommodations and that any alterations should be made with a view to the probable demand for the next ten or fifteen years, and finding that accommodations for nine additional inmates will cost only slightly more than additional accommodations for three or four, your directors recommend that we proceed on the larger scale. Rough estimates of the cost of the additions and of suitable repairs and alterations in the present structure range from $7,000 to $8,000. This may at first seem out of proportion to the value of the present building which, with the land, is carried on our books at $1500. On further consideration, however, it will be found first of all that the location of the present building is almost ideal, that the building as enlarged will be adequate and comfortable, and that it will use the present structure to such advantage that the final result could not be reproduced anew for anything like the same cost. We do not believe that we should, at this time, undertake the capital investment nor the fixed running charges of an entirely new building such as you would demand.

We recommend that the money for this enlargement and the repairs be obtained not by the depletion of our permanent funds but, so far as possible, by special subscriptions. But that the burden may not fall entirely on the friends of the next year, we recommend that a part of the funds be raised by a loan secured by a mortgage of the real estate. To accomplish this, the directors need a vote of authority from the members of the corporation.

We announce with great pleasure the gift to the permanent funds of the Home of $10,000 under the will of the late Mrs. Martha C. M. Dwinell, three-fourths of which amount has already been transmitted by her administrators to our treasury. The income from this generous gift will be appreciated in meeting the increased fixed charges of the larger Home.

For the Directors,
Charles F. Dutch, Secretary.

CHILDREN'S MAY PARTY.

Annual Event Attended by Fine Weather and Greatly Enjoyed.

The annual children's May Party, given by the Ladies' Friendly Society of the Unitarian Church was held last Saturday in the Town Hall. The affair was a great success. The day was perfect for the party, being one of the first really pleasant days of this year, and the children and their parents were out in large numbers.

The summer dresses of their varied colors as worn by the host of children made a picture in the hall not soon forgotten, and every childish heart was aglow with the spirit of spring and the sunshine of the day.

It was a Dutch May Party, and the afternoon opened with the entrance of sixteen little girls in Dutch costume, wearing caps, and carrying pots of tulips. After dancing about the hall they formed two rows, placing the pots of tulips on the floor, and down the aisle thus formed the May Queen and her two ladies in waiting, passed to the throne.

Miss Ruth Whittington was the little May Queen, and she was attended by Miss Dorothy Ordway and Miss Rosamond Lelavoor. The Queen was crowned with a wreath of batchelor buttons and buttercups, and the children grouped about her throne while the May pole dance took place. This was danced by older children, and was well executed. The girls were dressed in Dutch costumes of lavender and blue, with caps of yellow and green.

The little attendants on the Queen included Misses Priscilla Maynard, Barbara Goddard, Olive French, Lucy Thomas, Charlotte Healey, Marjorie Teague, Elizabeth Chamberlain, Marguerite Merrill, Mary Whittington, Carol Hall, Mary Joslin, Helen Colamore, Elizabeth Barton, Barbara Waters, Marjorie Ordway.

The May Pole dancers included Misses Ann Zuelin, Thelma Frott, Pauline Folger, Georgianna Waters, Esther Schubarth, Alice Chamberlain, Esther Lombard, Georgianna Brown, Emma Brown, Frances Hill, Muriel Thomas, Dorothy Fessenden, Leslie Brown, Dorothy Soutter, Catherine Pike, Annette Mason.

General dancing by the children followed the May Pole dance, being enjoyed until six. The dancing was in charge of Miss Mary Kellogg, who also arranged the special dances.

The committee in charge of the party was composed of Mrs. Oren C. Sanborn, Mrs. George H. Root, Mrs. Joel H. Metcalf, Miss Alice Mason and Mrs. Clarence Miller.

The Edison Electric Illuminating Company.

returned at the request of the Board the order passed April 28th, under which that company was granted permission to construct and maintain underground conduits and manholes in Cambridge street from Pond street to the Arlington line and in Pond street from Cambridge street to the Woburn line, the same having been granted under a misapprehension and stated that the clause calling for the removal of the existing high tension wires along said location was improper because if carried out literally it would mean the removal of every wire they had in the street, all their wires being high tension, and suggested that the clause be worded something as follows, namely:

"On and after January 1, 1914, this line will not be used for high voltage transmission purposes." The order granted April 28th, was rescinded and it was Ordered: Notice having been given and a public hearing held as provided by law, that permission be and hereby is granted The Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston, to construct and maintain underground conduits and manholes, with the necessary wires and cables therein, under the surface of the following streets, as requested in its petition dated March 28, 1913, viz:

Cambridge street between Pond street and the Arlington-Winchester line.

The foregoing permission is subject to the prompt removal of the wires now used for distributing purposes along said location and to the condition that on and after January 1, 1914, no overhead wires along this location shall be used for high voltage transmission purposes.

In the matter of petition received from James Johnson, April 21st for permission to occupy the sidewalk abutting the Rice Block on Main street with a staging which he requires to use in making repairs to the gutters and which permission was granted subject to the filing by Mr. Johnson of a proper bond for $1000, with sureties satisfactory to the Board, an agreement of indemnity was received

WINCHESTER ORCHESTRAL ASSOCIATION.

Review of the Work for Season Just Closed.

The Winchester Orchestral Association completed its fourth season of concerts last month, and because of the success of these concerts and the interest they have created, it seems worth while to review the work and purpose of the Association.

As to their work, it has been hard and nothing but personal enthusiasm and love of music would have attempted it, or carried it through successful. The players in the orchestra are unpaid, and except for the conductor, concertmaster, and an occasional extra player when needed, the members of the orchestra give their skill, their hard work at rehearsals and concerts, and their time and trouble in travelling back and forth;—entirely without pay. The players, of course, do not all come from Winchester, but from Boston and many of the adjacent towns. What is more important, as well as noteworthy, is that the orchestra is instrumentally a complete one, comprising players of all the instruments, strings, wood-wind and brass, that are demanded in the large orchestras of our times. The orchestra has a membership of sixty players, the majority of them being trained musicians and teachers of music. As to the work done by the orchestra since its organization, and what it has offered to the public, the following list of composers whose music they have played will give a fair idea. The list follows:—

Beethoven, Mozart, Mendelssohn, Johann Strauss, Ed. German, Remeecke, Gounod, Wagner, Luigini, Offenbach, Nicolai, Haydn, Schubert, Deslibes, Rossini, Phippen, Gluck, Moszkowski, Erkel, Elgar, Sterndale, Bennett, Kriens, Goldmark, Weber, Maillart and others. Among the notable soloists who have appeared with the orchestra are Mr. Ernst Perabo, Mr. Joshua Pluopen, Mr. Fred. Mahu, Mrs. Sundelius, Mrs. Calvert, Mrs. Hilton, Mr. Cartwright, Mr. Podnos and Mrs. Littlefield. Also quite a large part of the music the orchestra has played, has been on the programmes of the Boston Symphony Orchestra during the past two seasons, which is a measure of both its ambition and its technical skill. But the question will be asked:—in fact, often has been asked: "How well do they play?" It is a fair question, and fortunately can be easily answered. A Boston musician, after hearing one of their concerts, said: "Why I thought you had just a little orchestra playing for the fun of it, but you've got a big orchestra and a mighty good one. They really play well." Another compared it to the well known Boston Festival Orchestra, and thought it practically as good in technique, but rather less steady and confident in "attack." These opinions from competent outsiders are unbiased, and should give a just measure of the orchestra's musical standing, and also of its hard, honest work.

As to the purpose of the Orchestral Association, it might be simply stated by saying that they loved music; saw the good and need of it, and wanted others to enjoy it with them. They have not worked for show, nor for personal fame; not even for money; but simply for the music's sake. To have music, and to give it to others, was their sole aim.

Emerson said:—"What is a man but nature's finer success in self-explication. . . . and what is his speech, his love of painting, love of nature, but a still finer success?—all the weary miles and tons of space and bulk left out, and the spirit or moral of it contracted into a musical word, or the most cunning stroke of the pencil?" That is what music is; and its reason for being. Music is, like speech the striving towards that "finer success," the expression of man's heart and soul. The Swiss herdsman in his high, lonely pasture, singing to the snow-peaks and the sky, or Beethoven rushing to his piano and pouring out his thought and emotion through the keys, knew equally well what music was and what he wanted it to do for him. Each wanted it to lift him above the cramping trammels of the finite, and to let his life rise with the subtle harmony or simple song to the highest heaven he knew of hope, and strength and joy. For all of us music can do this, and that is why we love it. That is why it educates us, stimulates and renews us, and does us good. The sailor's chanty at the capstan; the military music played as the troops go into action; the hymn sung at the grave's side; the passionate strength and mighty spirit of a great symphony; the lonely herlman's song; are as natural to the universal human need of self expression as the matin song of the bird,—and as necessary. "All over Europe," says a traveler, "the air is full of music. Not only in the concert halls of the great cities, but floating over the dim, moonlit canals of Venice; dropping down to one from the far green height of a glacier-buttressed Alp in the soft, ethereal tones of the alpenhorn; gushing out in a burst of throbbing guitar chords and passionate voices from the lit doorway of a Spanish

June 7, Saturday, The June Breakfast by the Visiting Nurse Association in the Town Hall, 6 to 9 a. m.

HER 83d BIRTHDAY.

Today Mrs. Charles D. Folsom is quietly observing her 83rd birthday at her home on Main street. But for an accident which she sustained to her hip several years ago, by falling from an electric car, her bodily health is considered fairly good. The many friends wish for this estimable woman many more birthdays and the continued enjoyment of life.

Mrs. Folsom was born in 1830 on Friend street, Boston, when that street was very different from what it is now, and was part of the fine residential section of the city. In her youth she attended the Hancock School and later the Charlestown Female Seminary, a noted academy of its day.

The larger part of Mrs. Folsom's life was spent in Cambridge where her father, Hiram Welch, was prominent in its business and political life and held many positions of honor and trust. On her mother's side she comes of Revolutionary stock, being a descendant of Solomon Pierce, who figured largely in the war of Independence.

Mrs. Folsom has two sons, Hiram W. of Winchester, Charles E. of California, and a daughter, Mrs. M. E. Denley of Winchester.

During her residence in Cambridge Mrs. Folsom was secretary of the Ladies' Samaritan Society, an association very similar in its beneficent objects to the Visiting Nurses' Association of today. She filled the position for 25 years, and on her resignation she was presented with a silver service as a mark of the appreciation in which her work for the society was held. During the civil war she was active in the work of the soldiers' relief corps.

She is a member of the Congregational Church, and has always been active in church work.

inn or Tuscan farm house. In little villages and country villas; in homes, as in streets, cafes, and churches; on the lakes and rivers; in the tiny inn set high on desolate mountain pass; everywhere there was music. But when I came home, except for the opera and large concerts of the great cities, there was no music, and the air was only full of noise." It is quite true. We Anglo-Saxons are too self-conscious and reticent for simple self-expression. But in music, whether we can play, or sing, or only listen, we can find the means of satisfying that natural human need of life-expression,—of "the sweet and smart of personal relations, of beating hearts, and meeting eyes, of poverty, and necessity, and hope and fear." For music is the voice of human joy, and sorrow, and aspiration, and speaks a universal language to the hearts of all.

Feeling thus, that music was a real need of the community, the Orchestral Association has striven to give good music, adequately presented and well played,—and it has succeeded. Nor has it stopped there, for it has given us much music that was also great. These concerts have given us pleasure, and to rich and poor alike, but they have also made us think and feel more keenly. And they were low-priced, nearby, and easy to go to. Of all these benefits, and the zeal, ability, and hard work that produced them, we think the residents of Winchester are appreciative. If not they ought to be.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

Sometime ago The Spectator reprinted in its entirety the poem, "The Burial at Sea," and a short time later received communication from a Winchester gentleman who once lost a relative by death at sea and whose final resting place was the bottom of the ocean. "A long campaign to compel steamship companies to make provision for preservation of the remains of those who die during a voyage has succeeded so far as some of the larger boats are concerned," writes the gentleman. "Continued pressure will accomplish general adoption. It is demanded by human considerations." The gruesomeness of the subject, speaking at least for a considerable proportion of people, leads a large number of intending passengers to ignore considerations bearing upon the disposition of bodies in the event of death during the voyage. Much the same considerations are manifest in the conduct of people here in Winchester and elsewhere who defer from one cause or another the making of their wills, as if to quote the familiar statement, "The mere making of a will shortens one's life." But if the companies which stand out against the innovations whereby burial at sea may not be the inevitable disposition of mortal remains, in case relatives or friends desire to have the body conveyed to port, for interment, were to be discriminated against by any considerable number of tourists, then the managements of such companies might see things in a new light. The financial nerve would be affected, and this nerve is quite sensitive, even when through concert of action and out-and-out trust is maintained. There used to be the factor of superstition on the part of seamen as the ground of objection to the keeping of a dead person on ship board. In these days of floating hotels, with voyages from hemisphere to hemisphere being made almost with the regularity of railway trips across a country, this particular objection has no longer the slightest standing.

A member of an old family has a copy of a notorious book, in which is published all the bad things about our forefathers that the writer could dig out of history. The Winchester man says that if he could have his way, Sheriff Fairbank would burn the book and then put the author in the pillory, as was commonly done with writers of objectionable books in colonial days. Live youngsters would have the privilege of casting stale eggs and fruit at the man who casts slurs upon dead heroes. What is the use of bringing up all the unpleasant things, either in history or in the present? Whom does it profit? That individual is happy who has the faculty of overlooking petty unpleasant things, and of keeping his mind on the larger and the pleasanter things in life.

A three year old miss of The Spectator's acquaintance, suddenly burst out crying at the dinner table. Her mother asked her what was the matter. "Oh," whined the little one, "my teeth tread on my tongue."

A thinking gentleman, finding the English language as it stands insufficient for his hortatory purpose, suggests to The Spectator the creation of a new pronoun. This pronoun, as he pictures it, is to be of neutral (not neuter) gender, and so will be applicable to either sex or to both. At present there is no such pronoun in our ancient Anglican language. When we desire to speak of people in the main, including both sexes or without regard to sex, we must say, "his or her," a clumsy and preposterous device.

As a substitute for the above-mentioned gentleman argues for "thou," the use of which may be seen in the following sentence: "The American who loves thou country is willing to sacrifice thou life for it." The present inept usage requires: "The American who loves his or her country is willing to sacrifice his or her life for it." Not so many years ago the need for the new pronoun was not pressing. The word "American" for example, then meant a male citizen and a male citizen only. An American woman was called an American woman. There were then no female wrestlers or male milliners. But today the old barriers of sex grow shadowy and faint. Women are taking the citadel of the decadent sterner sex by storm. Already the female barber, baseball player, anarchist, theologian and horse trainer are commonplace. And men grow feminine as the women grow masculine. The women's clubs demand that schoolboys be taught plain cooking, patronize manicures, go to matinees. Thus "thou" seems to meet a growing want. Our grandfathers got along without it, but our grandsons, if they would avoid tedious circumlocutions and constant explanations, must have something of the sort. Perhaps it might be well, while the subject is under discussion, to attempt the creation of an entirely new gender, for the purpose of facilitating reference to the growing caste of manly women and womanly men.

It was The Spectator's good fortune recently to hear an eloquent sermon upon "Happiness." And The Spectator was led to meditate that it takes some time before we are ready to believe it, but it is true enough that if we grow and develop at all as the years go speeding by, the defeats and the hard, hard tests must take a hand as well as the pleasanter triumphs. And we must look at life in its uglier angles as well as its softer curves. For it we do not, and if we miss the harder lessons that are given to some, or if we fail to make the best of those that come, somehow we seem to be narrowed down in thought, in sympathy and in understanding. And when it comes to a question of happiness, we must learn to count it relative. How many Winchesterites are happy? Well, doubtless you have your troubles, your heartaches and your failures, and perhaps by the time they are all sifted out there is not so very much left, that is, not much that is reckoned as making for happiness. Because work grows wearisome, worries multiply and the pleasures that come may not seem to compensate for the hardships along the way. But if you are a good philosopher you say to yourself: When the question comes pounding home that if there are some things that are not at all as you would like them to be, there are many, many others that you would not change if you could and that the way to measure happiness is to reckon with the things that are right, and bravely to close your eyes to the unwelcome things that are wrong. And then you can proudly say that you are happy.

CALUMET INSTALLATION.

The regular meeting and installation of new officers was held at the Calumet Club on Saturday evening with a big attendance. The retiring president, Mr. George B. Davis, who has served the club for the past two years, was given a rousing vote of thanks, as were the retiring treasurer, Mr. Willard T. Carleton, and the secretary, Mr. Edgar M. Young.

Mr. Charles S. Tenney, the newly elected president, has most ably and successfully served as chief executive of the club on two previous years, and he was given a rousing reception as he was escorted to the chair.

The officers installed were: President—Charles S. Tenney; Vice-President—Dr. Irving T. Cutter; Secretary—Edgar M. Young; Treasurer—George W. Ansin; Director for three years—Edwin C. Starr, Harry W. Campbell, George H. Eaton.

The treasurer's report was read and accepted, and action was taken on increasing the dues to cents a quarter of two dollars a year. After some discussion this was done.

Following the meeting the members enjoyed a spread of strawberries and cream and ice cream.

DELAY ON STEAM ROAD SATURDAY.

The breaking of a journal on the forward trucks of a heavy 45 car freight train from Concord between Wedgemere and West Medford last Saturday afternoon shortly after four, tied up the inward track until late in the evening. The accident occurred about 500 feet north of the Grove street bridge. The truck was derailed and bumped over the sleepers for 600 feet before the train was stopped. All outward and inward traffic was run over the outward track between Winchester and West Medford, delaying the trains considerably. The shifting at Winchester from one track to the other kept the crossing occupied almost continuously between five and six, putting the electric cars off time and at times causing much congestion in the square, which became crowded with teams, autos, cars and pedestrians.

LATE TRAINS TO BE CONTINUED.

Trains on the New York, New Haven & Hartford, the Boston & Maine and Boston & Albany railroads, which have been operating on a late night schedule for an experimental period of three months, will continue such schedule until the last monthly reports of the roads have been filed with the commission and several public hearings have been held.

The results of the reports of the railroads and the hearings will determine whether or not the railroad commissioners will issue an order to the roads that they maintain this late night service. The three-months' experimental period terminated last Saturday.

Newsy Paragraphs.

Mrs. Allan Woods of Winchester is spending several weeks among her relatives in Baltimore and the adjoining Green Spring Valley, and is being extensively entertained. On Tuesday afternoon of last week, a card party was given in honor of Mrs. Wood by her sister-in-law, Mrs. H. Clay Miller at her residence on Cathedral street, Baltimore. A number of additional guests being asked in after the games for 5 o'clock tea.

Complaint against the mail service and demands for better facilities at Woburn were voiced at Washington in a great petition received by Representative Rogers from the women of that place. The petition was said to have been signed by very woman in the city, says a despatch, and from the list of names Rogers was inclined to believe it. He will take up the subject with Postmaster General Burleson.

E. A. Bigelow of this town, treasurer of the E. Howard Clock Company, arises in defence of the timekeeping qualities of the clocks that adorn Boston's public places. He declares the clock on the South Station is purposely kept two minutes fast, a bit of information which may hereafter save some hot sprouts for trains. Commenting on the clock doing duty at that point, he tells me that it has been found necessary to adjust it but four times during the past year, the greatest adjustment necessary being 30 seconds, and the smallest 12 seconds. He says the clock on the Park Street Church is guaranteed to run within a variation of 30 seconds a month, and the clocks on the Mutual Life building and the South Station within 10 seconds a month. The Mutual Life clock, he says, has not varied more than 15 seconds since a year.—Post.

Newsy Paragraphs.

An exhibition of paintings, mainly landscapes, by well known artists, has been opened at the gallery of Thulin Murphy Company, Inc., in 20 Copley Hall, and will remain open for public inspection during the remainder of this month. Hermann Dudley Murphy, Ettore Caser and Gino L. Perera are among the well-known artists who have contributed to the collection, which numbers 25 paintings. Several of the views are marines by Caser, "Old Ship" and "Venice" being especially noteworthy. Mr. Murphy, among other views, shows one entitled "Mt. Washington," a very striking landscape.

The will of James M. Bugbee who died February 8, 1913, has been allowed by Judge George F. Lawton of the Probate Court. Mrs. Marion C. Bugbee, widow of the deceased has been appointed as executrix and has given a bond of $10,000. The estate is valued at $5000, all in personal property.

Nobody knows how many people use railroad tracks as highways, but that the number is large is evidenced by the fact that in the past ten years 5300 persons have been killed in this country, while trespassing on railroad property. The greater number of those killed were not tramps or hoboes as one might easily suppose, but school boys taking a short cut, workmen and women on their way to or from labor, and others who sought to save time or money. This condition prevails in Winchester, and it would be eliminated if a direct street was built across the pond to the Plains, a proposition that has been before the town for about thirty years.

This country seems to be mighty careful who it lets in at its West gate, but doesn't care a rap who enters at the East gate.

The party will go as far as Waterville, Me., today and remain over night, going by train tomorrow to Spencer Narrows, where they will camp. This point is where the Roach River enters Moosehead. The fishing is said to be very fine at this camp, and the party will no doubt return well stocked.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THE BAREFOOT BOY.

(With apologies to John Greenleaf Whittier, and to those old ladies of both sexes who never were boys.)

Blessings on thee, little man.
Barefoot boy, with cheek of tan!
With thy turned up pantaloons,
And thy merry whistled tunes:
With thy red legs, redder still,
Torn by barbed wire on the mill.
Strung to mar fair Nature's face
In blind elders' lack of grace.
Who let waxing years kill joy --
Pray foreve them, barefoot boy!
Joy thou art, -- the grown-up mope
Only is a misanthrope.
Let the sordid selfish hide.
Barefoot, boisterous by his side;
Thou hast more than he can buy
In the reach of ear and eye.
Outward sunshine inward joy!
Blessings on thee, barefoot boy!

Cheerily, then, my little man
Live and laugh, as boyhood can!
Though the flinty souls be hard,
Shrews defending new-mown sward,
Every morn shall lead thee through Fresh bantisms of the dew; --
Every evening from thy feet
Shall the cool wind kiss the heat.
May those souls, now ossified,
In their prison cells of pride,
Keeping children off the sod,
See the kindly hand of God
Lifting joyless people's ban
On the Sabbath made for man!
What if once thy track be found
Mayhap on forbidden ground?
May the elders sink not in Their mistaken senile sin.
Oh, that they may know thy joy
Ere it passes, barefoot boy!

from Mrs. Sarah H. Rice, the owner of the property and approved as a satisfactory completion of the requirement set up by the Board.

Entered at the post-office at Winchester, Massachusetts, as second-class matter.

The proposed tariff bill, it is believed, will not reduce the cost of living. It will mean closer competition between European and home labor. And it looks as if the voters of the United States will get just what they voted for, and it will not do to accuse the democrats of going back on their election pledges for they are doing their best to redeem them right speedily.

The recent suggestion made in the STAR, that the electric cars be run express from Sullivan Square, has met with a response from the electric railway company, but instead of running the cars to Winthrop Square express, they are running them only to the top of Winter Hill. A recent count on an outward Woburn electric gave 17 persons as leaving the car between Sullivan Square and the top of Winter Hill, and 19 leaving from Winter Hill to Medford Square. It would still seem that if Winchester and Woburn patrons are to be accommodated, the cars should run to Medford express.

RECITAL.

A recital of unusual interest was given on Tuesday afternoon by some of the Winchester pupils of Miss Caroline L. Pond at her residence on Prospect street. The young people, without exception, displayed a self-possession which only comes with intelligent preparation and training and reflected great credit on their teacher. At the earnest solicitation of the pupils and their friends, Miss Pond closed the programme with a piano solo. Those participating were: Misses Marion Hoyt, Marguerite Phillips, Almena Cogswell, Rebecca Rowe, Evelyn Prime, Florence McCarthy, Virginia Farmer, Beulah Foss, Alice Hamilton, Dorothy Ordway, and Masters John Ordway, Kenly Bacon and Rudolph Mortensen.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

Shakespeare is a humorist. This is proven by "The Comedy of Errors," which will be given at the Castle Square next week. It is a play of extraordinary merit and was taken by Shakespeare from a famous Latin comedy. The scenes of "The Comedy of Errors" are laid in Ephesus many centuries ago, and its characters are the people of that ancient city, and also of the equally ancient city of Syracuse. The scenic and costume display will therefore be strikingly novel, and in order that it may be everything that should be desired Mr. Craig has engaged the services of Mr. Livingstone Platt, who is well known as an expert in the effective stage presentation of plays. He will design both the scenery and the costumes. The two Dromios, the chief humorous characters in the play, will be acted by Donald Meek and Al Roberts, and their twin masters by Mr. Craig and Wm. P. Carleton. Miss Mary Keener will appear as Adriana, and the remaining characters will command the entire resources of Mr. Craig's company.

BASE BALL.

Winchester High School came into its own last Wednesday afternoon, at Ocean Park, Lynn, and took a great game from Lynn English High by a score of 2 to 1. The victory is doubly sweet on account of the recent contest at Winchester between the two teams.

Goddu pitched a fine game, allowing but three hits, in spite of the fact that his support was a bit rocky at times. The hero of the game however was Jim Flinn, who took Saltmarsh's place in the fourth. Coming up with a man on base, he hit a terrific wallop to right centre for three bags, scoring Goldsmith ahead of him. He made some fine stops and throws during the remainder of the game. LeDuc made an excellent catch in the eighth inning when he ran into centre field after a hard fly.

Newth, who pitched for Lynn had considerable speed, and allowed only four hits, and striking out 18. Goddu fanned 11.

The score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	Totals
E. H. S.	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	1

Three base hits, Flinn, Berry. Two base hits, O'Callahan. Struck out, by Goddu 11, by Newth 18. Bases on balls, off Goddu 0, off Newth 1. Stolen bases, O'Callahan 1. Passed ball, Vose 2. Time, 1 hour, 35 minutes.

Winchester High School lost a close, but poorly played game to Stoneham High School at Manchester Field, last Saturday afternoon, by a score of 6 to 5. Six errors were made on each side, and were mainly responsible for the scores. Bright parts of the game were hard catches by Maguire, Goddu, and Loughlin, a stop and throw by Saltmarsh, and a stop by Halev. Each of the pitchers excelled in nailing for his respective teams, each getting two hits.

The score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	Totals
S. H. S.	0	1	0	1	1	0	0	0	0	6

Stolen bases, Goddu, Lawson, Saltmarsh, Holden, Conway 2. Sacrifice hits, Maguire, Phippen. Bases on balls, off Goddu 1, off Holden 2. Struck out, by Goddu 8, by Holden 7. Time 1 hour, 40 minutes. Umpire Cockrell.

About 75 striking employees of the American Soda Fountain Company visited Winchester Wednesday morning and endeavored to induce the employees of the Puffer Manufacturing Company to quit. No violence of any sort was attempted and the men were unmolested as they passed into the factory. None of the Winchester men went out. Chief McIntosh and his officers were on hand to prevent trouble, but no occasion arose for their services. About the same number came out from Boston yesterday.

Miss Grace Hatch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward O. Hatch of Fairview terrace, is visiting friends at Newark, N. J. She spent last week as the guest of Miss Joan Newell in New York City.

A Boston bound electric ran off the track in the center shortly after eleven Wednesday forenoon, blocking traffic on both lines of electric until after two in the afternoon. The car jumped the track just as it took the curve to cross the steam tracks. The motorman kept his power on until the car had crossed the railroad. The center was considerably congested while the car remained off the track. After one o'clock the Arlington and Woburn cars were run to the railroad crossing and the passengers changed for cars on the opposite side.

A brake shoe broke from the locomotive of the 415 express as it was passing the center crossing Wednesday afternoon and was thrown twenty or thirty feet to one side. It struck just where the electric car switch tender sits and had the man not have moved away on the approach of the train he would have been seriously injured by the big piece of iron weighing 50 or 60 pounds. It is well for persons waiting for trains to pass not to stand too near.

Miss Julia E. Sullivan of Spruce street was much surprised last Friday evening when she entered her home and found some fifty of her friends waiting to give her a linen shower. Lane of Westboro, Mass., on June the tenth.

OBSERVATIONS.

It's time the Arlington line cars were running into the Cambridge subway at Harvard Square. We have worked long enough.

Winchester's valuation has been raised three million of dollars by the Tax Commission for State and County tax apportionment. Now let us see how near our Assessor come to this figure.

Winchester is increased fourteen cents on a thousand, Arlington fifty-nine cents, Medford two cents, Woburn is decreased twenty-seven cents, Somerville sixteen, Melrose twenty-four, Somerville one dollar and twenty four cents, Wakefield four cents. Brookline is increased a dollar and seventy four cents, Watertown twenty-two cents. The greatest increase is of Lancaster, two dollars and ten cents. The commission increased our valuation over that of our Assessors for last year about three million dollars. Arlington was increased four millions. Increase in valuation may not increase a rate; in fact in many places it is decreased. Boston's valuation is increased nearly three hundred millions and still her rate is decreased twelve dollars and eighty-nine cents on a thousand. If our State Tax this year should be seven million dollars our increase over what it would have been at the 1910 rate will be one thousand dollars and our tax will be twenty-four thousand five hundred dollars. Are we getting our money's worth? It is getting very warm on taxation and it will be red hot pretty soon. The worms have finally turned after ages of sleep.

Cities and towns, like individuals, run to crazes at times and you don't need but one try to guess what it is in Winchester at present. Granolithic walks is the mania. Get your petition in while the money lasts if you can, but get it in anyway for the number of unsatisfied petitions on hand when the bond money is used up this year can and will be used as an argument for issuing more bonds next year. Never mind the interest charges or increasing the debt, let's cover the town with granolithic walks. Everybody wants them whether they can afford it or not; the real estate dealers particularly want them and the rubber sole and heel manufacturers strongly favor them, besides they are so unartificial and appropriate for a town we are trying to beautify a la nature. By all means let all else wait till we are satiated with our new mania.

Every third year the Tax Commissioner fixes the proportion of the State and County taxes the cities and towns shall pay based upon what he believes their valuations should be and his report just made shows many decided changes from the previous one of 1910.

Why not charge for the use of the sewer? Many places do so and there seems to be no good argument against that practice. It would result in making a better showing in our tax rate and would not increase taxes as it would take care of construction and maintenance and interest on the present sewer bonds and also contribute to paying debt, for all which purposes money is now raised by taxation. Furthermore it is a fairer system of taxation than our present one. Why should people be taxed for Water or Sewer debt unless they can have the service? Think it over. The charge should be based on water consumed.

Brookline, Milton, Attleborough, Revere, Watertown, Wellesley and Manchester are the only towns with a larger valuation than Winchester and ours is larger than the cities of Chicopee, Malborough, Newburyport and Woburn. Our town debt to valuation by the end of this year will be about 3.18 per cent. Population increase each five years since 1890 has been 1280—1908—994 and 1067. The population in 1915 will be about 10,500. In ten years population has increased 20 per cent, valuation 50 per cent and town appropriations 60 per cent.

If an attempt is made next year to further increase the appropriation for maintenance of the cemetery it should be fought, as a large percentage of our citizens do not use it and should not be called upon to pay taxes on more than a normal sum. It isn't a pleasure park. The Catholics support their own cemetery, why should n't the Protestants?

The auto school children warning signs is a good idea, but it has been carried out in a very laughing manner. The signs are much too large and have too much wording, they are of poor material to stand stoning, they should not be parallel with the street, but at right angles, they should only be placed near to school houses. Try it again. Selectmen Granolithic sidewalks is the craze with us now as concrete walks were years ago, but I can see many people taking to the street in the summer time to avoid these hot and foot pounding walks. They look well in some surroundings, but are as much out of place in others as a pig in a parlor, and as a whole certainly add nothing to the charms of nature as we have them here. They are too artificial and veneering.

Price and value are frequently badly compared and this has been particularly so in connection with the railroad investigation. Advance in the stock price adds nothing to the physical and operating value of a road and conversely decline decreases it none. It may be said the price of stock is an indication of the earnings of the road, sometimes it is and other times it is not. Stocks are frequently manipulated and many things affect them. This however, should be borne in mind, roads must be allowed to charge rates that will return a reasonable dividend upon the investment if the rates are in themselves reasonable. Railroads are our most important and largest business.

The legislature says it is determined to pass the needed railroad legislation before it adjourns, and the Governor says it will not be prorogued until it does, so it now looks as if we would get it. Representatives from constituencies served by the Boston and Maine who do not look after this matter should not be returned next fall. If the B. & M. should go into receivers hands their certificates would take precedence of even mortgage bonds. Mr. Brandeis says if the B. & M. is taken out of New Haven control plenty of money will be forthcoming to put it in up to date condition and operation, but the parties do not care to come out before then and oppose the powerful New Haven influence. We have heard such talk before many times, but it never comes true. What do the owners of the B. & M., the stockholders, say about this. Apparently they are never consulted by anybody.

John H. Carter.

GILMAN HOUSE THIEVES CAPTURED.

Chief of Police McIntosh captured three men last Saturday and Sunday who broke into the residence of Edward C. Gilman on Arlington street, stealing between $500 and $600 worth of household furnishings, etc.

The house was entered April 25th, the fact being discovered on the 27th, when the Chief of Police of Arlington conferred with the Winchester department regarding a double harness which had been offered for sale by a suspicious character of that town. Chief McIntosh knew that there was such a harness at the Gilman house and so it was visited. The house was found broken into and two trunks were found ready to take away filled with carriage robes, harnesses, draperies, fur coat, etc.

The Gilman family had left the house last fall, leaving there much of the furnishings, clothing, etc., and the two trunks were taken out by Mr. Gilman. On the next night the house was again entered and more furnishings taken.

Through the assistance of the Arlington police the guilty parties were ascertained, and last Saturday Chief McIntosh captured two in Arlington and one in Norwood. There were five in the party, and warrants are out for the arrest of the other two.

The men arrested were Emerson Law, 27 years old, Leo Kenna, 21, and Robert L. Scott, 14, all of Arlington. They were in the Woburn court Monday and all pleaded guilty, being held in $1000 bail until this Saturday.

The house was broken into last November, but at that time nothing appeared to have been taken. Chief McIntosh has information concerning this break also, and arrests are expected.

Of the $500 worth of stuff stolen, the greater part has been recovered.

Rev. Nathaniel J. Merritt rector of St. Mary's Church, returned Monday after an absence of several months in the South, much improved in health.

NAPOLEON SAID:-

"Every DELAY gives OPPORTUNITY for DISASTER"

Any disaster that MIGHT happen to YOU will be softened upon REFLECTION when the AMOUNT of insurance for which YOUR body is insured, preferably in the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE, of HARTFORD same being one of America's insurance companies.

To die, UNINSURED, is to entail pecuniary LOSS upon one's FAMILY or ESTATE, or BOTH. As TIME SLIPS BY, the COST RISES; it health DEPARTS, then LIFE insurance is IMPOSSIBLE.

With the MANY terms of INVESTMENT endowment insurance, there is no truth in the fallacious sophism, "HAVE TO DIE TO WIN," as THOUSANDS may be paid you, IN CASH, while living, if you demand this form of insurance.

The only EVIDENCE requisite will be a policy (new forms) granted by the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, which, if you are fortunate to pass a favorable medical examination, may be issued. SEIZE AN OPPORTUNITY and CALL at the MINOT BUILDING, 111 DEVONSHIRE ST., BOSTON, Fifth Floor, (Telephone, Main 3557 and 3558) asking for B. S. NOTED SCOUT VISITS WINCHESTER.

Captain Jack Crawford, the Scout Scout, was in town a few days since, paying a short visit to his old Cambridge. General Lazelle of 11 Symmes road, with whom he served for years against the Indians. As a raconteur of thrilling adventures, and incidents of frontier life of the past, and of recollections of his poetic compositions, he has few equals.

Capt. Jack's life history stands forth as a thrilling chapter in the annals of American manhood. A boy state picker in the coal mines in Pennsylvania, twice wounded in the line of desperate duty as a boy soldier in the civil war; twice wounded by hostile Indians while serving as a scout and the chief of scouts on the western frontier in the days of sanguinary Indian warfare; and officer of the law in running down outlaws in the southwest; a social and trusted agent of the Department of Justice engaged in the detection and prosecution of lawless men engaged in selling whiskey to Indians that invited them to the commission of outrages against the whites in the more remote sections of the great west; unearthing frauds of various kinds against the government of the United States, and now the most picturesque and attractive entertainer on the American platform. No other man possesses the power to so delight audiences, no man is doing more for the moral uplift of the youth of the land than this frontier poet, humorist and philosopher and recognized prince of entertainers. No other entertainer has been so highly endorsed by the leading men of the nation in public, professional, educational and ministerial life.

No doubt, arrangements could be made for Capt. Jack would be pleased to come to Winchester next fall or winter, and unquestionably the inhabitants would be delighted to hear this distinguished frontier man.

Don't go in town without your breakfast. You can eat comfortably and inexpensively at Athan's, 549 Main street. Service up to Boston mark. Combination breakfasts, with everything wholesome and palatable. Breakfast from 6 a. m. to 11 a. m. adv.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE DEPARTMENT.

Conducted by Winchester League.

Pennsylvania—Senate has passed the Woman Suffrage amendment by vote of 26 to 22. The Assembly had previously passed it 75 to 70. This is leaving up to the Quaker principle of equality of the sexes.

Wisconsin—The Assembly passed the amendment, last week on a third reading by 51 to 34. Wisconsin papers think there is no doubt of the outcome. The debate was brief. It had already passed the Senate.

Michigan—In spite of the disclaimers of the Anti's there can be no doubt that the suffrage defeat was accomplished very largely by the liquor interest. Fraud in the fall, in connection with the opposition of vicious interests, and the efforts of the liquor interests against it in the Spring election, was open and determined, and they "almost" lost it. Prof of this is in print which makes denial absurd. Most of the Michigan press maintains this. The Detroit Journal says: "The fight was made throughout the state by liquor interests. They are the only opponents of suffrage who have any object in making an intense campaign. They made it an intense and thorough campaign." The Kalamazoo Gazette says: "There is no doubt that thousands of dollars were sent into the State by outside liquor organizations, and it was this 'barrel of slush' that more than any other one thing compassed the undoing of the suffragists." From the Port Huron Times Herald: "The Saloon saw statewide prohibition staring them in the face if the suffrage movement was successful in Michigan. They worked openly against it and contributed largely to its defeat. From the Detroit Times: "The brewers did not want it because, in suffrage for women government by the brewery would be threatened. The saloons didn't want it, because in suffrage for women government by the saloons would be threatened. The political boss and the political crook didn't want it because, in suffrage for women, government by the political boss and the political crook would be threatened. Good citizens wanted it and voted for it, because in suffrage for women, they save government by and for vicious interests routed, and saw a big step to be taken in advance for progress. The betterment of mankind, the security of the home, the happiness of fire-ides." It is almost worth temporary defeat by a cause whose value for good, when won, or in the winning, and for the defeat of organized vice is so generally accorded by the press and by those who are working for social betterment. Such a cause cannot be defeated for long.

MEET THE PROBLEM OF THE MAI.

If Congress will add to the duties of the postoffice department it must furnish the equipment requisite for the new tasks imposed. There is no sense or justice in visiting upon postal employees a condemnation that belongs higher up Rural delivery, postal savings banks, and the parcel post are admirable new features of the national postal system, too long delayed and still far from adequately appreciated or used. But to carry them on with a staff of workers not correspondingly increased makes inevitable intimations such as now find public expression concerning tardy handling of first and second-class mail matter. If, as it is charged the department of late has been skimped in the congressional appropriations, then it is not surprising that some defects should appear, but we feel that they are surprisingly few when we remember the enormous number of pieces handled and the vast territory over which distribution must take place. Criticism based on European contrast overlooks fundamentally different geographical conditions.

Apparently there must be further readjustment perhaps a considerable amplification of force and facilities. Before the postal service of the country will be in position to handle the largely increased mass of matter without delays here and there. To an outsider it might seem that the pressure of parcel post matter was acting in a way to prevent prompt handling of the second-class mail, if not occasionally the first-class matter. Something seems to be needed, somewhere, to keep all kinds of matter always in motion from the beginning of a journey to the very end. Perhaps train service should be amplified; perhaps there should be more clerks; very probably there should be in many instances more room for matter that means new bulk. But we believe that both the postoffice authorities and the great army of employees are alike working to effect the needed improvements, and meanwhile we feel that in the trying times that have accompanied the introduction of a new and uncertain factor in the postal service great credit is due the department and its hardworking employees that the congestion at important centers has not been allowed to cause any serious inconvenience to general business. We believe the average postoffice employee, whatever his position, has some pride in keeping his particular part of the service on time, and doubtless his professional pride of individual men lifts the department over many a difficult place in time of stress.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN ON PUBLIC ABUSE.

Many of the business acquaintances and social friends of President Charles S. Mellen of the New Haven system have wondered, publicly and privately, at the personal animosity with which he has met the attacks on him and his progressive methods as a railroad president. The secret of it is that he finds daily inspiration and courage in these words of one of the greatest and most abused and criticised Presidents of the United States, Abraham Lincoln, uttered during the Civil War.

"If I were to read, much less answer, all the attacks made on me, this shop might as well be closed for any other business. I do the very best I know how—the very best I can; and I mean to keep on doing so until the end. If the end brings me out all right, what is said against me won't amount to anything. If the end brings me out wrong, ten angels swearing I was right would make no difference."

Mr. Mellen keeps on his desk in Boston, New York and New Haven, and in his home as well, illuminated cards containing the foregoing quotation, and hardly an hour in the day passes that he does not turn to read again the true and effective philosophy of President Lincoln.

WHO RIDE ON THE CARS.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

Having nothing to do but view the scenery while a passenger on an outward bound North Woburn car last Friday I amused myself in seeing how many passengers got off the car between the terminal and Winter Hill, this matter being of interest to Winchester and Woburn people who find it difficult to get the car. My car was not in the rush hour, but before two o'clock. Between the terminal and Winter Hill 12 passengers got off the car, and between Winter Hill and Medford Square there were 17. Leaving 11 passengers to go to Winchester and Woburn. And that is the reason for crowded North Woburn cars.

No Restful Sleep for Seventeen Months!

Dangerous, distressing Kidney and Bladder Trouble removed by Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

Mr. C. H. Smith, 320 Washington St., Providence, R. I., writes: "I thank you for the free sample bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy you sent me. Since taking this I have continued its use and have used three large bottles, with much relief. I had been troubled severely with constipation for years. My case was supposed to be chronic. Now my bowels are regular. I was also a great sufferer from Kidney and Bladder trouble and for seventeen months I had no rest at night, as it was necessary to get up so often, sometimes as often as twice an hour. I am pleased to say that now I do not have to get up more than twice during the night and sometimes only once. Your Favorite Remedy has proved a blessing to me. I feel better all over. The heavy 'loggy' feeling has left me, as well as the bloated eyes. I sincerely thank you, for if I had not first tried the sample bottle I would today probably be in the same old condition, with aches and pains and all tired out."

Write Dr. David Kennedy Co., Rondout, N. Y., for free sample and helpful booklet. A standard Kidney, Liver and Blood remedy. 40 years successful. All druggists.

QUAINT LETTER FROM A JAPANESE.

Dear Editor: -I am not a writer nor a scholar. I have not very much a knowledge of the English language to express my thought to the fully extent. Therefore, I was hesitated for fear you may not understand my "pigeon English." But I raked my courage, wrote a few words to express my humble opinion in regards to your view on Japs—"A Possible Jap Pest"—for which I read in your editorial comment yesterday. What I saw I heard and I know of the Japanese farmers in California is not quite justifies by your comments.

Being I am Japanese myself of my opinion should tipped to one side, you will please forgive my ignorance.

This is my opinion, Japanese people, what is left now in California, are mostly farmers. They are generally an industrious, a capable person with a bounded of a patience. Enduring almost hardships, cultivating of the land which is half wilderness in the Southern California.

Having to use a wasted land and making it into some shape or sort of a farm which has been working for years.
Apparently, they made a little success, but it does not amount to anything, to compare with European immigrant and settlers in Atlantic coast.

A er of Japanese came to this country by a mistake, and most of them were cheated by Immigration company in Japan. Until five years ago there were about seven or eight of these companies through out Japan, and did a good business by charging so much of expense beside regular fees for each immigrant. Soon Japanese government got after them and driven them out of a business. So they don't have, any more, these takers since five years ago.

This take company have advertised in a newspaper, every where, almost telling all kind of goodness on earth to induce the people to go to California.
In an advertisement, such it calls California, "The Paradise." It any person invest a few hundred dollars in the farm Southern California. Will be a millioner in a few years' and etc.

A simple minded, and innocent farmer believed of an advertisement of Immigration Co. Sold his land which inherited from his ancestors, at regardless the prices, and came to this country.

When realized, that this is not "Paradise" and he does not find any angels flying around. Greatly disappointed.
Many of them returned with a revocation, having cheated by Immigration Company, but some of them went down Southern California and found some patch of a ground which no citizen have putting to use of it. So the poor farmer invested a few hundred dollars and culivating, by himself, a most industrial manner, (I am sure that they never become a millionaire as they dreamed in Japan.)

A mechanic and a professional as soon as arrived at Golden Gate city. They realized, there is no room for them to make "golden gate," so they returned very quick only left in Eastern States.

A Hubbs and a coolies. They too, have cheated by the company. They find that they can live in Japan very much happier than living in this country.
Japanese loves their country too great, and you can't make a good immigrant out of Japanese anyway as to make Russian Jewish people.

Besides these classes, is Japanese Merchants, and very few student. This class of Japanese are not exactly to call immigrant, the merchants are mostly importers.

You will notice a plenty of them in
New York or Boston in Eastern city.
I am sure this is correct view of Japanese people in this country.

When these dreamers came to a sense and realize the California in true form
There is no Japanese people ever comto this country to struggle for a daily bread, and never again.

"Japan is crowded," I admitted, but a plenty space yet to live in. If Japanese in Japan would live as the people living in certain part of city of New York or Philadelphia. It will hold five times more of a present population, I imagine.

Japanese people are a great dreamer.
They dreamed California as Paradise.
After these dreamers came to a sense they realize their mistake, and wonder if they went to a place just opposite direction from their dream.

Japanese are not a sneaky, greedy people, not any means, true love of peace and righteousness.

But there is quite a few jingoes and demagogues, so I see, a plenty of them in this country. When a true hearted and a broad minded people on both countries can solve the problem.

No Japanese invasion, no war, but only a controversies between American demagogue and Japanese demagogues.

Yours truly,
F. K. Shimada.

BIBLE-STUDY-ON

THE GIFTS OF WHITSUNDAY.

1 Corinthians 12:1-11—May 11.

There are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit. 1 Peter 4.

HITSSENTIDE, or Pentecost, marks a period in God's great Program next in importance to the events connected with our Lord Jesus: namely,

His baptism and anointing of the Holy Spirit at Jordan. His finishing His vow of consecration at Calvary. His resurrection and glorious spirit-birth, as partaker of the Divine nature.

When Jesus consecrated His life at Jordan, and symbolized it in His water baptism, God accepted the sacrifice, and bestowed upon Him the Holy Spirit in begetting power. Thenceforth

He was the Son of God in two senses—according to the flesh, and according to the Spirit. But in God's order, the spirit-begotten
One was to triumph by fully offering up the fleshy one. This work was accomplished at Calvary, where Jesus laid down
His life on behalf of the world.

After Jesus' ascension, He appeared in the Father's presence, and made satisfaction for the sins of the Church alone—those who would accept the Father's call to walk in Jesus' footsteps.
As for the world, their sins are still upon them. The only way to obtain forgiveness, therefore, is to become a disciple of Jesus.

The Scriptures show us that God has a different time and way for dealing with the world. He will deal with the world through Christ's Millennial Kingdom, scattering their darkness, forgiving their sins and uplifting them to human perfection. Meantime, He deals with the Church only, and it is the Church that the Apostle discusses in today's lesson.

The Church began its existence at Pentecost. Hence Whitsunday marks an important event in the Church's affairs. Until our Lord's presentation of His merit on their behalf, they were like the remainder of mankind—condemned in Adam. When the Pentecostal blessing came, it manifested the Father's acceptance of Jesus' sacrifice as satisfactory for the sins of the Church—the Household of Faith.

The Gifts of the Spirit.

We are to distinguish between the gifts of the Spirit and the fruits of the Spirit. The fruits of the Spirit are developments of heart and character, coming more or less slowly, according to the personality and environment of the spirit-begotten one. These fruits of the Spirit, the Apostle says, can be seen—are manifest—meekness, gentleness, patience, long-suffering, brotherly-kindness, love.

These fruits must be developed in our hearts. They will be manifested in our thoughts, words and deeds. The riper the Christian, the riper the fruits.
If no fruits appear, then there is no Christian. "If any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of His."

But these fruits may be so overshadowed by weaknesses of the flesh that all may not see to what extent he is fighting a good fight against the world, the flesh and the Devil.

When Pentecost came, the disciples were not prepared to manifest immediately ripe fruitage of the Spirit. Up to this time they were natural men.
We see, then, why they could not have a manifestation of the fruits of the Spirit. But it was necessary that they have some indication of God's favor.

God manifested His acceptance of their consecration by the bestowment of certain gifts, which were not fruits of the Spirit in any sense. These gifts were widely distributed in the early Church, and were miraculous. Some spoke languages of which they had no previous knowledge; some had the gift of interpreting these languages; some received the gift of healing; some had power for other miracles.

These gifts served a three-fold purpose: (1) They manifested God's favor, thereby proving that Christ's redemption work had been satisfactory. (2)

They proved that God was with the disciples, and this would induce lovers of God to investigate the Gospel. (3) They assured the disciples that God was leading them.

These experiences were necessary. The early Church could not walk by faith as we do. They had no Bibles. They had no instruction, except such as came through these channels. St. Paul explains the matter in today's lesson.
Through the operation of these gifts, the brethren obtained fellowship and instruction.

God taught them in almost the only possible way in which they could receive instruction, but very differently from that in which He has since instructed His people. Such instruction is no longer necessary, and hence no longer given. We have the Scriptures Divinely provided helps, with which, as St. Paul declares, the man of God may be thoroughly furnished unto every good work. Instead of the gifts we have the fruits of the Spirit, the chief of which is Love.

Pentecost Manifested
Jesus' Acceptance of Our Sacrifice.

BOSTON THEATRE

Denman Thompson's "THE OLD HOMESTEAD" Back Home on Monday, May 12. Almost Original
Cast, with E. L. Snader, Denman Thompson's Chosen Successor, as "Joshua Whitecomb."

The greatest of all American successes, guaranteed from coast to coast by press, public and manager for 26 years, returns to the home of its infancy, the Boston Theatre, on May 12th. It was in April, 1886, the "Grand Old Man of New England's" Idyl, had its first performance at this famous playhouse and made the most telling success ever scored by a new production in Boston.
Year after year since then, from one end of the country to the other, it has repeated that success, and it has ever improved with age.

A quarter of a century is a long time, as time goes on the stage. Few players and plays have bridged the gulf from the early 80's to 1913. It may be that "The Old Homestead" brings with it a timely lesson in sound values. At any rate, it sets one wondering about the "powerful" and "gripping" dramas of today—the best of them.
Will they weather the years like "The Old Homestead"? It's worth thinking over.

With that touch of nature that will live as long as there is an American stage, the grand old masterpiece returns to the Boston Theatre with practically the original cast, and with Mr. Edward L. Snader, Denman Thompson's chosen successor in the role of dear old "Joshua Whitecomb."

The production would no doubt be a revelation to the by-gone friends of a quarter century ago. The art of stagecraft has made rapid strides since then. Such familiar scenes as the old farmyard in the New Hampshire hills, and the equally familiar Grace Church scene, are two of the most striking pictures of stage realism.

Two of the distinct features are the famous double male quartette and the grand choir in the Grace Church scene, that for the engagement here will be augmented with twenty trained voices.

Mr. Frank Thompson, Denman Thompson's chosen successor, keeps the tradition of the play well in hand. His attention for many seasons accounts in no small way for the merited success of this famous masterpiece.

Summer prices will prevail during its engagement in Boston. Entire orchestra $1.00, first balcony 75c, second balcony 50c and third balcony 25c.

COREY-POPE.

A wedding of considerable interest to the younger residents of Winchester was that of Mr. Preston Edwin Corey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Corey of the Parkway, and Miss Miriam Elizabeth Pope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Pope of 70 Westville Street, Dorchester, which occurred at the home of the bride's parents on Wednesday evening.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. W. Bowers of the Baker Memorial Church at seven thirty, being witnessed by relatives of the couple and a few intimate friends.

The best man was Mr. John H. Dowd of Brookline and the maid of honor was Miss Helen Fairbanks of Dorchester.

The bride was gowned in white chamoise, trimmed with princess lace, and carried a bridal bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her veil was caught with a spray of orange blossoms. The maid of honor wore a dress of pink chamoise and carried a basket of pink sweet peas.

The residence was decorated for the ceremony and reception which followed with cut flowers, palms and fern. Day-break pinks were used in profusion about the mantles and tables and with asparagus fern in the chandeliers and stair rails. The ceremony was performed in front of a bank of palms.

The reception followed the ceremony and lasted until ten, when the couple left on their wedding journey. The couple were assisted in receiving by their parents, Mrs. Pope being gowned in blue chamoise and the groom's mother in gray acolian, trimmed with gray lace.

The ushers were Mr. Theodore F. Corey of Wollaston, a cousin of the groom, and Mr. Percy Pope brother of the bride.

About 200 guests attended, friends being present from Winchester, Reading, Wakefield, Arlington, Medford, Fitchburg, Brookline and other surrounding places. Many handsome gifts were received by the couple from their hosts of friends, including several substantial checks.

Upon their return from their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Corey will take up their residence at No. 230 Parkway.

RETURNS TO HOME IN GERMANY.

Mr. William P. Widowsky, who for the past seven years has been connected with the Calumet Club, will leave for his home in Hamburg, Germany, on the 20th of this month. He goes to Germany to stay, and will not return again to Winchester. During his residence in this town he has made many warm personal friends, all of whom lament his departure and extend to him their best wishes. He has, during his residence here, made several temporary visits to his home, but this spring he decided to return and take up his residence permanently.

Mr. F. J. Scholl has been engaged to fill Mr. Widowsky's position at the Calumet Club. He has been connected with the Club for a number of years, and will enter his new duties the latter part of this month.

POSTMASTER RICHARDSON RESIGNS.

Postmaster J. Winslow Richardson sent his resignation to the Post Office Department at Washington last Saturday. His health has been such that he has decided that he will not be able to continue with the office. Mr. Richardson's resignation will take effect at the pleasure of the department. He is now confined to his home, having suffered another shock recently.

There are a number of applicants for the position and who will receive the appointment is somewhat in question. Mr. James H. Roach, it is understood, has received the endorsement of the Democratic Town Committee, and it is said that Mr. Whitfield L. Tuck is now at Washington conferring with President Wilson regarding the position.

THE CONSERVATION OF WOMANHOOD.

An Eye Witness's Report of the Parade in Washington.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

On May 7, a meeting in the cause of anti-suffrage was held at the house of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Littlefield. Several members of the Association gave short reports of meetings they had attended recently. It was very interesting to hear from Mrs. Moore, an eye-witness's report of the suffrage parade in Washington, on March 3. From her point of observation, Mrs. Moore did not see any of the disturbances that occurred in the early stages of the parade. The newspaper accounts of these, she thinks, were greatly exaggerated. She saw orderly lines of women on horseback and on foot. She thought the parade such as might produce an impression in favor of woman-suffrage among the unthinking masses and the lovers of the spectacular.

But neither Mrs. Moore nor her audience could understand the argument for woman-suffrage that this parade contained. Do hiking and parading give the necessary qualifications for good legislators? One man at the hearing at the State House said, "It seems as if the suffragists thought they could win suffrage with their feet." That this parade did win some adherents is probable; but on the other hand, that it was very distasteful to many is equally probable. A few days after the parade, a woman went to the headquarters of the anti-suffragists and gave her name as a new member, saying, "I have been a suffragist; I was in the parade. What I saw and heard that day have converted me to anti-suffrage."

Mrs. Ely gave an entertaining report of a very large and enthusiastic meeting she attended in Brooklyn, where Lyman Abbott presided, and where Mrs. George and others spoke.

Miss Esther Parker reported the large gain in anti-suffrage ranks in Massachusetts during the past year, much greater than in any previous year, seventeen new branches having been formed in twelve days, and requests for our literature coming from all over the country.

Miss Ella Emerson gave a report of a recent address by Mr. Philip Brown, an instructor in International Law in Harvard. Mr. Brown began by stating that he opposed woman-suffrage because he believed in progress, and woman-suffrage would not be "progress," but "retrogression." He thought many of the suffragists were idealists, but were victims of illusions. Mrs. Dorsey read an article from the New York Sun, signed "A Mother." This gave from a mother's point of view, the crying need, in this present time of restlessness and ambition, of educating girls to do better their most important work in life—which is in the home and not on the battle-field of politics. Suffragists sneer at this as an antiquated argument; anti-suffragists rejoice in it as one of the old and new and ever true arguments.

Mrs. W. C. Newell, a member of the Board of Publicity of the Mass. association opposed to woman-suffrage, read a very carefully prepared paper on our recent splendid victory in Michigan. As all the data Mrs. Newell gave, she had taken pains to collect from the best authority, we think the readers of the STAR may be glad to see a brief summary of them. It will be remembered that last November in an election in Michigan, when the question of suffrage was voted upon, there was a small majority of 762 in opposition. This was a great surprise and disappointment to the suffragists who had felt sure of victory, as Michigan is the native state of Dr. Anna Shaw, the aggressive suffragist leader, who had sent much suffrage literature there, and had done everything she could to gain the state for suffrage.

She and her followers, though disappointed, did not give up, however, but appealed to the courts for another election in April, 1913. This was granted, for the Governor and a majority of the Legislature were then in favor of suffrage, and the suffragists felt no doubt that, with more prodding during the winter, they would gain an easy victory in the spring. So they started on a new campaign, confident of success.

Previous to the election in November, the anti-suffragists had done no campaign work in Michigan; but, now, they felt the time had come when they must do what they could to save Michigan; and, accordingly, they sent out some of their best speakers, and their best literature. At first, these speakers encountered only hostile audiences, but soon they found themselves listened to with an interest that constantly increased. Several times, at the close of a meeting, influential men, members of the Legislature and others, came to them and said that they had voted for suffrage in November, but that they should vote against it in April. Men and women had heard arguments they had never heard before, and what was the result? The anti-suffragists were hopeful that they might win, although the other side was doing all in its power to outdo them, but they did not look forward to such an overwhelming victory as came to them. They had labored better than they knew. When the election was held, 25 of the 38 counties of Michigan voted with a larger majority for anti-suffrage. Of the other 13, only 2 had increased their majority for suffrage; the other 11 had done so now with a reduced majority, when the final count was taken it gave a majority of 96,144 in opposition to woman suffrage!

Such a victory of course has brought down upon the heads of anti-suffragists, insults and slander from Dr. Anna Shaw (past-mistress of insult and slander) and some of her followers. But when anti-suffragists remember the many noble men and women who have been and who are in their ranks, they can only smile at the absurdity of these accusations of suffragists and pity those among them who have lost so much of their womanhood to stoop to such methods.

"The Conservation of Womanhood," the subject of Professor Sedgwick's recent address in Cambridge, is what anti-suffragists are working for.

AN ANTI-SUFFRAGIST.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS.

On Monday one of the ice teams of the Home Pond Ice Co. met with an accident on Washington Street at the Parkway. The wagon was drawn by two green horses, and while on Hillside Avenue they took flight and ran away going down the hill to Winthrop Street, to Washington Street. At the corner of the Parkway the wagon struck one of the iron light poles, breaking it off at the ground. The horses then ran onto the lawn of Mr. J. W. Richardson's estate, the wagon crashing into a tree. The only damage done was to the harness and wagon, and this was not enough to cause the discontinuance of its delivery work.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Corey of Wilmington, Del., have been the guests of Mr. Corey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Corey of the Parkway, this week having come on for the wedding of Mr. Corey's brother, Mr. Preston E. Corey. Mrs. Corey will spend the week here before returning to Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Barron are spending the month at Hull, where they have a cottage.

Miss Jean Joslin, the little daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Joslin of Lynn, is recovering nicely from the two operations which were recently performed for mastoids. Mrs. Joslin is well known in Winchester as the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Allen.

Chief McIntosh has had a detail of police at the Puffer company's factory each morning for about a week and a half during the recent labor troubles. About 500 marble polishers are on a strike in Boston, and each morning delegations have been coming to Winchester trying to induce the Puffer employees to join them. A number of the Puffer men were out for a few days, but returned to work. So far there has been no trouble.

In the chapel of St. John's Seminary in Brighton yesterday morning, several classes of students were advised to the various offices under priesthood by B. Rev. Joseph G. Anderson, auxiliary bishop of the diocese. Among those elevated to the subdiaconate were Rev. Charles Augustus Donahue and Rev. Timothy James Donovan of this town.

Mrs. Alexander Foster gave a luncheon bridge to the club of which she is a member this week.

A very interesting pianoforte recital was given by the pupils of Miss Marion L. Chapin at the residence of Mr. Charles B. Street, of Sheffield Road, on Thursday afternoon. At the close of the recital the pupils were entertained in a most charming manner by the hostess, Mrs. Bradstreet.

Mr. R. P. Gay entertained a number of Winchester friends at the Vesper Club, Lowell, on Thursday evening.

BASE BALL OPENS SATURDAY.

The base ball season will open Saturday, May 17th, and we expect to have as good and possibly a better team than last season. Now to have a good team requires good support in a financial way and we intend to start with tags at once, and will ask for 15 cents or as much more as you feel inclined to give, but give 15 cents anyway. We trust those people in town who have never seen our team in action will come down and see us get a good start and help us toward a successful season.

TENT CATERpillars.

A Serious Nuisance that Now Confronts the Town.

The following correspondence is self explanatory:
Samuel Symmes, Tree Warden, Winchester, Mass.

Dear Sir: I notice that on the Metropolitan Park property opposite Wedgemere Station, there are a large quantity of tent caterpillars. These are sure to be annoying to the public.

I do not know whether you remember about forty years ago, we had a plague of the tent caterpillars. They were so numerous that when they became nearly full grown, they would get on to stone posts and fences in great clusters. They were in large quantities on my father's stone posts in front of his property and we had to burn them off with torches. They came into houses, churches, schools and everywhere. A determined fight was put up and they have not been troublesome since. Last year, they began to appear and they are very numerous.

This year I was down on the Cape, Sunday, and I was surprised to see the quantity there. They were on all the cherry and apple trees all over the country.

Would it not be a good idea to mention this subject in the Winchester STAR? While this caterpillar is young, it is a very easy matter to destroy the nests.

Yours very truly,
FRANK A. CUTTING.

Winchester, Mass., May 12, 1913.

Editor Winchester Star:
Dear Sir:—A letter received from Mr. Frank A. Cutting tells the story about the tent caterpillars so well that I forward it to you hoping you will give it space in your paper.

Forty years ago nearly every one was willing to get out a few minutes morning or afternoon and rub off the small nests which appear so early in the spring on cherry and apple trees. For the past three seasons a large per cent. of the people have called the tree warden by phone or letter and told him of the fearful prevalence of Gipsy and Brown Tails all over the town. They do not understand the old tent caterpillar and mistake it for the newer pests, and when they are told how to take care of it they are not willing to do the work because they seem to think the men of the Tree Department have neglected their work. If I may be allowed to quote from a letter received this morning from a resident, your readers will see just a little of our troubles.

"What I now want to protect is as to the condition of an apple tree. It is now covered with nests, and is in a far worse condition than before your men worked on it. I don't feel as though I should be called upon to again pay for their labor, as it could not have been properly done or it would not be in such a condition now."

The eggs of the tent caterpillar are laid in such small clusters on slender twigs of the apple, peach and cherry—particularly the wild cherry—that it is not practical to hunt for them, but when they first hatch in early spring it is quite easy for each owner to look out for his trees. It would take a large force of town employees to cover the whole territory in a few weeks and would be so costly as to be prohibitive. But some natural enemy will soon decimate the hordes and then we will go along for many years without much inconvenience, just as we have gone through the past three decades.

Very truly yours,
SAMUEL S. SYMMES,
Tree Warden.

Mrs. Katherine W. Herron of Winchester, who is Chair of the Home Economics Department of the State Federation, attended the Council Meeting of the General Federation recently held in Washington. Mrs. Herron attended several conferences which were held during this meeting relating to this work, and gave a very instructive account of the work which is being done throughout the United States, especially through the Middle West and South.

After the business meeting a very interesting programme followed, consisting of music by the Frances D. Monte Trio and miscellaneous readings by Miss Hazel Dell Chandler.

A social hour followed, during which the Trio furnished music, and refreshments were served.

"BATTER UP."

The base ball season of 1913 will open this Saturday, May 17th, the home team playing the strong Horace Partridge Co. team of Boston. This team is handled by Jack Stafford, the former American League umpire, and Carl Lindberg, who played with us last season a few times. We look for a good game.

We have lost a few of our players from last season's team but have endeavored to replace them with good, fast players, hoping to keep up the past reputation of the team. We have secured Benson of East Boston, one of the best amateur pitchers in this section of the state, and for catcher we have Dickey, who formerly caught for the Roxbury Athletics—a fast man from former records. Also a new man for first base, Rawlings of Medford, a left hand thrower and batter, said to be a "comer," for the outfield.

We take off our hats to no one, as we have in Murphy, Roche, and Badger an outfield that can show speed in all departments of the game. With the ever reliable Murray, Morrissey and Walski to look after the infield, we think we are very fortunate for the coming season.

Anyway, every one come down Saturday and see us get a good start. Encouragement and good backing is half the game. Cut the line-up out and know your players.

CAPTAIN RICHARD L. MAYO.

Captain Richard L. Mayo, one of the oldest residents of our town, aged 85 years, passed away early Sunday morning at his residence, 18 Grove Street.

He was born at Truro, Cape Cod, February 16, 1828. He was educated in the public schools of Truro and the Academy at Bridgewater. He began in early youth to follow the sea and when twenty years of age was Captain of the fishing schooner, "Solon."

Abandoning the fishing industry, he commanded different vessels engaged in freighting, sailing from Boston to coast ports, West Indies, Labrador and Greenland.

Forty two years ago he established the wholesale fish firm known first under the name of Mayo & Ward, later Taylor & Mayo, at T. Wharf Boston, being at the time of his death the sole proprietor.

He became a resident of Winchester 18 years ago and has resided on Grove Street during that time.

Capt. Mayo was married December 19, 1850, to Deborah Gross Smith of Truro, who with his daughter, Mrs. Henry C. Nickerson, survives him.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon at his home. The interment was on Wednesday at Truro.

MR. HODGDON RETURNS FROM VISIT.

The Rev. Frank W. Hodgdon, minister to the First Congregational Church, has returned from a living visit with friends in Des Moines, Chicago and New York City.

In New York, Mr. Hodgdon attended the ordination of two of the sons of his friend, the Rev. Nehemiah Boynton, Moderator of the National Council of Congregational Churches.

Mr. Hodgdon was delighted to find that the commission form of city government has worked extraordinary changes for the better in the city of Des Moines. One unique feature is the revolution in the Police Department, which was formerly very corrupt. The present Chief of Police is a noble christian man and a faithful deacon in Plymouth Congregational Church of which Mr. Hodgdon was formerly pastor.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

"Very few men brush their hair enough," said a barber to The Spectator. "Most of the men who come to be shaved, you see it is this way: A man is generally in a hurry when he dresses, and he doesn't take time to brush his hair—simply smooths it down, generally only with a comb—and as a result dandruff is allowed to accumulate and trouble begins. With a woman it is different. A woman has to carefully brush her hair at least once a day. If she didn't it would be in a bad condition. It's very length saves her, for in brushing it each day she gets out all sorts of impurities, dandruff and the like, all of which is for her own good. That is the main reason why fewer women suffer from dandruff than the unfortunate members of the opposite sex, and it is also the reason why the hair is a woman's crowning glory if she is fair, fat and forty."

A very dear friend of The Spectator's placed two dozen pinks upon the grave of his mother and the other day he found that some miserably vandal had removed them. The Spectator might cite another case where a massive set piece was carried off bodily. It is not easy for a civilized man or woman to understand how anyone can be capable of such despicable thievery, and much less understandable how persons can be found who themselves can wear or place in their homes flowers taken from above the last resting place of the deceased. There will be a multiplicity of cases of this kind during the summer and the utmost effort should be exerted to detect and punish the thieves. This can be done in many instances if the right method be adopted and The Spectator hopes that these ghoulish thieves will be apprehended and properly punished.

Recently The Spectator was in conversation with the pastor of a church regarding the financial support of churches in general. "The Church Spider," is the title of a poem which the clergyman has carefully preserved and it seems that he has publicly read it a number of times and each time there was a swelling of the church finances. Here is the poem:

Two spiders, so the story goes,
Upon a living bent;
Entered the meetinghouse one day
And hopefully were heard to say:
"Here we will have a least fair play,
With nothing to prevent."
Each chose his place and went to work
The light web grew apace;
One on the altar spun his thread,
But shortly came the sexton dread,
And swept him off and so half dead.
He sought another place.
"I'll try the pulpit next," said he,
"There surely is a prize;
The desk appears so neat and clean,
I'm sure no spider there has been—
Besides, how often have I seen
The pastor brushing them!"
He tried the pulpit, but alas!
His hopes proved visionary;
With dusting brush the sexton came,
And spoiled his geometric game.
Nor gave him time or space to claim
The right of sanctuary.
At length, half starved, and weak and lean,
He sought his former neighbor
Who now had grown so sleek and round.
He weighed a fraction of a pound,
And looked as if the art he'd found
Of living without labor.
"How is it, friend," he asked, "that I Endured such thumps and knocks,
While you have grown so very gross?"
"I'm plain," he answered, "not a loss
I've met, since first I spun across
The contribution box."

A woman living in a town less than a dozen miles from Winchester and who has made a great success of poultry raising gives The Spectator to understand that if a young woman would devote as much time to her pure bred hens of any variety as she does to 25 pupils in a schoolroom her salary would be three or four times as much and her health better.

A philosopher advises: "Don't slam the door when you are angry, if you are a married man; go out and beat the parlor rug." That advice can't be beat.

When the housefly arrives he will come in brigades and legions. The good people of Winchester must not fail to remember that the house fly is a disseminator of disease and that one of the most important preventives against him is absolute cleanliness and absence of any sort of rubbish about the premises.

That is a queer state of affairs in a certain household here in Winchester, where one member insists upon screening doors and windows against mosquito invasion is opposed by another, who maintains that "skeeter" bites cure rheumatism.

At a house party one evening recently The Spectator heard a young lady sing "I wish I were a bird," and would you believe, The Spectator heartily wished she might turn into one at once and fly away.

An absent-minded man placed a green train stamp on a souvenir post card the other day, but a postal clerk got his eye on it in a twinkling.

It does not take much to distract some people from their plain duty. With some people, a little frivolity will make them forget sacred promises, under the guise of a good time and because it is something different. It does not make much difference what other people may be going through. But it is the way of the world, and should be taken more or less philosophically. Supposed friends may not be friends after all.

They may be won over by the maiden lady with the corkscrew curls, threats, bluffs, or the beehaw of somebody who thinks he knows it all. It's hard telling. The standards of people here and there are not so very high and oftentimes it is a case of "just somebody," and it hardly matters whom. How happy the Winchesterite who can sail away at his work and not care a penny so long as he does his own work well, and he is polite and considerate with other people. The philosopher who doesn't care whether the sun shines or not, but who attends strictly to his own affairs, generally gets along all right, even if he does get hard up once in a while. Being hard up worries some people dreadfully—more than it does some other people but it will be all the same when the paper comes out and says: "He died peacefully, with a smile on his face." The smile on the face of a dead man beats all the doctrines of the future life to a standstill.

CHANGE IN TRAIN TIME.

The new change in train time of the Southern Division of the B. & M. went into effect on Monday. Winchester is affected by five changes, all late in the evening. They are as follows:

9:14 p. m., from Boston discontinued, 9:35 from Boston now arrives at 10:01.

10:32 and 10:46 p. m., trains for Boston discontinued. In their place a train is running leaving at 10:37 and arriving in Boston at 11:02.

The discontinuance of the 9:14 outward train now leaves a wait from 8:09 to 9:35 following this another wait until 10:30, and then still another until 11:17.

The town is truly going back to the woods if train service is taken as the reckoning factor. How soon before the Bay State will double track Main street.

Y. M. C. A. AUXILIARY.

Some of the older residents of Winchester will remember when there was a branch of the Y. M. C. A. doing successful work in the old White building, under a capable secretary. Many of our boys got a good start in athletics from the able gymnasium teacher there employed.

A group of earnest women were connected with this work as an auxiliary, who had the welfare of the Winchester boys very much at heart. It was their ambition that this branch of Y. M. C. A. should own a building where the work could be carried on to best advantage, and they bent every energy to attain that object.

Their great disappointment Winchester decided that such a building was not necessary, the boys who needed that kind of help were not numerous here, so the idea was abandoned, the Y. M. C. A. rooms put to other use, and apparently the Auxiliary was given up.

It appears however, that this little body of workers, now seventy strong, has been kept together since 1905 when the rooms were given up, though quarterly meetings at the homes of its members, and its annual meeting of this year was held in the vestry of the Cong. church on Tuesday afternoon.

The meeting was opened with prayer and reading by Rev. Mr. Hodge of the Baptist church. Miss Ruth Sleeper accompanied by Miss Mary Fletcher sang some charming songs and Mr. King of the state Y. M. C. A. spoke of the great need of young men in Y. M. C. A. work in rural districts.

In the business meeting it was decided to contribute $10 to the county work of the Y. M. C. A. and to send one college student interested in the work, to Silver Bay Summer school, a beautiful camp on Lake George, where missionary work in all its branches is the subject of study. The following officers were elected: Pres. Mrs. E. L. Dunlop; Vice-president and Secretary Miss Eugenia Elliot; Treas. Mrs. H. C. Blood. The board of directors consists of one member from each of the churches in town. Ice cream and cake was served, and a cordial support being promised by each member to the new officers, the meeting adjourned until October.

LADIES' BRANCH OF FORESTERS ORGANIZED.

A Ladies' Branch of the Irish National Foresters Benevolent Society was organized in Woburn last Wednesday evening in the small hall of the Times Building by General Organizer, Col. Charles F. McCarthy, assisted by Deputy Organizer, Thomas J. Keane, and members of Branch John E. Redmond of Winchester. More than 60 new members were initiated and the following officers were elected: C. R. Mary Jones; S. C. R. Sarah Duran; F. S. Nora O'Melia; Asst. Sec. Irene Silenau; Treas. Mary A. Hennessey; S. W. Lucy Curmy; J. W. Caroline Flynn; S. H. Sarah Donnelly; Jr. B. Mary McLaughlin; Trustees, Nora Greeley Bridget McGowan, Mary McMahon; P. C. R. Catherine Keane.

After the meeting an interesting talk was given by General Organizer McCarthy on Men and Organizations composed of the Irish race and their standing today in the financial world, followed by Thomas Keane, P. J. Hennessey, Edward O'Connell and other visitors.

Refreshments were served and an enjoyable hour spent.

A committee consisting of Mrs. P. J. Hennessey, Mrs. Nellie Bucklev and Mrs. Sarah Duran was appointed to secure permanent quarters.

MR. MORLEY'S RECITAL.

A largely attended recital was given in the Assembly Hall at the High School on Wednesday afternoon by the pianoforte pupils of Mr. George M. Morley. Two pianos were used, the young artists giving their numbers on the program most acceptably. Assisting in the recital was Miss Katherine Ricker, contralto, who gave two numbers of five selections greatly to the delight of the audience. SELECTMEN'S MEETING.

Committee on Ways and Bridges recommended that the pole be moved to the lot line on the northerly side. The report was accepted and the clerk was instructed to order the pole so located.

In the matter of locating a water trough on Cambridge street at the triangular plot at Everett avenue, the Town Engineer reported that the town had on hand at this time a section of 30 in. cast iron pipe which could be used for the purpose. It would be necessary to provide a drain from the trough to the catch basin in Everett avenue, the expense of which would probably be about $50. In addition it would be necessary to construct a catch basin to take care of the drip from the trough at a probable cost of about $25. The expense of setting the trough with concrete would be about $50, and for water connections and waste pipe about $10, making a total of $135. In addition it seemed necessary that the space about the trough should be paved with granite blocks which would bring the expense to about $150. Referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges.

The Committee on Ways and Bridges reported concerning the division fence of those 3 yard adjoining property of H. I. Carroll, that Mr. Carroll was considering the matter of leaving the fence down and that the town departments interested had been instructed to clean up the yard.

On the petition of William H. and N. M. Stinson presented April 28, the Town Engineer recommended constructing a new catch basin to be connected with the brick drain now existing in Myrtle street, the expense of which would be $40 to $50. The report was accepted.

A contract was signed with Thos. Quigley, Jr., for the purchase of 1500 tons of crushed stone at 75 cents per ton. The Town Engineer presented a plan of lighting Church street, which was accepted and the recommendations adopted. Referred to the Town Engineer to be carried out.

A report was received from the Superintendent of Streets concerning three plank runways crossing the gutter in Winthrop street, and the matter was referred to the Highway Committee, Superintendent of Streets and the Town Engineer for joint consideration and report to this board.

A request was received from the Hutchinson Leather Machine Co., for the installation of 50 feet of curb stone in front of their building to enable them to finish the sidewalk, together with a report from the Town Engineer and referred to the Highway Committee.

Committee on Street Lights reported on a complaint received May 1st, concerning electric wires running through the trees on property in Lagrange street, that no change seemed to be necessary at present and suggested that the clerk write the complainant that no immediate harm to her trees was to be feared but that if any damage became apparent in the future suggested that she communicate again with the Board. The report was accepted.

On the complaint of Mrs. I. H. Shattuck, 126 Mt. Vernon street, presented May 5th, asking that the electric light pole in front of her premises be relocated, the Committee on Street Lights recommended that the pole be moved westerly a distance of from 15 to 20 feet as might be required to avoid a tree next westerly beyond the present location of the pole. The report was accepted.

The Clerk reported receipt of check which had been transmitted to the Treasurer from Geo. C. Ogden deposit to cover cost of oiling Kidgeheld, Bruce and Edgemoor roads.

A petition was received from E. U. Harrington for permission to build a driveway over the sidewalk from the street at 5 Warren street, to join onto the driveway now being built on the premises. The Town Engineer reported that he had inspected the locality and found that the Warren street sidewalk was in bad repair and that the grade of the walk did not require lowering, so that by constructing a cement apron and a section of cement walk where the driveway would cross the sidewalk Mr. Harrington would have what he required for the entrance to his garage and recommended that the work if done should be at his own expense. Referred to Committee on Ways and Bridges.

A letter was received from the Winchester Water and Sewer Board assenting to the vote of the Board relative to opening streets and requesting that the Highway Department render bills promptly for any repair work which was properly chargeable to the Water and Sewer Department, and the Superintendent of Streets was instructed to render his bills for work monthly.

A petition from Lionel Norman for granolithic sidewalk in front of his premises, 14 Wedgemere avenue, was received and referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges.

The Town Engineer presented a plan for changing the grade of sidewalk on Summit avenue and the matter was referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges with instruction to carry out the arrangement if it could be done at an expense of not exceeding $75 to the Town.

A petition was received from the Arlington Gas Light Company for permission to lay a 4 inch cast-iron-cement-gas main on Wedgemere avenue from the present end 250 feet in a northerly direction; plan of which was submitted with the petition and referred to the Town Engineer.

A letter was received from Mr. Fred Joy asking that the attention of the Edison Company be called to their wires running through the trees on his sidewalk on Washington street which were coming in contact with the limbs and would soon seriously damage the trees unless properly insulated and asking that the Company be not allowed to trim any of the branches.

Mr. Joy also inquired whether the advertising signs on Judkins Pond were on the town land and suggesting that if they were they be ordered removed. The Clerk was instructed to write the Edison Co., concerning Mr. Joy's complaint and to refer his inquiry concerning the signs to the Park Commissioners.

The Clerk was instructed to call the attention of the Metropolitan Water and Sewerage Board to the dangerous position of a guy wire on the derrick recently erected by the contractors who are digging the sewer trench on Cross street.

The desirability of placing an electric light on Cambridge street at the head of Glen road was referred to the Committee on Street Lights.

Warrants were drawn for $2091.02 and $1939.17.

Adjourned at 11 45 p. m.

Clerk of the Board.

NAPOLÉON SAID:-

"Every DELAY gives

OPPORTUNITY for DISASTER"

Any disaster that MIGHT happen to YOU will be softened upon REFLECTION, and the AMOUNT of insurance for which YOUR body is insured, preferably in the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE, of HARTFORD, same being one of the STRONGEST and OLDEST of America's insurance companies.

To die, UNINSURED, is to entail necessary LOSS upon one's FAMILY or ESTATE, or BOTH. AS TIME SLIPS BY, THE COST RISES; if health DEPARTS, -then LIFE insurance is IMPOSSIBLE.

With the MANY forms of INVESTMENT endowment insurance, there is no truth in the fallacious sophism, "HAVE TO DIE TO WIN," as THOUSANDS may be paid you, IN CASH, while living, if you demand this form of insurance.

The only EVIDENCE requisite will be a policy (new terms) granted by the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, which, if you are fortunate to pass a favorable medical examination, may be issued. SEIZE AN OPPORTUNITY and CALL at the MINOT BLOCK, 111 DEVONSHIRE ST., BOSTON, Fifth Floor. (Telephone, Main 357 and 358) asking for B. S. WHO WILL PAY?

Fast on the heels of the locomotive engineers' successful demand for higher wages came the firemen's appeal, with a decision in their favor. The yard men, station hands and all the other railroad employees cannot be expected to smother their ambitions. Moreover, the full crew laws increase in number, with additional expense to the railroad companies.

Nobody believes that the coffers of the railroads are filled from private stores of wealth. Everybody knows whence their incomes flow. The public they serve contributes every penny they receive to be paid out for wages, betterments, dividends and interest. If operating costs absorb the gross income the security holders will suffer in pocket, and suffering turn to other fields of investment. Building must come to a halt and projected improvements be abandoned. But this is unthinkable.

What is to be done?

There may be wastes that can be stopped, but these are of minor consequence. Ideal administration could not make revenues adjusted to one standard of income meet expenditures raised to a notably higher plane. Increased rates putting on the public the new burden, are the sole refuge of the railroads, and the necessity for these will soon be apparent even to the shipping community itself.—From New York Sun.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE.

It is extremely doubtful if Boston has ever before seen such a remarkable series of water illusions as those in "Neptune's Garden of Living Statues" at B. F. Keith's Theatre. This sensational aquatic pantomime and water spectacle, which enters upon its third week of record-breaking business on Monday, has created a veritable sensation throughout New England. Other sensational features of the piece are the drowning of the robber in the mysterious pool, and the arising of the Nereids from the water at the command of Amphitrite. One of the novelties of the week is Tosta Hake and her troupe of Hawaiians, singers and instrumentalists. Other big features will be Billy McDermott, the tramp merry-maker; Du For Boys in a novel act; Julia Nash and her company of players in "Her First Case"; Three Statues, another trio of newcomers; Leya Brice and Lillian Gome, just a couple of kids from school; Mlle. Martha and her Sisters, in "While the boys are away," and the Thomas A. Edison Talking Motion Pictures with all new subjects.

New magazines are out. Buy them in Winchester at Wilson the Stationer.

BOSTON THEATRE.

Once more Denman Thompson's "The Old Homestead" is rejoicing Bostonians with its clean wholesomeness, its beloved melodies and its homely pathos and humor, and the Boston Theatre is playing to capacity houses nightly with admirers of this ever popular play.

The production is in its twenty-seventh season, but somehow the same charm lingers and the pictures of New England rural life take the same hold on emotions as in the years gone by.

The part of Uncle Josh is in the capable hands of Edward L. Snader, and the lovable old soul, with his quaint humor and kindly shrewdness, is well portrayed.

The supporting company is excellent in every particular. Mrs. Maggie Breyer as Aunt Matilda could not be improved upon. Miss Minnie Stansil as Rickett Ann and Earl Redding as Eb Ganzy are as happy go lucky a pair of mischievous youngsters as one would wish to see. Walter F. Kelley and Charles Clark as Cy Prime and Seth Perkins, the "boys" who have quarreled for thirty years and finally bury the hatchet in the woodpile, are both admirable, and Fred Clare's Happy Jack is an excellent bit of acting. All the minor parts were well taken care of.

PARK THEATRE.

All New England is talking about the tremendous success of "The Blindness of Virtue," which will start upon the fourth week of its engagement at the Park Theatre, Boston, next Monday evening. This year has been one of conspicuous triumphs at the Park. No play that has crossed the Atlantic in years has pleased Bostonians so greatly as "The Blindness of Virtue," and people have gone to see it again and again, so thoroughly have they been pleased by this fascinating production. To give America the best possible presentation of this powerful play, William Morris imported the whole company from London. A. Holmes-Gore is thoroughly admirable as the English vicar, and others who share the honors are Paul Hansel, John May, Dorothy Rundell, Pollie Emery, Florence Le Clerq, Lois Emery and Madge Murray. With such a cast it is easy to understand why "The Blindness of Virtue" has made so conspicuous a success in Boston during the past three weeks, and why it promises to continue without loss of favor for some time to come.

BIBLE STUDY ON

THE SOWING AND THE REAPING.

Genesis 42—May 13.

"Whoever sows a seed, shall also reap."—Galatians 6:7.

THE story of Joseph and his brethren continues. Today's lesson illustrates how the remembrance of their cruelty toward their brother Joseph harassed the evil-doers long years after. Our Golden Text seems to lay down a principle. Whatever anybody sows intelligently will bring a harvest of similar kind.

The famine-stricken region included Palestine. Word spread that there was no lack of food in Egypt, and that corn of the old stock was sold there at moderate prices. Jacob directed his sons, men of families, to go down to Egypt and purchase wheat.

As strangers, they were directed to Joseph. Through an interpreter, he inquired whether they were spies, coming to see how much corn there was in Egypt, that they might bring an army to steal it.

They explained truthfully. Joseph then inquired about Jacob and Benjamin. Finally he put Simeon into prison, and sent the others home with corn, telling them that they would need more and might have it provided that they brought their youngest brother with them.

The guilty consciences of the brethren connected these experiences with their own wrong course in the past. They said to one another, "We are verily guilty concerning our brother, when we saw the anguish of his soul, when he besought us and we would not hear; therefore is this distress come upon us." They knew not that Joseph understood them, but he with drew and wept. His heart was not hard. He was merely giving them a profitable lesson.

Many Stripes and Few Stripes.

When Jacob's sons arrived with the wheat, they told their experience to their father. Moreover, they were perplexed to find that the money paid for the wheat was returned in each sack. Their minds continually reverted to the crime of years ago. Many times had they reaped crops of sorrow and surmises respecting what God might not exact from them in the nature of trouble, similar to what they had brought upon Joseph.

How advantageous it would be if this principle were generally recognized—that every trespass must receive a just recompense of reward! We have lost such an appreciation of justice and such a looking for retribution because of a very false doctrine which prevails. That false doctrine ascribes only one punishment for every sin, and that an unthinkable one—eternal torment. Few really believe that doctrine or are really influenced by it. Its monstrosity makes it unbelievable, and turns the mind aside from the proper view of the punishments which God has foretold.

Humility cannot improve upon the Divine arrangement. Hence all Christians should begin afresh to tell the world of both the Justice and the Love of God—that God's penalty against sin is death, but that He has provided through Christ for release from that penalty, during Christ's Millennial reign. Then all mankind will be granted full opportunity of reconciliation with God and of restoration to God's image and likeness, lost by Adam's sin.

Jacob's Gray Hairs For Sheol.

When Jacob heard that Benjamin must go on the next expedition for wheat, he protested vigorously. Joseph was gone, and if now he should lose Benjamin, the grief would bring down his gray hairs to Sheol—the tomb—the death state.

In the Common Version Bible Sheol is repeatedly translated Hell, Pit and Grave. In older times these three words were synonymous. When the Revised Version was in preparation the learned men charged with that work refused to translate Sheol by the word Hell, which has lost its original meaning and has come to mean a place of torture. No such meaning attaches to the Hebrew word Sheol. So these scholars decided to leave Sheol and its Greek equivalent Hades untranslated.

Our Baptist friends have recently met with a similar difficulty, and have translated these words as "the Underworld." Of course the grave, the tomb, the death state, may be thus indicated, and none can find fault.

It is needless to say that Jacob did not mean his sons to understand that he expected to go to eternal torment. His meaning evidently is: "My sons, I am old and gray. To lose my youngest son would hasten my death—bring my gray hairs down to Sheol—the tomb."

Our Golden Text Lesson.

Although St. Paul made a general observation that we reap what we sow, the context applies his words directly to the Church. Consecration to be dead with Christ is not sufficient. God cannot be trifled with. If God has entered into a covenant with us, nothing else than our agreement will stand.

"To lose Benjamin will bring my gray hairs down to Sheol."

ANNIVERSARY MEETING OF THE TEMPERANCE UNION.

In many respects the celebration of the thirty-seventh anniversary of the Winchester W. C. T. U. at Mrs. Forsyth's 33 Oxford Street, May 9, was a memorable occasion. The beautiful afternoon, the pleasant place of meeting, and the large number present gave just the right setting for the inspiring, helpful and beautiful exercises of the day. Listening to these exercises one could begin to feel the power for righteousness exerted by the "great white ribboned army of the mothers of the land."

The Bible reading which emphasized the thought of the casting out of demons and the prayer for youths in college that they might know the worth of abstinence were followed by Mrs. Weber's beautiful songs "Mother's Bible" and "Mother's Mine."

One has spoken of the striking way in which the different parts of the program supplemented each other. First of all there was the gracious presence of the state president, Mrs. Katherine Lent Stevenson, and her warm words of encouragement as she reviewed recent events in the temperance field, and gave us "joy on all the years of service."

Then Mrs. Rolfe, the county president, with the strength and sunny benignity of her many years, recalled the early days of organized temperance work and added her benediction. Our own President, Mrs. Hamilton, briefly reviewed the history and work of the Union for the past thirty-seven years.

Four new members came forward to sign the pledge and receive the tiny white bows from the hands of Mrs. Stevenson. Most impressive was the joining of the little girl whose mother wished her to begin now to wear the badge. She will always remember the simple words of explanation and the blessing with which Mrs. Stevenson pinned on the bow.

Delegates from many surrounding towns were present. Each arose as her name was called, spoke words of greeting, and was seated amid the hand-clapping of the audience. Our oldest member, Mrs. Blood, spoke words of wisdom and of cheer.

The Union showed the breadth of its sympathies by contributions to the state work and to the World's Mission Fund and its faithfulness to the need which lies nearest by plans for helping a member who is suffering.

After the formal exercises were over, came the hour of fellowship and sociality while partaking of the refreshments the hostess so generously provided.

The members went to their homes, thinking not only of the good time enjoyed, but also of the privilege of having a part in the great, much needed, and noble work of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

How many things are happening in these days to encourage friends of temperance.

There is Secretary Bryan's dinner to the British ambassador with only grape juice and mineral water in place of wine. His fearless stand for temperance at the start will make it easy to give dinners with no wine for the rest of his term of office. It will be easy for others in high official circles to follow the fashion which the Secretary of State has set. It will encourage everyone, in no matter what station in life, to be true to principle on all occasions.

The Vice-President is as strong a believer in total abstinence as Mr. Bryan himself. Mrs. Marshall, the wife of the Vice-President, when interviewed recently, stated: "I have never served liquor at any dinner I have ever given and I do not intend to do so now, whether it is a state dinner or one for personal friends."

Another encouraging fact is the order given by Secretary of War Garrison, that there shall be no license in the Panama Canal Zone for the coming year.

The thirty-five saloons now licensed there will be obliged to close their doors. It certainly seems as though more and more people were coming to see the wrong of liquor drinking and the safe and right way of total abstinence.

Suffered Awful Pains From Stomach Trouble

Sick Three Months—Could Eat Nothing—Only Relief Was Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

Read what Mrs. May T. Bartlett, of Salem, Mass., says in a recent letter: "I shall never be without Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy again. When I wrote for a sample bottle I was suffering badly with my stomach and from constipation. I could eat hardly anything and I would have awful pains. I was down sick for three months that summer and could take nothing but gruel and beef tea. I am now on my second bottle of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. My stomach is better, my bowels move freely. I used to have severe headaches but do not now. Not only has it helped me, but four of my friends who have been troubled with constipation are using it and have been benefited."

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy has had 40 years of wonderful success in Kidney, Liver and Blood troubles. A physician's prescription, formerly used in his large private practice, and now prepared for general use. Write today for free sample and booklet of valuable information. NEWSY PARAGRAPHS.

Mrs. Celia Kenneally, Mrs. Isabelle McKenzie and the Misses Mary and Elizabeth Ryan attended the meeting of the Subsidiary Council of the Irish National Foresters at the Quincey House, Boston, Sunday, May 11, 1913, when some very important business concerning the local branch was settled.

A long freight train, Boston bound, was stalled in the center on Wednesday morning by the pulling out of a drawbar. The coupling and front timbers of the car were pulled out. Fortunately the air brakes acted immediately, which stopped the train before the car wheels struck the obstruction between the rails. The train was split to allow the use of the center crossing while the broken parts were removed, and the rear of the train pulled onto the siding at Swanton street by another engine.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING.

The Board Considers Many Matters of Interest to Town.

May 19, 1913.
The Board met at 7.30 p. m. present Messrs. Pike, Brown, Davidson and Jewett. Mr. Pike presided.

It was deemed unnecessary to take any action at present in the matter of a new location for a Town Dump and the matter was dismissed from the docket.

The Town Treasurer reported the issuance of the following notes of the Town signed by a majority of the Selectmen, May 14th, 1913, and due December 15th, 1913, namely: No. 18, $15,000; No. 19, $15,000; No. 20, $10,000; No. 21, $10,000; payable to the order of First National Bank, Boston, at 4 1/2 per cent. interest; and the issue was approved.

A letter was received from Richard R. Flynn, Deputy Commissioner State Aid and Pensions, approving payment of $6 per month state aid from May 1st for four months to a petitioner for the same, the payment to be discontinued after the August payment unless a new report shows a continuance of the aid to be required. Mr. Flynn also suggested that it might be proper to investigate whether the applicant was under guardianship. Referred to the Committee on State Aid.

A letter was received from Vincent Brogan, Treasurer N. E. Fireworks Co., and referred to the Committee on Licenses applying for license for the manufacture and storage of fireworks.

Voted, that the Chief of Police be, and he hereby is, authorized to make arrangements for the installation of two signal boxes one to be placed at or about the corner of Mt. Pleasant street and Highland avenue and one near the corner of Lebanon and Washington streets.

Notice was received from the Fort-nighly that they were proposing to discontinue the rental of the piano in the Town Hall and the Clerk was instructed to notify the Superintendent of Schools that he might make other arrangements for a piano for the graduation exercises.

Ordered, That the preparation of serving food stuffs in any of the dressing rooms of the Town Hall is hereby prohibited.

The matter of installing a dumb waiter connecting with the new kitchen at the Town Hall was referred to the next Board.

A letter from Chief of Fire Department submitting a list of locations for new hydrants and list of hydrants now connected with the low service that should be connected with high service; also adding suggestions as to locating hydrants. The recommendations made by the Engineer were ordered transmitted to the Water and Sewer Board and the subject matter was referred to the Committee on Fire Department.

A letter was received from the Chief of the Fire Department transmitting the resignation of M. J. Quigley as Captain of Hose 3 and it was Voted, that the action of the Chief in accepting the resignation of M. J. Quigley as Captain of Hose 3 Company be approved. The appointment of a successor was referred to the Committee on Fire Department.

The matter of request for a report on the general condition of all electric poles throughout the Town, referred to the Town Engineer early in 1912, was dismissed from the docket.

A letter was received from the County Commissioners, reporting that Pond street seemed to be in a very satisfactory condition but that there was a little matter about which their Engineer would confer with Mr. Hinds or Mr. Stiles relative to the width of the roadbed opposite the ledge near the State road. Referred to Committee on Ways and Bridges.

A letter was received from the Superintendent of Streets estimating the cost of fence between Lane and Jeremiah O'Connell and the Swanston Street Fire Station. The Clerk reported that the estimate had been transmitted to Mr. O'Connell with request of deposit of one-half of this amount. Mr. O'Connell appeared before the Board and paid this amount and the Superintendent of Streets was instructed to proceed with the work of constructing the fence.

In the matter of proposed location of a street light on Cambridge street at the head of Glen road, the Town Engineer was asked to fix upon a location for such a light.

Mr. Fred N. Kerr applied by telephone for permission to construct a granolithic driveway across the sidewalk in front of No. 1 Lakeview road. Referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges.

A letter was received from the Edison Electric Illuminating Co. on its petition now before the Board for a conduit to be laid on Pond street stating that by the first of this week they would have completed Cambridge street in Winchester, Arlington and Woburn so that the only work unfinished on their line between Boston and their Woburn station would be Pond street. Referring to the objection of this Board to immediate work on Pond street they had consulted with their Engineers and found that their line was to be laid at the extreme limit of the travelled way and would not in any way affect the macadam part of this street, that furthermore their agreement and bond required them to leave the street in a manner satisfactory to the authorized officers of the Town; as further delay would mean that the work would be completed on both ends but incomplete in the middle, they wrote to ask whether this Board will allow them to proceed with the work. The matter was referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges to lay out a plan for the location of a conduit in the sidewalk and it was Voted, that the Edison Company be granted permission to lay their conduit on Pond street in accordance with such plan to be submitted by the Town Engineer and accepted by the Committee on Ways and Bridges in behalf of this Board.

On the petition of the Edison Electric Illuminating Co., of Boston, for location of three poles on Loring avenue, southerly from Cross street required for locating a street light a hearing was declared open at 8 p. m. in accordance with notice sent to all abutters. The Town Engineer and the Committee on Street Lights had approved the location. Mr. Howard appeared for the petitioner.

FISHERMEN HAD

GREAT SUCCESS.

The Charles A. Lane fishing party returned to Winchester on Monday after enjoying one of the best trips which this genial gentleman has yet conducted. The party went to the Stevens Camp at Spencer Narrows. Included in the party were Mr. Charles A. Lane, Mr. Charles A. Gleason, Mr. Arthur A. Kidder, Mr. Elbridge K. Jewett and Mr. Loring Gleason of Winchester and Messrs. Goss, Gray and Kithell of neighboring cities. Upon their arrival at noon the first day, 15 square tailed trout were caught from the wharf in front of the camp in three and a half hours. At the end of the first day's fishing on the lake so many fish had been caught that all which were not hurt were thrown back, the party having many more than they could possibly dispose of. In fact the fish bit so easily, and were caught in such large numbers, that on the following day the party went back to Mr. Lane's Camp, where they spent the remainder of the time, having lost interest in the fishing.

Of Mr. Lane's catch he retained 17 fish weighing 68 pounds, averaging 4 pounds each. His largest fish weighed 9 pounds. The gentlemen retained from their catch the following number: Mr. Goss 7, Mr. Gray 5, Mr. Loring Gleason 8, Mr. Kithell 9, Mr. Kidder 3, Mr. Jewett 3, Mr. Charles Gleason 11—one of 8 1/2 pounds. The total of 60 fish retained amounted to 240 pounds.

The party were away ten days, and not only enjoyed the best fishing of their lives, but had a very pleasant stay in the Maine woods.

JUNE BREAKFAST.

The annual June Breakfast of the Visiting Nurse Association will be given on the morning of June 7th, in the Town Hall.

The people of the town have been very willing to help in every way and most generous in their contributions and the workers feel confident that the June Breakfast of 1913 will be the most successful ever given in aid of the Association.

Winchester boys are busy selling tickets in all part of the town and an orchestra will furnish good music from six until nine.

A full list of those having tables and their assistants, and of the other helpers will be published in the STAR of June 6th.

SATURDAY'S GAME.

Saturday, May 24th, the base ball team will play Dedham A. A. on Manchester Field. This team is a member of the Norfolk County League, and as the season has not opened yet we were able to secure them for Saturday.

They come here booked as a strong team, able to give us a good argument, so come down and see what they are going to do to us.

EVENTS BY SCHOLARS.

Folk Dancing and Concert by High School Chorus.

This evening and tomorrow afternoon will witness three important events by the scholars in the public schools. The event this evening will be the concert in the assembly hall at the High school by the high school chorus and orchestra. The program has been carefully arranged and will contain some very exceptional selections for such a musical. Assisting the orchestra and chorus will be Miss Gretchen Avery, Miss Esther Cutting, Mr. Charles Downer and Mr. James Penahagan.

The other event, which is given this afternoon, will be repeated for the parents of the children in the first to ninth grades tomorrow, Saturday afternoon in the Town Hall at three o'clock. This consists of gymnastic and folk dancing demonstration, and the program is made up of sixteen numbers given by boys and girls of the various grades. Among the numbers is a Mother Goose Dance, Scotch Reel, Military Drill, School Room Dancing, Desk Apparatus Work, etc.

No doubt both of these affairs will be attended with much interest by the parents of the various pupils taking part.

MRS. MARGARET LOVEJOY WEBER RESIGNS.

Mrs. Margaret Lovejoy-Weber, for two years Director of Music and Pastoral Assistant at the First Congregational Church, has sent the following letter of resignation to the Committee:

Winchester, Massachusetts
May 19, 1913.

To the Music Committee of the First Congregational Society of Winchester:

Gentlemen:—
It has seemed to me, upon reflection, expedient that I should resign my position as Musical Director of the Society, and I hereby tender my resignation of the position, to take effect July 1, 1913.

I do this without having any other work or engagement in view, and with a hearty and grateful appreciation of the generous and loyal support and cooperation of the young people with whom my principal work has been put forth, and a kindly good will toward the general membership of the church and parish.

Very truly yours,
Margaret L. Weber.

In response to this letter, Mrs. Weber received the following:

Mrs. Margaret L. Weber
Winchester, Mass.

Dear Mrs. Weber:—
The Music Committee have carefully considered your communication of the 10th inst. and have voted to accept your resignation as Musical Director to take effect the first of July, next, as you desire, with the assurance on the part of the Committee, however, that your compensation shall extend through the vacation month then following.

In taking this action the Committee recognize the ability and tireless energy that have characterized your work, and they further desire to express the general appreciation of the efforts that have given to so many inspiration for musical attainment and helpful endeavor. In giving up your duties here you will carry with you, wherever you may go, the regard and cordial good will of this Church and Parish.

Very truly yours,
F. V. Wooster,
Henry C. Ordway,
Reeve Chipman,
Music Committee of the First Congregational Society, Winchester, Massachusetts.
May 20, 1913.

Mrs. Weber says: "I greatly regret to leave Winchester. It is a most beautiful spot. I love the people. They have been mother and brother and sister to me. I have thoroughly enjoyed my work with the young people and children. My visits with the old and sick have been a source of inspiration. My only desire is that the work will grow steadily on and that the spirit will grow more and more beautiful."

Mrs. Weber will spend the summer months at Frankfort, Michigan, where she has charge of the music in the National Summer Assembly of Congregational Churches.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE LAWN PARTY.

ACCUSATION UNTRUE.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

My attention has been called to an article, published in your paper of May 16th, signed, "An Anti-Suffragist," in which the Reverend Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, President of the National Woman Suffrage Association, is referred to as a "past mistress of insult and slander." I protest strongly against the use of your columns for anonymous statements of this nature. The accusation is absolutely untrue, but it is so misinformed as to believe she is uttering the truth in so referring to Dr. Shaw or for that matter to any other person, the very least she can do is to make the statement over her own signature.

I assume your contributor refers to Dr. Shaw's recent address to Congress in which she spoke of the vicious interests hiding behind the Anti-Suffragists. It is quite probable that these ladies do not yet know that in the recent campaign in Michigan the insertion of their advertisement in the papers was paid for by the Macomb County Retail Liquor Dealers' Association. Many instances of this sort are the basis for Dr. Shaw's statements. If the Anti-Suffragists object to having their allies mentioned, they have a remedy at hand. Let them cease fighting to maintain a state of affairs so eminently satisfactory to liquor dealers and all other corrupt interests. All over the world the men who profit by the vices of humanity are bitterly opposed to Woman Suffrage. These men are the allies of Anti-Suffrage, perhaps unwelcome, but still fighting the same battle. To say so is neither "insult" nor "slander."

Very truly yours,

Elise Wulson,
President Win. Equal Suffrage League.
Clerk Mass. Woman Suffrage Association
41 Calumet road, Winchester.
May 20th, 1913.

SEATS ON BALL FIELD.

Selectman Davidson, a lover of base ball, has taken steps towards looking after the comfort of the people who attend the games on Manchester Field. O. how tiresome it has been for those persons who attend the games to be forced to stand. This has no doubt kept many away. There is the little cage at the back of the pitcher, dignified as the grand stand, to be sure, but it is so small that but few can get into it and besides it is a dangerous place from foul balls, and again it is a great place to polish the shoes of the person who sits "higher up."

Alive to these conditions that prevail on the magnificent field, Selectman Davidson is going to remedy them. He waited on the local Park Commissioners and has received their consent to place two rows of benches on the field, one running to third base and the other to some distance beyond first base. The Park Commissioners had no money to devote to this purpose but nothing daunted Selectman Davidson, on his own responsibility, has arranged to have them installed at a cost of about $50, trusting to the generosity of all lovers of the game to help him out. It is expected to have the seats in place for Saturday's game. Those desirous to help the good work along are asked to send in their mite to Mr. Davidson, and the names of contributors will be printed in the STAR later. Mr. Davidson says that he could easily get the money from three or four citizens, but he wishes to make the giving more extended so that all can have an opportunity to "chip in."

The "kids" as heretofore will be forced to recline on the grass so that the seats will be for the older people. The police will attend to this, also see that the pleasures of all occupying the seats are not marred during the game. The benches will be so built that they can be taken up in the fall and stored.

PRINCESS KIKU.

The members of the H. F. Club will present Princess Kiku, a play in six acts, this Saturday evening in Waterfield Hall. The proceeds will be given in aid of the Winchester Hospital.

Among the young ladies who will take part are the Misses Bertha Kelley, Anna Hefflon, Virginia Mosman, Martha Russell, Ina Brown, Dorothy Farrow, Marguerite Salmarsch, Ruth Elder, Winsome Abbott, Doris Bean, Elizabeth Bird, Nancy Clark, and Alice Allen.

Mrs. Helen Rumsey Smith, who will take the part of O Samira San, will have charge of the songs and dances, and Miss Frances Elder is the coach.

LADIES' FLAG TOURNAMENT.

The ladies' golf at the Winchester Country Club on Tuesday afternoon was a flag tournament in charge of Mrs. Vinal and Mrs. M. F. Brown. Miss Katherine Edgett won the tournament with a handicap of 6. Mrs. George F. Edgett was second with a handicap of 8.

TO CONFER REGARDING POST OFFICE CANDIDATES.

It is reported that Congressman Frederick S. Detrick will visit Winchester this evening to confer with the Democratic Town Committee and the candidates regarding the Postmaster appointment.

As far as known the candidates for the position are James H. Ratch, John F. O'Connor, Whitfield L. Tuck and John F. Donovan, among the Democrats. Assistant Postmaster Ernest W. Hatch, a Republican, is willing to accept the position if the Congressman will forest all party lines and throw the matter over to all comers. In the latter event there are undoubtedly others who would be willing to stand for the position. At the conference Friday night it is expected that the method of selecting the postmaster will be determined, whether by vote of the Democratic Town Committee, or by endorsement by Democrats only or by citizens regardless of party affiliations, or by a caucus. The caucus method has been used here in selecting the postmasters for the past 24 years. The first one to be selected by that method was William F. Fitch, a Republican. His successor, Patrick W. Keardon, a Democrat, was so selected and on the expiration of his term the present incumbent was also chosen at a caucus.

Dr. William Buckley is not a candidate for Postmaster.

SIGMA BETA DANCE.

The Sigma Beta Society held a very enjoyable dance in Waterfield Hall last Friday evening. The hall was very prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns, and favors for the German were Japanese umbrellas and fans. The matrons were Mrs. Frank E. Wellington, Mrs. Frank Carpenter and Mrs. Samuel W. McCalf. About forty couples were present, among whom were: Misses Barbara French, Marian Trutt, Georgia Young, Una Kinsley, Bernice Hallett, Helen Edleson, Ora Wingate, Anna Tindall, Katherine Edgett, Margaret Cummings, Estelle Davis, Isabel Hunt, Sylvia Gutterson, Viola Sullivan, Miriam Foster, Florence Amisen, Barbara Wellington, Dorothy Furish, Gretchen Avery, Constance Park, Miriam Martin, Edith Fenno, Helen Aver, Elizabeth Fiske, Clara Nedringhaus, Frances Foster, Messrs. Edith Barta, Harold Farnsworth, Harold Mover, Ernest Evans, James Flinn, Raymond Young, Robert Barr, Francis Getty, Carlisle Elliott, Edmund Cottle, John Souther, Marshall Symmes, Guy Kinsley, Reginald Clark, Pierce Bufford, Robert Carpenter, Curtis Olmsted, Jim Henry, Kenneth Park.

CHOIR PARTY AT FIRST CONG. CHURCH.

Last evening 75 members of the Choir with several guests enjoyed a collation after the rehearsal. Mr. David Witmer acted as Toastmaster and felicitously introduced the speakers. The speakers were Mr. Henry C. Ordway, Miss Frances Elder, Mr. Arthur W. Hale, Mr. Edward P. Noves read a letter from his sister, Miss Marion McG. Noves. All testified to the deep appreciation of the work done with and by the choir.

Mrs. Margaret L. Weber, the director responded with words of hearty appreciation of the sentiments voiced by the speakers, and expressed her faith in the continued fidelity of the young people in their church life.

Mrs. Lorence Munson-Woodside gave a choice selection of readings; Mr. Shoppshire sang and whistled; Mr. Harold Fultz played the piano and Rev. F. W. Hodgdon, pastor of the church, made brief remarks.

The collation was served by a group of the ladies.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

Knowledge of one's mother language and a wholesome respect for its dignity and purity constitute a commendable beginning toward the attainment of the gentle art of conversation. Indifferent, careless speech is reflective of character, and while some people would hesitate to make honest confession to certain heedless characteristics they allow slipshod speech boldly to flaunt its betraying flag. Not so very long ago it was The Spectator's misfortune to listen for a considerable time to a public speaker here in Winchester who consistently refused to recognize the existence of the final "g" in words like "going," "reading" and "their ilk." Can you fancy any thing much more careless or much uglier than "What you doin'?" Yet that very familiar short cut to pure expression is heard upon the streets of Winchester a dozen times a day. It is not the language of the vulgar, simply the careless, who have drifted into the habit of abusing the King's English because it is easier, just as they stoop and droop their shoulders because of the effort involved in erect carriage. Not long ago The Spectator read a suggestion which quite impressed him. The writer was denouncing the distasteful habit of punctuating every sentence with extravagant expressions—a "perfectly adorable" woman; a "positively frightful" play; a "perfectly agonizing" time; and most offensive of all, a "perfectly killing" man! After getting the reader rated with those meaningless combinations, the suggestion came to repeat the words, "calmness," "peace," "tranquillity," earnestly and thoughtfully several times, noting the soothing, quieting effect; return to the disturbing "agonizing," "frightful" state of mind—then think, offhand, one would pronounce the suggestion an absurdity, but it is open to trial; and nothing else is so convincing. At best, excessiveness in speech does not contribute to nicety of poise, and in our serious moments we know right well that poise is what we must attain if we hope to contribute our little best to the pleasure and entertainment of our fellowmen. The dictionary is full of adjectives and adverbs, timely and expressive. Why clutter one's vocabulary with a burden of superlatives that lend neither dignity nor force to speech? We cannot at will be fluent in conversation, but we can eliminate some of the absurdities that creep in to the detriment of speaker and listener alike. The power of speech is too wonderful, the influence of pure language too wide spread to be lightly cast aside. It is easy to drift into these careless, unattractive habits, but the beauty inherent in simple, pure speech is so eminently pleasing that it would seem the natural path for manly or even womanly instinct to follow.

The clergy here receive good incomes in comparison with the salaries paid to clergymen in some other towns of even larger population. Speaking of ministerial salaries reminds The Spectator of the varied and multitudinous forms in which came the parson's salary in this vicinity a hundred years ago. The Spectator could make a very interesting list of the things and doings on record as clerical pay.

"Wheat clean from all trash" a cart load of fish (to place on the land), tobacco, cider, a barrel of rum, a bucket of potatoes, cheeses, a pig, a calf, copper ore, molasses, white letter paper, old books, beans, squashes, whale oil, a wild turkey.

One parishoner paid his dues by killing the parson's hog; often a day's work was given on the parson's farm or garden. It had one. One parson declared that for years not a penny had been paid him in coin. Grain of various sorts was the chief form of payment, and wearily did the poor man exchange his cartloads of corn for other necessities of life. The parson in a rural district had to practice a thousand petty economies to eke out his uncertain income. He and his family wore homespun and patched clothing. His wife knitted woolen mittens and stockings, which she sold at the country store. She unfortunately could not make shoes, and to keep the family shod was a serious drain on the clerical purse. The pastors of seaboard and riverside parishes set nets, like the apostles of old and caught fish with which they fed their families. They set snares and traps and caught birds and squirrels and hares to replenish their tables, and from the skins of the rabbits and woodchucks and squirrels the wives made tur caps for the husbands and for the children.

Some persons could not afford to use candles. In the home of one well known minister the wife always knitted, the children cowered and studied and the husband wrote his sermon by the flickering light of a pine knot with his scraps of sermon paper placed on the side of the great leathern bellows as it lay in his lap. Every parson raised vegetables to supply his table. One minister, prevented by illness from planting his garden, complained that save for a few rare gifts of vegetables his family had no green thing all summer save the summer succession of wild berries and mushrooms.

In winter the parson's family fared poorly; one minister declared that they had nothing but mush and milk, with occasional "cracker johnny cakes," all winter and that he not once tasted meat in that space of time save at a funeral or ordination supper.

Economy in housekeeping worked wonders with the small salary and supplies. Dr. Dwight declared that on a salary of $220 a year Mr. Weld of Attlebury brought up 11 children, kept a hospitable house and gave liberally in charity to the poor. The minister's loads were expected to be always of good "hard wood." One thrifty parson while watching a farmer unload his yearly contribution, remarked, "Isn't that pretty soft wood?" "And don't we sometimes have pretty soft preaching?" was the sharp answer. In some towns a day was appointed which was called a "wood spell," when it was ordered that all the wood be delivered at the parson's door; and thus the farmers had a cheerful midwinter gathering. Rev. Stephen Williams of Longmeadow made a note of the "wood spellings" in his diary in 1757: "Neighbors sledded wood for me and shewed a good humour. I rejoice at it. The Lord bless them that are out of humour and brot no wood."

The wood did not always come in when it was needed. One November Sunday Rev. Mr. French of Andover gave out this notice in his pulpit: "I will write two discourses and deliver them in this meetinghouse on Thanks giving day, provided I can manage to write them without a fire."

It was a universal custom to allow free pasturage for the minister's horse, for which the village burial ground was assigned as a favorite feeding ground. Sometimes this privilege of pasturage was abused. In Plymouth in 1789 Rev. Chandler Robbins was requested "not to have more horses than shall be necessary."

IMPROVEMENTS IN TOWN HALL.

Those of our people who have visited the Town Hall recently, have noticed that the selectmen have been devoting considerable attention to the matter of re-arranging the building to provide for the better carrying on of the town's business, proper kitchen facilities and the improvement of sanitary conditions.

In the basement an office has been fitted up for the Superintendent of Streets and he has taken possession. While he could use more room to advantage, yet he can now carry on his department with a reasonable degree of comfort.

A most important change is the removal of the toilet rooms at the foot of the central basement stairs the opening up of a continuous passage from that point to the rear of the boiler-room permitting direct access to the office of the Milk and Building Inspectors, making a far more convenient, sanitary and sanitary arrangement.

Those who have had occasion to use the Town Hall for collations and banquets have felt that some satisfactory kitchen accommodations should be provided, there have been practically none heretofore, it being necessary to carry on whatever cooking arrangements have been necessary in the women's dressing room, an arrangement inconvenient and unpleasant. Heretofore it has seemed almost impossible to remedy this condition without re-constructing the Town Hall but the selectmen have now worked out a scheme which will answer the purpose and furnish very good accommodations until a general rearrangement of the building can be made (and this must come before very long as the Town offices are now overcrowded) and the time for this will be when the new Fire Engine House is built and the Police Headquarters combined with it as properly they should be.

A portion of the brick wall has been removed at the foot of the western stairway near the women's dressing room, where a partition has been erected and a roomy kitchen constructed, which now contains a sink with long drain boards, and in which the Arlington Gas Light Company, without any expense to the town, is to install a Cabinet Greenwood Range complete with overhead oven and warming oven and an Automatic Water Heater for giving instantaneous hot water, all equipped with a pre-pavement meter.

This action of the Gas Company is one which citizens will much appreciate. It can hardly be expected that the return from the use of the equipment will be sufficient to pay the company for installing it for that purpose alone, but the Company, through its President, Mr. Clarke, esteemed as one of our former citizens, very promptly responded to the suggestion of the selectmen in this regard.

The sink has been removed from the women's wash room and extra toilet arrangements have been provided; the room has been cleaned and the selectmen have forbidden the preparing or serving of any food whatever in this room.

The only objection to the present arrangement is that in using the kitchen it will be necessary to travel over the stairs, but the advantages of the arrangement will more than offset this inconvenience and it is believed that the new arrangement is the best possible under the circumstances.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle is a wizard at the writing of short stories and plays. He proved this with "Sherlock Holmes," and he will prove it again at the Castle Square next week, when John Craig will present "The Fires of Fate," for the first time in Boston.

For the first time in Boston, when John Craig will present "The Fires of Fate," for the first time in Boston. What a man do when he discovers that he has only a year to live? That is the theme, and it is worked out sensibly and logically to a rational conclusion and a happy ending. The cast will give an effective interpretation of the drama, and there will be special stage settings of exceptional scenic beauty. The hero will be played by William P. Carleton, and Mr. Meek, Mr. Ormonde, Mr. Roberts, Miss Shirley, Miss Colcord and Miss Laurett Browne will be seen in the other leading roles.

On the reception committee at the ninth annual observance of the organization of the Medford Lodge of Elks, held in the Lawrence armory Monday night, was Exalted Ruler William J. Daly of this town.

Newsy Paragraphs.

At the present time there seems to be a good-natured rivalry between progressive towns of respectable proportions to make "our town" a good place to live in. On every hand can be found evidence of this commendable spirit being fostered—the observance of social amenities, the support of church and school, the beautifying of home and environment, and other things conspiring to that end. This is indeed well.

The Winchester post office is in the second class. There is no doubt the office will go on the civil service list within a year, but it will not affect the appointment of a postmaster at the present time to succeed Mr. Richardson whose resignation was announced last week.

LOCAL TAXATION.

No. 4.

INTANGIBLES.

The former articles have treated of the taxation of land, buildings, and tangible or visible personal property, and this article will treat of the taxation of intangible personal property, or that which may easily be concealed. In the very earliest times property consisted chiefly of cattle and land, and in later years precious metals and jewels were added, and later still money on hand or at interest, and in more recent years corporation stocks and bank in great amount and variety, so that the taxation of personal property has steadily grown more difficult. Practically every nation in the world has tried the general property tax, but in so far as it has been applied to intangibles, it has proved unjust, unsatisfactory and a failure. Some nations have had the most severe laws, even allowing citizens to be tortured, in order to make them reveal personal property; but all such attempts have failed, and in all ages, intangible property has for the most part been concealed, in spite of any and all laws. Nearly all European countries have long since abandoned the general property tax, and make use of more specific and practical methods. The early settlers in this country brought with them the idea of the general property tax, and in some of the States Massachusetts among them, the idea still prevails. In this state it is estimated that four-fifths of the intangible personal property escapes taxation, and local Assessors are frequently blamed for this condition, but students of taxation understand the difficulty and folly of attempting to apply the general property tax to intangibles. In Winchester since 1909 there has been an increase in population of about 36 per cent, and an increase in personal property, (mostly intangible) of 218 per cent, a seemingly sufficient proof of the inability and care of the Winchester Assessors in this respect.

The State Commission on taxation of 1907 said: "The Assessors are confronted with a task which the best of them could not execute satisfactorily," and the Commission of 1908 reported: "It can be said of the tax officials of our Commonwealth that their work shows zealous and faithful performance of duty."

The Tax Commissioner in his report of 1911 said: "The performance of the duty laid on boards of Assessors, is in part an impossible task, and the wonder is not that so little of such property (intangible) is actually assessed but that so much is found by them." In applying the general property tax to intangibles, the chief difficulty encountered is the natural disposition to evade taxation whenever possible, and in this case it is claimed such evasion is not entirely without reason, for stocks and bonds are merely paper evidences of property such as deeds and mortgages, and the property itself being taxed where it exists, the taxing of the stocks or bonds is double taxation, which is regarded as wrong in principle and hence the evasion. To illustrate, suppose two men living in this town own real estate: just over the line in New Hampshire. We could not tax them for such property, or the income from it, the property being taxed in N. H. Now suppose these two men form a corporation under N. H. laws, the corporation would then hold the deed of the property and the men would hold the stock of the corporation. The property would be taxed as before in N. H., but the men would also be taxed here for the full value of the stocks, although they have nothing more than they had before, except a few pieces of paper. Another reason for evading this law is because of its inequalities; for one person may have a lot of securities paying no income, another person an equal amount paying five per cent, and a third person an equal amount paying ten per cent yet these are all taxed alike regardless of incomes. Another reason for evasion is because the tax takes so large a part of the income, for the best securities yield an income little if any over forty dollars per thousand, and if taxed eighteen or twenty there is little income left. Of the methods of evasion little need be said, as these are already sufficiently well known. The Commission of 1908 reported, "that the concentration of intangible property in a few of the towns has now proceeded so far, as to constitute one of the gravest problems confronting the Commonwealth."

Surprise is sometimes expressed that people who are known to have large amounts of personal property or income are taxed for a comparatively small amount, but this is explained by the fact that under our laws certain forms of income and securities are exempt from local taxation.

The filing of an inventory of an estate in the Probate Court, sometimes shows that the owner, although paying a good sized tax, yet paid on only a part of what he possessed. Experience shows that if the Assessors had attempted to tax him for the full amount, the property would quickly have disappeared and the town would have lost even the tax formerly paid. An Assessor must use great discretion, for he may "kill the goose that lays the golden egg" and zeal without wisdom, may result in a higher instead of a lower tax rate.

The International Tax Association, composed of tax officials, economists, and students of taxation, at its meeting in 1909 appointed a committee of its ablest members to investigate and report as to the effectiveness of the general property tax, and in acting on this report the Association adopted several resolutions, of which I quote the last. Resolved, That the failure of the general property tax in its application to personal property, is due to the inherent defects of its theory; that even reasonably fair and effective administration is unattainable; and that attempts to strengthen such administration simply accentuate the inequalities, and unjust operation of the system. It must be evident to everyone familiar with the general property tax law of our State, that these laws are in need of immediate and thorough revision, and we should profit by the experience of other states and nations.

As to the remedy, I believe in the abolition of the present tax on intangibles, and in place of it a graded income tax levied by the State on all incomes in excess of $1000. I believe the tax on real estate would be sufficient for all city or town expenditures, that a graded income in a graded inheritance tax, and some minor taxes should be sufficient for state, county, and metropolitan purposes, and the national government should obtain sufficient income from the tariff, the internal revenue, and the corporation tax. Taxation is our greatest problem, and every good citizen should be interested in it, and if in what I have written I have helped any one to a better understanding of the subject, I shall be amply repaid for the effort.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Next week Friday will be Memorial Day, and Mr. John T. Wilson, Commander of the local Post, has perfected all the arrangements, he being assisted by Comrades Henry Smalley, S. H. Brookings, W. C. Haskins and Henry J. Richburg. The coming Sunday evening members of the Post will listen to a sermon in the Church of the Epiphany by Rev. Mr. Dewar.

On Memorial Day the Post will form on Mt. Vernon street at 2.15 p. m., at G. A. R. Hall and under escort of the Woburn Mechanic Phalanx, Capt. Frederick C. Kean, will receive the officials at the Town Hall.

Order of procession will be through Washington, Main, Church, Fletcher and Wildwood streets to Wildwood Cemetery, where the graves will be decorated. Gen. S. C. Lawrence Camp 54, Sons of Veterans, of Medford, have kindly volunteered to assist the Post, in the decoration of graves. Music by National Band of Woburn.

At 7.15 p. m. the comrades will assemble at G. A. R. Hall and at 7.30 march to the Town Hall to attend services.

Comrade Frank B. Cressey of Cambridge, a brilliant orator, will deliver the address. At these exercises music will be rendered by the children of the public schools, under the direction of Mr. Ernst Makechnie.

These exercises will be of much interest and the public is urged to attend. The children have been thoroughly drilled and it is expected that their singing will be very enjoyable.

Commander Wilson, in general orders, says:

It has very appropriately been said by a former Commander-in-Chief of our organization that "The Grand Army of the Republic with its proud record of more than forty years has stood a living monument dedicated to the memories of the boys of 1861-1865, whose heroic service, deeds of valor and splendid achievements on the field of battle saved and preserved the life of the nation, a priceless heritage secured at a cost of the best blood and noblest manhood of the country and untold sufferings and sacrifices."

"The Grand Army of the Republic symbolizes the highest type of true American patriotism, sublimated, idealized, crystallized."

With the heroic memories of the past urging us onward let us meet the sacred duties of the coming Memorial Day with faithfulness, and fall into line with our old time promptness. I appeal to all veterans who can march to join the colors, and for those who cannot march comfortable carriages will be provided.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB.

The special meeting of the Winchester Boat Club will be held at the club house this Saturday evening at eight o'clock. Following the meeting Mr. Vincent Farnsworth will give a talk on the Panama Canal, which is now rapidly nearing completion and furnishes a most interesting subject in the minds of everyone. Mr. Farnsworth has recently returned from a trip to the Canal and during his visit he took many views of the work and interesting portions of the "big ditch." From these pictures, he has made a set of lantern slides expressly for this talk, and as he is credited with being one of our most interesting speakers, the entertainment will prove very attractive to the club members.

The delay in receiving the new war canoe has not deterred Capt. Gerlach from getting his men out for practice. Through the courtesy of the Medford Boat Club the Winchester crew has been granted the use of the Medford second war canoe, and practice is going on three evenings each week. The Winchester canoe is expected daily and will be used at the A. C. A. Meet, May 30th, at Lawrence. There is a good turnout for the crew, and with the present interest it is expected that each of the four boats will have a strong crew.

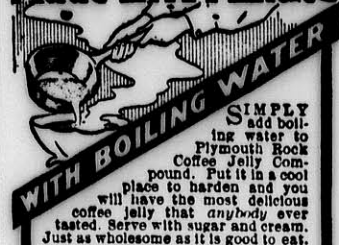

It is understood that the Directors will act upon a dozen or fifteen applications for membership Saturday night, and as there are others which are out, these persons should see that they are in the Secretary's hands at once for action. A new piano with player attachment has been placed in the club this week.

Next Friday being Memorial Day, the STAR will go to press Thursday. Correspondents and advertisers will confer a favor by sending in copy as early in the week as possible.

The Legislature is considering a bill to take down the elevated structure on Main street in Charlestown, and build a subway. Elevated railroads are doomed, and the day is fast coming when these noisy, ugly and light-obstructing structures will be no more. A great mistake was made when the elevated was built in front of the North Station, Boston.

It has been suggested to the STAR that a sign clock might be placed in the centre, greatly to the benefit of the residents and the two electric car lines. The idea is this:—Upon the arrival of trains at Winchester, persons living on the electric car routes must go into stores or ask the crossing tender when their next car departs. To be sure the cars have a scheduled time for departure, but as there is usually a variation of from one to ten minutes, it is said that the majority of these people always try to find out whether their car has left before walking. The suggestion is that the crossing tender set the sign immediately after the departure of a car, indicating that one in the opposite direction is due; when this has gone he will reverse the sign. A sign clock has been suggested, but a sign with simply the two names would probably prove equally good. The idea seems perfectly feasible; the crossing tender, it is said, is usually the only person in the square who can tell how the cars are running, and a sign placed on the pole by his chair would be easily set by him and could be readily seen in the square. There is no question but that many people arrive on the steam trains expecting to take an electric, and not knowing whether their car has gone, or not knowing that it is a little off time, either spend a half-hour waiting, or start and walk, only to have a car pass them before they reach their street. Such a sign would prove of value to both residents and the electric car company. Why not try it?

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

The Middlesex County W. C. T. U. met at the Union Congregational Church, Westford, on May 15.

The spring county convention was especially interesting on account of the addresses of Miss Anderson Hughes of New Zealand and Mrs. K. L. Stevenson, President of Massachusetts W. C. T. U.

Miss Hughes is a brilliant speaker, who has done much stirring campaign work in behalf of temperance, working for years in New Zealand, Australia, and Great Britain, and of late in Canada and the United States. She is spending three weeks in this vicinity, making addresses at many places. The subject of her address was "How New Zealand Grappled the Nettle." "The Nettle" referred to is the liquor traffic. Miss Hughes feels that much of the work accomplished in New Zealand is due to the vote of the women. Many towns and cities have no license. A singular fact is that in New Zealand, a town or city once having no license can never return to license.

Mrs. Stevenson's address was particularly good. She said the prohibitory laws throughout our own country were being enforced today as never before.

A very inspiring county Local Temperance League convention was entertained by the W. C. T. U. of Waltham on Saturday, May 17. Nearly one hundred children from different Leagues of the county were present. Winchester was represented by the superintendent of L. T. L. work, Mrs. Grace M. Hamilton, and eleven children.

UNION CHURCH SERVICES.

After a number of years of effort on the part of those desirous of having in one church in the town during the vacation season a congregation of worshippers of size that can contribute to the inspiration of all—there has been consummated an arrangement on the part of the Baptist, Methodist and Congregational churches whereby during July and August one preaching service in one church will be held morning and evening and one prayer meeting each week upon successive Wednesday evenings.

The schedule for Sundays is as follows:—In the Baptist Church—July 6th, 13th and 20th.

Methodist Church—July 27th, Aug. 3rd and 10th.
Congregational Church—Aug. 17th, 24th, and 31st.

The schedule for Prayer Meetings:

Baptist Church—July 2nd, 9th, and 16th.
Methodist Church—July 23rd, 30th, and Aug. 6th.
Congregational Church—Aug. 13th, 20th, and 27th.

Each Church will provide the preachers when services occur in the respective houses of worship; as also for leaders of the Wednesday evening meetings.

The entire community is asked to note this forward movement effort for the helpful purpose of awakening attention to the observance of divine worship during the vacation months.

MIXED BOWLING TOURNAMENT

Team 1 started on a winning streak last week by taking two points from team 10, one of the previous leaders. The scores were about the average although there were no particularly high strings. Mrs. Flanders rolled the best total for the ladies with 156. The best single was 180, rolled by Mr. Symmes. On this evening another one of the leaders dropped three points, when team 4 lost to team 14. The winners rolled 518 for their best single and 1005 for total, the figures being with handicap. Mrs. Stone rolled the best single for the ladies with 85, and Mrs. Brown the best single with 162. Mr. Carleton rolled the best single with 107 and Mr. Hart the high total with 197.

Friday night saw the leaders still further strengthen their position by winning three points from team 11. These scores were low, although team 6 rolled 514 for its second total. Mr. Newman had the best scores with a single of 111 and a total of 209. On this evening team 13 won three points from team 3. The first string was won by two pins, but the others were by good margins. Mrs. Lane and Mrs. Blank rolled the best totals for the ladies with 135 each. The best single and total for the gentlemen was rolled by Mr. Barron who made 95 and 183.

BASE BALL.

For the first time this year Winchester High was white-washed. It happened at Woburn, last Tuesday afternoon. Woburn making four runs, beyond the fact that Winchester didn't win, it was a great game, full of good holding. The main factor in the defeat was the inability of the Winchester boys to hit Weater. The Woburn twirler, Phinpen registered the only hit made off him in the sixth inning. Usually it was one, two, three order. Sixteen men were victims to his curves.

With the exception of the fifth inning, when Woburn scored three times. Goddu pitched a great game. He fanned ten, and allowed eight hits, three of which came in the fatal fifth.

Penaligan played a good game at first, and Maguire caught well. The batting stars for Woburn were O'Doherty with three hits in three times at bat, and H. Weater with two hits in four times at bat.

The score by innings:

WINCHESTER WON

FIRST GAME.

The baseball season of 1913 opened Saturday, May 17th, the home team winning from the strong Horace Patridge Co. of Boston. This team was a surprise to us as it proved one of the strongest teams we have seen here in two seasons. We tried some new players and the "fans" who saw Benson twirl Saturday saw "one swell pitcher." The catcher also showed up to advantage, although it was the first game he had caught since last season, and as he gets used to Benson's delivery he should improve. The first baseman looked good to us but was sadly in need of practice; he has a good eye for the ball when batting, and he does not go after the bad ones. The rest of the team was the same old crowd of reliable's always there in a "pinch." The features of the game were the batting of Benson and nagger and holding of Morrissey and Murray in the infield.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Next Friday is Memorial Day. How many are they who realize its significance? It should be considered the most sacred public event of the year, and all should unite with the Nation in observing it as such. Memorial Day must have its lessons impressed more and more effectively each year if its true meaning is to reach home with the new generations. The empty coat-vests, bentened toms, gray hats, and all the other marks of old age that now cluster around the marching veterans of this one day of the year, are great lessons in themselves to impress the children of the present time and the new comers from other shores, with the sacrifice and devotion that the men of '61 to '65 showed. Those are the lessons which must lead to larger patriotism and out of the larger patriotism to better citizenship. They are easy to be seen and not difficult to comprehend. But one by one the old veterans will pass on. Watch him today with reverence and view his passing with respect, for he is the strongest link between the largest devotion that the American citizen has ever shown and the largest responsibility that the present American citizen will ever know.

It should be impressed upon all classes of people, especially the boys and girls. Fathers and mothers should instruct their children while they are yet young in studying the lessons of the war, and of drinking in the inspiration that must come from seeing the men themselves who fought for the preservation and honor of our government.

W. H. A. C. WINS.

The Winchester Highland Athletic Club base ball team won an easy victory at their grounds in Winchester, Highlands, last Saturday afternoon, in Middlesex League game, from the Puritan Club of Somerville, by a score of 7 to 4.

The game was fast and well-played, in spite of a number of errors. White pitched well and was sure in the pinches. He allowed six hits, fanned ten and gave no passes. Mathews caught his usual good game, and Harry Bennett played great ball at second base, catching a number of men stealing in fine style getting six out, one assist and no errors. A feature of the game was a catch by the Highland left fielder.

For the visitors Burnett excelled in fielding. Mathews, Park and Murphy were the batting stars of the contest.

BASE BALL.

Winchester High School easily defeated Stoneham High at Stoneham, last Saturday afternoon, in a Mystic Valley League game, by a score of 5 to 1. The team backed up the pitcher in grand style, only one error being charged up against them. Their batting was not very heavy, but was timely. Penaligan's double in the first inning with two on, practically won the game. Lannon, who pitched for Stoneham, struck out twenty, but was too liberal with his free passes to first.

Goddu, with two hits, was the heavy hitter. Penaligan played a good game at first, as did Plimpen at second, and Salmarsch at third. Two pretty catches were made in the outfield by Freeman and Goldsmith.

The score by innings:

THE JUNE STRAND MAGAZINE.

In the June Strand the two serials—"The Poison Belt," by A. Conan Doyle, and "Unto Caesar," by Baroness Orczy, are continued. "The Woe of Wee MacGregor," by J. J. Bell is concluded. Among the articles is one entitled "Anis and the Artful," by F. Frankfort Moore, which relates some amusing stories connected with the auction picture business. It is well illustrated by Dudley Hardy. "Some Gardening Experiments," by S. Leonard Bastin will fill the amateur with wonder, while "A Revolution in Rowing," by T. H. Briggs, the celebrated mechanical engineer should attract the attention of all oarsmen. George Graves, the English comedian contributes his "Reminiscences," and leading athletes write of their "Best Achievements." There are several valuable scientific articles written in a popular style which should appeal to those who have a "thirst for knowledge."

DEPARTMENT.

Conducted by Winchester League.

Illinois—By a vote of 29 to 15, the Senate has passed the Woman Suffrage bill. Every man pledged was present and voted. This is said to be the first time a suffrage bill has been passed unopposed by either house of the General Assembly. The next day the House Elections Committee reported the measure out favorably, and substituted the Senate bill for House bill there pending.

The most telling cartoon that has come to my notice lately is a picture of a lady styled "Miss Anti-suffragist," completely overcome by the presentation of an enormous bouquet, with profuse thanks, by a smiling obsequious pompous man, labeled "Liquor Interests," followed by others representing "White Slaves," "Vice," etc.

However much the Antis may deplore unwholesome conditions, as we know they certainly do, they cannot escape the knowledge that their companions, and chief abettors in their fight are the "interests" that stand for all that is wicked and deplorable.

The liquor dealers and brewers of Michigan make no secret of their belief that they defeated the suffrage there, by their activity and money—the latter freely poured out. The first vote doubtless represented the will of the best people of the State. The "interest" had not awakened to their danger until they saw the narrow margin by which the measure was defeated—and this defeat, so called, was doubtless caused by fraud.

This roused them and their efforts were the major factor in the defeat of the Suffragists. This movement is, however, evolution and nothing can permanently defeat it—though the powers of darkness may temporarily retard it. The very fact that vicious interests are solid against it is sufficient to draw many thoughtful people into the suffrage ranks. Senator Junt, before radically opposed, surprised the Senate by voting "yes" on the Suffrage bill in Illinois, because, he said, the investigations of the "white slave" traffic had changed his views.

How can high minded Antis explain why all the vicious interests are allied with them against suffrage for women? This is not an assumption but a fact.

What evil opposes has always been considered good.

WINCHESTER OFFICER

CAPTURED BANDIT.

Frank O. Downer, assistant special agent of the Boston & Maine R. R., is much pleased this week over the capture of two Italian bandits wanted for holding up a switch operator at Clinton last April. One of the men was captured by Officer Downer and the other taken through the clever work of Patrolman Thomas F. McCauley, who is receiving much commendation on his capture.

The men were Frank Tedesco, alias Frank Russo, and Tommaso Calambaro, alias Pasquale Daddiallo. On April 24th, they held up and attempted to rob a switch operator, L. H. Kinsley, at what is known as the Clinton switch. The sudden arrival of a train frustrated the attempt, but the bandits fired five shots at Kinsley during their flight.

The men were finally traced to Winchester and it appears that they were lately living on Harvard street. Last Thursday officer Downer caught Calambaro, or Daddiallo, at his lodging house, but Tedesco took alarm and kept away from the place. The Winchester officers were on the watch for him, and on Saturday afternoon officer McCauley learned that an Italian had been seen near the Wedgemere station. He immediately took a train down there and found Tedesco hiding in the toilet room.

Officer Downer was notified of the capture and he came at once to Winchester and took charge of the prisoner, expressing his satisfaction at the prompt and effective work of patrolman McCauley.

Daddiallo was in the Clinton court Friday and was held in $500 bonds for the grand jury, charged with assault with intent to rob.

Patrolman McCauley also caught Stephen Coculo, the Italian wanted for stabbing Thomas McDonough in the abdomen at the gelatine works last week. This man was taken at the Winchester station as he was taking a train for Boston in his attempt to escape. Officer McCauley recognized the man as he was going from one car to another and caught him after a chase about the station. This man was charged with assault with a dangerous weapon, and in the Woburn Court was held in $500 bail.

SEE A PIN AND PICK IT UP.

[See a pin and pick it up.
All the day you'll have good luck;
See a pin and let it lay.
You'll have bad luck all that day.
—Old Rhyme.]

See a pin and pick it up.
You may have the worst of luck;
See a pin and let it lie.
Good luck follows till you die;
For a million germs may lurk
Round the point—a poisoned dirk—
Of that artful little pin
Reeking with bubonic sin.

Microbes cluster 'neath its head.
Cocci grow by fission red;
Dread bacilli wait apace
Just to down the human race:
Pneumococci and its kind
You'll be very apt to find—
Pathogenic evils ripe,
Typhus and its prototype.

Better let that dangerous pin
Lie its unclean bed within.
Else prepare for other spheres
Where you'll not be moved by fears;
But it after all we write.
Superstition holds you quite.
Should you choose to pick it up,
Douse in a Carbolic Cup.
—Cora Belle Bickford.

THE JUNE AMERICAN

MAGAZINE.

In the June American Magazine Ida M. Tarbell, writing about "The Hunt for a Money Trust," describes and criticizes some of the workings of the New York stock market. In the same number Henry K. Pomroy, a former President of the Stock Exchange, replies to Miss Tarbell.

Other interesting serious contributions to the number are: The Reminiscences of Brand Whitlock, Mayor of Toledo, Ohio; "Health and Horse Power," by Dr. Woods Hutchinson; "A Creed of Work for Women," by Laura Drake Gill; "The Joys of the True Walker," by Walter Prichard Eaton; and "The Repertoire Theatre in America," in which the Dramatic Editor of The American Magazine makes a thorough and entertaining report of certain aspects of the business of the stage.

Fiction, notable for its liveliness and reality, is contributed by David Grayson, Arnold Bennett, Stanley R. Osborn, V. H. Cornell, James Francis Dwyer and Louis Graves.

There is a great assortment of humorous material, including contributions by James Montgomery Flagg, Gelett Burgess and Kim Hubbard.

The "Interesting People's department" and "The Interpreter's House" complete a splendid number.

PERSIAN PAGEANT.

The names of Mrs. Edwin Ginn, Mrs. Oren Sanborn and Mrs. John W. Suter are noted among those asked to serve as patronesses of the Persian pageant in aid of the Massachusetts Babies Hospital, an affair to which Mr. and Mrs. Larz Anderson have generously opened their magnificent place, "Wald," in Brookline. The pantomime, which will be the chief event of the pageant will not begin until five o'clock next Tuesday afternoon, while the gates of the place will be opened at three, thus enabling visitors to have a unique opportunity to explore the famous Italian garden and other features of one of the most wonderful of American estates.

The piece itself, which bears the title of Nuzhat-El-Bilad-El-Ajam deals with the adventures of a Persian prince who takes his harem forth on his first birthday to enjoy a rural celebration. The lawn party thus improvised entertains many delegations of congratulating friends, among others being the prince's father, who brings in as a gift a squadron of magnificent stallions from the stables of Peter B. Bradley, Hungarian, a Chinese ambassador who has come overland with camels across the desert of Gobi, and of the Shah of Persia himself. The afternoon is enlivened with the antics of an escaped prisoner who is pardoned early in the performance and who thereafter makes a merry buffoon of himself. The pantomime is the work of Joseph L. Smith, the well known artist, who has prepared many performances of the kind. The Massachusetts Babies Hospital, at Jamaica Plain, in whose aid the affair is undertaken, is very generally considered one of the most important of Bay State charitable organizations.

NAPOLEON SAID:-

"Every DELAY gives

OPPORTUNITY for DISASTER"

Any disaster that MIGHT happen to YOU will be softened upon REFLECTION anent the AMOUNT of insurance for which YOUR body is insured, preferably in the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE, or HARTFORD same being one of the STRONGEST and OLDEST of America's insurance companies.

To die, UNINSURED, is to entail necessary LOSS upon one's FAMILY or ESTATE, or BOTH. AS TIME SLIPS BY, the COST RISES; if health DEPARTS, then LIFE insurance is IMPOSSIBLE.

With the MANY forms of INVESTMENT endowment insurance, there is no truth in the fallacious sophism, "HAVE TO DIE TO WIN," as THOUSANDS may be paid you, IN CASH, while living, if you demand this form of insurance.

The only EVIDENCE requisite will be a policy (new terms) granted by the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, which, if you are fortunate to pass a favorable medical examination, may be issued. SEIZE AN OPPORTUNITY and CALL at the MINOT BLDG. 111 DEVONSHIRE ST., BOSTON, Fifth Floor, (Telephone, Main 3557 and 3558) asking for B. S. "Yes, our new wagon's a Studebaker —the only kind we KNOW"

"The Studebaker idea has been in our family for sixty years. We have never thought of buying any other kind of a wagon."

"It's true, we're continually being offered other wagons costing a little less, with lots of promises as to what they will do. But we know in our family what a Studebaker will do. A few dollars difference in price doesn't mean much. It's the service a wagon gives that we consider most."

"Long service for a fair price means more every time than short service for a few dollars less."

"That's why we stick to Studebaker—and 'Stick to Studebaker' is a pretty good motto for a man who uses wagons."

"Studebaker wagons are built of good stuff. They're made right by people who've had years and years of experience in making them right—people who are trusted the world over."

"Studebaker wagons last, because they're made to last."

"Look out for the dealer who tells you his wagon is just as good as a Studebaker. That's my advice after a good deal of experience—and the experience of all of my people. You get a Studebaker and you've got a safe investment."

Another "Hopeless Case"

He Astonished the Doctors—Recovers Without Operation—Used Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

Mr. James Lettice, of Canajoharie, N.Y., writes:

"Some years ago I was attacked with fearful pains in my back and side. I could not control my kidneys at all, and what came from them was mucous and blood. I was in a terrible state and suffered intensely. A prominent physician of Albany, N.Y., decided that an operation was what would save me. I dreaded that and commenced to take Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. I felt better almost immediately. When I had taken about two bottles, the flow from the bladder was much cleaner, the pain stopped. I was saved from the surgeon's knife and am now well."

The above letter was written in 1909. To prove that the benefit he obtained from Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was permanent, read what he says in a recent letter (in 1912):

"I am enjoying the best of health. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cured me permanently. I have answered many letters asking about it. I shall keep on praising it."

Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy has had nearly 40 years of great success in Kidney, Liver and Blood disorders. Not a "patent" medicine, but a physician's prescription, prepared for universal use. Write to-day to Dr. David Kennedy Co., Rondout, N.Y., for a free trial bottle and booklet of valuable medical advice. Large bottles sold by 40,000 druggists.

IF YOU ARE ILL

from any disorder of the STOMACH, LIVER or KIDNEYS, or if your bowels are inactive at times, or you should suffer from headaches, get a 50 cent bottle of SEVEN BARKS of your druggist. If you are run down and don't feel as young and chipper as you used to, give SEVEN BARKS a fair trial; it will purify your blood, clear your system and brain, and make life worth living. It is absolutely harmless, is highly palatable, and will not disturb the most delicate stomach.

For sale at druggists at 60 cents per bottle. Don't fail to try it. Address LYMAN BROWN, 68 Murray St., New York, N.Y.

BOSTON THEATRE.

Typical of New England's rugged honesty, simple ways, sterling traits and charity, "The Old Homestead" came again last evening to the Boston Theatre, the scene of its first production, twenty-seven years ago. Denman Thompson built it as well as he acted it and fortunately no attempt has been made to "modernize" such an idyl of New England life and its charm remains unbroken. Mr. E. L. Snader wears the mantle of Denman Thompson becomingly and plays the part of "Uncle Josh" with photographic accuracy and at the same time with a sincerity and strength of his own. Many of the other principals in the cast have been in it for many years and have become old favorites with the audiences everywhere. Mrs. Maggie Breyer is the same sweet Aunt Matilda and Mr. Kammerlee's Henry Hopkins and splendid base voice are still one of the features of the performance. Mr. C. H. Clark is still the Seth Perkins and Miss Annie Thompson, the Mrs. Hopkins, Miss Bonstead, Anna Maria, and David Willard plays himself as of yore. Walter F. Kelly as Cy Prime was close to the traditions as were Percy Matson as Ed Ganzy, Fred Clare was a traditional Happy Jack. A special matinee will be given Decoration Day, Friday May 30. Special prices will prevail during the engagement of "The Old Homestead." 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00. No seat over $1.00.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE.

"Neptune's Garden of Living Statues," the beautiful mythological water pantomime with music which has created a genuine sensation all over New England, will commence its fourth record-breaking week at B. F. Keith's Theatre on Monday next. The startling and mystifying water illusions in "Neptune's Garden" have become the talk of the town, and all roads lead to B. F. Keith's. One startling surprise follows another, from the time the first statue awakens at the scream of Beryl and plunges into the enchanted pool, until the last of the water nymphs arises from the water at the command of Amphitrite. The surrounding vaudeville bill is of the real all star variety. Valerie Bergere and her players will present the most delightful of all comedies, "His Japanese Wife." Ethel Green will present a brand new series of character songs; John T. Murray, "the man in lavender," will bring something out of the ordinary; Flanagan and Edwards have a new behind the scenes skit called, "Off and On." Ponair and Ward are singers and dancers; The Kratens have a hoop rolling novelty; Pebhart and Francis are clever dancers; and the Edison Talking Pictures will round out a splendid bill.

BROOKLYN TABERNACLE

BIBLE STUDY ON

BENJAMIN'S PORTION FIVE-FOLD.

Genesis 43—May 25.

"He that loveth his brother abideth in the light"—1 John 2:10.

WHEN the wheat supply again began to run low, Jacob urged his sons to go for more. But they positively refused to do so, unless Benjamin went along. Finally Jacob consented, sending with them a present and double money, and praying God's blessing upon them.

Again they were expected by Joseph, who gave instructions that they dine in his presence. They were in fear however. Joseph's steward put them at ease, assuring them that God was dealing with them. Then he brought Simeon out to them. Finally he gave them water to refresh themselves, and made ready for the repast.

Joseph came in, robed as an Egyptian prince. They bowed themselves to the earth, and offered their present. Tenderly he inquired for their father, and in respect to Benjamin, he was obliged to retire for a time to shed tears of joy. Then he returned, and the meal proceeded. From his table, he sent portions to his brethren, having already directed that they be seated according to age and birthright. This astonished them, and much more were they astonished to perceive that Benjamin's portion was five-fold.

"Benjamin's Portion five-fold."

The Spiritual Lesson Taught. Bible Students, realizing that Joseph was a type of The Messiah, think that Benjamin, Joseph's younger brother by the same mother, was also a type. As Abraham's wives typified different covenants, so Rachel, mother of Joseph and Benjamin, seems to typify the special Covenant of Sacrifice, which has operated during this Gospel Age—and which brings forth two distinctly separate classes of saints.

The higher class is represented in Joseph—The Messiah class—the especially faithful of God's people during this Gospel Age—Jesus and His footstep followers. This class will reach the Throne of empire, becoming Ruler of the Universe, next to the Almighty, who is typified by Pharaoh, and who took Jesus from the prison-house of death and highly exalted Him.

It has escaped the attention of Bible Students, until recently, that two classes of saintly Christians are being developed during the Gospel Age—a superior class, typified by Joseph, and an inferior class, represented by Benjamin. The name Benoni—"son of my pain"—was given Benjamin by his mother, who died in giving him birth.

The antitypical lesson here would be that this special Covenant, typified by Rachel, gives birth to the elect Church. The Messiah class, of which Jesus is the Head, and will also give birth to another class, and then cease—expire. This secondary class are Scripturally designated Tribulation Saints, the declaration being made that they shall "come up out of great tribulation" to the blessing which they shall inherit.

Two Tribulation Classes. The elect Church, of which Jesus is the Head, will indeed pass through great tribulation. So it is written, "Through much tribulation shall ye enter the Kingdom." The Lord Himself passed through great tribulation—shame, suffering and death. We know that the same is true of His footstep followers, the Apostles and others.

Nevertheless, these are not described in the Bible as the Tribulation Saints. For by virtue of their greater faith, they are able to rejoice in tribulations, knowing that these are working out for them a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory.

The Tribulation Saints are those who lack somewhat in zeal, though not in loyalty. They fail to fulfil their vows of sacrifice. As the Scriptures say, "Through fear of death they are all their lifetime subject to bondage"—bondage to the flesh, to the customs of society—fearful of the sacrificing experiences which they covenanted should be theirs.—Hebrews 2:15.

Consequently they cannot be accepted of God as copies of His dear Son, and as worthy of sharing in His glory. Nevertheless, God is very compassionate, and tests them as to their loyalty to Him. Those who prove faithful will be given everlasting life, though failing to attain joint-heirship in the Kingdom.

Benjamin's Five Portions. While Joseph gave abundantly to his brethren, to Benjamin he gave five portions. Since Joseph clearly typifies Messiah, the lesson is that Messiah will bestow favors upon Natural Israel. His brethren according to the flesh. The Great Company, typified by Benjamin, however, will come out of great tribulation to a higher plane than the remainder of the world. Begotten of the Holy Spirit, like the Church, they also will be spirit beings.

Miss Myrtle Dunn proved herself a skilful driver on Tuesday afternoon in handling a spirited horse owned by Edward J. Johnson of Highland avenue. The horse became frightened on Mt. Vernon street shortly after 5, and started toward the center of the town. At that time the square was alive with people, teams and automobiles passing back and forth, but with rare good judgment she guided the frightened beast into Main street and turned him toward Symmes corner. After taking the rise of the hill at Black Horse Terrace, Miss Dunn headed him up Prospect street and before he had gained the top of the stiff incline she had him calmed down and going smooth again. Those who witnessed the team passing through the square were astonished by the clever manner in which the young Miss showed her control of the situation.

ANNUAL GYMNASIUM AND FOLK DANCING EXHIBITION.A Very Brilliant and Interesting Occasion for Pupils and Spectators.

The annual gymnasium and folk dancing exhibition by the pupils of the public schools was held in the Town Hall on Friday and Saturday afternoons before audiences which filled every available portion of the hall. The exhibition was given under the direction of the instructor, Miss Adeline M. Tiple. Scholars from the first to the ninth grades inclusive, from the various schools were included in the program of sixteen numbers.

The center of the hall was cleared for the exhibition, a group of seats at the rear affording opportunity for the drills under the usual school room conditions. The galleries, sides of the hall and stage were given over to seating the spectators, but the number in attendance far out numbered the accommodations, and the number standing at the opening of Saturday's exhibition made it hard to even gain access to the hall. The exhibition Friday was for the scholars only, the parents being admitted on Saturday.

The work shown was exceptionally interesting, ranging from motion songs by the youngest scholars to sitting up exercises and folk dances by the larger pupils. Many of the numbers were given in costume, lending much added enjoyment to the program for the audience.

To attempt to describe each individual number and draw any comparison would be difficult, for the pupils one and all performed their dances and exercises with grace and precision. The program included the following: Action story, Hiawatha, Athletic Drill, Mother Goose dances, Pickaback dances, Scotch reel, Card lesson, Schoolroom captain ball, Organized recess, Irish jig, Military drill, Sailor's hornpipe, School room dancing, Trololol dancing, Spanish dance, Desk apparatus work, Indian sun dance.

One of the best numbers was the military drill by the sixth grade of the Chapin school, the boys being repeatedly applauded as they performed their wheels and turns in perfect formation. The Spanish and sun dances in costume were also very well done, as was the action story by the little tots from the Randolph first grade.

This is proving one of the most popular of the exercises in connection with the closing of the schools, and if the attendance continues to increase it will prove a problem to accommodate the host of spectators without holding the exhibition over a longer period.

Those who took part were:

Washington, Grade I.—Gordon Corlies, Floyd Curry, Ralph MacAdams, Donald MacLean, Irving McLean, Winslow McElhinney, Melvin Gilman.

FISH COMING BACK.

The boys about town have discovered that perch, black bass, pickerel and other fresh water fish have returned to Wedge Pond and some good catches have been reported. Deputy Fish Commissioner A. E. Whitney, says this is the direct result of stopping the pollution of Russell brook and Horn Pond stream, both of which empty into Wedge pond. The Aberjona empties into the Mill pond, now owned by the town, at Swanton street and if that stream is ever restored to its natural purity, fishing will be good all over Winchester. The state board of health informs Mr. Whitney that the Aberjona is not a polluted stream except from chemical drainage from a few manufactories above Winchester which destroy fish. The new sewer will probably help this matter and as the ground water in Mystic Valley is not polluted the river water will gradually become pure. It will seem good to see Winchester boys "going afishing" again right in our own town. It will be another town asset as a good place for boys to live in. Good catches of carp have been made at Long pond this season. As these are mud fish and they kill off better game fish, it is to be hoped they may not get into the river, ponds and Mystic Lake. The Middlesex Fish and Game Association has petitioned the Mass. Fish and Game Commission to restrict Mystic Lake which will probably take place as soon as the water is pure enough to support fish life.

REV. MR. HODGDON WILL GIVE A PLAIN TALK.

At the First Congregational Church Sunday evening at 7.00 o'clock. Mr. Hodgdon will give a plain talk on the reason why many people have practically nothing to do with the church.

Come and hear him. It will make a good topic for conversation on the trains or on the telephone.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

The following cases were reported during the week ending May 27:

Whooping Cough 4
Chicken Pox 1

The Misses Marie Matthews, Margaret Callahan, Frances Noonan and Josephine Noonan attended the Elks Cabaret Show at Woburn last Monday evening.

POSTMASTER ROACH.

Congressman Dietrick Makes Recommendation for Local Office.

Mr. James H. Roach of Nelson street has been recommended by Hon. Frederick S. Dietrick, Representative from the 8th Congressional District, to the Postmaster General for appointment to the Winchester office, he to fill the position now open through the resignation of Postmaster I. Winslow Richardson.

Representative Dietrick visited Winchester last Friday night and held a long conference with the various candidates for the office and with the Democratic Town Committee. After the discussion it was decided not to hold a caucus, the candidates agreeing on a direct appointment. There were five candidates in the field, James H. Roach, John F. O'Connor, Dennis F. Foley, Whitfield L. Tuck and John F. Donovan.

The announcement of Mr. Roach's recommendation for appointment was received late Saturday evening. He will probably begin his duties in a couple of weeks owing to the office now being vacant, although the appointment may be made to take effect the first of July.

JAMES H. ROACH.

Mr. Roach was born in Lowell 47 years ago, living at that city until his removal to this town 22 years ago. During his residence in Winchester he has been engaged in the furniture and upholstery business. He resides with his family at No. 76 Nelson street.

For 16 years he has been a member of the Democratic Town Committee. For several years he served as secretary of the committee and for the past two years has been chairman. He has been a member of the 8th Congressional District Committee. For the past 10 years he has been one of the Democratic representatives on the Board of Registrars of Voters.

He is a member of Wedgemere Colony United Order of Pilgrim Fathers, and for 14 years has been its collector. He is also a member of the Foresters of America. He is a member of the Holy Name Society of St. Marys Church and for the past seven years has been sexton of the church.

His recommendation for the appointment has received the approval of all classes of citizens, and it is felt that the town will have a most efficient service under his direction.

FRIENDSHIP CLASS SOCIAL.

The last social of the season will be held at the home of Mrs. DeRochemont 11 Bacon street on June 6th, at 7.45.

It is pleasant to note that this series of monthly socials has aided materially in the building up of the largest ladies class in recent years and aids greatly in the work of the Sunday School.

The continued interest in the study of the Bible under the leadership of Mrs. R. M. Armstrong is proof of the orthodox character of her teaching.

The President, Mrs. Nellie M. Dodge wishes to greet each member at this social and has expressed much satisfaction with the work of this department during the year.

During the evening will occur the annual election of officers and other important business, or the closing of the year's work.

All committees are requested to give full reports of the year's work.

LAST OF OLD MILL.

The wood working machinery connected with the Whitney Machine shop has been moved and is now installed in the new Main street building. Three fourths of the iron working machinery has also been moved and set up in the new place. The office and office help are located in newly furnished and convenient rooms facing on Main street. Most of the workmen are at work at the new plant and another month will see the remaining buildings of the old plant taken down and manufacturing will cease at the old mill which first ground corn in 1640 for the little Puritan settlement of Waterfield, now Winchester which clustered about and grew up with the old "corne mill." The ancient water power has had a long and useful career in this community, and its history, closely connected with the history of Winchester, especially in the olden time, should be written up and preserved before the old mill is blotted out of existence and entirely forgotten.

SCHOOL PROGRESS.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

Eight years ago I gave an examination in arithmetic to the ninth grade pupils of the Wadleigh School. In order to satisfy my curiosity as to the arithmetical proficiency of pupils now, as compared with 1905, Mr. Hefflon recently gave the same examination to the present ninth grade.

The questions were as follows:
1. Add 3760, 10524, 9610, 398, 7426, 87, 6436, 275, 8366.
2. Subtract 60606 from 100001.
3. Multiply 78569 by 870 3/4.
4. Divide 973.87 by 76 5/69 (carried to three decimal places).

5. If three percks of potatoes cost fifty cents, what will four and one-half bushels cost?

6. What is the cost of a concrete sidewalk, 163 feet long and 5 feet 4 inches wide, at 55 cents per square yard?

7. What will it cost to carpet a room 14 feet long and 12 feet wide with carpeting 28 inches wide costing $1.37 1/2 per running yard?

8. What is the interest on $675.47 for 2 years, 5 months, 23 days at 3 1/2 per cent per year?

The questions were rated thus: first, 7 per cent; second, 3; third and fourth, 10 each; fifth, sixth and seventh, 15 each; eighth, 25. The first four questions were given either full credit or zero, being marked solely for correctness; in the case of the last four questions, some credit might be given for a knowledge of methods, even if the answer was wrong. The pupils were allowed one hour, and of course did their work without assistance from other individuals or from books.

The results are instructive. In 1905 the percentage ranged from 3 to 85, with an average of 39 for the class; in 1913 the range was from 39 to 95, with an average of 72. Now, 72 per cent is not an ideal to be satisfied with, but it does at least show an improvement over earlier conditions, and encourages one to hope and expect that still further gains may yet be made.

If parents think that even this exhibit is disgracefully low, let me suggest that they try the examination themselves under exactly the same restrictions as did the children, send me their papers, and I will mark them and report the results (not mentioning names, but merely comparing the work of the parents as a whole with the work of the children as a whole).

Charles F. A. Currier.

TWO GAMES.

Friday afternoon, at 3.30 p. m., the Winchester Base Ball team will have the fast Bremen Dow Co. team for opponents. This team plays a fast game, and has played such teams as Reading Stoneham and Wakefield. A good game should be expected. Their line-up is as follows:

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

The thought occurs to The Spectator why Winchester, as well as Boston, should not have a sort of 1915 movement—much more limited, of course, in scope, but aimed at least to inculcate certain fundamental ideas of the physical improvement of Winchester as a matter of beautification. It would be agreeable if such a plan could be made to take the form of a campaign of real education, through the exhibition of plans, photographs, drawings and other tangible suggestions, which might easily be gotten together and displayed in some appropriate place—possibly in the Town Hall. The Spectator has an abiding faith in the potency of visual demonstration of such plans to crystallize the idea of town beautification, etc. After a time, familiarity with such plans as are really feasible should inspire a sufficient wide sentiment to insure their achievement, and if a 1915 exhibition on a small but effective scale would help it seems to The Spectator a very wise thing to consider. Surely there are in Winchester a number of interested citizens capable of supplying tentative plans which would reveal to the eye of the spectator the tangible ideas of a new and even better Winchester, with improved riverbanks, public square and civic centre, such as farsighted men have the habit of imagining to themselves, but which too seldom get drawn out on paper. What The Spectator believes in above all, as the first step looking toward these things, is some method of revealing their attractions to as many people as possible, in the hope that familiarity with them may breed desire.

It is the supposition of The Spectator that it is quite in line with the rapid pace set by the active 20th century that children, particularly our girls, are moving a trifle too rapidly to insure a beautiful symmetrical growth. In the days of our mothers, and the still earlier, previous days of our grandmothers, when the notion that "children must be seen, not heard," was abroad in Winchester and elsewhere in the land, the little ones were pretty sternly repressed, and wisely enough, with the passage of time, the reins have been loosened. But now the pendulum has swung the other way, and there are plenty of good people here in Winchester who will readily confess with The Spectator that some of the fruits of a violent reaction are turning a trifle bitter. It is quite natural when the doll playing period has passed that girls just peeping over the fence into the land of budding womanhood should catch a glimpse of all sorts of delightful fanciful pictures, they cannot be blamed for wanting to join the merry throng, nor can they be expected to see the unwisdom of so early embarking on the real ship of life, troubles enough to older and wiser heads. We who have grown older and have seen with the eyes of experience the long, often tiresome, vista ahead of the young girl, should restrain her impetuous feet and keep her in childish paths as long as may be. Many will agree with The Spectator that it is not pretty to note a young girl garbed in a fashion suited to her mother. It is not pretty to hear her talk of life with all the apparent wisdom of the experienced. She neither sees nor knows this and when she is aroused to a realization that youth is something to cultivate and preserve then "the winter of her discontent" may have already set in. Healthy young girlhood, the springtime of life, is too beautiful to be merged into sober realities before its time. It is very distressing to see a sweet-faced young girl assume the airs and mannerisms of the "grown-ups;" to hear her discuss the theatre with all the sang froid of the veteran lovers of the play, and in every way to do and act as if 30 years had passed over her head. The young girl, wishing and wishing that time had wings, does not realize how soon she will want it to take flight backward. Most parents do; and it is their part a little longer to keep her.

"Standing with reluctant feet,
Where the brook and river meet."

The only way in which a person can be sure of gaining time is to procrastinate. It is only the few hours immediately in front of you, gained by putting in its proper place employment which was on the point of engulfing your leisure, that you can be really sure of having to do with as you desire. There seems no other way of taking time by the forelock. If a Winchesterite does at once the work which will have to be done eventually, he lets time get a start so considerable that he is in danger of not even catching time by the heels when he is at liberty to start to pursue. This makes time stand for leisure, but what better thing could any one stand for, leisure being not idleness, but breathing space in which to recover from one's panning run, to reckon the distance one has come, and to weigh the value of the things gathered on the way. If we are unable to face and use leisure, then the race should be called off for it has reduced us to flurried newness, busy without rhyme or reason, procrastination an unavoidable duty lying directly before us. Naturally, a Winchesterite must procrastinate with taste and discretion. To postpone everything is as unbecomingly as to do everything. It is looking work in the eye, coolly that is to be encouraged, and not dropping one's eyes out of respect merely because it is work, and stupidly taking it on because it says it is a duty. Perhaps it is nothing of the kind. Anyway a cavalier making of it into the limbs will show the stuff it is made of, not to mention its seeing that you are not a person to be bullied. Lots of men and women here in Winchester have built up somehow an exaggerated worship of work, until it is done blindly, breathlessly, as though there was something inherently immoral in stopping for a moment to see what kind of work it is that is being done. It is a spineless Winchesterite who cannot retain the whiphand overwork or at least manage when over-icious work attempts to catch up to escape with a taunt, and a slyly protruding tongue.

A Winchester gentleman has a handy test to find out whether a person is getting old or not. Here it is: Next time you are reading by artificial light and the light is temporarily shut off, see where your eye falls on the page when the light is resumed. The gentleman informs The Spectator that he has made at least a dozen tests and each time his eye, in the darkness wandered down the page a dozen lines or so. "When I was a boy I could keep my eyes fixed on the line, no matter how dark it got. I guess I am getting old," he said.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB.

Members of the Winchester Boat Club to the number of 75 enjoyed one of the best smoke talks ever given at the club last Saturday evening when they listened to a graphic description of the work on the Panama Canal by Mr. Vincent Farnsworth. The talk was illustrated by views thrown on a screen at the front of the hall.

Mr. Farnsworth returned from a trip through the Canal Zone a few weeks ago, during which he was afforded exceptional opportunities to go into the detail of this vast engineering project. He took a large number of pictures of the work and country, and from these made a set of slides expressly for his talk. Added to his own collection he gave a number of views which he secured for the evening to show interesting features which were under construction previous to his visit, and which when shown with the more recent pictures gave interesting knowledge and insight into the work. His views were shown by means of a new electric lantern used for the first time and were thrown up with great clearness and detail.

He gave a short history of the country and the efforts of the French company to dig the big ditch, showed pictures of the country, and took his audience with him on a trip over the canal. The talk was greatly enjoyed by his audience and refreshments followed at its conclusion.

At a meeting of the directors of the club on Saturday evening twenty new members were elected to the club, making a total of 35 which have been admitted since the season opened.

The house committee is to have a new concrete run placed at the club from the wharf to the house in place of the present wooden run which has served the club since the erection of the house. The contract for this has been given to Mr. Thomas Quigley, Jr. The run is to have the new velvet finish which will give a surface much more desirable than the wood. The new piano and player which has been placed in the house for the season has already been very popular and will provide a means for securing music for impromptu dances whenever the members desire. The club has entered the library and new music rolls will be had each month.

This Friday the club members will go to the A. C. A. Meet at Lawrence to compete in the races. Although the arrival of the new war canoe in time for use at the meet is in doubt, it is anticipated that a boat will be secured and no doubt the Winchester boys will give a good account of themselves.

A dance will be held at the club this Friday for the benefit of those members who do not attend the Meet. This will be the first of the season's dances, and will doubtless be largely attended.

Judge Bruce of Malden has ideas on the way that wayward boys should be handled, and they are pretty good ones, too. He intends to hire a field and some day later in the season boys who have been brought before him on the charge of throwing stones will be given a chance to throw all the stones they want to, and perhaps a few more. The boys will be placed in charge of the court officers, who will see that they throw stones until the boys' arms get tired. Throwing stones is bad business for school children, yet it is a very common practice, we regret to observe.

At a recent meeting of the Mass. Press Association the opinion was unanimous that "care should be taken not to allow anything to appear in a family paper, such as is published by the members of the Association, that would in any degree lower the moral tone or bring a blush of shame to the face of any member of the family. Even legitimate news should be handled so as to avoid immoral suggestions." This has always been the endeavor of the STAR. B. & M. PENSIONS.

The Boston & Maine Railroad Co. now pays $206 a month in pensions to 258 employees. It has been said that railroads do not make money; they collect and distribute money. Some roads do this not alone in wages, but in pension to supernumerary employees. Figures just made public by the Boston & Maine railroad show that in the 30 months from Oct. 1, 1910 to March 31, 1913, there has been an increase in the pensions paid to employees amounting to $169,742.84. In the nine months from Oct. 1, 1910, to June 30, 1911, the amount paid out in pensions increased $26,989. In the year following the increase in pensions was $78,455, and for the nine months from June 30, 1912 to March 31, 1913, there was still further increase of $67,316. These figures indicate that the rate of increase in the amount of pensions paid is greater this year than in either of the two previous years, showing how the system is being extended. The number of pensioners at the present time is 258, and they receive each month a total of $52,063. There are 22 general and other officers receiving a total of $2,409; 14 clerks receiving $32,661.47; 39 switchmen and watchmen receiving $678,711; 39 engineers receiving $124,564; 16 passenger conductors receiving $545,451; 104 freight conductors receiving $198,221; 48 shoemen receiving $114,268, and 23 section foremen and laborers who get $481.44.

BERRY—WALKER.

Mr. Bernard Monroe Berry, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Berry, formerly of Forest street, and Miss Dorothea Dix Walker, daughter of Rev. Joseph N. Walker of Mt. Desert, Maine, were quietly united in marriage at noon Saturday, May 24th, at Mt. Desert, Maine. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, pastor of the Congregational Church. Owing to the recent death of the bride's mother, the couple were unattended and the ceremony was witnessed by only members of the two families.

The bride attended Northfield Seminary and later the Sargent School for Physical Education of Cambridge, being a member of the class of 1913.

The groom since graduating from the Winchester High School in the class of 1901, has been with the Boston Five Cents Savings Bank and is well known in banking circles. He is probably better known as the "Senior Second" Lieutenant of the 8th Regiment, Mass. Volunteer Militia being with B Company of Everett, Brigade, General Sweetser's old company.

Mr. and Mrs. Berry will reside at the corner of Main and Appleton streets, Malden.

Editor Hoag Confesses

"For many years, as Editor and Proprietor of the Pine Plains, N. Y., Herald, I have advertised Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. While I enjoyed not only the business relationship but the personal friendship of Dr. Kennedy, I have never, until now, paid him a long standing obligation. For many years, as my friends so well know, I suffered excruciating pains from rheumatism. Many were the nights when it was impossible to sleep. Without much faith, I admit, I tried as a sort of last resort, a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, just as thousands of others had done before, and like them I found permanent relief. Favorite Remedy has stood the test of time and I believe it is the best medicine in existence for effectually expelling the cause of rheumatism—uric acid. My regret is that I have neglected to make this frank confession long ago. It makes my kidneys do their work properly, tones up the liver and makes one feel that life is worth living. I publicly and earnestly advise all my friends who are suffering from troubles that arise from unhealthy kidneys and liver, to get a bottle of Favorite Remedy at once. There is no use in putting it off as I did. S. T. HOAG, Editor."

MME. SARDOU'S WORK OF ART.

The Curtain Raiser That Preceded Her Husband's Comedy.

Not merely in a domestic but also in a business sense are the Frenchwomen the admirable partners of their husbands. The first wife of Sardou, the dramatist, considered herself as such, despite the fact that she conducted a different line of business, wherein she achieved a fair success while the young playwright was vainly endeavoring to get his plays produced. The first Mme. Sardou was a skillful milliner. She trimmed hats while waiting for the fame and fortune she was certain Sardou would achieve. Also she kept an eye on his branch of business also, and it was really she who obtained the opportunity for his first real success.

It appears that a bright comedy had long lain in the hands of a manager who would neither read nor return it. Without saying a word to her husband Mme. Sardou withdrew this work, herself carrying it to an actress she believed peculiarly fitted for the leading role. By her cleverness she succeeded in extracting a promise from the actress that the play should be read. In response to the actress' request for an address the dramatist's wife handed her a card inscribed "Mme. Sardou, Modiste." A few days later the wife of the manager at whose theater the actress played entered the little millinery parlor of Mme. Sardou. She asked to be shown a hat. Several were tried on. Then, handglass still in hand and the hat selected still upon her head, she turned suddenly from the mirror and inquired whether M. Sardou were at home and could be summoned.

Sardou, greatly astonished, came, and the stranger, announcing her name and her husband's position, delivered the gratifying message that the play had been accepted, was to be given an immediate production and that the author was expected at the theater that evening at 9 o'clock for the first reading and the distribution of parts.

After her departure the young couple held an explanation and jubilation. The clever little modiste caught up the hat just ordered and held it aloft. "Never say that I, too, do not compose works of art!" she cried gayly. "Behold my curtain raiser, which precedes your comedy! It has succeeded—yours will succeed!" And her prediction was fulfilled. The comedy, long since popular with English audiences as "A Scram of Papey" was itself a success and the first of a long line of successes.—New York Press.

A Painful Mistake.
Bitter experience is a wonderful teacher. No doubt the young lady of whom London Ideas tells had often been told that she ought to wear glasses, but had neglected or refused to do so.

There was a most determined look in her eye, however, as she marched into the optician's shop. "I want a pair of glasses immediately," she said, "good, strong ones. I won't be without them for another day."

"Good, strong ones?"
"Yes, please. I was out in the country yesterday, and I made a very painful blunder, which I have no wish to repeat."

"Indeed! Mistook an entire stranger for an old friend, perhaps?"
"No, nothing of the sort. I mistook a bumblebee for a blackberry."

Life in Persian Oases.

Dr. Sven Hedin, describing his overland journey to India across the Persian desert, gives a graphic account of the oases where his party occasionally camped under palm trees. There the singing birds which twitter during the day are silent at night, but the "song of the desert" is continued during the hours of darkness by the melancholy serenade of the jackals. These oases are infested by three objectionable and dangerous inhabitants—a deadly snake, black and white scorpions and a poisonous tarantula spider, which, although it lives out in the desert, is attracted to the oases by the light of the campfires.

Her Self Sacrifice.

"She's awfully self sacrificing."
"How do you make that out?"
"Well, she stayed at home from church Sunday to sit up with a sick woman."

"Hub! She isn't a regular churchgoer. I don't see anything self sacrificing in that."

"You don't? But, my dear, she had a new gown and a new hat that had just arrived Saturday night."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Real Ingratitude.

"Republicans are ungrateful," said the ready made philosopher.
"Perhaps," replied Mr. Chuggins, "but if you want a taste of real ingratitude take a party of friends out for an automobile ride and listen to their sarcastic remarks if you happen to break down."—Washington Star.

At the Literary Club.
"Maria, what was done at the meeting of your literary club last night?"
"We dined Mrs. Chilton-Kearney $5 for accusing Mrs. Highmum of cheating at bridge."—Chicago Tribune.

TELEPHONE NUMBER 29

Entered at the post-office at Winchester, Massachusetts, as second-class matter.

Announcement has been made in many cities and towns of the State of an increase in the price of ice. It is pleasing to note that in Winchester there will be no advance, although the Horn Pond Ice company has been put to increased expense in securing their supply, because of the mild winter.

If a steam train is two or three minutes late in arriving at a station, the Old Harry is to pay. If a trolley car is five or ten minutes late, it is taken as a matter of course. There is this difference, however, in the case of the former there is a comfortable and well-heated station in which to wait, while in the latter there is nothing to do but kick your heels against the curbing of the sidewalk.

Requests for granolithic sidewalks are reaching the Selectmen in large numbers from owners of houses in all sections of the town. This is a good sign of civic progress and shows that the citizens take pride in their home surroundings. The town should encourage this to the fullest extent and if necessary appropriate for this purpose $20,000 every year as was done at the March town meeting. The money will all come back in the form of new residents and increased taxes, not to mention the comfort of the public in their travels over the town.

The "back stamping" of all mail, excepting registered and special delivery letters, has been ordered discontinued by the Post-office Department. Postmaster General Burleson believes the time saved will expedite delivery, very often by as much as the time between two deliveries. A similar order some years ago was rescinded because of many complaints by business interests, because they could not place the blame for delayed letters. It is false economy to stop "back stamping."

SELECTMEN'S MEETING.

way over the sidewalk from the street at 5 Warren street to join onto a driveway now being built on the premises and on which petition the Engineer reported May 12, the Committee on Ways and Bridges to whom it was referred at that time reported that the petitioner had recently completed a garage and extended the drive thereto as far as the inner edge of the concrete sidewalk. The sidewalk being higher than the street and the loam space it would be necessary to somewhat depress the sidewalk in order to obtain a satisfactory grade from the street to the driveway. The Committee understood that the petitioner was willing to construct this approach of granolithic and recommend that permission be granted subject to grades and lines to be given by the Town Engineer, the granolithic to be constructed under the Town's specifications subject to the approval of the Superintendent of Streets and to the filing by the petitioner of a proper bond to indemnify the Town from damage by reason of the occupation of the sidewalk and the construction of the driveway. The report was accepted.

An application was received from James J. Fitzgerald Contracting Co., for permission to lay a granolithic driveway across the loam space for entrance to garage of W. Eugene Wilde at 9 Stratford road; and referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges. A letter was received from Mrs. Julia J. Fitzgerald owner of the lot on Washington street adjoining Seller's market assenting to the filling in by the Town of such lot say 4 or 5 feet, giving it an easy slope and provided that the fill be covered with loam, and the Superintendent of Streets was ordered to make the necessary fill. It was voted to recommend to the Town at the next Town Meeting that the name of that portion of Walnut street from the railroad station to the Parkway be changed. The matter of drainage on Holland street abutting the Harley property No. 71 where the water flows over the sidewalk was referred to the Town Engineer. A petition was received by telephone from W. E. Lowell representing Thomas I. Freeburn, 35 Cabot street for a granolithic sidewalk, referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges. The Town Engineer submitted plan for drainage and other work on Church street at the property now being developed by Mr. Clarence H. Lewis where it is proposed to enter the street with a driveway 65 feet wide and where considerable work will be necessary in laying an underground conduit for electric and telephone wires and pipes for sewer, water and gas, and it was voted that a letter be sent to Mr. Lewis stating that it is the intention of this Board to treat the surface of Church street with asphaltum within two weeks and that it desires to have all underground service pipes laid before that time; that the matter has been referred to the Town Engineer and the Board asks that his recommendations be given immediate consideration.

The attention of the Town Engineer was called to the dangerous position of a roof drainage pipe at the Brown-Stanton block on Main street corner of Mt. Vernon street with request for report. The attention of the Committee on Street Lights was called to the necessity for a light on Main street between Thompson street and the Parkway. The attention of the Committee on Street Lights was called to the desirability of a light on Lloyd street between Mystic avenue and Maxwell road.

Adjourned at 11 P. M. to meet at 8.30 A. M., Wednesday, May 29, 1913

FRANK R. MILLER,
Clerk of the Board.

Pursuant to adjournment the Board met at 8.30 a. m. All present.

A letter was received from A. B. Corbett Chief Engineer of the Boston & Maine R. R. in response to the request of this Board stating that he did not consider it advisable to oil the roadbed at the station as requested as at the time the work was done before there was considerable complaint and it was not considered a satisfactory arrangement. The letter was referred to the Committee on Corporations.

The matter of awarding the contract for granolithic sidewalks for 1913 was considered, and after consideration it was decided to temporarily place the bids on file and advise the bidders that the Board will receive new alternate estimates.

Adjourned at 9.30 to view locations for the watering trough to be located in the west side of the Town under the vote of the March Meeting.

Frank R. Miller,
Clerk of the Board.

LUNCHEON AND SHOWER.

Miss Carlene Gleason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Gleason, gave a luncheon yesterday in honor of her guest, Miss Margaret Lambert of Fredonia, N. Y., her roommate at the Elv School, Greenwich, Conn. There were fourteen covers, and the luncheon was followed by a "sweet and sour" shower for Miss Esther Somes. The decorations were all in pink, with sweet peas and favors of that color. Miss Somes received many "sweet and sour" gifts, in anticipation of her coming marriage.

At the Unitarian Church Sunday morning Mr. Metcalf will speak of the New Optimism of the present, which hopes to do away with many things which in former times were called "necessary evils."

BASE BALL.

Winchester High School easily defeated Dedham High School at Manchester Field, last Tuesday afternoon, in a one-sided game by a score of 6 to 1.

Goddin held the visitors hitless until the third man in the eighth inning. Armstrong was the lucky batter who placed a single over second base, and prevented Goddin from entering the no-hit class.

Goddin struck out nineteen, and had perfect control, giving no passes and hitting no batsman. Lawson made a good catch of a fly over second in the sixth. LeDuc, with three runs to his credit was the heavy run getter, while Goldsmith and Penalanigan were the heavy hitters, each getting two safe bingles.

The game was won in the sixth inning, when three hits, a pass, a hit batsman, and an error enabled Winchester to score four runs.

The score by innings:

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

SANITY RETURNING.

The Railway World says that New England is at last coming to its senses. The first evidence of returning sanity is the report of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, adopted on April 1, on the railway situation which, while abounding in criticisms of the Boston and Maine and in suggestions for the improvement of its equipment and service, took strong ground against any legislation calculated to disturb the present relations between the Boston and Maine and the New Haven and Hartford. This marks the definite abandonment of the attempt to separate the two companies, an attempt which, it is successful, would have resulted in serious damage to the Boston & Maine which would be powerless without the support of the New Haven to raise the capital for the rehabilitation of its property and for the large additions to its equipment which are required that it may handle the traffic offered. Next in order should and probably will be the dropping of the absurd charges of conspiracy in restraint of trade, and a rapid retreat of public opinion all along the line from the position of extreme hostility which under the leadership of Mr. Louis D. Brandeis it has assumed.

IT SHOULD NOT BE DONE.

The "landslide of opposition" as it was called, that fell in the House ways and means committee hearing the other day on the bill that would give the tax commissioners of the State power to appoint, remove and control all the assessors in the Commonwealth, except in Boston, was thoroughly justified.

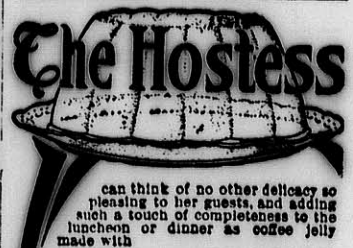

This vicious invasion on the very first principles of home rule for cities and towns does not deserve consideration. Taxation in towns is one of the most vital matters possible, and the citizens should be kept in intimate touch with it. It would be about as appropriate to pass a law giving the Governor power to appoint Selectmen and Mayors as to take away from the voters their right to choose their assessors directly, as in towns, or through their executive, as in cities.

The argument is made for the bill that assessors do not do their duty in the matter of valuation. Perhaps they do not; but every town has a direct remedy for any neglect or malfeasance. So has every Mayor, if he is alive to his prerogatives. Certainly it is not wise to put into the hands of one man on Beacon Hill, the power to name and control every tax assessor of every town and city in Massachusetts, save one.—Boston Post.

LATHAM—HUNT.

Mr. Willis Latham, a well known young man of this town, and Miss Sarah Hunt, prominent in the New Hope Baptist Church, were united in marriage on Sunday at the home of Rev. Johnson, pastor of St. Paul's Church of Boston.

They will make their home on Harvard street, this town.

DEPARTMENT.

Conducted by Winchester League.

An anonymous article in the STAR, week before last rejoices in "our recent splendid victory in Michigan." We stated in our last article that this "splendid victory" was accomplished by the liquor and other vicious interests always arrayed against every effort for advancement. Doubtless this statement which is continually denied by Mrs. George, was not believed by other Anti-Suffragists. We urge every thoughtful reader of the STAR to ponder the following letter and advertisement, which were published in the Kalamazoo Telegram Express of April 5, 1913, and in other Michigan papers:

Macomb County Retail Liquor Dealers' Association.

Office of the Secretary.

Mt. Clemens, Mich.

March 31, 1913

To the Publisher:

I enclose herewith copy of an advt. which I wish you would insert in this week's issue of your paper, making ten inches in depth, double column, on your local page or front page, if possible.

I will thank you to see that this is done, and mail statement of charges, and also marked copy to me, and we will remit the same.

Thanking you in advance for your attention to this matter. I am, yours truly,

Joseph Matthews,

Secretary.

And here is the enclosure for the publication of which the Macomb County Retail Liquor Dealers' Association guaranteed payment:

AN APPEAL TO MEN!

You should vote against woman suffrage for ten thousand reasons.

We mention but six.

We women are not suffering at the hands of our fathers, husbands and brothers, because they protect us in our homes.

Keep mother, wife and sister in the protected home. Do not force us into partisan politics.

Put a cross before the word "No" on April 7, and win our gratitude.

In a recent issue we published portions of a letter written by the Montana Protective Association (of the liquor interests) to a Detroit firm which manufactures steam fixtures sometimes used in bar rooms. The letter was a request for funds to wage the campaign against woman suffrage. The funds not being forthcoming, a further, more frantic, appeal has been received from the liquor interests. It reads:

"Our State Legislature has just closed its session, and our association has been very successful in defeating many measures which would have harassed the trade in Montana. It has been a difficult task for Montana, like all other States, is feeling the effect of the great wave which is sweeping the country. The battle we have been fighting during the last sixty days has depleted our treasury, and we are not through yet. Besides this, the great question of woman suffrage will be submitted to the electors at an early date. We are now preparing a State-wide campaign against woman suffrage in this State, because the leaders have avowed that one of the principal reasons why they desire women to vote is that it will afford the best means of sweeping the saloon business out of Montana. Our local retailers are doing all they can, but the burden is too heavy for them to carry it alone, and it is only right that those who are enjoying and making a profit from the sale of their goods should help us in conserving for them their accounts and business."

Woman suffrage and reform, reform and woman suffrage—the agents of evil find it very hard to distinguish between the two. They are firmly and unshakably convinced that when women have the ballot the success of the liquor interest in "defeating measures which harass the trade in Montana" will be brought to an end.

By courtesy of The Woman's Journal. Suffragists too "remember the many noble men and women who are in their (the Anti-Suffragist) "ranks," and do so with wonder and amazement that they can thus ally themselves with the powers of evil. The above is only one of many indisputable proofs of this.

PRINCESS KIKU.

Princess Kiku, a play in six acts was presented last Saturday evening in Waterfield Hall by the members of the H. F. Club. The hall was crowded and it is expected that a good sum was realized on the play, which was given to aid the Winchester Hospital.

The play was given under the direction of Miss Frances Elder, assisted by Mrs. Helen R. Smith, who had charge of the songs and the dancing. A feature of the play was the Japanese dancing by Misses Virginia Mosman and Martha Russell. Also the dance of the Moonbeam Fairies was very effective.

Miss Bertha Kelley played the leading part as Princess Kiku and played her part in an excellent manner. The ushers were Misses Marion Kendall, head usher; Helen Ireland, Elizabeth Fenno, Dorothy Kerrison and Marjorie Scudder. Characters.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE.

"Nepenthe's Garden of Living Statues," the sensational mythological play pantomime which has created so much talk and speculation during the past four weeks at B. F. Keith's Theatre, will begin the fifth and positively last week of its engagement at this popular playhouse on Monday. This will be positively the last opportunity given to the people of New England to witness this novel and startling series of aquatic sensations and surprises, for these effects are all protected by letters patent and may be produced in no other theatre in New England.

Valerie Berzere and her players will present, "His Japanese Wife," with a beautiful Oriental stage setting; and another strong attraction will be the first vaudeville appearance in several years of Ethel Gree, the dainty little prima donna who last appeared in Boston in "Doctor De Luxe." Other features of the week will be John T. Murray, "the man in lavender;" Flanagan and Edwards in their latest behind the scenes skit, "Off and Onn;" Ronair and Ward, in songs and dances; The Kratons, hoop rollers, Eckhart and Francis, comedy acrobats; and the Edison Kinetophone.

BOSTON THEATRE.

Dear old Josh Whitcomb! You haven't changed a mite in twenty-seven years—not since ye spent that three weeks in Bustan, an' learned to steer clear on bunco men.

We've met you here at Boston Theatre ever since that first trip of yours to New York, where you saw that marble woman without no clothes on—ha! Gosh, 'you was surprised that night, warn't you?

Come again, next year, Josh. Maybe some uv us won't be here to meet ye, but come just the same, and wherever we be, we'll send ye our blessin' for you're a good old soul. Pity there aint more like ye.

Just think—eight or ver company started in with ye twenty-seven years ago. Cy Prime and Seth Perkins don't look a day older, do they? And they're just as scrappy as ever! But it takes you old friend to take 'em down a peg an' set 'em cryin' like in the old days. And Aunt Matilda Josh? Gosh, she's just as chinner as ever. No one would think she's been with you 27 years, and this was her fiftieth year on the stage. An' Rickerty Ann and Eb Ganzew, an' all them singers—my its, just like gorn' home, to see you an' the rest uv 'em, Josh.

An extra matinee will be given Decoration Day. Special prices will prevail during the engagement of "The Old Homestead," 25c, 50c, 75c, and 1.00. No seat over $1.00.

"Yes Sir! Studebaker wagons are made to back up a reputation."

"I know, because wagons of every make come into my shop for repairs, and I have a chance to see how few are Studebakers."

That's the opinion of thousands of blacksmiths who know the quality of Studebaker wagons.

The owners never regretted that they bought Studebakers.

Tested materials, accurate workmanship insure a wagon unequalled for durability, and this careful selection of wood, iron, steel, paint and varnish has been a fixed rule with the Studebaker Company for sixty years. That is why a Studebaker wagon runs easiest and lasts longest. It is built on honor.

Whether you live in town or country, there is a Studebaker vehicle to fill your requirements for business or pleasure—and harness of every description made as carefully as are Studebaker vehicles.

PROFITABLE DAILY TITHING.

"Daily Heavenly Manna."

This little book is having the largest circulation of any of its kind and is conceded by Christians everywhere to be the most helpful.

If Christians allow the rush and crush of selfish ambition to deprive them of their daily portion of heavenly food, they must not be surprised if they grow spiritually leaner day by day, and if the peace of God gives place in their hearts to the discontent which is growing in the world, notwithstanding the multiplication of our comforts and privileges.

"Daily Heavenly Manna" contains a collection of Scripture texts with appropriate quotations for every day in the year. Surely the little tithe of time daily spent in partaking of its morsels of heavenly counsel cannot fail to profit all who partake. It is published to do good—not for profit.

Your Friends' Birth Dates.

An autograph and birthday record feature in this book is a great convenience. Opposite each day of the year are blank lines upon which you can secure the autographs of your friends and be reminded of their birthdays as they occur. This makes the book more valuable yearly. In ten years you would not sell it for ten dollars.

Besides it has a place for Birth Records, Marriage Records and Death Records. Also it has a table showing the day of the week of any date for one hundred and fifty years.

Printed on bond writing paper, blue cloth, handsome. Price, 35 cents postpaid; imitation alligator skin, gold edges, $1.00 postpaid. Order now. Bible and Tract Society, 17 Hicks Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

WHAT SOME PUPILS LEARNED

In an article in Suburban Life Magazine for June advocating vocational training in public schools, the following answers from written tests in a city school are cited as showing the lack of thoroughness of modern instruction:

"Panama is a town of Colombia, where they are trying to make an isthmus."

"The Pyramids are a range of mountains between France and Spain."

"The line opposite the right angle in a right-angled triangle is called the hypotenuse."

"Queen Elizabeth rode a white horse from Kenilworth through Coventry with nothing on, and Raleigh offered her his cloak."

"Tennyson wrote a poem called 'Grave's Energy.'"

"The German emperor is called the Geysir."

"Ben Johnson is one of the three highest mountains in Scotland."

LESSONS LEARNED BY JOSEPH'S BRETHREN.

Genesis 44-June 1.

"Confess therefore your sins one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed."—James 5:16. R. V.

TODAY'S lesson shows that Joseph's experiences, mixed with faith, worked out for him a grand character, wholly obedient to God. But by a different process, Joseph's brethren were exercised by remorse, and became more sympathetic, more brotherly-kind, more loyal to their father Jacob. Life's experiences are intended, under Divine supervision, to be corrective and helpful. Confidence in God, however, is necessary as a basis for any such blessing.

After the feast in which Joseph had given Benjamin five portions, the brethren departed for home, well pleased with their experiences. Joseph, however, desired to test their sympathy for their father and their loving interest in Benjamin. Therefore he caused his silver cup to be placed in Benjamin's sack of wheat. After the brethren had gotten fairly started homeward, Joseph sent servants to demand his cup.

The brethren protested their innocence, and declared that if the cup were found in their possession, they would willingly become slaves. The search was made, and the cup found. In great distress the company wended its way back to the palace.

Again Joseph was austere and reproved them, that they might have opportunity to abandon Benjamin. Protesting innocence, they declared their willingness to become Joseph's slaves. But he answered that only the guilty one—Benjamin—should become his slave, and that the rest should return home, and continue to enjoy the favors of Egypt. This proposition he knew would test them. Had they the same heartlessness that they had exhibited when they sold him into slavery?

Then Judah, who had pledged himself that Benjamin should return in safety, made an eloquent appeal, and entreated that he be accepted as a slave in Benjamin's stead. He ended with the question, "How shall I go up to my father, and the lad be not with me? lest I see the evil that shall befall my father."

The evidence of a change of heart was satisfactory to Joseph, and is to us all. Those who love righteousness rejoice in righteousness, as those who love sin rejoice in it. When we perceive so marked a change in those men, we rejoice, not only for their sakes, but also at the general lesson furnished. The conviction is borne in upon us that much of the sin, the meanness, the cruelty of today may be attributed to inherited weaknesses and immature experience. We say, "How great a change would probably be effected by a broader, deeper knowledge of ourselves and others?"

And do not life's daily experiences tend to give us the broadening of sympathies, and thus character-development? Doubtless there are exceptions to every rule, but it is our conviction that a sufficiency of the likeness of God remains in every member of our race to permit him at times to appreciate the good, the noble, the pure. It is because he is surrounded by sin and selfishness that these godlike sentiments are so rarely brought into exercise.

When Will Men Profit?

Some will say, "Admitting that life's trials teach men the sinfulness of sin and the wisdom of righteousness, where would be the profit of such instruction if only the saintly, who walk in Jesus' footsteps under a covenant of self-sacrifice, are to share in the Kingdom? How will the remainder of the race profit by their experiences, if death ends all hope?"

The answer is that we have made a mistake respecting the teachings of the Bible. The Scriptures nowhere say that all hope of salvation ends when we fall asleep in death. So far as the Church is concerned, it is true that death ends their probation. But this is not true concerning the world. The Church alone is now on trial. The world's trial time will be in the next Age.

Christ's Reign will be the great thousand-year Day, in which will be determined the worthiness or unworthiness of everlasting life of all humanity. Those found worthy will eventually be perfected, and granted the Divine blessing of everlasting life. All then found unworthy will be condemned as unfit for life, sentenced to the Second Death.

"How shall I go to my father without the lad?"

The experiences of the present life, good or bad, will have their bearing upon the future trial, but will not decide the case for any one. Because of misuse of present opportunities and knowledge, some will enter upon the future life disadvantaged proportionately. These disadvantages will be their stripes, their chastisement, for present failures. Others, rightly exercised by the trials and difficulties of life, will be made more just, more loving, as were Joseph's brethren. Thus they will be the better prepared for a good entrance into the Messianic Kingdom, now, we believe, near at hand.

FUNERAL TORTURE.

Ways of the Wives When a Bororo Indian Dies.

On the death of a Bororo Indian the wife tears out handfuls of her hair and throws it on his corpse, says a writer in the July Wide World Magazine. At intervals during the first day after his death she shakes him, as though wishing to bring him back to life, and kisses his cold brow. Her efforts being in vain, she retires and the Baire approaches. He proclaims that the man has died for the sins he committed during his life. Then the relatives paint his body with "urucu," an ointment made out of the root of a wild tropical plant. Gorgeous feathers of the most varied hues are then strewn over him, and the corpse is wrapped up in a matting of straw. The moment before the burial the wives approach one after the other and cover his feet with the blood dripping from the wounds and gashes they have inflicted on their backs and arms.

This ceremony is followed by another. Three Indians appear dressed in the clothes—if the few rags they wear can be called thus—of the dead man and begin singing and dancing. In the meantime the corpse is carried to the "Bahyto," a huge mound in the center of the colony, and should the dancing and singing Indians become tired before it is reached three others take their places. The body lies on the mound three days. Then the Baire goes to the mound and, seating himself at the foot of the dead man, is supposed to receive his soul in keeping Universal Language.

He spoke his love in German—she answered not a word. In French he tried to woo her—the maiden never heard. He tried his luck in English. In Irish—all in vain; in Turkish, Greek and Latin, and in the tongue of Spain. And then an inspiration came to the anguished youth. "The universal language," he cried, "I'll try, forsooth!" He kissed the demure maiden and pressed her to his breast. She understood that language, and you can guess the rest.—Pearson's.

Vacations in German Banks.

As an inducement for its clerks to take their vacations in the winter instead of during the usual vacation season the Imperial Bank of Germany is offering its clerks extra time off if they take their outings between Sept. 15 and May 1. The bank finds it necessary to employ hundreds of extra clerks in the summer months to take the places of those who are on vacation and believes that if the outings are spread over the whole year business will be less handicapped.—Argonaut.

Brown and Davidson as Special Committee.

Notice was received from the Chief of the Fire Department that he had appointed Ernest G. Beaton to serve as Captain of Hose Company in place of Michael L. Quigley resigned and the appointment was approved.

Application was received from the Superintendent of Schools for the use of the Town Hall every day each week except Saturdays until Friday June 20th, for rehearsals of pupils from the Wadleigh Grammar School and the High School, same to be accompanied in all cases by teachers who would be responsible for their conduct and referred to the Committee on Town Hall with full power.

The Committee on Police reported that the Chief of Police had detailed a number of men for service in the Town of Arlington at the request of that town on the occasion of their celebration on the afternoons of June 6th and 7th, and this action was approved.

Voted to instruct the Superintendent of Streets to carry out at once the vote of this board of April 21st to crush the stone that had been gathered on Ridge street and lay the same on that street; the quantity to be not exceeding 300 tons.

The matter of tar concrete sidewalks to be constructed in 1914 was discussed and the clerk instructed to advertise for bids to be opened on the 16th inst. at 8 p. m., for the construction of the whole or any part of about 2500 sq. yds. of tar concrete sidewalks. Specifications to be obtained from the Town Engineer.

In the matter of changing the lines of Cambridge street by widening along the land of McCall and Fernald, the committee on Ways and Bridges reported that Mr. Fernald had agreed for himself and Mr. McCall to give the land necessary for the proposed change in the street and to execute the necessary papers. The committee recommended that the County Commissioners be requested to order the layout at once with the time limit for construction to be not earlier than November 15, 1914. The report was accepted and the clerk instructed to notify the County Commissioners accordingly.

In the matter of flowage of roof drainage water across the sidewalk at 614 Main street, a report was received from the Town Engineer concerning letter received from L. V. Niles under date of May 21st, that Mr. Jewett and the Engineer had carefully inspected conditions and believed that the position taken by this board in the matter was entirely reasonable and proper and that the water should be prevented from flowing over the sidewalk. That he knew of his own knowledge that the volume of water from this roof and property, the surface of which is entirely impervious to soakage of rain water, is large, and that in winter a very icy condition of the surface of the sidewalk results. During heavy rains sheets of water flow over the sidewalk to the discomfort and inconvenience of persons using it as a thoroughfare. The report of the Engineer was accepted and it was Ordered, that L. V. Niles and the Mystic Valley Garage be and they hereby are ordered to discontinue discharging the rain water from their premises over and upon the sidewalk on or before the first day of July next.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

The monthly business and social of the Epworth League was held in the Methodist Episcopal Church vestry last Tuesday night. There being 21 present.

In the business session it was voted to omit the League Sunday evening service during July and August.

In the social part Mr. Fred O. Snow, Jr. gave us a rattling good impersonation of the Sugar Trust. All the girls said he was the hit of the evening.

We had one of the liveliest meetings we ever had last Sunday night and those who think we are dead want to come next Sunday night and find out how mistaken they are. Mr. Armstrong will lead. Everybody welcome.

On Tuesday afternoon the fire department was called out for an electric car, which was on fire on Main street near Clark. The motor was quite badly burned, although the fire was quickly extinguished upon the arrival of the auto chemical. Thursday afternoon a grass fire near the Bacon mill caused a telephone alarm to be sent the department. The chemical responded. Last night at 9:05 box 43 was rung in for a shed on the property of Dr. Church on Clark street. This fire was extinguished with a hand chemical.

Mr. F. W. Aseltine and family have gone to Sunny Side Park, Winthrop, where they have taken a cottage for the summer.

WATER IN RESERVOIRS.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

June 3, 1914.

Dear Sir:—There has evidently been some misunderstanding in regard to the amount of water in the Winchester reservoirs during the past few weeks and the common impression seems to be that all three reservoirs have been overflowing during a portion of this time. Conditions have actually been as follows:

During the first week in May the north reservoir reached a height of about 1-2 in. below high water level and at that same time the south reservoir was about 9 inches below high water level. At this time water was flowing from the middle reservoir into the south reservoir. During the first three weeks of May very little rain fell and the reservoirs dropped in level so that about May 20th the north reservoir was about 4 inches below high water level and the south reservoir about 13 inches below high water level, with no water running into the south reservoir from the middle reservoir. The rainfall in the week following May 21st was heavy, so that about the latter part of the month the north reservoir became just about filled and a small quantity of water ran over the spillway. The south reservoir has reached a level of about 8 inches below high water mark.

While the supply of water in the reservoirs is thus seen to be satisfactory for this time of the year, we wish to correct the impression that there is a surplus of water and that water has wasted from the reservoirs.

Respectfully yours,
Water and Sewer Board.EQUAL SUFFRAGE LEAGUE

WHY A BOND?

He is From Missouri and Will Have to be Shown.

The following correspondence sent the STAR is self explanatory, but why such an exaction?

May 28, 1913.

The Hutchinson Leather Machine Co., 1021 Main St., Winchester, Mass.: Gentlemen:—

MAIN STREET: At a meeting of the Selectmen held May 28th, you were granted permission to construct a cinder and pea stone sidewalk with granolithic curbing in front of your building on Main street, the work to be done under the direction of the Superintendent of Streets, and according to the Town's specifications for granolithic work; subject also to your filing a bond for $1000, to indemnify the Town against damage, loss or expense through the construction of the sidewalk or the occupation of the highway. Enclosed please find bond to be signed and returned under this permit.

Yours truly,

FRANK R. MILLER,
Clerk of the Board.

Winchester, Mass., U. S. A., May 31, '13.
Honorable Board of Selectmen,
Winchester, Mass.:

Gentlemen:—We are in receipt of your letter of May 28, with inclosures. Inasmuch as the sidewalks at this end of the town are in a deplorable condition, the writer was inclined to try to better the conditions by putting in a good sidewalk in front of the property at No. 1021 Main St. at his expense.

We are inclined to the opinion that you do not care to accept a small donation of this kind, for in our years of experience we have never heard of a town asking parties for a bond, when such parties were donating to the town and its welfare; particularly where the work was to be done under the direction and supervision of your Superintendent of Streets. We will, therefore, drop the matter, and return your papers herewith, as we are from Missouri and will have to be shown.

Yours very truly,

Hutchinson Leather Machine Co.,
By A. A. Hutchinson.

BASE BALL.

Winchester vs Braham Dow Co.

On May 30th, Braham Dow Co. beat out Winchester by the close score of 3 to 1. It was a pitchers battle between Benson and Ross the former having the best of the argument, but received ragged support from the infield. All of Winchester's six errors being credited to them. Benson struck out 11 men and allowed 2 hits, base on balls and gave 4 passes on balls. Winchester had several chances to score but could not produce the necessary hits. Several runs were thrown away also by foolish base running.

It seemed to be the old story the "Holiday Hoodoo" with a fine crowd rooting for a victory. The features of the game were the work of Benson and Dickie, a difficult catch by Roach in center field and a fine 3 bagger by Morrissey. The visitors put up a snappy holding game.

On Saturday Winchester had no trouble in defeating the Colonial A. A. of Cambridge. From the start it was easily seen they were not in Winchester's class. The home team had their eye on the ball and rapped out 17 hits for a total of 26 bases. The visiting team was composed of fine individual players, but lacked the necessary team play. There were no features outside of a one hard stop by Glavin at third base and the nipping of the home team, Benson, Murray and Dickie hitting the ball for keeps.

THE SANBORN MONUMENT.

A noticeable monument of unusual design, embodying a rare bit of sentiment, has recently been placed on the Sanborn lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

In the spring of 1912, just before the passing of the title to the Sanborn Estate on Church street, Lawrence Sanborn caused to be removed one of the gate posts of the granite wall bounding the highway.

The Sanborn's father and son, were justly proud of that wall of cut granite, built by S. T. Sanborn sixty years ago, and the son thought a part of it a fitting and acceptable monument for his father, who died in 1900. So the post was pulled out of the ground as one piece, taken to Tutten's in West Medford and inscribed on three sides as follows: (On the West)

POLICE NEWS.

Charles Connelly of Boston was arrested on one of the electric cars passing through town Decoration Day for using insulting and abusive language. In the Woburn Court he was fined $25 for disturbance on a street car.

Stephano Cocullo, who was arrested about a month ago for stabbing a man at the gelatine factory, was in court Tuesday for the continuance of his case. He was fined $75, which he paid.

The police had two men in court Wednesday morning charged with collecting second hand clothing without a license, contrary to the by-laws of the town. They were Joseph Silverman and Henry Wolinski, both of Boston. The men were arrested on the west side after previously having been warned to leave town. Wolinski was fined $10, and Silverman's case placed on file.

William H. Gorham of Boston was in court Tuesday charged with not blowing his automobile horn as the law requires. While backing his car in the square last week he nearly ran over a lady. He was fined $15.

DELIBERATIVE ASSEMBLY.

The postponed annual meeting of the Deliberative Assembly will be held in the Town Hall on Tuesday evening, June 9, at eight o'clock.

The business to come before this meeting will include the election of officers for the coming year and the consideration of proposed amendments to the by-laws reducing the dues and changing the dates of meetings.

The previous postponements of this meeting were made in the expectation that Capt. Robert Bartlett, Commander of Perry's ship on the famous North Pole expedition, would soon return to Boston and would speak on his Arctic experiences with stereopticon illustrations. The unexpected announcement that he had joined Steffanson's expedition, and was already on the way North, has made a change of plans necessary. Mr. Ralph T. Hale, a member of the Assembly, has consented to show Capt. Bartlett's pictures. Mr. Hale is one of the Captain's most intimate friends, and has in his possession not only the Captain's lantern slides, but many of his original manuscripts, diaries, notebooks, etc., and will undoubtedly give an interesting talk.

WINCHESTER CLERKS PLAY BASE BALL.

The West Side clerks and the East Side clerks crossed bats for the first time this season on Manchester Field last Wednesday afternoon. The game resulted in a victory for the West Side by a score of 14 to 5. The stars of the game were Baker and Smith who were heavy hitters.

4TH OF JULY CELEBRATION.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

Inasmuch as the appropriation made by the town this year for the celebration of Independence Day is not sufficient to carry out a program as elaborate as has been the custom in past years, the Board of Selectmen have decided to call for private subscriptions to increase the amount available. Subscriptions may be made to Mr. Geo. T. Davidson, 10 Park avenue or Mr. M. F. Brown 12 Myrtle street.

Selectmen.

AN APPRECIATION.

Something Should be Done to Keep Mrs. Weber Here.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

Reading in your columns two weeks ago of the resignation of Mrs. Weber from her present position in the Congregational Church, I felt such keen regret that I would like to express my appreciation of her work.

My own profession being music, naturally my first interest was in the change from a regular quartette to a choir made up of young people of the church. This if it could be done would be the finest possible thing both for the church and for the young people. The young people need the church, and the church certainly needs the young people. It is not to die the natural and inevitable death from old age. But to make this change a success the person in charge must be one of the greatest patience, push, perseverance, and personal magnetism and charm, and these traits were all to be found in Mrs. Weber—and more.

The choir has been worked over, given lessons in the fundamentals of voice production, and kept together by the force and enthusiasm of their director, who has instilled into their minds much of that same enthusiasm and love of good music that is in her own.

In addition to the regular choir there is the young people's chorus and that of the children made up, I believe, of about 150 voices.

I am myself fortunate in having heard the Easter concert given this year by the combined choir and choruses. It is astonishing to see what has been done in only two years of training. They started out as amateur musical organizations, ragged, thin and weak, and have developed into a chorus that not only any church, but any town, might be proud of. Their attack is almost always perfect, a difficult thing to accomplish even with adults, and how much more with children some of whom are only three and four years old and yet stand there and sing with all their hearts, never taking their eyes from the conductor's stick. I have seldom been thrilled as I was when listening to that concert, hearing the splendid volume, the quality of tone, the difficult crescendos and diminuendos, the good enunciation, realizing the amount of time and work back of it and the incalculable amount of good it was doing.

The influence for spiritual good that music can bring has been much talked of; but when we have the proof in our midst, ready at hand we do not appreciate it and cast it aside.

This music directorship is but one branch of Mrs. Weber's tree of usefulness which includes mission work, visiting the sick, and I don't know what else; yet the music alone would be quite enough for one person to attend to, but the flourishing condition of all of her projects attests the enormous capacity for work that is shown by this truly noble-minded woman.

I am not a member of her church but it seems very important to me that we do not lose from our town one who is sending out through her young people such great influence for good. Can not something be done to keep Mrs. Weber among us that she may continue her beneficent work?

REV. MR. HODGDON TO TALK ON LIVE SUBJECT.

Rev. F. W. Hodgdon will speak on "The Democracy of Real Christians" at the First Congregational Church Sunday morning. He will show why the churches are not competing successfully with Sunday Gilt, the Sunday Automobile, the Sunday Newspaper and the Sunday Dinner.

In the evening he will speak on "The Inside of the Cup." This will be in the main a review of Winston Churchill's last book. This book is a fascinating story founded on a profound study of modern church conditions and reveals some of the methods commonly employed in these days to throttle or oust the minister of God who preaches to arouse the conscience to justice, fair-play and the real practice of Christianity. Perhaps some things will be said out loud which you have been wanting to hear.

WILL PLAY AT
MAKECHNIE RECITAL.

Charles Downer and Selena Coburn are Winchester pupils who will play at the eleventh annual recital of the Makechnie violin school which will be held in Ford Hall, Boston, Tuesday evening, June 10.

A string orchestra of 30 pieces will present as an opening number Papini's Hope March, of which the first part will be played by 15 of the younger pupils. Miss Elsie Saulding of Dorchester will accompany.

The steady growth of the Makechnie school has necessitated for the end of the present season a larger hall and more comprehensive programme than ever before. Complimentary tickets for the annual recital may be obtained from Mr. Ernst Makechnie, 238 Elm street, West Somerville.

VANDALISM AT WILDWOOD.

At least two cases of the theft of flowers from graves in Wildwood cemetery were reported this week, when it became known that bouquets and potted plants placed on graves for Memorial Day were stolen. The flowers on one grave were taken before seven o'clock on the evening of the 29th, and the plants were taken before the 30th. The police have been notified by some of the owners of the lots and are working on the matter.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Flinn of Dix street are spending a couple of weeks at Lake Winnepesaukee, N. H.

Mrs. Franklin E. Barnes and family of Bacon street have gone to Longbeach, Gloucester for the month of June.

That he knew of his own knowledge that the volume of water from this roof and property, the surface of which is entirely impervious to soakage of rain water, is large, and that in winter a very icy condition of the surface of the sidewalk results. During heavy rains sheets of water flow over the sidewalk to the discomfort and inconvenience of persons using it as a thoroughfare. The report of the Engineer was accepted and it was Ordered, that L. V. Niles and the Mystic Valley Garage be and they hereby are ordered to discontinue discharging the rain water from their premises over and upon the sidewalk on or before the first day of July next.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

The monthly business and social of the Epworth League was held in the Methodist Episcopal Church vestry last Tuesday night. There being 21 present.

In the business session it was voted to omit the League Sunday evening service during July and August.

In the social part Mr. Fred O. Snow, Jr. gave us a rattling good impersonation of the Sugar Trust. All the girls said he was the hit of the evening.

We had one of the liveliest meetings we ever had last Sunday night and those who think we are dead want to come next Sunday night and find out how mistaken they are. Mr. Armstrong will lead. Everybody welcome.

On Tuesday afternoon the fire department was called out for an electric car, which was on fire on Main street near Clark. The motor was quite badly burned, although the fire was quickly extinguished upon the arrival of the chemical. Thursday afternoon a grass fire near the Bacon mill caused a telephone alarm to be sent the department. The chemical responded. Last night at 9:05 box 43 was rung in for a shed on the property of Dr. Church on Clark street. This fire was extinguished with a hand chemical.

Mr. F. W. Aseltine and family have gone to Sunny Side Park, Winthrop, where they have taken a cottage for the summer.

WATER IN RESERVOIRS.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

June 3, 1913

Dear Sir:—There has evidently been some misunderstanding in regard to the amount of water in the Winchester reservoirs during the past few weeks and the common impression seems to be that all three reservoirs have been overflowing during a portion of this time. Conditions have actually been as follows:

During the first week in May the north reservoir reached a height of about 1-2 in. below high water level and at that same time the south reservoir was about 9 inches below high water level. At this time water was flowing from the middle reservoir into the south reservoir. During the first three weeks of May very little rain fell and the reservoirs dropped in level so that about May 20th the north reservoir was about 4 inches below high water level and the south reservoir about 13 inches below high water level, with no water running into the south reservoir from the middle reservoir. The rainfall in the week following May 21st was heavy, so that about the latter part of the month the north reservoir became just about filled and a small quantity of water ran over the spillway. The south reservoir has reached a level of about 8 inches below high water mark.

While the supply of water in the reservoirs is thus seen to be satisfactory for this time of the year, we wish to correct the impression that there is a surplus of water and that water has wasted from the reservoirs.

Respectfully yours,
Water and Sewer Board.EQUAL SUFFRAGE LEAGUE

WHY A BOND?

He is from Missouri and Will Have to be Shown.

The following correspondence sent the STAR, is self explanatory, but why such an exaction?

May 28, 1913.

The Hutchinson Leather Machine Co., 1021 Main St., Winchester, Mass.:

Gentlemen:—
MAIN STREET: At a meeting of the Selectmen held May 29th, you were granted permission to construct a cinder and pea stone sidewalk with granolithic curbing in front of your building on grades and lines to be furnished by the Town Engineer, the work to be done under the direction of the Superintendent of Streets, and according to the Town's specifications for granolithic work; subject also to your filing a bond for $1000, to indemnify the Town against damage, loss or expense through the construction of the sidewalk or the occupation of the highway. Enclosed please find bond to be signed and returned under this permit.

Yours truly,
FRANK R. MILLER,
Clerk of the Board.

Winchester, Mass., U. S. A., May 31, '13.
Honorable Board of Selectmen,
Winchester, Mass.:

Gentlemen:—We are in receipt of your letter of May 28, with inclosures.

Inasmuch as the sidewalks at this end of the town are in a deplorable condition, the writer was inclined to try to better the conditions by putting in a good sidewalk in front of the property at No. 1021 Main St., at his expense.

We are inclined to the opinion that you do not care to accept a small donation of this kind, for in our years of experience we have never heard of a town asking parties for a bond, when such parties were donating to the town and its welfare; particularly where the work was to be done under the direction and supervision of your Superintendent of Streets. We will, therefore, drop the matter, and return your papers herewith, as we are from Missouri and will have to be shown.

Yours very truly,
Hutchinson Leather Machine Co.,
By A. A. Hutchinson.

BASE BALL.

Winchester vs Braham Dow Co.

On May 30th, Braham Dow Co. beat out Winchester by the close score of 3 to 1. It was a pitchers battle between Benson and Ross the former having the best of the argument, but received ragged support from the infield. All of Winchester's six errors being credited to them. Benson struck out 13 men and allowed 2 hits, batted one man. Ross struck out 11 men, allowed 4 hits and gave 4 bases on balls. Winchester had several chances to score but could not produce the necessary hits. Several runs were thrown away also by foolish base running.

It seemed to be the old story the "Holiday Hoodoo" with a fine crowd rooting for a victory. The features of the game were the work of Benson and Dickie, a difficult catch by Roach in center field and a fine 3 bagger by Morrissey. The visitors put up a snappy holding game.

The score:	r	b	e
Braham Dow Co.	3	2	2

Winchester vs Colonial.

On Saturday Winchester had no trouble in defeating the Colonial A. A. of Cambridge. From the start it was easily seen they were not in Winchester's class. The home team had their eye on the ball and rapped out 17 hits for a total of 26 bases. The visiting team was composed of fine individual players, but lacked the necessary team play. There were no features outside of a one hard stop by Glavin at third base and the nipping of the home team. Benson, Murray and Dickie hitting the ball for keeps.

THE SANBORN MONUMENT.

A noticeable monument of unusual design, embodying a rare bit of sentiment, has recently been placed on the Sanborn lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

In the spring of 1912, just before the passing of the title to the Sanborn Estate on Church street, Lawrence Sanborn caused to be removed one of the gate posts of the granite wall bounding the highway.

The Sanborn's father and son, were justly proud of that wall of cut granite, built by S. T. Sanborn sixty years ago, and the son thought a part of it a fitting and acceptable monument for his father, who died in 1900. So the post was pulled out of the ground as one piece, taken to Tutten's in West Medford and inscribed on three sides as follows:

(On the West)
This Post for more than Half a Century marked the entrance to The Sanborn Homestead in Winchester
It is placed here as a Memorial

Lawrence Skillings Sanborn died very suddenly last October while the work on the stone lacked completion. It was finished as he had directed.

POLICE NEWS.

Charles Connelly of Boston was arrested on one of the electric passing through town Decoration Day for using insulting and abusive language. In the Woburn Court he was fined $25 for disturbance on a street car.

Stephano Cocullo, who was arrested about a month ago for stabbing a man at the gelatine factory, was in court Tuesday for the continuance of his case. He was fined $75, which he paid.

The police had two men in court Wednesday morning charged with collecting second hand clothing without a license, contrary to the by-laws of the town. They were Joseph Silverman and Henry Wolinski, both of Boston. The men were arrested on the west side after previously having been warned to leave town. Wolinski was fined $10, and Silverman's case placed on file.

William H. Gorham of Boston was in court Tuesday charged with not blowing his automobile horn as the law requires. While backing his car in the square last week he nearly ran over a lady. He was fined $15.

DELIBERATIVE ASSEMBLY.

The postponed annual meeting of the Deliberative Assembly will be held in the Town Hall on Tuesday evening, June 9, at eight o'clock.

The business to come before this meeting will include the election of officers for the coming year and the consideration of proposed amendments to the by-laws reducing the dues and changing the dates of meetings.

The previous postponements of this meeting were made in the expectation that Capt. Robert Bartlett, Commander of Perry's ship on the famous North Pole expedition, would soon return to Boston and would speak on his Arctic experiences with stereopticon illustrations. The unexpected announcement that he had joined Steffanson's expedition, and was already on the way North, has made a change of plans necessary. Mr. Ralph T. Hale, a member of the Assembly, has consented to show Capt. Bartlett's pictures. Mr. Hale is one of the Captain's most intimate friends, and has in his possession not only the Captain's lantern slides, but many of his original manuscripts, diaries, notebooks, etc., and will undoubtedly give an interesting talk.

4TH OF JULY CELEBRATION.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

Inasmuch as the appropriation made by the town this year for the celebration of Independence Day is not sufficient to carry out a program as elaborate as has been the custom in past years, the Board of Selectmen have decided to call for private subscriptions to increase the amount available. Subscriptions may be made to Mr. Geo. T. Davidson, 19 Park avenue or Mr. M. F. Brown 12 Myrtle street.

Selectmen.

AN APPRECIATION.

Something Should be Done to Keep Mrs. Weber Here.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

Reading in your columns two weeks ago of the resignation of Mrs. Weber from her present position in the Congregational Church, I felt such keen regret that I would like to express my appreciation of her work.

My own profession being music, naturally my first interest was in the change from a regular quartette to a choir made up of young people of the church. This if it could be done would be the finest possible thing both for the church and for the young people. The young people need the church, and the church certainly needs the young people if it is not to die the natural and inevitable death from old age. But to make this change a success the person in charge must be one of the greatest patience, push, perseverance, and personal magnetism and charm, and these traits were all to be found in Mrs. Weber—and more.

The choir has been worked over, given lessons in the fundamentals of voice production, and kept together by the force and enthusiasm of their director, who has instilled into their minds much of that same enthusiasm and love of good music that is in her own.

In addition to the regular choir there is the young people's chorus and that of the children made up, I believe, of about 150 voices.

I deem myself fortunate in having heard the Easter concert given this year by the combined choir and choruses. It is astonishing to see what has been done in only two years of training. They started out as amateur musical organizations, do, ragged, thin and weak, and have developed into a chorus that not only any church, but any town, might be proud of. Their attack is almost always perfect, a difficult thing to accomplish even with adults, and how much more with children some of whom are only three and four years old and yet stand there and sing with all their hearts, never taking their eyes from the conductor's stick. I have seldom been thrilled as I was when listening to that concert, hearing the splendid volume, the quality of tone, the difficult crescendos and diminuendos, the good enunciation, realizing the amount of time and work back of it and the incalculable amount of good it was doing.

The influence for spiritual good that music can bring has been much talked of; but when we have the proof in our midst, ready at hand we do not appreciate it and cast it aside.

This music directorship is but one branch of Mrs. Weber's tree of usefulness which includes mission work, visiting the sick, and I don't know what else; yet the music alone would be quite enough for one person to attend to, but the flourishing condition of all her interests attests the enormous capacity for work that is shown by this truly noble-minded woman.

I am not a member of her church but it seems very important to me that we do not lose from our town one who is sending out through her young people such great influence for good. Can not something be done to keep Mrs. Weber among us that she may continue her beneficent work?

REV. MR. HODGDON TO TALK ON LIVE SUBJECT.

Rev. F. W. Hodgdon will speak on "The Democracy of Real Christians" at the First Congregational Church Sunday morning. He will show why the churches are not competing successfully with Sunday Golf, the Sunday Automobile, the Sunday Newspaper and the Sunday Dinner.

In the evening he will speak on "The Inside of the Cup." This will be in the main a review of Winston Churchill's last book. This book is a fascinating story founded on a profound study of modern church conditions and reveals some of the methods commonly employed in these days to throttle or oust the minister of God who preaches to arouse the conscience to justice, fair-play and the real practice of Christianity. Perhaps some things will be said out loud which you have been wanting to hear.

WILL PLAY AT
MAKECHNIE RECITAL.

Charles Downer and Selena Coburn are Winchester pupils who will play at the eleventh annual recital of the Makechnie violin school which will be held in Ford Hall, Boston, Tuesday evening, June 10.

A string orchestra of 30 pieces will present as an opening number Papini's Hope March, of which the first part will be played by 15 of the younger pupils. Miss Elsie Saulding of Dorchester will accompany.

The steady growth of the Makechnie school has necessitated for the end of the present season a larger hall and more comprehensive programme than ever before. Complimentary tickets for the annual recital may be obtained from Mr. Ernst Makechnie, 238 Elm street, West Somerville.

VANDALISM AT WILDWOOD.

The police have been notified by some of the owners of the lots and are working on the matter.

WINCHESTER ORCHESTRA.

Plans for Next Season Concerts announced—New Conductor.

The Orchestral Association's prospectus for next season is now in preparation and will be issued early next week. The most important announcement is the engagement of Mr. Henri Eichheim, late of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, as Conductor for the coming season. Mr. Eichheim is a musician of high standing in the musical community. Twenty of his twenty-five years experience were obtained in the Boston Symphony where his natural musical talents had great opportunity for expansion and development under leaders Nicksch, Pauer, Gerliche, Fiedler and Nick. He is a man, comparatively young, of pleasing personality and broad intelligence. Mr. Eichheim has acquired considerable reputation as a composer and is a very successful teacher of the violin. His great enthusiasm for his art and his personal magnetism are bound to have a beneficial effect upon the Orchestra.

The programs for the three concerts have not been finally determined, particularly as to order of arrangement, but the Orchestra will prepare during the season most of the following numbers, a symphony or part of a symphony by Beethoven, by Mozart and by Haydn; of Wagner they will do the introduction to "Tristan and Isolde," the Vorspiel of "Lohengrin" and the "Tannhauser March" Act II; Massenet's Overture to "Phedre" and the Meditation from "Thais"; St. Saens Algerian Suite; the Dream Music from "Hansel and Gretel"; McDowell's Suite No. 1; Selections from Puccini's "La Boheme" and "Girl of the Golden West"; parts of Dvorak's New World Symphony; Grieg's "Peer Gynt"; Berlioz's Rakoczy March; Mendelssohn's Helmbreides and Charpentier's Impressions of Italy. This list forms a well rounded program partly classic and partly modern but all of melodic and interesting. A soloist will be heard at each of the concerts as usual.

There was some talk by the Committee of advancing the price of seats next season on account of the limited space in the Hall for subscribers seats, (subscribers seats being the Orchestra's chief source of income) but it was dropped after due consideration and the old prices will prevail. Instead of raising prices a determined effort will be made to sell practically all gallery seats and fifty cent floor seats for the three concerts in advance. If this can be done it means a considerable reduction of expense and an increase of receipts. Subscribers can be of great assistance to the management by co-operating in the disposal of these cheaper seats for the season in advance. Subscribers can also cut out a large unnecessary expense by promptly sending their dues to the Treasurer instead of waiting for a second or third notice. Bills for annual dues will be sent out next week.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB.

The first dance of the season was held at the Club House last Friday evening with a record attendance.

The next event at the Club will be the concert to be given this Sunday afternoon from three-thirty to five-thirty. The music will be given by the Mystic Valley Orchestra placed on the roof garden. The entertainment committee has prepared an attractive program, which will be distributed at the wharf to the canoeists.

The Winchester boys paddled in the A. C. A. war canoe race at Lawrence on Friday notwithstanding the non-arrival of their new boat, the Medford Boat Club's war canoe, "Old Medford" being loaned them for practice and for the race. Winchester finished fourth. In the double blade tandem James R. Newman and Leroy Pratt won first place. Winchester did not get a place in the other events. A large number of the club members went to the meet and enjoyed the three days in camp, returning late Sunday night.

At the election of officers of the Eastern Division, held following the racing, Mr. James R. Newman of the Winchester club was elected Vice-Commander for the year and Mr. Frank H. Gerlach, Fleet Captain of the Winchester Boat Club, was elected purser. The Meet next year will be held under the auspices of the Winchester Boat Club, and it is now thought will be held on the Concord river.

Mr. J. Henry McEwen opened the ice cream, candy and tobacco department of his new store at the corner of Washington and Forest Extension, last Friday morning, May 30th, and did a rushing business throughout the day. The marble soda fountain is up-to-date in every respect and is a model of beauty and cleanliness. There are two good sized show cases, one for tobacco, and the other containing a large variety of candy. A store of this kind is just what has been needed in the Highlands for a long time, and Mr. McEwen deserves great praise for conceiving and putting into effect this idea. It is an American characteristic to talk about war every time the administration is engaged in negotiations regarding an international dispute. But these war scares do not come so much from ignorance as from design on the part of those whose business fattens on war's alarms. One element is the men who want to sell guns and munitions of war. Others have ships to dispose of to the government. And still another class is playing politics, and then, too, are the yellow journals. And all are an unpatriotic aggregation who would profit by dragging the country to the verge of war for the purpose of personal advantage.

OBSERVATIONS.

In 1910 Tax Commissioner Tretry increased our valuation for State Tax purposes a million and a half dollars above the Assessors valuation. This year he increases it three millions, putting it up to eighteen millions. Arlington got a great boost, from twelve millions in 1910 to eighteen millions this year. He places Woburn at thirteen millions and Stoneham, which a comparatively few years ago was ahead of us, at only five and a half millions. Our State tax apportionment for the next three years is $3.50 on a thousand dollars.

Seventy-five thousand dollars is available for all street purposes this year not including snow and ice or town stable maintenance. This certainly should make some showing.

Why of course it is not necessary to light the walk across Manchester Field to Mystic avenue, let those who use it and want light carry lanterns. Neither the lovers nor the foot pads want any light and the money could be used to better advantage in some more enlightened way.

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES.

The annual observation of Memorial Day by the members of A. D. Weld Post, 148, G. A. R., was held on Friday with a good attendance. The attendance at the exercises, both at Wildwood cemetery and at the Town hall in the evening was even larger than usual, and the perfect weather added much to the significance of the ceremonies.

The members of the Post assembled at G. A. R. hall at two o'clock in the afternoon, the parade to Wildwood cemetery starting at about two-thirty. There were eight members of the post in line, under command of Col. John T. Wilson, S. H. Brookings, Timothy O'Neil, David B. Coffin, Henry Richburg and Philip Mahar, George A. Hall of Somerville, a member of the Winchester post, and John Cammiff, were obliged to ride in the carriages this year.

Two other members who have seldom missed taking part in the parade were absent this year, - Mr. Harrison Parker, who was away, and Mr. Henry Smalley, whose health would not permit his presence.

Accompanying the veterans were Messrs. William J. Daly, George T. Davidson and Addison R. Pike of the Board of Selectmen, and Rev. Joel H. McLeath of the Unitarian church, who acted as Chaplain.

The post was under escort of Co. G., 5th Reg., of Woburn, and Gen. S. C. Lawrence Camp 54, Sons of Veterans, of Medford, under command of Mr. Preston Rowe of this town, assisted in the decorating of the graves at Wildwood cemetery. The music was given by the National Band.

The evening exercises opened in the Town hall at 7.15, the address being given by Frank B. Cressey of Cambridge. These exercises included singing by the school children under the direction of Mr. Ernst Makechnie, the roll call, etc.

PICKERING-ARMSTRONG.

Mr. Harry J. Pickering of Wildwood terrace, the well known driver for the Winchester Laundry Company, and Miss Mary B. Armstrong of Glenwood avenue, Woburn, were quietly united in marriage last Thursday evening at the home of the bride's mother. The ceremony was performed at seven o'clock by Rev. F. M. Estes of the Methodist church of Woburn.

Mr. Dan C. Pickering of this town was best man and the bride was attended by Miss Carrie M. Armstrong of Woburn. The bride wore a travelling suit of blue with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore blue voile and carried pink sweet peas. The house was decorated for the occasion with white pinks. Only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends of the couple were present.

No Restful Sleep for Seventeen Months!

Dangerous, distressing Kidney and Bladder Trouble removed by Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

Mr. C. H. Smith, 320 Washington St., Providence, R. I., writes: "I thank you for the free sample bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy you sent me. Since taking this I have continued its use and have used three large bottles, with much relief. I had been troubled severely with constipation for years. My case was supposed to be chronic. Now my bowels are regular. I was also a great sufferer from Kidney and Bladder trouble and for seventeen months I had no rest at night, as it was necessary to get up so often, sometimes as often as twice an hour. I am pleased to say that now I do not have to get up more than twice during the night and sometimes only once. Your Favorite Remedy has proved a blessing to me. I feel better all over. The heavy 'loggy' feeling has left me, as well as the bloated eyes. I sincerely thank you, for if I had not first tried the sample bottle I would to-day probably be in the same old condition, with aches and pains and all tired out."

Write Dr. David Kennedy Co., Rondout, N. Y., for free sample and helpful booklet. A standard Kidney, Liver and Blood remedy. 40 years successful. All druggists.

ALL SHOULD HELP.

The Winchester base ball team is handicapped to quite an extent in raising sufficient funds to carry on the games. In surrounding towns there are enclosed grounds, and an admission fee of twenty-five cents is charged. Therefore considerable money is raised, sufficient to pay all expenses, hire good players and leave a surplus in the treasury. In Winchester it is different. The ball field is public—anyone can, if they choose, witness a game without paying a cent. Of course this does not help meet the expenses, which are considerable. Happily all lovers of the game do not care to see a game seat free; they prefer to help in paying the expenses.

At the entrance to the field men are stationed with tags for sale, which are sold at any price that the entries care to pay. This is an uncertain way of meeting expenses but no other method can be resorted to as the field is free to all. For the comfort of the spectators, Selectman Davidson has had erected two rows of benches on the field at a cost of $50, he guaranteeing the payment for the work. He has got back thus far about $25, and the rest will come in time. But two more rows of benches are needed; these may come next year.

This scheme to assist in the comfort of the spectators and incidentally to increase the receipts has not appeared to be entirely successful thus far. Memorial Day at half past one the benches began to fill up. This was two hours before the game was scheduled to start and an hour before the "tag sellers" were on the grounds. These early birds did not contribute a cent, so that when the time for the game drew near, those persons who brought tags found that the seats were all taken up, the greater number of the occupants not having contributed a cent toward the expenses of the game. It was tough on those who paid, but there was no help for it; they simply had to stand, while those persons who were so "near" enjoyed the luxury of a seat oblivious to the fact that if all were in their class there would be no base ball and no seats. To those persons the managers of the team say "be a sport and chip in or else let those who do pay have the seats, and go back and sit down, and remember that it takes money to have a good ball team." Look at the tag when it is held before you and remember that a ball team can't be run without money; don't turn your head away.

BASE BALL.

The Winchester Highlands Athletic Club baseball team met a double defeat at Winchester Highlands, on May 30th, losing the morning game by a score of 10 to 4, and the afternoon game by 16 to 4. A very large number of errors was responsible for both defeats. In the morning game, played with the Baraca Class of Medford, in the Middlesex League, the batting of Bennett, and plays by Murphy and Burwell excelled for the W. H. A. C., while the batting of Coy and Lyrell, and the fielding of Campbell and Coy featured for the Baraca Class.

In the afternoon game, played with the Hayward Athletic Club of Cambridge, the batting of Mathews was the feature of the W. H. A. C., and the batting of Boyd Haskell, Creelman and Capler, and the holding of Dwyer and Creelman excelled for the Hayward A. C. There were two fast double plays by the W. H. A. C. team. A feature of the contest was a one-handed catch by Stewart at third base for the W. H. A. C.

SURPRISE PARTY.

Miss Margaret F. O'Brien was very pleasantly surprised at her home on Salem street by about fifty of her friends on the evening of Memorial Day. After the party had taken possession of the house Miss O'Brien was presented with a handsome locket and chain on behalf of those present. The gift was presented by Mrs. S. Rogers in a very appropriate speech.

A social evening was enjoyed by all and refreshments were served. Vocal and piano solos were rendered during the evening by Miss Clara Tarbox and Mr. Fred Jones of Cambridge. At the close of the affair the guests departed, wishing their hostess a very happy future.

Guests were present from Woburn, Cambridge, Dorchester, Franklin and North Attleboro, besides many friends from Winchester.

The first dance of the season was held at the Winchester Boat Club on the evening of Memorial Day. It was attended by about fifty couples, and was one of the most successful dances held at the club for some time.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

News Paragraphs.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner D. Pond had a narrow escape from a serious accident while driving their auto along Wildwood street last Saturday. The steering gear went wrong in front of the residence of Mr. Ralph E. Joslin and the big car ran onto the sidewalk and was badly damaged before it could be stopped. The car just missed a telegraph pole and the end of a stone wall. Had it struck either the results would have been serious. The front wheel and axle was badly damaged and other parts injured. Fortunately neither Mr. or Mrs. Pond were hurt.

TREMONI THEATRE.

At the Tremont Theatre, Boston, one is able to see in the French farce, "The Gentleman from No. 19," which is now enjoying unlimited prosperity at that theatre, a farce which is perhaps the greatest of its kind that France has ever sent to this country. It is in every sense of the word typically a French farce. All of the scenes are laid in small hotels in the South of France, and it is safe to say that no other play was ever more Gallic. From the very start its action is swift and furious with complication following complication with great rapidity which develops out of the story that relates the adventures that come to "The Gentleman from No. 19" in his mad endeavor to escape the wrath of a jealous husband, after he had unintentionally entered the room of that infuriated person's young wife who is yet a bride and who has told her better half of the intrusion.

MIXED BOWLING TOURNAMENT

The mixed tournament at the Calumet Club will close this evening with the match between the leaders, team 6, and team 3.

The prizes for the tournament arrived at the club last week and have been placed on exhibition in the reception room, making a very handsome showing. The first team prize consists of cut glass fern dishes with mirror stands set in silver for the ladies and cut glass decanters for the gentlemen. The second team prizes are silver and glass water pitchers for the ladies and sets of cut glass wine glasses for the gentlemen. The third consists of old brass and cut glass fruit dishes for the ladies and silver cheese knives with silver and glass dishes for the gentlemen. The prize for the ladies' high average without handicap is a travelling clock; for ladies high average with handicap, an electric toaster; for ladies' highest two string total with handicap, a mahogany serving tray; for ladies' highest two string total without handicap, cut glass lemonade set.

On Thursday night team 6, the leader in the tournament, lost all three points to team 13, which stood in second place. A win of one point would have given team 6 the tournament, and it must win at least that point in its last match to take first prize. Team 13, by winning all three in its next match will take second place. Mrs. Wilson's single of 97 was high for the ladies. Mr. Blank, with 187, was high for the gentlemen. On this evening team 12 won two points from team 7. Mrs. Harrington's 80 was high for the ladies and Mr. Starr's 180 for the gentlemen.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING.

On the application of Arthur E. Whitney made May 26th, the Committee on Ways and Bridges reported that the Engineer had staked the bounds of Mr. Whitney's property on Main street and that the low spot in the sidewalk had been filled so as to prevent water standing thereon and that the Superintendent of Streets had been instructed to raise the grade of the sidewalk to conform with the street and to construct a surface of gravel. The report of the committee was accepted.

The chairman reported that he had received and deposited with the town treasurer a check from the Ellen A. Newell Estate on account of their contribution to the town towards the cost of constructing Lawson road.

In the matter of removing plank runways crossing the gutter on Winthrop street, Mr. Peter C. Walling of No. 18 appeared before the board and asked that the matter be delayed until the grade of the street and its repair had been accomplished, claiming that removal of the runway in front of his premises at the present time would be a damage to his business. Referred to Committee on Ways and Bridges.

A letter was received from the Hutchinson Leather Machine Co., objecting to a bond requested by the Selectmen May 26th, and referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges for consideration.

On the complaint of Mrs. J. H. Shattuck, 126 Mt. Vernon street, presented May 26th, concerning the location of a pole in front of her premises and recommendations concerning which had been made by the Committee on Street Lights, a petition was received from the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., of Massachusetts, for the relocation of the pole about 20 feet westerly and granted.

On the application of Jas. I. Fitzgerald Contracting Co., presented May 6th for permission to lay granolithic across the loam space for entrance to the garage of W. Eugene Wilde, Stratford road, the Committee on Ways and Bridges reported recommending that permission be granted for a granolithic driveway the same to be constructed on lines and grades to be given by the Town Engineer according to the Town's specifications for such work under the supervision of the Superintendent of Streets and subject to the filing of a proper bond to protect the town from any damage through the occupancy of the sidewalk during construction of the driveway. The report of the committee was accepted and the permission was granted subject to the conditions specified.

The Committee on Ways and Bridges reported that as instructed by this board May 26th, a private way sign had been located on River street and the report was accepted.

In the matter of drainage on Holland street abutting the Hurley estate where the water flows over the sidewalk, the Town Engineer reported that some years ago a catch basin was constructed at the southern end of Lake avenue about 500 feet from Oak street and from this catch basin a 10 inch drain was led southerly about 25 feet to the surface of the ground. From this point where the pipe comes to the surface a shallow open trench conducts the water to the pond. Earth from the trench has been thrown upon what would be a sidewalk if one were constructed and this earth according to Mr. Hurley has resulted in causing the bottom rail and several pickets of his fence to decay. The Engineer found that Lake avenue was accepted as a public way in 1877 extending from Oak street to the pond. In view of the fact that Lake avenue is a public way to the pond it seemed to the Engineer that the drain from the catch basin should be extended to the pond and an inlet placed at the catch basin so that in case the catch basin grate becomes clogged the water would be carried off without overflowing. The report of the Engineer was referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges.

The Town Engineer reported concerning the necessity for a catch basin in Central street near Church street at the property of the Episcopal Church society that when the Church street drainage work was done there in 1908 only one basin was constructed, namely: that in Church street just around the corner from Central street. The Engineer was then of the opinion that the basin now suggested should have been constructed but he was directed to construct only one. The necessity for this new basin is not so urgent as in many other cases but in order that a dry cross walk at Central street may be had at all times, he would advise installing a new one at the point suggested and have it done in connection with the drainage work now going on in Church street. The report of the Engineer was accepted and the recommendations adopted.

In the matter of position of a conductor from the Brown & Stanton block called to the attention of the Town Engineer, May 26th, the Engineer reported that the entire horizontal part of the conductor was located within the street limits and he also reported that on the Mount Vernon street front of the building, a stone step at the doorway leading to the upper floors of the building was almost entirely within the street limits. The report was accepted and the clerk was instructed to write the owner to remove the obstructions.

The Committee on Street Lights reported concerning the desirability of a light on Lloyd street between Mystic avenue and Maxwell road, referred to them for consideration May 26th, that they acknowledged the advisability of such a light but that it appeared advisable in view of some expressed objection by abutters to do nothing at present. The matter was referred to the Committee for further investigation.

In response to request of this Board, Mr. Donovan, Superintendent of the Bay State Street Railway Co., at North Woburn appeared before the board and the matter of installing another turnout on Main street between Winchester center and the Woburn line was discussed and Mr. Donovan agreed to give the matter consideration and confer with the Board at its next meeting.

A report was received from the Town Engineer that he had interviewed Mr. Geo. H. Hill of 7 Winthrop street in regard to an entrance across the sidewalk to a garage on his property. Mr. Hill stated that all he would require would be a change of grade of the gutter by raising about 4 inches for a distance of about 20 or 25 feet the expense of this work to be borne by the town. The Engineer found that in this case as in all the other Winthrop street cases, the gutter is low

W. C. I. U. NOTES.

Young men about to start in business would do well to ponder this story from "The Boy's World," recently printed in the "Sunday School Times."

After Three Years.

The following story is told of a Philadelphia millionaire who has been dead some years: A young man came to him one day and asked pecuniary aid to start him in business. "Do you drink?" asked the millionaire. "Once in a while." "Stop it. Stop it for a year, and then come and see me." The young man broke off the habit at once, and at the end of the year came to see the millionaire again. "Do you smoke?" asked the successful man. "Now and then." "Stop it!" "Stop it for a year, and then come and see me again." The young man went home determined to break away from the habit. It took him some time, but finally he abstained from smoking for a year, and presented himself again. "Do you chew?" asked the philanthropist. "Yes, I do," was the desperate reply. "Stop! Stop it for a year; then come and see me again." The young man stopped chewing, but he never went back again. When asked by his anxious friends why he never called on the millionaire again, he replied that he knew exactly what the man was driving at. "He'd have told me that now that I have stopped drinking and smoking and chewing I must have saved enough to start myself in business. And I have."

FINED FOR RECKLESS DRIVING

Carlisle Elliott, age 20, a professional chauffeur employed in Winchester was fined $50 in the Woburn court Monday morning for reckless driving. Chief McIntosh conducted the prosecution.

Elliott attempted to pass a public carriage containing Mr. and Mrs. William U. Wyman of Oxford street without leaving a clear passage ahead. He was obliged to pass between two vehicles and by the narrowest margin escaped collision with the public carriage, severely frightening Mrs. Wyman. The auto was gone it was claimed, at the rate of 20 to 25 miles an hour.

Judge Johnson severely censured the young man for attempting to pass the carriage without having clear passage.

ONE WORD MORE.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

We think both you and your readers, Mr. Editor, must be tired of the words "Suffrage" and "Anti-suffrage." We wish we did not need to use them so much; but we feel it is necessary. So, once more we ask for a little space in your columns, to make an explanation.

The statement, made by suffragists in the "STAR" of May 30, that the Macor b County Retail Liquor Dealers' Association in Michigan used an Anti-suffrage leaflet as an advertisement is perfectly true; but to those who know what Anti-suffragists are working for, it is needless to add that this was done without their knowledge, and to their very great regret. So much is true: but the statement made in the "STAR" of May 23, that the Anti-suffragists received money from liquor dealers to carry on their campaign, is absolutely untrue. The Anti-suffragists are no more in league with the liquor interests than suffragists are. The reason why the liquor dealers have, in places opposed suffrage, is not far to seek. It is simply that they believed the assertions of suffragists that when women had the ballot, the liquor interests would suffer; but, now, when they find that in the states where suffrage has been given to women, these interests do not suffer and that they have nothing to fear, they are acting independently; though a few, as in the case of this one association in Michigan, seem to have still a lingering belief in the suffragists' assertion. The San Francisco Bulletin of July 31, says very truly "Liquor dealers misjudged the effect of woman-suffrage."

Women have voted at many saloon-closing and saloon-regulating elections, and in no instance have they, as a class, stood solidly against the liquor traffic. Plainly, the liquor dealers who fought the equal suffrage amendment were mistaken. They overlooked an obvious truth, which is that women have minds of their own, and are no more likely to be unanimous on a public issue than men. We fully believe this.

It is astonishing to compare some of the statements made by Suffragists before a campaign with those following a defeat. As two instances of the former we quote a remark made by Mrs. Crystal Eastman Benedict during the late Wisconsin campaign, when addressing the assembled brewers she said: "Why all this hue and cry about woman suffrage injuring the brewing industry? Isn't it a little foolish?" And May Wright Sewall, in Milwaukee Free-Press of October 20, 1912, says: "Votes for women will no more prohibit drink than they will prohibit food!" But we long ago gave up trying to find consistency in suffrage arguments.

Last March, in Washington, D. C., Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, the presiding officer at a meeting of suffragists, said: "We here and now throw down the gauntlet to all the miserable Anti-suffragists in the country. When they declare the women of the country do not want the vote, they lie!"

Dr. Anna H. Shaw, President of the National Suffrage League, in her speech before Congress, said: "We are not afraid of the body of ladies who are coming up and down the land, opposing suffrage. They are just enough in number so that by holding out their skirts they can make a screen for the men operating dens of vice, iniquity, and prostitution to hide behind."

A recent cartoon which suffragists are commending, represents a woman labeled "Miss Anti-suffragist," and to her several men are presenting bouquets with tags reading, "Liquor Interests," "Vice," "White Slave Trade," etc.

Anti-suffragists ask the readers of the "STAR" to investigate Anti-suffrage; to find out what it stands for, what kind of men and women are working for it, and then to decide for themselves what epithet best describes such a cartoon and such remarks as those of Mrs. Blatch and of Dr. Shaw: Are they pertinent and just, or do they partake of the nature of insult and libel?

Anti-suffrage.

POTTINGHAM STRUCK

BY AUTO.

An automobile owned and operated by Dr. Farrington H. Whipple of 1079 Boylston st., Boston, while going along the Mystic Valley Parkway near High st. West Medford, about 9:40 Monday night struck a bicycle on which Charles E. Pottingham of Vine st., Winchester was riding.

The cause of the collision is unknown but there is a turn in the road at this point and the bicyclist may have been dazzled by the sudden appearance of the automobile lamps.

Mr. Pottingham was thrown violently to the ground and his bicycle wrecked. Though badly shaken up and somewhat cut and bruised, he was not badly hurt. Dr. Whipple took him in the car first to the house of Fred Allen, park superintendent, and then home.

The play at the Winchester Country Club on Saturday afternoon was a bogey, three-quarters handicap. Following were the scores:

EQUAL SUFFRAGE

DEPARTMENT.

Conducted by Winchester League.

We regret that, by an unfortunate oversight in conyng one of the articles quoted last week, the crucial word in the quotation from the "Montana Protection Association" (of liquor interests) was omitted. As printed, this sentence read: "Montana like all other States is feeling the effect of the great wave which is sweeping the country." The right reading is,—"is feeling the effect of the great reform wave" etc. This word gives logical sequence to the following paragraph:—Woman suffrage and reform reform and Woman Suffrage—the agents of evil and it very hard to distinguish between the two? When a great movement is frankly acknowledged to be a "reform" movement by its opponents, its proponents have scored a very strong point, and secured valuable vantage ground.

There are over two million women of voting age in the Suffrage States according to figures sent out from the Census Bureau at Washington. The Woman's Journal reports the following as showing the quandary in which the Republicans find themselves over women voters:—"Representation of women was one of the points discussed at the recent meeting of the Executive Committee of the Republican National Committee in Washington. A meeting of the full National Committee will be held sixteen days after Congress adjourns."

A suggestion which came through a communication of the New York Republican Club dealt with the basis of representation from states in which women vote. Would it be fair, it was asked by some Executive Committee-men, to include women in the number of Republican Voters entitled to representation in the National Convention through delegates, when states where women did not have the franchise would be represented by delegates elected by Republican male voters only?

The New York Republican Club suggested that the representation in National Conventions from states where women voted should be based on half the Republican vote cast.

"But" asked one committeeman "if 500,000 Republican Votes are cast in California 300,000 by men and 200,000 by women, wouldn't you disfranchise 50,000 male Republican voters by basing California's representation in the National Convention on one half the Republican vote, or 250,000?"

These and other like questions, Executive Committeemen said, were important enough to require action by a National Convention.

Women may be disgraced with impunity, but as soon as any measure is taken or suggested that disfranchises a man, men see injustice! This is only one of many vexed questions that will arise, while women vote in only part of the states. Those states where women vote must have an advantage in representation over those where they do not vote.

The only logical and simple solution of such a condition is an amendment to the National Constitution enfranchising women throughout the country. Such an amendment is now before Congress.

SPIRITISM SAID

TO BE DEMONISM.

A most interesting little brochure has recently come off the press setting forth with Bible proofs that the communications received by and through Spiritist Mediums is of demon origin. The writer traces his subject through the Scriptures from the time when certain of the holy angels became disobedient. He proves from the Scriptures that these fallen spirits permeate the human dead, with whose past history, spirits, though invisible, are thoroughly acquainted. He shows that they also frequently personate the Creator and the Redeemer, commanding their deceived ones to pray, do penance, etc. This, however, is merely to lead them on and to bring them more thoroughly under demonic control. Sometimes by breaking down the natural barrier, the human will, they possess their victim, and rule him more or less to his ruin—frequently sending such to the mad-house. Numerous illustrations, Scriptural and otherwise, are given. The price of the little book is but five cents; it should be in the hands of all interested in Spiritism or who have friends interested therein. BROOKLYN TABERNACLE

BIBLE STUDY ON MERCY IS BETTER THAN SACRIFICE.

Genesis 45:1-46:7—June 8.

"Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!" Psalm 133:1.

WHEN Joseph beheld how changed were his brethren, he sympathized with them. When he saw that their hearts went back to their wrong course in his own case, and that they realized Divine disapproval and were sorry, he pitied them. He wished, however, that the disclosure of his identity should not be witnessed by the Egyptians. So, after he had ordered all the Egyptians to leave the room, he made himself known, saying, "I am Joseph, whom ye sold into Egypt."

We can well imagine the consternation of the brethren. But Joseph, full of true sympathy and pity, hastened to set them at ease. He did not even hide them for their wrongdoing, realizing that sin had already brought its punishment. Alas, how few Christians under similar circumstances would have been so noble!

How beautifully Joseph typified Christ and His Spirit! How evidently our creeds of the Dark Ages misled us when they

"I am Joseph," taught us to believe that all the Jews, brethren of Christ, were to be eternally tormented because they crucified Jesus! In the better light now shining from one page of the Bible to another, God's people see that Messiah purposes that Israel shall obtain Divine mercy and forgiveness, in the Millennial Kingdom.

Instead of their being punished with an eternity of torture, the Lord will be gracious to them. As He declares, "I will pour upon them the spirit of grace and of supplication." How beautiful, and how much in harmony with our typical lesson of today! Joseph's ten brethren apparently typified Israel, as the Egyptians typified the Gentiles, as Benjamin typified the Great Company, and as Joseph typified the Messianic class, the Elect, of whom Jesus is the Head, and the overcoming Church the Body.

Joseph Was Long Misunderstood.

Joseph's brethren failed to understand him—so great was the difference between their characters and his. Even after they had become more sympathetic and tender-hearted, they had still a sufficiency of bitterness of spirit and of animosity that, had they been in Joseph's place, they would have seen that somehow or other future punishments would have been meted out. They were, therefore, surprised by Joseph's words of brotherly kindness and sympathy, and unable to believe that he meant it. They concluded that he was dealing graciously with them for his father's sake.

So we find, years afterward, these ten brethren were in trepidation lest Joseph should wreak vengeance upon them after that Jacob had died. They went to him, asking for a continuance of his forgiveness. But Joseph comforted them, and spoke kindly unto them.—Genesis 50:19-21.

Jacob in Egypt.

Joseph had planned that for the five remaining years of the famine, at least, his father Jacob and indeed the entire family should come into Egypt. He thought of the district styled Goshen as very suitable for them, being a cattle-grazing locality. Pharaoh gave full consent, and suggested that Egyptian wagons be sent to fetch Jacob and the women and children.

Joseph prepared delicacies for the journey and little presents, indicative of his love. He sent a special message to his father, and urged haste in coming into Egypt. Then he kissed them all goodby, saying:

"Fall Not Out by the Way."

Evidently Joseph was a keen observer of human nature. Many would have thought it unnecessary to caution the brethren against disputes amongst themselves under all the circumstances. Many would have said, "They will be so overjoyed that love will prevail amongst them, and no disputes." The contrary, however, is often true. When prosperity comes, there are opportunities to feel more or less envy and selfishness.

Well it is that God's people should accept Joseph's words, "See that ye fall not out one with another by the way." It is the way planned for us by the Lord. It is a narrow, difficult way, full of adversities to the flesh, and trials and tests to the spirit. Proportionately, there should be love and sympathy, co-operation and helpfulness.

The words of the Psalmist, used as our Golden Text, were evidently prophetically written of the Church, the Lord's brethren. The Psalmist compares this unity of the brethren, the Church, to the precious ointment poured upon the head of the king and of the high priest on their induction into office. This anointing oil evidently typified the Holy Spirit. The priest typified the Royal Priest—Jesus the Head, and the Church His Body.

The anointing of the Holy Spirit has continued, and gives an unction to all of His true members. By this anointing these may be recognized as one with Christ.

Thorough Mourning.

Mandy, who had just become a sorrowing widow, was sorting out several suits of black underclothes. Her friend asked in great astonishment:

"Mandy, what fo' yob done got them black underclothes?"

"'Cause when Ah mourns Ah mourns."—Everybody's Magazine.

BOSTON THEATRE.

There was a blaze theatre-goer; he had seen everything from musical comedy to problem plays, from grand opera to French farce. He pined for something new. Because there was nothing new, he went to the other extreme and sought out the oldest thing he could find — he went to see "The Old Homestead" — and seeing it he found also the newest, freshest thing he had seen for years. It is not necessary to have been brought up on a farm to appreciate "The Old Homestead." If you like fun, if you like good characterization, if you like to have things move right along, but most of all if you like to laugh — you will enjoy "The Old Homestead." And there's the double male quartette. One wonders how it fits — until one has been there. After that one doesn't care how it fits, so long as it comes in somewhere. Finally, there's a man who plays an old-time yellow clarinet — he belongs to the Swanzy village band — and he gives the final fillup to the show. That clarinet would put a kick into anybody's heels. Special prices will prevail during the engagement of "The Old Homestead," 25c, 50c, 75c and $1.00. No seat over $1.00.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE.

One of the strongest and most varied all star vaudeville bills of the season is announced for B. F. Keith's Theatre next week, including a number of new and novel attractions. Sanderson Moffatt, the original "Weekee" of "Bunty Pulls The Strings," will make his first vaudeville appearance on this side of the ocean in a one-act comedy of Scottish life entitled "Fifteen Minutes of Matrimony." Mr. Moffatt will be supported by a splendid company of Scottish players. Another new feature will be the first vaudeville appearance of David Lythgoe, the Boston actor, and his players in a bit of musical comedy by John J. McNally. Still another novelty will be the first appearance in this country of Mykoff and Vanity, the Russian dancers, in their cycle of unique and remarkable dances of the Nations. Others are Conroy and Lemaire, the famous blackface comedians; Ed Morton, the man who sings; The Four Flourimonds, a great troupe of European novelty entertainers; Sam Lewis and Sam Dody, "The Two Sams"; Wentworth, Vesta and Teddy, featuring the world's most wonderful canine acrobat; Edison's Talking Motion Pictures with all new subjects; and many others yet to be announced.

THE BRAIN IN SLEEP.

Changes in the Volume of Blood Circulation When We Dream.

Dreams are due to an increase of sensation and circulation over that which exists in profound sleep. Observations made upon patients with cranial defects show that when we are dreaming the brain is greater in volume than in deep sleep and less than when we are awake. Thus this intermediate volume of blood would indicate that dreams are an intermediate stage between unconsciousness and wakefulness, and their incomplete and irregular intelligence would indicate the same thing. This increased circulation is usually due to sensory stimulation affecting the vasomotor center and causing a return of blood to the head, with resultant increased consciousness.

Contrary to popular belief, dreams in themselves do not contribute to light or broken sleep in which they are present. Such a condition is due to the ever present stimuli, which according to their strength or the degree of irritability of the cells, maintain even in sleep a varying degree of consciousness of which the dreams are merely a manifestation. Therefore the fatiguing effect often also attributed to dreams is not due to them, but to the lighter degree of sleep and less complete cell restoration which they accompany and which are due to some irritation.—Atlantic.

FIGHTING FISH.

In the Rage of Battle They Turn From Dull to Brilliant Colors.

In the gardens of Singapore it is the custom to stock the ponds with all manner of queer fishes, many of them of the fighting variety so dear to the heart of the orientals. This species of fish is so combative that it is only necessary to place two of them near each other, like fighting cocks, and perhaps to irritate them a little to bring on a lively conflict.

They at once charge each other with fins erect, at the same time changing color in their excitement from the duller of gray greens to brilliant reds and blues. Indeed, confinement in close quarters is not needed to arouse their combative propensities.

Place two glass jars close together, with one of these fighting fish in each and they will at once swim round and endeavor to charge each other through the interposed glass.

Even a single fish seeing himself reflected in a mirror will dart at his own image and, irritated all the more by his failure to reach his supposed enemy, will assume the most brilliant hues. Seeing his reflected antagonist do the same, he will redouble his efforts to reach him.—Exchange.

Thorough Mourning.

Mandy, who had just become a sorrowing widow, was sorting out several suits of black underclothes. Her friend asked in great astonishment:

"Mandy, what fo' yob done got them black underclothes?"

A Curious Locomotive.

The Darjeeling Himalayas railway is one of the most curious in the world. It is of two foot gauge and on account of the steepness is full of loops, curves and spirals, many of the curves having only seventy feet radius. Some of the gradients are as high as one foot in twenty-eight. A special type of locomotive, the Garratt, had to be made for it at Manchester. This locomotive was required by the specifications to be able to travel on reverse curves not exceeding sixty feet radius, with only twenty feet of length of tangent between the curves. The engine consists of a frame supported at each end by four wheeled bogies, each of which is described as a miniature locomotive without boiler. The boiler is carried on the frame between the bogies.—Youth's Companion.

LANE-SULLIVAN.

Winchester Young Lady Becomes June Bride.

One of the prettiest June weddings took place Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sullivan, 18 Spruce street, when their eldest daughter, Julia Elizabeth, was united in marriage to Mr. John William Lane, son of Mrs. Catherine Lane of Westboro.

The ceremony was performed at St. Mary's Rectory, Rev. John H. W. Corbett, officiating.

The bride was handsomely attired in a gown of white satin charmeuse with over drapery of marquisette and Irish lace trimmings, and carried a large bouquet of brides roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Catherine T. Sullivan, who was gowned in blue crepe de chine and carried pink sweet peas. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. James Lane of Westboro.

They were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sullivan and Mrs. Catherine Lane.

Miss Sullivan is one of the most popular young ladies in Winchester and a graduate of the Winchester High School.

The young couple were the recipients of many handsome and useful gifts.

The house was tastefully decorated with palms and roses. The ushers were, the Misses Alice E. Marion L. Anna E. Sullivan, Catherine Moran of Winchester, and Mary E. Sullivan of Charlestown, cousins of the bride. Guests were present from Beverly, Boston, Stoneham, Winchester, Westboro and Toledo, Ohio.

The wedding march was played by Miss Teresa E. Sullivan, sister of the bride, and Fallon's Orchestra furnished music for the evening.

After a short wedding tour to New York and Washington they will make their home in Beverly.

W. H. S. NOTES.

At the chapel, Tuesday Helen Regan spoke on "The Motorcycle of Today," and Sylvia Guttererson spoke on "Ellis Island, the gateway to New York."

The crew race on Mystic Lake takes place on Tuesday June 17th, at 3 o'clock. The graduation number of the Recordist will be on sale graduation evening at the price of 25 cents.

The base ball game with Arlington scheduled for Saturday has been cancelled and will be played on Manchester Field, Friday, June 20.

The Seniors Prom will be held tomorrow evening in the High School Assembly Hall.

The Baccalaureate Service for the graduating class will be held in the High School Assembly Hall, Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. The speaker will be the Rev. Frank W. Hodgdon.

Class Day will be held at the home of Barbara Wellington on Highland avenue this evening.

DELIBERATIVE ASSEMBLY OFFICERS.

The annual meeting of the Winchester Deliberative Assembly was held in the small Town Hall Tuesday evening. At the business meeting the following officers were elected for the coming year: Joseph Ryan, president; Warren E. Healey, vice-president; James R. Livingston, secretary-treasurer; Harry C. Sanborn, David J. Witmer, Joseph F. Ryan, Warren E. Healey and James F. Livingston, executive committee. At the close of the business meeting an interesting talk was given by Ralph T. Hale on Perry's expedition illustrated by lantern slides owned by Capt. Robert Battlett, who was in command of the expedition. A collation was served.

It was voted to change the constitution by reducing the annual dues from $1 to 50 cents, and by having the first monthly meeting of the year in October instead of September. The meetings will continue to be on the third Tuesday of each month as heretofore.

VACATION SCHOOL.

The opening of the vacation school is near at hand and the committee would like to make an appeal for contributions that could be made use of in the school. Such articles as raffia, seed, ribbons, embroidery silks, silkateen, wall paper, beads, old silk gloves and pieces of of percales, muslin, silk or velvets can be made good use of.

Also in the nursery we will need toys of all kinds, picture books and especially a rocking horse and express cart that some child has discarded or outgrown. Our friends in town have been very thoughtful and generous during past years and the committee sincerely appreciate what has been done.

May those who have in abundance remember that many a little one can be made happy through your gifts of things you do not care for any longer.

Mrs. W. D. Eldridge, Chairman, No. 7 Webster street. Telephone, 355 W.

TOWN MEN STRUCK.

The employees of the Town Highway Department struck Monday morning against the new order of working hours. The men have been working eight hours a day, with Saturday afternoon off during June, July and August, making a 44-hour week for these three months. The new schedule called for 9 hours a day during the first of the week and all day Saturday off. This did not suit the men and they quit.

The town men won their point and went back to their former eight hour day, with a Saturday half holiday. They claimed that under the vote of the town they could not be compelled to work nine hours in any one day.

A CHURCH PROBLEM OF TODAY.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

Dear Sir:—The letter from Miss Dorothy Temple in your last issue paid a well deserved tribute to a work done in our midst during the past two years. May I add a few words to it?

I venture to ask for the courtesy of your columns because this kind of work and achievement in reality concerns not one set of persons, nor one church alone, but the whole community.

We have admirable public schools here worthy of the warm support of all parents. But schools can not and never will, give all the training required for the youth of the country; the active cooperation of homes and churches is necessary.

That the churches to-day are inefficient in this line is a fact too well known to require restatement. They have not, as a whole, waked up to the demands of the present situation. No one can fail to see that our young people do not know how to employ their leisure time—that, yielding to the natural love for amusement with their sense of responsibility untrained many of them are to-day straying in dangerous paths.

Who shall call them back? Who shall present to them ideals, of interest sufficiently winning, sufficiently compelling to keep them in roads that ate safe?

Mrs. Weber—Pastor Assistant and Director of Music in the First Congregational Church here has more than 350 children and young people under her care, in special lines. She is teaching them to sing together, in her two choirs, she is training them to work together, in the Children's Missionary Society; she is stimulating their love of simple, wholesome enjoyment, then too, the good times when she plays for them; she is bringing in order people to work and to play (which is perhaps the more important of the two activities) with the younger ones of all ages; she is day by day making the church something to be loyally loved, to be worked for, to be studied, to be supported; she is sending the children to sing to those who are shut in, she is enlarging and developing their ideals, giving them a knowledge of good music and a knowledge of their own powers. And the children love it all; they are eager to carry out all her plans—and the members of the choir are a unit in desiring to continue under her training.

There are unlimited possibilities in work such as this. Educational movements are always slow movements. There is no royal road to learning. This applies to the kind of learning here concerned, as well as to the academic branches. The process is one of nature's own, fruition comes only with time. Nevertheless the results already obtained are remarkable, and it is safe to assert that children who continue under this training during their school years will gain incalculably on it.

All this is but a portion of the plan for enlarging the sphere of the ministry of a church of the community, which is the aim of Rev. Mr. Hodgdon, pastor of the church in which Mrs. Weber's work is carried on. But it is an important, a fundamental part. It seems a pity, to say the least—that it should stop. We have admirable churches here in Winchester, and devoted christian service, yet how many people there are who need just what a church alone can give, who are not reached at present in any effective way! Why not do all we can to bring every child in the town into close and happy relationship with some church and make him love to stay there and help, and why shut the door of any special opportunity!

To avoid any possible misunderstanding, allow me to state as did Miss Dorothy Temple, that this communication is entirely spontaneous and is written without the knowledge of any person concerned.

Yours truly,
Marion McG. Noves.

PICNIC TICKETS CANCELLED.

Notice is hereby given that the tickets for the Baptist Sunday School picnic on June 21 bearing numbers 101-110 inclusive, are declared void, by the committee having the picnic in charge.

Mr. Thurston Hall was in town for a few hours yesterday. He was on his way to St. Louis, where he will open an engagement next Thursday for ten weeks with Marguerite Clark in "The Woman."

BIG GAIN IN MEMBERSHIP

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS HEAR REPORTS

SEVERAL THOUSAND ATTEND THE ANNUAL MEETING

Frederick Dixon of London New President

Frederick Dixon, C. S. B. of London, was announced as president of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, The Mother Church, at the annual meeting of that church held in the church extension yesterday.

Several thousand members attended, including many members from foreign countries. Bliss Knapp, C. S. P. the retiring president, presided at the first part of the services which included hymns, readings from the Bible and "Science and Health," and prayer.

Mr. Knapp then announced the new officers and introduced Mr. Dixon who took the chair. The other officers are John V. Dittmore, C. S. B., of Brookline, clerk, and Adam H. Dickey, C. S. B., of Brookline, treasurer.

The treasurers' report showed the finances of the church to be in a flourishing condition. The clerk's report stated that the gain in membership in the past year has been greater than in any year previous, and that 102 new churches have been organized, including five in England and others in Germany, Switzerland, Australia, New Zealand and Porto Rico. In addition to these many unorganized gatherings of Christian Scientists were mentioned.

A call for reports from the field brought testimony from all parts of the world as to the growth and excellent condition of the Christian Science movement. Thanks were given from Ohio for the generous help The Mother Church and its branches had offered; New York city reported the establishment of new Christian Science reading rooms and mention was made of the missionary work done by Christian Scientists in prisons throughout the country.

Mr. Knapp, who is a member of the board of lectureship, told of his recent lecture tour, on which he circumnavigated the globe. Everywhere he stopped, he said, he was met by numbers of people, and the halls engaged for the lectures were in most cases overcrowded, especially in Australasia.

Prof. Herman S. Hering, C. S. B., told of his lecture tour through Germany and Switzerland, on which, speaking in German on Christian Science, he was greeted by large audiences. Col. William E. Fell of Leeds, Eng., and others described the progress and growth of Christian Science in the British Isles.

The summary of the report of the board of lectureship showed that in past year lectures given by this board had been attended by more than 850,000 persons, an increase of 100,000 over the number the previous year.

A report from Sweden reviewed the recent victory gained by the Christian Scientists of that country in securing official recognition of the church. This was granted by the King, to whom appeal was made after several unsuccessful attempts to gain legal recognition from the ministers of the state church.

The meeting concluded with the singing of the doxology.

VIOLIN RECITAL.

The growing importance of the annual recitals of the Makechue violin school, directed by Ernst Makechue of 238 Elm St., West Somerville, president of the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation, was emphasized by the eleventh recital of the kind given in Ford Hall last Tuesday evening. From a small suburban music school this has become an institution of considerable size with a system of instruction based on private lessons combined with class or orchestral lessons and having for its distinguishing features the completeness and thoroughness with which the pupils' musical culture is promoted.

MR. CARL GOODMAN.

Ford Hall, the largest that has yet been engaged for one of these recitals was well filled with a very appreciative audience. The opening number was Papini's "March de l'Esperance" of which the first violin part was played by the younger pupils. CAPT. WILLIAM A. SNOW.

Prominent Citizen and Soldier Passes Away.

Captain Wm. Alanson Snow, deputy collector of United States customs in Boston, died on Sunday night at 9.30 at his home on Ridgeway, of arterial sclerosis. He was born on April 15, 1840, in Chelsea, the son of Zenas Snow, a ship chandler of that place and Boston, who was an old-time Cape Cod family. He was a direct descendant of Nicholas Snow, who came to America in 1623 in the ship Ann and who married Constance Hopkins, the daughter of Stephen Hopkins, who was one of the famous body of Mayflower passengers.

William Alanson Snow entered his country's service in November, 1861, to take a part in the Civil War as a member of Company B, Second Unattached Massachusetts Cavalry. He went as first sergeant to New Orleans with General Butler's brigade. In March, 1863, he was commissioned second lieutenant in the First Louisiana Cavalry, in which was a regiment of loyal white men born in Louisiana. Mr. Snow was mustered out as captain of the same regiment in December, 1865. His entire four years of service were spent in the Nineteenth Army Corps, Department of the Gulf. He participated in the siege of Fort Hudson, the Red River expedition, the battle of Baton Rouge and many other battles in the Peche country in Louisiana. For a time he was in command of the cavalry depot in New Orleans and for some months after the close of the war was provost marshal of Austin, Tex.

Later, Mr. Snow engaged in business in Boston, but returned in 1870 to New Orleans where he entered the Government civil service. While there he was commissioned captain and aide de camp of the Louisiana State Troops. He was engaged under General Longstreet in the fight on the levee in New Orleans during the White League troubles.

In 1875 Mr. Snow was transferred to the Custom House in Boston in the warehouse division and he was made chief clerk in 1888. Some years later, in 1906, he succeeded the late General Barnes as deputy collector in charge of the division.

He was a member of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion, the G. A. R., and the Unattached Massachusetts Cavalry Association, of which he was the organizer and first president. He was also a trustee of the Winchester Savings Bank.

Mr. Snow in 1868 married Miss Helen F. Winde, daughter of the late Lewis Winde, a yacht builder and lumber merchant of Boston. He is survived by his widow and a son, Rev. Sydney Bruce Snow of Chestnut st., Boston, and Windsor, Vt., who is an assistant minister of Kings Chapel. An older son, not living, was Ensign William A. Snow, Jr., U. S. N.

The funeral services were held at the residence, Ridgeway, Wednesday afternoon, attended by a large number of friends and business associates. The service was conducted by Rev. Frank W. Hodgdon, pastor of the First Congregational church, assisted by Rev. D. Augustine Newton of Reading a former pastor. The burial was in Wildwood cemetery.

The pallbearers were Deputy Collector Robie G. Frye and George Miller from the Boston Custom house, David N. Skillings and Hon. Fred Joy, representing the Winchester Savings Bank; Capt. C. W. C. Rhoades and Capt. Chas. Hunt, representing the Loyal Legion; Henry J. Winde and Harrison Parker, representing the G. A. R. The ushers were William I. Palmer and Frederick Huse.

A Fire and A Lost Boy.

Two fire alarms were rung in on Tuesday, one for a fire and the other for a lost youngster. Fortunately both proved of no great consequence.

The fire came first, an alarm being rung in from box 37 at 6.30 a. m. This was for a fire on the roof of Mr. Charles S. Smith's house on Harvard street, which evidently caught from sparks from the chimney. It was extinguished with a hand chemical with little trouble.

The second alarm came in at eleven o'clock, being on account of the straying from his home of little Barney Boyle, the year and a half old twin of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Boyle of Holland street. Box 38 was sounded for this. When the alarm was rung in the child had been missing for over two hours, and search for him by neighbors and others had proved unavailing. A few minutes after the alarm was sounded the boy was found by the police on Florence street, where he had walked, Barney being found enjoying himself at the rear of one of the houses.

It is reported that the big Arlington pageant, which was interrupted by the heavy shower last Saturday afternoon, is to be given this Saturday at Mystic Lake. The Medford Boat Club is to hold an illuminated canoe parade in the evening, and efforts are being made to combine this with the pageant, with fireworks at the close.

Mr. Charles T. Mosman suffered the death of his father, Mr. Alonzo T. Mosman of Washington, D. C., this week. Mr. Mosman's death was very unexpected, he enjoying his usual health up to Saturday, his death following on the day after.

Branch Sarah Curran I. N. F. of Woburn, were the recipients of a handsome gavel and ballot-box at their last meeting, presented by Bro. Timothy Buckley of Branch John E. Redmond, Winchester.

Hon. Samuel W. McCall returned Wednesday on the Olympic from a ten week's trip abroad.

Graduation Exercises.

On Sunday evening, June 15, 1913, Rev. Frank W. Hodgdon will preach at a Union service to be held in the high school assembly hall at 7 o'clock. The sermon will be addressed particularly to the high school class of 1913, but it will, doubtless, be of interest to many others. All who wish to come will be welcomed. Children must be accompanied by adults.

The graduating exercises will be held in the Town Hall as follows: High School, Tuesday evening, June 17, 1913, at eight o'clock; Wadleigh Grammar School, Friday evening, June 20, 1913, at eight o'clock.

A cordial invitation is extended to all friends of the schools to attend on both evenings. A portion of the hall will be reserved for the immediate families of the graduating classes, otherwise seats will be open to those who wish to come, except that children must be accompanied by adults.

The program for each evening will be about one hour and a half in length and, it is believed, will be interesting to all who remember their school days as well as to those who know the boys and girls and young men and women who will then receive their diplomas.

The doors will be open at seven-thirty. The seats reserved as noted above will be held only till seven-fifty, when they will be filled. The exercises will begin promptly at eight.

Among these will be the singing by the Chorus Choir and the Children's Choir united, under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Lovejoy Weber with Mr. Chas. S. Norris at the organ and Miss Mary French at the piano, assisted by Miss Gladys Blaikie, Miss Mabel Wingate, violins, and Miss Mary Blaikie, cello. The soloists will be Mrs. Helen Rumsey Smith, alto, Mr. Clyde C. Dunning, bass, Master George Richards Corey and Master Eric Coburn, boy sopranos.

At the close of the service growing plants will be given to the members of the Sunday School.

NOW POSTMASTER ROACH.

Mr. James J. Roach received a telegram on Tuesday afternoon from Representative Frederick S. Deitrick announcing that the confirmation of his appointment as postmaster of Winchester had been confirmed by the Senate.

HIGH SCHOOL TRACK TEAM.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

The Spectator is going to touch upon the subject of fault-finding because there are fault-finders in every community. The Spectator doesn't know of a habit more pernicious than that of chronic grumbling. The best that The Spectator can say for it is that its own distorted face sometimes wards off an incipient growth in another; for one who has known the discomfort of daily association with a peevish fault-finder dreads the evil genius. It is not in the nature of any habit to remain stationary, but it seems that this illomened growth is more tenacious and spreads more malignantly than the average human fault. There are so many things that are satisfying that it seems the last resort of an unhappy mind to concentrate energy upon the weak spot and find fault and criticize because a few little cogs have missed connections somehow. If any Winchesterite is minded to peer about for loose ends to serve as stock for the grumbling growth there is no lack of material. The active fault finder finds something awry at the breakfast table and sounds a dreary note to all around; then the weather comes in for dismial plant; the domestic or business life get a share of abuse, and no one escapes the unhappy venom. No one, unless forced by the stern call of necessity will naturally gravitate to such an unhappy being and the pity is that anyone must abide long in the ruinous atmosphere. As an offset, The Spectator would emphasize those who come under the influence receive the certain benefit that discipline always yields. It is a Spartan training, but after all, those lines of Browning are not meaningless: "Then welcome each rebuff. That turns earth's smoothness rough. Each sting that bids not sit, nor stand, but go!"

Be own joy three parts pain! Strive, and hold cheap the strain; Learn, nor account the pang; never grudge the throe."

Metal that is to be used for the finest, most delicate work, receives the highest degree of being, hammering and polishing before it is pronounced ready to serve its mission, and so the human spirit is tested, tried and "hammered" until it is ductile, true and toughened to "turn earth's smoothness rough." But what Winchesterite wants to perform the mechanical work of "hammering," which is only another way of saying fault-finding, grumbling? It is very satisfying to view a beautiful finished product, the handwork of our skill, patience and endeavor, but it is pitiable to note a human being grown strong in the beautiful graces because of our "hammering," refined and purified by rebuffs and stings. It takes courage to remain under the hammer of fault-finding, even for the sake of its chastening influence. We do not often enough take full inventory of our faults, but the conviction grows stronger daily that if we only would hold before them a true mirror that would betray them and us without any bias, without leniency, just faithful images. We would not be willing to continue to the end disagreeable, sour and unbecomable. The victim of a fault-finder rarely suffers but who suffers most? To make oneself an object of dread, so that one's best friends are thankful to escape—who is the worse victim? It is a bit disconcerting—but we might make it salutary as well—to realize how these follies of ours react. That is the one feature we most lose sight of, yet selfishly, it is the most salient. Cannot we mend a few broken down fences?

Stucklers for hygiene here in Winchester and elsewhere will be pleased to hear of the latest dictum of the medical fraternity as to the germ susceptibility of the pipe of a smoker. The "bit" of a pipe is every bit as much of a germ magnet as a moistened cigar end or a cigarette. Doctors have warned smokers for years against using public cigar clipper and against laying down a partly smoked cigar or cigarette on the edge of a desk, table or window sill. Recently the ban has also been placed on pipes. "Don't lay a pipe down, either," say the medical highbrows, "particularly if it has a curved stem. A pipe will not stay put but will roll a little to readjust itself unless it is laid down with the greatest care. The saliva moistened bit could pick up a few odd million microbes just as easily as not." And so it would seem that the only safe way to lay down a pipe, except in a rack, is not to lay it down at all.

With pride a good Winchester woman remarked to The Spectator. "See that bust of Lincoln on the mantelpiece? I was born in Indiana though our family moved many years ago. Many a time my grandfather and Abraham Lincoln's father sat together."

A good gentleman of a scientific mind has just explained to The Spectator how it is possible to so change the New England climate that this vicinity would resemble northern California. We might have palm trees in Winchester square, banana plantations and orange groves scattered all over the town's outskirts. There wouldn't be any ice cut in the vicinity of Winchester but the ice houses might be made useful as storage places for the fruits of a semi-tropic country. The coal dealers would cease to trouble and the ashenmen would be at rest. It appears that this seeming miracle could be worked by building a huge ocean jetty extending into the Atlantic Ocean from the eastern coast of Newfoundland. The purpose of this barrier would be to impound the gulf stream and prevent it from making a union with the Arctic current. The plan, in other words is to heat the Atlantic coast by taming the gulf stream. The estimate cost would be $100,000,000. But there is another side to the case. There are scientists who affirm that while the gulf stream exists and has been known to mariners ever since it was discovered by Ponce de Leon when he was hunting for the fountain of perpetual youth, the talk about its effect on climate is all moonshine and even if the jetty was built, we should still cut ice and not raise any bananas in Winchester. But a mighty fascinating picture has been presented and one that would at least make the basis of a mighty interesting story.

BLOOD — WARREN.

The wedding of Miss Edith Frances Warren, daughter of Mr. Edmund D. Warren of 27 Vine street, and Mr. Frank Blood, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Blood of Stoneham, was solemnized on Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock at the Congregational parsonage, Reading, Rev. D. Augustine Newton, formerly pastor of the First Congregational church of this town, performed the ceremony, which was witnessed only by a few intimate friends of the couple.

Mr. Perley Blood of Stoneham was best man, and Mrs. J. Albert Hersey of Vine street, this town, was matron of honor. The bride wore a travelling gown of grey broadcloth and carried a bridal bouquet of lilies of the valley.

A wedding supper followed the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Blood, after which the couple left on their wedding trip. The bride is well known to Winchester young people, enjoying a large circle of friends here. Many handsome gifts were received, including cut glass, china, silver and articles for their new home. They will reside at No. 4 Lincoln street, Stoneham.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB.

About one hundred canoes were out Sunday for the concert at the Winchester Boat Club, many attending from the Medford Boat Club, to which an invitation had been extended. A program was given by an orchestra of five pieces from 3:30 to 6, which was greatly enjoyed, notwithstanding the chill of the afternoon.

The Lawson Trophy Race will start at 2 p. m., prompt, on June 17th. The finish will be at the Medford Boat Club. On the evening of the 17th, commencing at 8 o'clock, there will be a dance at the Club.

Owing to unforeseen circumstances there will be no parade of illuminated canoes in the evening, although a parade will be held on the lake at the Medford Boat Club on the Saturday evening following, June 21st.

The tests were witnessed by fire chiefs from many places and also by underwriters and city and town officials, all of whom expressed unqualified approval of the new machine and its work.

The ice situation is now taking space in all the leading papers in the country, superseding the Balkan and the Japanese questions. There is no doubt about the facts, prices are up. There is, in many instances a justification for an advance, but in many cases, it is simply taking advantage of a bad ice season, as in one case we heard of in Maine, where the local dealer has advanced his price fifty per cent. However, we are resting comfortably here, prices are not being advanced upon us. There are some reasons why prices could have been boosted here but there is one reason why they are not, and that reason is, because business men are the controllers of the Horn Pond Ice Co.

Keep Your Nerve!

That's the "go-ahead" part of you.

- ¶ The best of us now and then feel the wear and tear of every-day action. Sometimes it's the stress of business; often the worries of household care; occasionally the penalty of social duty.
- ¶ But whatever the cause, when the nerves begin to cry, it's time to think of recruiting nerve strength.
- ¶ Some seek medicine—and medicine sometimes helps; but the natural way to recruit nerve strength is by supplying the missing elements of true nerve nourishment which are lacking in one's every-day diet.

(ask your doctor about that)

is recommended to your notice because it is rich in abundance of brain and nerve-building material, especially Phosphate of Potash, the vital tissue salt of the gray nerve cells.

¶ Scientists know that nerve strength rests upon nutrition—a nutrition that supplies water, albumin and organic Phosphate of Potash—the three vital elements that, according to their supply or lack, makes nerves strong or weak.

¶ Ordinary food provides water and albumin in plentiful amount but organic Phosphate of Potash is frequently lacking in the usual diet.

¶ Grape Nuts provides it. This food is made from Nature's field grains, preserving the natural organic salts of wheat and barley (which the miller of white bread flour rejects) for building brain, blood, bone and brawn as Nature intended.

¶ Grocers sell Grape-Nuts, an economical food that answers every purpose of providing rich, true nutrition for body, brain and nerves.

Mr. and Mrs. John Walker, Jr., of Arlington, formerly of Lincoln street, this town, are the parents of a son, born Monday.

The town was visited by a heavy thunder storm last Saturday afternoon shortly after two o'clock. For a time the rain fell in torrents, the downpour being so heavy one could hardly see across the square. The ball games and other Saturday afternoon festivities, including the big Arlington pageant at Mystic Lake, were nipped in the bud. Many persons were caught in the deluge and soaked to the skin, and cellars were flooded in many buildings and residences, while unknown leaks developed to keep the majority of the residents busy with pails and cloths. During the storm the residence of Mr. W. L. Tuck on Winthrop street was struck by a bolt of lightning, which ripped some of the shingles off the roof. Miss Beatrice Tuck was entertaining her Sunday School class of small children at the time, and the small damage was most fortunate. Many of the streets were badly flooded and washed out.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING.

June 4, 1913.

Pursuant to adjournment, the Board met at 7 p. m., all present.

A notice was received and filed from the Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners on the petition of the Arlington Gas Light Co., for the approval of that Board of an issue of additional capital stock on the par value of $200,000, for the purpose of paying the indebtedness of the Company now outstanding and the cost of further extension of its plant, that the Board would give a hearing at its office in Boston on Thursday, June 19, 1913, at 10.30 a. m.

The Chairman reported that an invitation had been received from the Selectmen of Town of Arlington to attend the dedication of the Robbins Memorial Town Hall on Wednesday, June 25th, and accepted by him on behalf of the Board.

The Chairman also reported receipt of an invitation from the Town of Lexington to attend the celebration of the Two Hundredth Anniversary of the incorporation of that Town on Tuesday, June 10, 1913, and that the same had been accepted.

Mr. Chas. A. Lane, Chairman of the Park Board, was present in regard to the celebration of Independence Day at the matter was discussed at some length, it appearing that the appropriation made by the town fell short of the requirements of the celebration similar to last year, by about $100. The Committee of Selectmen to whom this matter was referred June 2nd, reported that they would agree to try to raise the additional amount by subscriptions so as to bring the amount available for the celebration up to about $500. Mr. Lane agreed to proceed with the arrangements for the celebration along lines similar to past years and he was authorized to contract with the band for $150 and for fireworks $200, the balance of the appropriation to be apportioned later.

The matter of electric lights on High and Ridge streets petitioned for by George L. Locke and ten others, December 9, 1912, was referred to the 1913 Board on the recommendation of the Committee on Street Lights.

A bond for $1000 was received and approved from Frank M. White and H. W. Brown to protect the town against damage by reason of the occupation of the sidewalk and the constructing of the driveway between the Brown-Stanton and White blocks on Mount Vernon street.

An estimate of cost of tar concrete sidewalks on Washington street from Cross street to Marion road to Clematis street and from Clematis street to Forest street Extension, was received from the Town Engineer, and referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges.

Alternative bids for construction of about 12,000 sq. yds. of granolithic sidewalk, using clean gravel instead of shed stone, were received, opened in the presence of interested parties. The prices named being per sq. yd. of two coat work, namely:

Simmons Bros. Corp. $3.85
(Town to furnish the sand and gravel) las I. Fitzgerald Con. Co. .94
Allen R. Roe .662
Armour Concrete Cons. Co. .975
Simmons Bros. Corp. 1.00
M. D. Russo & Co. 1.01
G. L. Leach & Sons

Cost plus 15 per cent

The bids were filed and the subject matter referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges to act in conjunction with Mr. Brown and they were empowered to employ expert engineering advice concerning the matter of substituting clean gravel for crushed stone and to report at the next meeting of the Board.

In the matter of improvement of Loring avenue, Mr. Daly reported for the Committee on Ways and Bridges that they had met the Committee of abutters as agreed. The subject of drainage and building of the street was discussed at length by them. The Chairman requested that the Committee of Citizens obtain drainage rights from property owners along Wendell street and within to days the Engineer would set stakes showing the grade of street in accordance with plan submitted at the meeting. The citizens were given to understand by the Committee on Ways and Bridges that an amount sufficient for drainage and construction of this street would be urged before the appropriation committee during their sessions the first of next year.

An amended petition was received from the Arlington Gas Light Company for permission to lay a 4 inch cast iron cement joint gas main on Wedgemere avenue from Foxcroft road to Wildwood street and the same was granted subject to the usual conditions.

A bond for $5000 to indemnify the town against any damage from or by reason of the occupancy of the streets and sidewalks in the Town was received from the las. I. Fitzgerald Contracting Co. The matter of approval was postponed to the next meeting of the board.

The matter of an additional street light on Lloyd street between Mystic avenue and Maxwell road, the Committee on Street Lights reported that they adhered to their recommendation presented June 2nd, that it was inadvisable at present to locate an additional light at that point. The report was accepted.

The Town Engineer was instructed to submit to the board an estimate of the cost of constructing a proper drain in Winthrop street to relieve the drain now passing under Mr. Newton Snulvis' property.

Voted that the Highway Committee be and they are hereby empowered to arrange the hours of labor for the employees in their Department so that the 44 hours of labor per week required during the summer months be performed between Monday morning and Friday night in their judgment it is advisable.

The Committee on Ways and Bridges presented a list of private ways, some 200 in number, requiring private way signs and the Committee was authorized to procure the necessary number of private way signs not exceeding 200, the same to be charged to the Ways and Bridges Account.

The Committee on Town Hall reported that they had arranged with the School Board that they might use the Town Hall for rehearsals as asked for at the previous meeting of this board at such times as would not interfere with other functions for which the hall would be required.

The Committee on Fire Department asked approval of a rule regarding the racing of fire apparatus and an amendment to the rules in regard to uniforms and the same were approved.

73d ANNIVERSARY.

The Ladies' Western Missionary Society of the Congregational church observed its seventy-third anniversary on Thursday, June 5. Seventy-five ladies sat down to the bountiful luncheon prepared by Mrs. Purrington and her assistants. The tables were prettily decorated with green crepe paper and at each plate was a dainty souvenir. Mrs. Lydia Blood as one of the oldest members of the society greeted the other members and the guests. Mrs. Holgdon president of the society also welcomed the guests in a very gracious manner. A novel feature of the luncheon was the expeditious way in which the tables were cleared. Each lady collected her own dishes and as many more as she could and all formed in line and carried the dishes to the kitchen in time with a lively march played by Mrs. Webber. During the business hour the roll was called and a large number responded to their names and several ladies spoke a few words for their mothers, who were active members of the society in former years. The work of the past and the present and the outlook for the future were presented in five minute talks. Greetings were sent by absent members and now as the society is seventy-three years young, it is looking forward with high courage to its centenary celebration.

INSTALL WIRELESS STATION.

A wireless station has been installed in the second story of the Winchester Garage by Robert Feeg and Fred Carroll. The aerial stretches from the top of the Winchester Laundry to a thirty foot mast on the garage. The receiving range is from 1500 to 2000 miles and the sending range is from 10 to 20 miles.

Every evening the boys receive base ball scores, weather reports, and many other messages. Also the time signals sent out from the government station at Arlington, Va., received every evening at 10 p. m. The naval stations along the coast are heard from all the way from Cape Elizabeth, Me., to Key West, Fla.

The sending station which will be licensed in the near future, is as large as the government laws will permit a private station to use namely one half kilowatt.

Both of the boys have been through a wireless school in Boston and are skillful operators. They started about four years ago with a small amateur sets and have gradually developed their station into the present modern apparatus. At the present time there are about thirty amateur stations in Winchester.

AUTOMOBILE STRIKES TREE.

An automobile owned by W. B. Durgin of Concord, N. H. driven by Joseph T. Greenough of 30 Academy street, Concord, N. H., collided with a tree at the corner of Cambridge and Church streets, last Friday evening, about 10 o'clock, severely damaging the auto and injuring the chauffeur.

The car contained a party of four men, who fortunately with the exception of the chauffeur escaped injury. The chauffeur was thrown out on his head, but not seriously injured. He was attended by Dr. Cummings. The auto was towed to the Mystic Valley Garage.

MRS. SARAH BRANCH.

Mrs. Sarah Branch passed away last Friday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William P. Jones, 68 Harvard street. She was born in Virginia 40 years ago.

The funeral was held last Saturday afternoon with services at the house conducted by Rev. Mr. Smith of the Baptist church. Burial was at Plainfield, N. J.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a tea-spoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Perhaps it might be well for the town to consider the advisability of a playground for the youth residing in the northerly part of the town while land is comparatively cheap. There is a playground in the centre of the town and through the generous gift of Mrs. Palmer the west side is now provided for. Playgrounds are good investments.

The heavy rainfall of last Saturday afternoon made no impression on the surface of the newly macadamized Park avenue, while about all the gravel built streets on the side hills were badly washed and gullied. In the course of time it will be found that macadamized streets on side hills are more economical than gravel.

In the industrial world today, the executive officers of a successful corporation frequently have to devote as much time and attention to answering attacks upon it, correcting misstatements about it and enlightening legislative, administrative and judicial bodies concerning its operations, as they devote to the actual management of its business.

The defalcation of $35,000 by a bookkeeper of Middlesex County appears to be due to divided responsibility. The County Commissioners are disposed to lay the blame to the Prison Commissioners while the latter wash their hands of the affair by saying that the former are responsible. No doubt there will be a different system of bookkeeping hereafter.

Col. Benton, who last Fall unsuccessfully contested with Joseph Walker for the Republican nomination, has issued the following statement: "Letters and petitions from all over the State have been coming in to me in which I have been requested to announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for Governor before the present Legislature prorogues. I appreciate the spirit which prompts these requests and will give the matter my very serious consideration and make a definite statement before the end of the week."

P. S. Col. Benton has decided to be a candidate.

There seems to be general complaint over the postal service in this section, mostly concerning the Boston office. Postmaster Hitchcock, the recent postmaster general, before his retirement, succeeded in practically demoralizing the service throughout the country. The main trouble is that there are not clerks and carriers enough to perform the work—the parcel post adding immensely to the labor. Postmaster General Burleson has a great opportunity in improving the mail service and adding to his popularity by giving the people throughout the country efficient and proper postal service.

The Arlington Gas Light Co. announces a reduction in the price of gas to $1.15 on and after July 1st. This will be appreciated by all users of gas and will greatly increase the popularity of the gas range and water heater. The gas range is indispensable in house-keeping these days and its use is preferable to all other means for cooking,—is the opinion of those who use them. The company offers a very liberal reduction in price of the ranges for a limited period. The residents in many parts of the town are hoping for an extension of the gas mains, so that they may also receive the benefit of the labor saving gas range.

Roll-Off Settles Two Teams Prizes in Calumet Bowling

Team 6 won first place in the mixed tournament on the alleys of the Calumet club last Friday night, and team 13, by losing two points on the evening previous, which dropped it from a fighting chance for first to a tie for second, again lost on a roll-off and took third prize. Team 4 won the second prize. Team 6 has maintained the lead for several weeks, but by dropping a point in several matches toward the finish, allowed the possibility of a tie. The individual prizes were well settled for several weeks and there was no close contest in them at the close.

First prize—Team winning largest number of games. Won by team 6—Mr. and Mrs. T. Price Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Sewall E. Newman, Miss Giles, Mr. Henry Weed.

Second prize—Team winning second largest number of games. Won by team 4—Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Willard T. Carlton, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips C. Simmonds.

Third prize—Team winning third largest number of games. Won by team 13—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Saabye, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Blank, Mr. and Mrs. Harold K. Barrows.

Fourth prize—Lady making highest average without handicap. Won by Mrs. T. Price Wilson, 85.96-100.

Fifth prize—Lady making highest average with handicap. Won by Mrs. Willard T. Carlton, 75.11-100 and 17, making 92.11-100.

Sixth prize—Lady making highest two strings with handicap. Won by Mrs. Herbert J. Saabye, 79 and 96 plus 38, making 213.

Seventh prize—Lady making highest two strings without handicap. Won by Mrs. Wallace F. Flanders, 103 and 93, making 196.

The final matches were well rolled. Team 6 won two of its points from team 3, which gave it a lead of three points over the next nearest team. Mrs. Wilson had the best single for the ladies with 100, and Mr. Wood for the gentlemen with 105. The roll-off between teams 4 and 13 resulted in the latter winning easily by high scores. Mrs. W. J. Brown rolled the best score for the ladies with 85 and 165, and Mr. Brown had the best gentlemen's score with 108 and 201.

Surprised Mr. and Mrs. Potter.

Mr. George W. Potter, well known in Winchester as a prominent bandmaster, was completely taken back on Wednesday evening when he was surprised at his home on Canal street by the members of the Malden Municipal Band and a number of his neighbors. The first intimation he and Mrs. Potter had of the affair was when the band, thirty-six pieces strong, commenced the wedding march in front of his house. The occasion was the fifteenth wedding anniversary of the couple.

Several selections were played in front of the house and then the crowd adjourned to the inside. Mr. and Mrs. Potter were presented with handsome gifts of cut glass, a traveling bag and a fine reading lamp. The bag was presented by Mr. A. U. Morash, leader of the band, on behalf of his fellows. He made a most appropriate speech, and Mr. Potter was left completely breathless.

A bountiful collation was provided and served to the large assembly, and the evening was passed with musical selections given by the band.

O'Leary of Grove street, a well known and popular young lady of this town, and Mr. Joseph Christopher O'Mahoney of Boulder, Colorado, took place on Wednesday morning at St. Mary's church at nine o'clock. The nuptial was celebrated by Rev. Daniel J. Merritt, rector of the church, Rev. Francis E. Rogers was deacon and Rev. Hugh J. Maguire, sub-deacon.

The bride was gowned in white charmeuse trimmed with princess lace, and her tulle veil was caught with a spray of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Miss Minnie T. O'Leary, sister of the bride, was bride's maid, being gowned in peach blow crepe de chine, trimmed with point venise lace. She carried a bouquet of tea roses. Mr. Daniel J. O'Mahoney of New York was best man. The edifice was decorated with Easter lilies and palms. A wedding breakfast was served to the guests at the residence on Grove street immediately after the ceremony, followed by a reception. A marquee was erected on the spacious lawn for the refreshments and the house was decorated for the affair with roses, palms and asparagus fern.

The ushers were Messrs. Michael J. Doherty of Winthrop, Wm. F. Bennett of Somerville, Daniel J. Sheehan of Charlestown and John A. Bishop of Arlington.

After an extended wedding trip through the west they will make their home at Boulder, Colorado, where Mr. O'Mahoney, who is a graduate of Columbia University, is engaged in newspaper work.

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

Convincing figures as to the effects of prohibition in Kansas are given below.
The statements are copied from the "Congregationalist."

The testimony of the attorney-general as to the results of thirty years of prohibition in Kansas is worthy of special note.

The drinking of the state has been reduced 2,000 per cent, and the illiteracy from forty-nine to less than two per cent, and this trifling amount is entirely among the foreign element. Of the 105 counties of the state, eighty-seven have no insane, fifty-four no feeble-minded, ninety-six have no inebriates. Thirty eight poor farms have no inmates, and throughout the state there is only one pauper to every three thousand population. In July, 1911, fifty-three county jails were empty and sixty-five counties had no prisoners serving sentences.

Some counties have not called a jury to try a criminal case in ten years and in one county there has not been a grand jury for twenty-five years. Who says that prohibition does not prohibit—in Kansas?

Poetry and the Child.

Read poetry to the child. Read easy, simple verse, read nonsense verse, read real poems read sometimes such poems as "Thanatopsis" and bits of "Paradise Lost." Of course the child will not understand the thought, but he will enjoy the sound, and he will unconsciously learn the words. Poetry was never meant to be read to oneself, but always to be read aloud or recited.

It is harder than prose. The order of the words is often like our everyday speech, and the words themselves are frequently different. Here especially children need help. If they find it they learn to love poetry, and there are few things that so sweeten life as a genuine love for poetry for its beauties and for the helpful lines that come to one's mind in hard places.—Home

SLAVES OF THE DESERT.

A Lashing Taken With Gratitude by the Emir's Servants.

Abder-Rahman wore a heavy scowl that boded ill for some one, and his fingers cussed his rawhide koorbag as he watched the canes being administered. When all was ready to start he called out four names, and four dejected looking Arabs answered shamefacedly to the summons.

The Emir spoke to them dispassionately, as one might speak to one's dog, and then, tossing his koorbag to the nearest of the four eunuchs, he bade him say on a dozen of the best, while he watched and criticised each stroke with grim earnestness.

It was not a pleasant sight to watch, and I thought it policy to turn aside, but the rest of the caravan thoroughly enjoyed the exhibition and greeted each well and blow with approval.

When the punishment was completed each of the eunuchs in turn came forward and kissed the Emir's feet, thanking him for his mercy and cutting Allah to witness that they were his dogs to do with as he wished.

From their subsequent conduct I have no reason to believe that they did not mean every word they said, though at the time I was skeptical. It is not every day that one learns such an object lesson in humility and tender service—
Wide World Magazine.

INSPIRED AUTHORS.

Ideas Come to Them, It Would Seem.
In Spite of Themselves.

Bernard Shaw has stated more than once that he is "inspired." "I am pushed," he says, "by a natural need to set to work to write down conversations that come into my head unaccountably. At first I hardly know the speakers and cannot find names for them. Then they become more and more familiar, and I learn their names.
Finally I come to know them very well and discover what it is they are driving at and why it is they have said and done the things I have been moved to set down."

Other writers and painters, too, have described their processes in a similar way. William Blake was positive and emphatic in describing himself as a mere amanuensis, writing down the words that were audibly spoken to him, and he painted in the same way from a model set before his eyes and visible to him alone. Rodin, the French sculptor, gave his assent to the same idea of modesty visible to the eye of the artist. Dickens said that his characters were actually visible and audible to him, and it will be remembered that "Kubla Khan" was dictated to Coleridge while he slept.—London Spectator.

The Curious Guanaco.

"Amor! guanaco" whispered one as they crouched low in the bush
"Kui" and he pointed to the rifle beside me in the stern sheets. The golden brown of the white breasted, deerlike animal stood out, a little note of color, complementing strongly against the verdant green of the dark, wet forest side, but well out of range. I had seen the Indian guanaco skin capis cloaks sold by the fur dealers of Ponta Arenas, but this was my first glimpse of the animal itself, many thousands of which I saw later during my expeditions through Tierra del Fuego and Patagonia. "You are a queer animal, indeed," apostrophized an Argentine lieutenant as he and Captain Musters once viewed a solitary guan-aco. "You have the neck of a horse, the wool of a sheep, the neck of a camel, the feet of a deer, and the swiftness of the devil." Yet without a trace of animal and at a distance not unlike red deer, though larger.—Outing.

MEXICAN BRIGANDS.

Pleasant Sort of People That Merely Robbed Travelers.

"I was once for some weeks at a sugar plantation, near a small provincial town in Mexico," wrote the late Mr. Labouchere in 1870. "In the town lived a brigand. He was highly esteemed by his neighbors, and I passed many a pleasant evening with him and his family. His daughter was a 'beautiful' and this estimable parent was amassing a little fortune for her."

"His habit was to ride at night to the road between Mexico and Vera Cruz with two or three associates and to levy contributions on the diligence.
When I left the town I wanted to strike this road, and I went with him and his friends. We reached it at about 6 in the morning. Having partaken of chocolate, the brigands posted themselves behind some rocks, and I looked on. Soon the diligence was seen approaching. The brigands emerged, the coachman stopped, the passengers were requested to descend and were politely eased of their money."

"The passengers then took their places again in the coach and it departed, while the brigands courteously bowed to them. So honest were they in their peculiar way that they wished me to take my share in the spoil, but this, of course, my standard of morality being different from theirs, I declined, and I wished them goodby."

"Riding on to Puebla I dined at a table d'hôte that evening with the despatched travelers and was greatly amused to hear them recount the valorous manner in which they had defended themselves and how they at last had to succumb to numbers."

QUEER BURIAL SERVICE.

How Adaman Islanders Protect Their Dead From Evil Spirits.

Strange is the burial service among the Adaman Islanders. It is the custom of the islanders to drop the bodies of their parents into the sea at the end of ropes and leave them there until nothing remains but the bones, which they then gather and hang from the roofs of their huts.

It is a common custom for a relative to sit by the hour and watch the bones of some relative. This is the way they have of showing their love and respect.

The bodies are treated in this fashion so that the evil spirits cannot tease and pinch them. All that is left are the dried bones, and these are placed high so that if the evil spirits wander into the huts they will have a hard time to find them. If a bone is carried away it means some bad spirit has seized it, and this means that some terrible calamity will befall the family.

In the Katanga district of central Africa when a chief and his wife dies there is great feasting and celebrating.
Some of these festivals last three or four days. After the bodies are laid to rest with dancing and rejoicing because they are going to rule over a higher sphere their relatives and friends do not depart until they leave one or more chairs and a supply of clothes. This is done because the souls are expected to come out and wander about their graves.—Chicago Tribune.

White Robed Blacksmiths.

Extraordinary precautions are taken by the Korean blacksmiths before he attempts to shoe any Korean horse which is noted for its bad temper and likely to flourish its heels if not securely tied up first. Sight of one of the small ponies trussed up to the heavy timber framework is ludicrous, however, and in a way may be termed "horseshoeing on the safety plan." White costumes would look out of place for a blacksmith's use almost anywhere else, but in Korea all men wear white garments. Young men also wear their hair screwed up in hard knots on the top of their heads as a sign that they are married.

OWNER OF PROPERTY WAS LUCKY.

The supreme court of our state has just rendered a decision setting aside a verdict of the jury in the superior court which comes pretty close home. The driver of a grocery wagon, in using a driveway of the defendant's premises, was knocked off his seat by an overhanging branch of a tree and injured. The supreme court holds that the owner of the estate was not liable in the particular case because the grocery clerk had been in the driveway many times before and should have kept his eyes open. But the court goes on to say that had a stranger been struck by the branch the case might have been different. But let us suppose the attention of the grocery driver had been taken up by a yelling dog, one of the kind that won't hurt anybody, which rush out at teams and demand the care of a driver to look after his horse. The driver in question had been on the route eight months. How long must a driver be on a route to be expected to have a knowledge of all the pitfalls and overhead dangers on his route? Does the court expect a grocery clerk to have his powers of observation trained like a Mississippi pilot? The owner of the property was lucky it was the regular driver and not a stranger who was injured. And to a practical mind it seems that the tree should have been trimmed or it is evident that the branch was likely to cause more danger at the time of the accident than it would have eight months before when the unfortunate driver first made its acquaintance. — Malrose News.

KEEP THE HOME DOLLAR AT HOME.

Don't send that Dollar away! Send it in Winchester! A Dollar put in circulation here is worth any number in the mail or in the mail order house's pocket.

When you send that Dollar away some other community makes the profit that might just as well be made by Winchester.

Dollars Attract Dollars. For every Dollar in use in your locality another Dollar will come. Conversely, every Dollar that is sent away has a pulling power on another Dollar that is left behind.

A Dollar spent in your home town helps to make your neighbors just that much more prosperous. To that extent, also, it makes the community more prosperous. And it makes you profit in just the same way that the community does.

When there is plenty of money in circulation everybody benefits. That's why you should keep just as many Dollars here as you can instead of sending them away. By Patronizing Home Industries you can do this.

Isn't it worth thinking over?

The annual children's day concert was held at the First Baptist church on Sunday evening at six o'clock. As usual there was a crowded attendance of Sunday School scholars, parents and friends, and a fine program was enjoyed, consisting of exercises, songs and recitations.

JUNE BREAKFAST.

The annual June Breakfast given for the benefit of The Visiting Nurses Association was held Saturday, June seventh, in the Town Hall. As usual, it was a great success and showed an increase in the number of tickets sold and in the number of people attending. The dawn was a typical summer morning. Soon after six o'clock, breakfast was being served to the early comers by the usual corps of enthusiastic ones, who each year enjoy working for the success of one of the most democratic affairs which takes place in the town of Winchester. About eight o'clock the throng was largest, and many were obliged to wait for places, but good nature prevailed, the orchestra adding much to the cheerfulness of the occasion.

A Chicago woman was traveling in the Orient. On a trip through a desert she was carried by four stout black men in a chair suspended on poles. The natives started out with great cheer but as the journey progressed and the sun beat down upon them they began to chant a prayer to Allah. It was melodious, though a bit mournful. Its constant repetition was soothing, and the lady dozed. On awakening, the prayer, grown more mournful, almost despairing, was still being intoned. Turning to her interpreter she asked the meaning of the mysterious words. The interpreter pretended not to hear but being pressed for an answer finally bowed low and said:

"Madam, since you insist, they pray that the great Allah may make you less fat." — Chicago Tribune.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE DEPARTMENT

Conducted by the Winchester League Suffrage Notes.

Utah is the first State to put the minimum wage law for women into operation. It took effect on May 13. Gov. McGovern of Wisconsin, last week sprung a surprise by vetoing the Glenn Equal Suffrage bill which had passed both branches of the Legislature. The bill provided for a referendum in 1914 and McGovern was elected on the Republican ticket but has claimed to be Progressive. Both of these parties in Wisconsin declared for equal suffrage. The Wisconsin State Journal says: "Today's veto lends color to the growing impression that McGovern is playing to the brewing power of the State which has shown such great strength at this session of the Legislature."

Many feel that he considers the saloon vote stronger than the Bull Moose vote or that he can play the political game from both ends to the middle, by keeping in with the saloon vote and explaining to the Bull Moosers that he has kept faith by recommending a referendum in 1916. Politically speaking Gov. McGovern is neither fool nor fish. He has repudiated the platform on which he ran for Governor and the platform of the national party with which he cast his fortunes last summer. Both the State Republican platform and the Bull Moose platform specifically endorsed equal suffrage.

Gov. McGovern obviously has no idea of keeping any covenant with the people. All he is looking for is a vehicle in which to ride into the United States Senate and apparently the brewers' chariot looks good to him. — Extracts from Womens' Journal.

Forewarned is forearmed. It is hoped that the two parties whose lips ignore, will see to it that the platforms Gov. McGovern so radically "brewers' chariot" does not reach its destination.

So we hear on all sides, how desperately the liquor business is fighting this great principle of democracy and justice. It is worth much that it so clearly shows its hand.

BOSTON THEATRE.

Preserving the many charms which has made it one of the greatest successes of the stage "The Old Homestead" continues its engagement at the Boston Theatre.

The audiences include many grave-haired men and women who come to enjoy again the quaint savings, the homely philosophy, the sympathy, the generosity and the delicious humor of "Uncle Josh" Whicomb. There were also many young people who revelled in the wholesome comedy and sincere pathos. It is the same as ever, from the hayload drawn by a pair of oxen in the first act to the Virginia reel at the end of the last act.

A notable feature as in former years, is the double quartette, which is made up of excellent voices. The audience demonstrates its approval frequently by calling for half a dozen encores, which are cheerfully given. The other singing is equally as effective and pleasing.

An extra matinee will be given at the Hill Day, June 17th. Special prices will prevail during balance of engagement of "The Old Homestead." 25c. 50c. 75c. and $1.00. No seats over $1.00.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE.

Vinie Daly, the popular Boston musical comedy favorite, who has just returned from Europe, will make her reappearance in vaudeville in this country at B. F. Keith's Theatre on Monday afternoon.

It is especially fitting that she should make her reappearance on the American stage at B. F. Keith's Theatre, where she has so often sung and danced as a vaudeville headliner. Jack Kennedy and his players will present that most amusing of comedies, "A Business Proposal," while Kimberly and Mohr have a most novel offering in the comedy line entitled "In Clubland." Lettice Sisters and Jeanette, the Spanish acrobats, will display their skill on the trapeze. O'Brien and Havel have a funny skit called "Monday Morning," and other strong features will be the Stanleys in "Shadow Fun in Silhouette Land," Sue Smith, the singing comedienne; Miller and Mask, eccentric dancers; Lord and Payne, comedy acrobats. The Edison Kinetophone with the latest talking motion pictures; Pathe Weekly, with the world's current events pictures in motion.

THE WORD HELL

A Little Book That Contains Some Startling Information.

A little book selling at only five cents, postpaid, is having a very wide circulation—running up into the millions. It contains some very startling information respecting the meaning of the word Hell. It claims to demonstrate, both from the Hebrew and the Greek of our Bible, that Hell is NOT a place of eternal torment, but merely another name for the TOMB, the GRAVE, the STATE OF DEATH. It affects to show that man was not redeemed from a far-off place of eternal torture, but quotes the Scriptures proving that he was REDEEMED from the GRAVE at the cost of his Redeemer's LIFE and that the Scriptural Hope, both for the Church and the World, is a resurrection hope based upon the death and resurrection of Jesus. The book is certainly worth the reading. The information it furnishes is certainly valuable, far beyond its trifling cost. Order it at once from the Bible and Tract Society, 17 Hicks Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

BIBLE STUDY ON

ALL THINGS WORK FOR GOOD TO THEM.

Genesis 46:28-47:31—June 15.
"To them that love God all things work together for good." Romans 8:28.

S O Jacob and all his family left Canaan, the Land of Promise, and at the invitation of Pharaoh through Joseph, they located in the land of Goshen, suitable to their business, which was that of herdsmen and shepherds. Joseph went in his chariot to Goshen, and there met his father Jacob, whom he had not seen for many years; and Joseph wept.

Then came the official presentation of Jacob and his family to Pharaoh. Joseph was careful that they should make no mistake. He therefore let the king clearly know that their occupation was that of shepherds and herdsmen; for the Egyptians despised that business, and would keep themselves separate from the Hebrews. Thus the land of Goshen would be almost like a separate country from Egypt.

Jacob at this time was one hundred and thirty years old and quite feeble. Brought into Pharaoh's presence, Jacob blessed him, in the sense of asking the Divine blessing upon him. Thus the family of Jacob, now called by their new name, Israel, became firmly established in Egypt. Jacob lived seventeen years thereafter, during which Joseph and his people, the Israelites, were in favor with Pharaoh and the Egyptians.

Our lesson relates especially to God's willingness and ability to make all the experiences of His people work out for their good. This naturally suggests that we inquire in what way Jacob's life experiences were to his welfare. The Scriptures declare, "Jacob have I loved; Esau have I hated (loved less)." God's Love should be distinctly seen manifested in some way. In making all things work for good to Jacob and his family. The question is, How? Can we see how Divine favor operated for the welfare of Jacob and his family?

How Did God Bless Israel?

Jacob, having become heir of the great Abrahamic Promise "In thy Seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed," straightway seems to have gotten into trouble. He fled from home, leaving everything to Esau. He served his uncle Laban for seven years, that he might have Rachel for his wife. But Providence permitted him to be cheated, and he was obliged to serve seven years more for her. Time and again Laban changed his wages, endeavoring to get the best of him. Thus Jacob was thrown into competition with his uncle, to protect his own interests.

Finally, with the fruit of many years' toil, he returned to Canaan, fearful of Esau, whom he placated with a rich present. Later, he lost his wife and was bereft of Joseph, his beloved son. Then came the famine, the recovery of Joseph, and the incidents of today's lesson. Later on, that very move into Egypt appeared to have been disastrous, for the Egyptians enslaved the Israelites.

Finally they were delivered, only to have trying experiences in the wilderness for forty years. Then it was a gradual matter to get possession of Canaan. Then they had wars, pestilences, famines, captivities, rebellion, until they were carried away to Babylon. Later on, a few returned. By and by, Jesus came, and was repudiated by all except a few. Then God repudiated the nation. Gradually trouble and anarchy came upon them, until as a nation they went to Hades—nationally they fell asleep. They have been asleep for more than eighteen centuries, while personally they have been persecuted in many nations.

To understand how God's blessing was identified with Israel's experiences, we must glance at the experiences of other nations, and then look also into the future. Egypt, Assyria, Philistia and other nations which flourished in Israel's day have either been merged with other peoples or blotted out by natural processes.

But Israel exists, even though nationally in Hades. She is, awaiting a national awakening and resurrection. That awakening is already arousing dry bones from despair, and pointing forward to a future day of blessing and prosperity.

The trying experiences of Israel tended also to develop noble characters, strong in faith and loyal to the core. St. Paul enumerates some of these. This selecting process continued down to Jesus' time, and found a glorious company, though small. God found the people He sought. These faithful ones of Israel are the ones for whom all things worked together for good. The time is near, we believe, when these will constitute Messiah's earthly representatives in ruling and blessing all mankind.

Throughout the Gospel Age, God has been selecting a Spiritual Israel from amongst all nations. These, too, have had bitter experiences—opposition from Satan, the world and their own flesh. These Spiritual Israelites are heirs with Jesus of the spiritual phase of the Messianic Kingdom.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING.

June 9, 1913.

The Board met at 7.30 P. M., all present.

Mr. Brown reported in the matter of George C. Ogden's complaint of delay in the Inspector of Buildings Department presented May 26, that Mr. Ogden had submitted the information which was desired by the Inspector and received his permit. Report was accepted.

The Chief Engineer of the Fire Department submitted for approval a proposed purchase of a truss extension ladder and one Eastman Deluge Set, holder and nozzles for 3-inch hose and the purchase was approved.

An application for a common victualler's license at Forest and Washington streets was received from J. Henry McEwen and on recommendation of the Chairman it was granted.

A bid for the construction of 12,000 sq. yds. more or less of granolithic sidewalk, two coat, work $1.04 per sq. yd. was received from Warren Bros. Co., and filed.

A letter was received from Allen R. Roe, withdrawing his bids for granolithic sidewalks.

Mr. Brown reported that the Committee on Ways and Bridges met Mr. Dean and Mr. Main, Engineers, who were strongly of the opinion that for the construction of granolithic sidewalks good gravel was just as good as crushed stone, that both specified in their own work and allowed it as an alternate making no distinction between the two. It was a question of the test of the gravel, however, they advised the Town to have the particular gravel proposed to be used sampled and submitted to an engineering test laboratory, recommending for this Mr. Sherman on Beacon street who was doing that work all the time. Mr. Jewett and Mr. Dean went with Mr. Fitzgerald and took samples of the gravel from his various pits which were taken to Mr. Sherman for his test and the tests reported were satisfactory to Mr. Dean who inspected it and Mr. Sherman who tested it. In the opinion of both of these Engineers that was the main thing to be assured as being all right. Mr. Main stated that there was a time when engineers were opposed to the use of gravel, he himself had been one and he also reported Mr. Worcester as being another man and said that both Mr. Worcester and himself have seen fit to revise their previous practice and now allow the use of either in all concrete work.

Mr. Daly quoted Mr. Nawn, Jr., of Harry Nawn & Sons, Contractors, as being in favor of crushed stone if the difference in price was not too great. Voted, that the contract for the whole or any part of 12,000 sq. yds. of granolithic sidewalks in large and small lots to be constructed in the Town of Winchester in 1913, be, and the same is hereby awarded to the James J. Fitzgerald Contracting Co., of Winchester, at their bid of 94 cents per square yard in accordance with the specifications as prepared by the Town Engineer with the exception that clean, approved gravel be substituted for the crushed stone called for in the coarse aggregate, the gravel to come from the Florence street pit and the work to begin not later than July 1, 1913.

Voted, that all other bidders be notified of the awarding of the contract. A motion was offered that a competent inspector be appointed who shall be a resident on the granolithic sidewalk work at all times during their construction. The motion was withdrawn to be offered at the next meeting.

A letter was received and filed from Levi S. Gould, Chairman, Middlesex County Commissioners, referring to the second section of alteration work on Cambridge street that they would issue their return as soon as possible.

In the matter of the objection to filing a bond by the Hutchinson Leather Machine Company, June 2, the Committee on Ways and Bridges reported that they had seen Mr. Hutchinson who was very positive that he did not wish to have anything to do with the laying of the curb and sidewalk abutting his factory property on Main street, so long as the Town requires a filing of a bond. Accepted.

A proposition was received and considered from Edwin Ginn in regard to the Town purchasing and operating his quarry and stone crushing plant, but no action was taken.

In the matter of locating a street light on Cambridge street at the head of Glen road reported by the Town Engineer and referred to the Committee on Street Lights June 2, the Committee reported recommending that the light be placed on the southwesterly corner of Glen road and Cambridge street practically in a line parallel with the other poles on Glen road which would bring it outside of the junction of the concrete walls which cross at Glen road and Cambridge street. It would improve the situation if an edge stone were laid outside the pole as otherwise there would be a possibility of the pole being hit by careless drivers. The bracket should be placed at such an angle as to throw the light down Glen road and Cambridge street. Referred to next meeting of the Board.

The Committee on Street Lights reported on the petition presented May 19, by John T. Drake and six others for electric lights on Cambridge street from Pond street to the Woburn Line, that no money was available for this purpose and recommended that the matter be referred to the 1914 Board. Accepted.

The bond of the James J. Fitzgerald Contracting Company, for $5,000 to indemnify the Town against damage through that Company's opening, occupation, or construction of any of the public highways in the Town, was approved.

In the matter of drainage on Holland street abutting the Hurley Estate reported upon by the Town Engineer June 2, and referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges, the Committee reported that they had viewed the premises and found that the facts were as stated by the Engineer so far as the construction of the drain and catch basin was concerned. They did not find that there had been any material damage to Mr. Hurley's fence, and the bottom rail which he claimed had been more or less decayed by piling dirt against it was exposed, practically its whole length. The fence was comparatively sound and the Committee did not consider that the Town should be put to any expense to repair it. The Committee further stated that the recommendation of the Engineer as to continuing the drain to the pond was considered wise, but the situation was not one which required immediate attention. Accepted, Mr. Hurley to be notified.

The Committee on Street Lights reported on the necessity for a light on Main street between Thompson street and the Parkway, referred to them May 26, that so long as Mr. Fogg's garage is lighted it would not be necessary to put in another street light. Accepted.

The Chairman reported that Mr. Myers, Superintendent of the Bay State Street Railway Company, had advised him that the officials having such matters in charge have voted in favor of putting in another turnout in Main street between the railroad crossing and the Woburn line, its exact location to be determined by their Engineer later.

Mr. Newton Shultis telephoned from Marshfield that he was informed that the drain running underneath his house on Winthrop street, had again broken out and the matter was referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges for immediate attention. A letter was received from Mrs. Edward Boyle, concerning a proposed location for a public toilet on East street and asking that it be located nearer her residence. Referred to the Committee on Street Lights.

A letter was received from the Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent of Streets in regard to the action of the Town laborers in refusing to carry out the recommendations of the Committee on Ways and Bridges that the 48 hours of labor required per week be performed between Monday morning and Friday night. A Committee of the laborers and members were in attendance and stated their position in the matter. It was explained to them that it was the desire of the Selectmen to have the work done in this way in order that the labor employed by the Town might be utilized to the greatest advantage of the Town to save waste time and they were asked to at least finish the work in the Hill district on the nine hour basis, and afterward return to the eight hour and Saturday half holiday basis. The Committee agreed to report this proposition and recommend it to their associates who were in session in another part of the Town and report later in the evening. They did so, reporting that the laborers had voted to refuse the Selectmen's proposition.

A deposit was received from the Superintendent of Streets made by Timothy Callahan of Elm street to cover the cost of connecting his roof drainage to the Elm street drain, and the deposit was ordered forwarded.

A petition was received signed by E. A. Morris, Joseph A. Foley, others asking that Sheffield street, be treated with oil or other dust eating preparation. The Committee reported that it was their intention to treat this street at the earliest possible moment and the Clerk was instructed to so notify the petitioners.

A petition was received from Ida M. and Carl Larson asking that the sidewalk on their side of Main street from the ice bridge to the Woburn line be put in repair stating that the sidewalk was in a very bad condition and below the level of the street and that it had not received any attention for a number of years. Referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges.

The Committee on Ways and Bridges were authorized to purchase the required number of private way signs 8 by 20 to be lettered "Private Way Dangerous" in two lines.

Warrants were drawn for $2,689.91 and $2,154.35.

Adjourned at 12 P. M.

Clerk of the Board.

SECTION 60. In all non-fireproof stores, warehouses and manufacturing buildings not adequately equipped with a system of automatic sprinklers in conformity to the rules of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, no single floor area between brick walls of a thickness corresponding to the main bearing walls shall exceed seventy-five hundred square feet; and no wall or part of wall in any existing building, nor in any building hereafter erected, shall be removed to produce a larger area unless so equipped. Openings in the brick fire walls of buildings of the class above mentioned shall in no case exceed eight feet in width, nor ten feet in height, and above each such opening there shall be a curtain wall of at least two feet between the top of the opening and the ceiling line. Openings shall be provided with approved automatic, self-closing, standard, fireproof doors on both sides of the wall.

BUILDING LIMITS.

SECTION 61. The territorial limits within which no building shall be built unless in conformity with the requirements of section two of chapter one hundred and four of the Revised Laws shall be the area bounded and described as follows:—Beginning at land of the Boston and Maine Railroad one hundred feet south of Common Street and thence running parallel with and one hundred feet distant from said Common Street to and extended across Church Street to a point fifty feet northwest of Church Street; thence turning and running from said point to the northeasterly corner of Elmwood Avenue and Vine Street; thence running by the easterly and southerly side of Elmwood Avenue to Main Street; thence running across Main Street to the pond; thence running by the pond and river to a point thirty feet from the northerly side of Mt. Vernon Street; thence running easterly parallel to and thirty feet distant from Mt. Vernon Street to Washington Street; thence running southerly on Washington Street to the southeasterly corner of the Town Hall lot; thence running by the southerly boundary of the Town Hall lot extended to the pond; thence running due south to the parkway; thence by the parkway and Walnut Street to land of the Boston and Maine Railroad; thence across said land of said Boston and Maine Railroad to the point of beginning.

SPECIAL CONSTRUCTION.

SECTION 62. The erection of any building of a kind obviously not contemplated by the preceding sections of this article shall be subject to such analogous restrictions as the Inspector may require.

SECTION 63. The use of various forms of masonry construction such as concrete, concrete blocks, terra-cotta or hollow tile blocks, etc., not expressly provided for in this article shall be subject to such restriction as the Inspector may require in order to conform to the standard of strength and safety otherwise required by this article.

PENALTIES.

SECTION 64. Whoever violates any of the provisions of the preceding sections of this article shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars for each offence.

ARTICLE VIII.

REGULATIONS RELATIVE TO PLUMBING AND DRAINAGE.

PERMITS.

SECTION 1. Upon application of a registered master plumber, on a form furnished by the Board of Health, said board shall grant a written permit to do the plumbing described therein, when in conformity with the law. Drawings of proposed work shall be filed if required. Permits may be revoked by the Board of Health if their conditions are violated. Permits for all plumbing, except for the repair of leaks, must be in the hands of the plumber before beginning any plumbing work.

SEWAGE DISPOSAL.

SECTION 2. Every building used as a dwelling, tenement or lodging house, or wherein persons are employed, shall be separately connected with the public sewer when such sewer is provided; or if none is provided, with a cesspool constructed of such material and of such capacity as the Board of Health shall direct.

No plumbing shall be connected with the town sewer without the approval of the Board of Health.

No rain conductors, surface or ground water drainage shall be connected with plumbing or drainage pipes which discharge into the public sewer or into cesspools.

Wherever there is a public sewer with which the sewerage system of a building is to be connected, the owner or agent shall before determining the position of the main house sewer, obtain from the Water and Sewer Board the location of the sewer branch which is to serve that building and said connection shall be made in conformity to the rules of said Board.

No sewer from any building shall pass under another building; nor shall a sewer pass within five feet of the outside wall of any building, unless it be of extra heavy cast iron pipe, made with lead joints, thoroughly caulked and tested.

Every building in which gasoline, naphtha or other inflammable compounds are used for business purposes shall be provided with a special trap or separator, so designed as to prevent the passage of oils into the sewer, and shall be ventilated with a separate pipe to a point three feet above the roof. The waste of every washstand for vehicles shall be provided with a catch basin so designed that sand cannot pass into the drain. The waste pipe from the sink of every hotel, restaurant or other public cooking establishment shall be provided with a grease trap. The waste from every fixture, except refrigerators and other receptacles in which provisions are stored, shall be connected directly with the drain pipe.

DRAINAGE SYSTEM.

SECTION 3. The drain, from a point ten feet outwardly from the inside of the wall, shall be of cast iron, and of not less than four inches in diameter. It shall continue, with a one-quarter inch rise at least per foot, to and through the roof or the side of the house to a height of eighteen inches at least in any case, and to a height of eighteen inches above the top of any window or opening within twelve feet of such drains; and if the roof is used for clothes drying or other purposes, such drain shall extend to a height of eight feet at least above the roof. The connection between said drain and the earthen sewer pipe shall be made with Portland cement and shall be approved by the plumbing inspector before being covered. Lateral branches of soil or waste pipes, if more than 20 feet in length, shall be extended undiminished in size, and shall in no case be less than four inches in diameter where they pass to the outer air.

The drains shall, when connected with a cesspool, be provided with a running trap; but when connected with the public sewer a running trap may, at the option of the owner, be omitted; except that in all cases where a running trap has been installed, it shall not be removed without the written consent of the Board of Health. The running trap shall be of the same size as the house sewer, located either outside or inside the foundation walls of the building, but beyond all house connections, and shall be provided with an accessible cleanout.

Soil pipes from water closets shall be not less than four inches internal diameter, except that if it is impracticable to use such pipe, a three-inch soil pipe may, by permission of the Board of Health, be used for one set of bathroom fixtures, which shall comprise one bath tub, one basin and one water closet. Waste pipes from the traps of fixtures, such as sinks, basins, baths or wash trays, shall be of two-inch cast iron with short connections of lead. Such connections shall be of not less than one and one-quarter inch bore, and shall not be branched into each other, but shall be separately connected with the iron pipe.

Connections and changes in direction shall be made with long angle and long sweep bends and Y branches.

MATERIAL OF DRAINAGE SYSTEM.

SECTION 4. Drain, soil, waste and vent pipes and connections, which collectively make up the drainage system within the building, shall be constructed of the following material: extra heavy cast iron, galvanized wrought iron, lead and annealed "iron size" brass pipe. Cast-iron pipe and fittings shall be of a grade known to the trade as extra heavy, plain, and shall be uncoated until approved by the Inspector. All joints in cast-iron pipe shall be made with oakum and lead, run full, caulked and water-tight, and left clean without paint, putty or cement, until approved by the Inspector.

Extra Heavy Cast-iron Pipe shall be of the following diameters and weight:

Diameter (inches)	Weight (pounds per foot)
2 inches	5 1-2
3 "	9 1-2
4 "	13
5 "	17
6 "	20
8 "	33 1-2
10 "	45

Wrought iron soil or waste pipes shall be used only with the written permission of the Board of Health and under such conditions as that Board may direct.

If wrought iron vent pipes are used, they shall be galvanized. No slip joints, unions or flanges shall be used on threaded wastes or vents, except that slip joints may be used on the house side of trap to connect fixtures.

Lead pipe shall be of the following diameters and weights:

Diameter (inches)	Weight (pound per foot)
1 1-4	2 1-2
1 1-2	3
2	4
3	6
4	8

No lead waste up to and including two inches in diameter, unless exposed, shall be more than eight feet in length, including inlet and outlet of trap. A three inch or four inch diameter waste shall not be more than two feet in length.

Lead bends and traps shall correspond to the above weights.

Brass sleeves for connecting lead and cast iron pipes shall be extra heavy, at least one-eighth of an inch thick. Brass solder nipples for connecting lead and threaded pipes shall be either cast metal or seamless drawn tubing, size and weight corresponding with pipe to be connected. In connecting lead pipe together, or to brass capping or soldering nipples, full-sized wiped joints shall be used. Clean-outs, plugs, stoppers or any other fittings used in the drainage system shall correspond in weight and material with the above description.

FASTENING PIPES.

SECTION 5. Drain, soil, waste and vent pipes shall be supported every five feet on horizontal runs, and at least once in each story on vertical lines; horizontal runs shall be supported from beneath, or hung from overhead by iron "stirrup" hangers, not less than five-sixteenths of an inch in diameter. Vertical stacks shall be fastened by pipe rest at the floor, or clamps, drive hooks or hangers to the adjacent walls.

TRAPS.

SECTION 6. The waste pipe of every independent fixture shall be furnished with a separate trap, which shall be placed as nearly as practicable to the fixture which it serves. A sink and set of not more than three wash trays, or bathtub and basin, or any two similar fixtures, when they adjoin, may be connected with the house drain through one round trap not less than four inches in diameter if the waste pipes are not more than three feet in length from the floor line to the trap on the bathtub and basin and if the waste centres are not more than five feet apart on the sink and trays. The waste pipe of each fixture shall enter the trap separately, and the waste from the trap must be one size larger than the inlet pipes. Four washbowls or sinks in a continuous line may be connected with the house drain through one four-inch round trap. Lead bends for water-closets or slop sinks shall not be used to connect the waste with other fixtures. Earthen-ware traps shall have heavy brass floor plates soldered to the lead bends and bolted to the trap flange, and the joint made tight with grafting wax or other substance satisfactory to the Board of Health. A trap depending upon concealed partitions to retain its seal shall not be approved, except for earthen ware fixtures where the trap seal is plainly visible. Trap screws for cleaning purpose shall be placed in all metal traps and shall be accessible at all times. All fixture traps shall be so installed that the water seal will protect the trap screw from sewer air. When side clean out traps are placed between ceilings and floors they shall be provided with an accessible and proper seal.

STABLES, GARAGES, LABORATORIES, ETC.

SECTION 7. Drainage of stalls, stable fixtures, garages and laboratories shall be installed in accordance with plans approved by the Board of Health.

CLEANOUTS.

SECTION 8. Every house sewer, soil or waste pipe shall have accessible heavy brass plug cleanouts with iron or brass bodies and taper threads, at such points as the Inspector shall deem necessary. A main cleanout shall be provided at every building below all connections and in as direct a line as possible with the street sewer connections.

VENT, BACK AIR PIPES, ETC.

SECT. 9. Traps shall be protected from siphonage and back pressure by special iron or brass air pipes of the same size as the waste. A continuous system of venting shall be used, and back air pipes shall not be connected to the trap or branched into the waste pipe except where a continuous vent is not practicable. Traps of S form shall not have more than twenty-four inches of waste pipe from trap to vent. Round traps not less than nine inches long and four inches in diameter may be placed five feet from the vent pipe. Two water-closets or two other traps on the same level, with not more than two feet of waste pipe and which connect with soil or waste pipe not more than eighteen inches below the top water line of the trap, shall not require other vent than the continuation of the soil or waste pipe full size for its whole length. Lead air pipes may be used for short connections only, and where exposed to view.

SCHEDULE OF BACK AIR PIPES AND VENTS FOR FIXTURES.

Fixtures	Size of Pipe (inches)	Greatest length allowed (feet)	Maximum Number of Fixtures
Baths, basins, sinks, urinals or similar fixtures	1 1/2	30	3
	2	70	9
Water-closets, or slop sinks	3	70	21
	3	35	3
	3	70	9

Two or more air pipes may be connected, but such connection must be made above the top of the fixture. All vent pipes shall be at least four inches in diameter where they pass through the roof. Vent pipes shall be so graded that no condensation will remain in the pipes. In case of batteries of water-closets, the special air pipe from each trap may be omitted, provided the soil or waste pipe, undiminished in size, is continued to a point above the roof, or connected into the main system above all fixtures.

"Bow" venting will not be allowed except by special permission of the Board of Health, in which case the "bow" must be run the full size of pipe as high as the top of the fixture and returned without being trapped.

In buildings where there is only one water-closet and not more than two other traps, and said closet is connected below the traps and all traps are not more than three feet from the main sewer pipe, no back venting shall be required.

When old fixtures are replaced by new ones in plumbing which was constructed prior to the adoption of these regulations, and the traps attached to bath tubs, basins, sinks and wash trays are round traps not less than four inches in diameter and the waste pipe is not over five feet in length between such traps and the main soil pipe or drain, and the main soil pipe extends full size through the roof, a separate air pipe shall not be required. No connection of old plumbing with the public sewer shall be made that does not conform to such requirement.

TESTING AND INSPECTION.

SECTION 10. Pipes or other fixtures shall not be covered or concealed from view until approved by the Inspector of Plumbing. The work shall be examined and tested within two working days after notice that it is ready for inspection. Plumbing shall not be used unless, when roughed in, the wastes, vents, back air pipes and all cailed joints have first been tested in the presence of the Inspector, by water or sufficient air pressure, as the Inspector may require.

When the work in a building is sufficiently advanced so that the water may be turned on to all of the fixtures, the plumber doing such work shall, within five days thereafter, notify the Inspector in writing. The Inspector shall within two working days after receipt of such notice examine the work. Should the examination disclose any defects, the plumber shall be notified in writing and required to remedy the same without delay, and he shall again notify the Inspector as before. Should a plumber holding a permit neglect to send the notice as required, or neglect to remedy said defects for a period of more than five days, he shall not be granted any further permits until he shall have complied with these regulations and rules, or until action is taken by the Board of Health, and should such neglect be continued ten days longer, the Inspector shall file a complaint with the Board reciting all the facts of the case. The Board shall then take such action as it may deem advisable.

WATER-CLOSETS.

SECTION 11. Every building for habitation shall have such number of water-closets as the Board of Health may require, but in no case less than one for each tenement. Every building where persons are employed shall have at least one water-closet for every fifteen persons employed therein; and in every building where persons of both sexes are employed, separate accommodations shall be furnished for each sex. Every enclosure containing one or more water-closets shall be provided with adequate ventilation to the outer air, either by window or suitable light shaft. No water-closet shall be set in any room or apartment that has not a window having an area of at least two square feet opening directly to the exterior air, unless there is a pipe of not less than three inches in diameter leading to a heated flue or other vent pipe. Water-closets shall be supplied with water from a tank above, or by flush valves set just above the seat, which in turn are supplied from tank or other adequate supply, capable of delivering five gallons of water to the closet in ten seconds. In all cases the flush pipe shall be not less than one and one quarter inches in diameter. Where local vents are used they shall connect with a heated flue when possible, and shall be not less than two inches for each fixture. All local vents shall be so constructed as not to act as a soil or waste pipe should the fixture become stopped. Connection to the flue shall be made by wrought or cast-iron pipe, properly cemented; other piping may be of galvanized iron.

DRIP AND OVERFLOW WASTES.

SECTION 12. All drip or overflow pipes from tanks, coolers, safes or fixtures, or waste pipes from refrigerators or other receptacles for the storage of food or provisions, shall be carried to some open sink or place where they may be at all times visible.

No steam exhaust, blow off or drip pipe shall connect with the house sewer, soil, waste or vent pipe. Such pipes shall discharge into a suitable tank or condenser from which a proper outlet shall be provided.

DEFECTIVE PLUMBING, ETC.

SECTION 13. Alterations made in plumbing already in use, except as provided in section nine, shall in the future be in accordance with these regulations, and such alterations shall be ordered by the Board of Health whenever in their opinion they judge it necessary for the public health and safety. It shall be so adjudged when after examination by the Inspector any old plumbing work is found to be defective.

If the Inspector finds old plumbing to be defective he shall report to the Board of Health the nature of the defects, and furnish the owner with a copy of his report. Should the owner neglect to remedy the defect within the time specified by the Inspector, the Board shall set a time for a hearing, and shall give the owner at least three days notice thereof, so that he may attend and show cause why he should not be required to make the alterations. Thereupon the Board may, if in its judgment the public safety and health so require, order such defect to be remedied.

When buildings which formerly connected with vaults or cesspools, are connected with the sewer, the old connection shall be uncovered outside of the building, a section of the same removed and the ends solidly cemented by the plumber.

The vaults and cesspools shall also be discontinued and filled by the owner with proper materials within three months after the sewer connection is made.

PENALTIES.

SECTION 14. Whoever violates any of the provisions of this article shall be liable to a fine of not more than fifty dollars for each offence.

ARTICLE IX.

REPEAL.

SECTION 1. All by-laws or parts of by-laws heretofore adopted which are inconsistent with the provisions of the foregoing by-laws, are hereby repealed and annulled; but the provisions of the foregoing by-laws, so far as they are the same as the provisions of by-laws heretofore adopted, shall be construed as a continuation thereof, and not as new enactments.

WATER POWER IN NEW ENGLAND

Many Advantages Over Other Sections In Fall and Flow of Her Rivers.

Industrial Boom Should Follow Their Use For Hydroelectric Purposes—Figures Show She Already Leads.

The problem of harnessing our rivers and utilizing their power to move the wheels of commerce and industry is today a subject of ever increasing study, and it is one fraught with tremendous importance to the future of New England.

The increase in the price of coal, the fact as shown by geologists' reports, that our coal supply is not inexhaustible, particularly the supply of anthracite, have turned our thoughts to the river. Have bade us try to avail ourselves of its friendly flow and utilize the enormous energy which it represents.

The increased attention given to this subject resulted a few years ago in the geological survey making a careful examination of the country's water power, and a year ago the bureau of corporations revised and extended the work so as to show the extent to which water power has up till now been utilized. The report of the commissioner of corporations, for one thing, pointed out that the great bulk of the water power of the country was on its edges—in other words, that New England, New York and Pennsylvania and a few south Atlantic states, together with the Pacific, contained pretty much all that there was of it.

The following are the principal rivers whose potential water power is so important to New England and which should make it pre-eminently the place for manufacturing opportunities:

St. Croix River, Maine.
Total fall 128 feet in 80 1/2 miles; drainage area, 1,571 square miles; maximum rate of fall, 14.7 feet per mile at Sprague Falls.

Penobscot River, Maine.
Total fall 1,500 feet in 200 miles; drainage area, 3,331 square miles; maximum rate of fall, 19.7 feet per mile at Chesuncook lake.

Kennebec River, Maine.
Total fall 1,003 feet in 128 miles; drainage area, 6,490 square miles; maximum rate of fall, 14.7 feet per mile near Moosehead lake (source).

Androscoggin River, Maine.
Total fall 225 feet in 150 miles; drainage area, 3,688 square miles; maximum rate of fall, 4.81 feet per mile near Magalloway lake (source).

Saco River, Maine.
Total fall 1,880 feet in 104 miles; maximum rate of fall, 94.8 feet per mile at or near source; drainage area, 1,750 square miles.

Merrimack River, New Hampshire and Massachusetts.
Total fall 253 feet in 110 miles; maximum rate of fall, 5.0 feet per mile at Manchester, N. H.; drainage area, 4,864 square miles.

Connecticut River (Branch of the Merrimack).
Total fall 85 feet in 55 miles; maximum rate of fall, 7.0 feet per mile at Bennington, N. H. (drainage area included in Merrimack).

Connecticut River.
Total fall 1,033 feet in 87 1/2 miles; maximum rate of fall, 14.3 feet per mile at Connecticut lake; drainage area, 11,269 square miles.

Housatonic River.
Total fall 53 feet in 123 miles; maximum rate of fall, 19.4 feet per mile at Falls Village, Conn.; drainage area, 1,933 square miles.

Labor is generally more plentiful, particularly skilled labor, where the conditions of living are the best, where there is the best educational advantages. It is for reasons such as these that New England has such a large population of skilled mechanics. It is for these reasons that years ago it became an industrial region almost without equal in this country; hence it must be that with the development of the enormous power lodged in her streams and its conversion into electrical energy possible of transmission over an extended area there should be no question but that this region is to be the scene of great industrial expansion through the superior advantages it will thus offer to manufacturers.

Hydroelectric power—the power of the flowing stream converted into electrical energy through the use of turbines—may not be cheaper than steam in some places, for its cost to the consumer varies with conditions. It seldom runs higher than steam and in many instances much lower—as, for instance, at Rumford Falls, in Maine, where the power of the river thus converted is supplied to nearby manufacturing establishments at a cost of a third of a cent per kilowatt hour. But even with its cost approximately that of steam, with coal at its present price, it cannot be doubted that the region possessing a large and well distributed supply of such power is going to prove attractive to industry, and particularly to new enterprises, by reason of the fact that through its use there is saved to the manufacturer a large percentage of his capital which would otherwise have to be expended in a steam plant. This saving can be used to enlarge the size of the plant and increase its capacity. Consequently with the completion of even a few of such hydroelectric stations as are now being erected New England should see a growth in her industries, though these plants encroach but little on her potential water power.

That New England has long recognized the friendly power of her streams and been a leader in developing such power by the old methods in vogue before the present age of electricity is shown by the figures. The total developed water power of the country at the present time was estimated by the commissioner of corporations in his recent report at about 6,000,000 horsepower. Of this New England had about 36 per cent, New York 30, Minnesota and Wisconsin 17 and South Carolina 5. The minimum potential water power—that is, all the power locked in the lakes and streams of the entire country—was placed at 26,738,000, including that already under development. The maximum was placed at 51,398,000. At the recent conservation congress it was estimated that the utilization of even this minimum amount would mean the saving of 600,000,000 tons of coal.

According to the census figures, more than two-fifths of the total power derived from water wheels by manufacturing establishments is found in New England. More than one-quarter of the total power of all kinds used in New England's many factories is supplied by water wheels. No such showing is to be found anywhere else in the United States. If this showing has been made with the old form of power transmission, revealing as it does how readily her rivers by reason of their great fall and flow have lent themselves to man's purposes in this respect, what must be the opportunities for her industrial growth in the new method of harnessing the stream, a method by which the power represented by the river's fall is taken and converted into electrical energy and distributed throughout a territory many miles in extent!

Today no longer does man have to come to the stream and build his plant at the brink of the fall. Instead he brings the power to him. Here is a method by which the plunging waters are led tamely through tunnel or canal so that the force of their fall may move mighty dynamos, a method by which the hand of man, so to speak, reaches out and wrestles the power from the river, uses it to run his mills, light his streets and move his trolley cars, though these may be a hundred miles and more away. And yet this new method is practically in its infancy.

The following table gives the amount of water power her plants are developing today and what they are capable of, a distinction being made between those establishments designed to sell power for commercial purposes and those run in connection with manufacturing plants:

	Com- mer- cial.	Manu- factur- ing.	Unde- vel- oped.	Total.
Maine	65,390	185,333	100,000	352,693
New Hampshire ..	16,450	108,658	18,500	139,608
Vermont	53,648	40,197	44,460	138,305
Massachusetts ..	76,697	68,925	14,530	159,152
Connecticut ..	82,000	15,513	4,000	101,513
Total	$44,185	$31,634	176,590	797,452

Here is a table of the potential water power of New England as estimated by the geological survey and revised in the bureau of corporations' report, both the minimum and maximum being given:

	Minimum	Maximum
Maine	89,000	97,000
New Hampshire	182,000	226,000
Vermont	113,000	204,000
Massachusetts	142,000	278,000
Rhode Island	7,000	18,000
Connecticut	85,000	164,000
Total	1,042,000	1,285,000

It will be seen from these tables that the amount of water power now being used in New England is about 60 per cent of the minimum and a trifle less than 32 per cent of the maximum as figured out by the government experts. The amount of power these plants are capable of producing if fully developed is about 77 per cent of the minimum and about 41 per cent of the maximum. At the present time New England has a total of thirty-one commercial plants in operation. And yet, despite this fact and the fact that 25 per cent of the power in her manufacturing establishments is water power, taking the mean of these figures it would appear as if, roughly speaking, she had availed herself of not more than half of her water power.

Hydroelectric development must of necessity have its limitations. The practical limit of transmission for the current generated by this method was recently placed by one of the leading engineers of the country at 200 miles. The expense of these transmission lines must needs be great, requiring, as they do, a superior type of construction to carry the high voltage cables and a protected right of way through the country. In the case of one Massachusetts company, the New England Power company, a strip 150 feet in width has been cleared for its transmission lines. It is obvious therefore that that region is placed at the greatest advantage whose water power is the best distributed.

Great as may be the collective water power of a state it is at a decided disadvantage so far as its attractiveness to manufacture goes if it is concentrated at one spot like Niagara. It is 460 miles from Niagara to New York. In New England there is probably no populous center more than 150 miles from some large power site. In short, in no other part of this country is the water power so well distributed for industrial use as here. It offers a rare field for the development of hydroelectric power plants because all over New England these great water power sites are found near a market. Of New England can it be said that today she has a greater asset in her water power than Pennsylvania in her coalfields.

While hydroelectric development is comparatively new, capital has not been slow in seeking this form of investment in this region, as is shown by the total of her plants in operation and under construction. Only a few of the manufacturing states have developed power commercially to the extent of Maine or Massachusetts.

In the New England Power company Massachusetts has by far the largest single development in the New England states. It is the largest development east of Niagara, covering three states in its operations. Today with four plants in operation it is developing 70,000 horsepower. Eventually it will have eight plants in operation with a total output of power amounting to 200,000 horsepower.

The electrical energy to be furnished by this company in 1914 will replace annually 225,000,000 tons of coal.

All told this development will represent an investment amounting to over $4,000,000. Today this company is moving cars in Worcester and will soon be supplying power to the trolley lines of Fitchburg. It is running cotton mills in Clinton and Fitchburg, wire mills and car works in Worcester, is supplying current for the lighting of Fitchburg, Gardner and Marlborough and is selling power to lots of local electric companies in smaller towns throughout a wide area. Its operations cover a zone reaching from Keene, N. H., to Monson and Uxbridge, in southern Massachusetts. Eventually its lines will reach as far south as Plainfield, Conn., and Providence, R. I.

This plant was finished in January, 1910. Its output in 1912 amounted to 64,000,000 kilowatt hours. The other plants of the New England Power company are located on the Deerfield river, which, rising in the Green mountains of Vermont, empties into the Connecticut at Greenfield, Mass. The great problem connected with this development was the creation of a storage reservoir of sufficient size to tide over the low water season. One storage basin has already been constructed and work has been begun on a second which will impound altogether 55,000,000 gallons of water, thus insuring an adequate supply of water for the power plants throughout even the driest summer. There are how three of these plants completed and in operation on the Deerfield river, each containing three generators with the capacity of 3,000 horsepower each.

One plant is located two miles above the town of Shelburne Falls, another is opposite the village, and the third two miles below it. Within a short time a fourth plant will be completed on the river just above the Hoosac tunnel, with a capacity of 20,000 horsepower.

Ultimately this company expects to develop 100,000 horsepower on the Deerfield river alone.

To carry this great load 175 miles of transmission lines are now in use or being erected. These lines are built on their own right of way and can be seen for miles around.

Second only to this development is that of the Turners Falls company, promoted by the Cabot and Crocker interests of Boston. At Turners Falls the Connecticut drops abruptly some thirty feet. Its falls have been used for power purposes by the old method for generations. The dam, built in the sixties, has a crest of 1,000 feet. For hydroelectric purposes the old canal was widened a few years ago and a power plant installed which yields 7,000 horsepower. In this way the energy of the turbulent river has been rendered possible of transmission far beyond the river bank. Today a new dam is being built and engineers are extending this canal with a view of wresting still greater power from the river by leading it to a point two miles below where another fall of sixty feet will produce electrical energy equal to 40,000 horsepower.

The power which is being developed at Turners Falls is sold to a number of allied companies which act as distributors. In this way it reaches many towns, including Riverside and Millers Falls. Through the Greenfield Electric Light company it reaches South Vernon, Northfield, Bernardston, Deerfield, Colerain, Buckland and Greenfield and through the Amherst and Easthampton Gas companies Amherst, Sunderland, Whately, Hatfield, Hadley, Easthampton and Southampton. Turners Falls is but forty miles from Springfield. It is aimed to extend the transmission lines ultimately to supply industries not alone in Springfield, but in Chicopee and Westfield. In many of these towns, particularly Turners Falls, hundreds of factory sites are within easy reach of this power, whose price necessarily cheapens as the length of transmission shortens.

Another recent New England hydroelectric development is that at Rumford Falls. It has resulted already in converting what was twenty years ago a wilderness into a city with a population of 14,000 people. Here where the Androscoggin river has a ninety-nine foot fall a station has been built developing 30,000 horsepower. Over a million dollars has been spent on two great dams. Instead of canals the rushing waters at Rumford Falls are led through great steel tubes into the power station. The mills of the International Paper company take over 11,000 horsepower alone. The Oxford Paper company consumes 5,000 more and the Fort Hill Chemical company 1,250. The Central Maine Power company, located at Oakland on the Mes-salouchee river, is still another development with 6,400 horsepower developed and 23,000 undeveloped.

Connecticut is not without its hydroelectric development, for at Bulls Bridge, on the Housatonic, there has been for some years in operation a plant developing 30,000 horsepower. Besides running the trolley lines of the Connecticut company in Waterbury and New Britain, the latter fifty miles away, this power is today running several industrial plants besides local lighting interests.

These are but a few of the most important of the central hydroelectric stations already established and in process of construction in New England by which a partial utilization of the immense energy of its water courses may be accomplished and the power thus generated sold commercially. Scattered throughout this region at the present time are thirty-one plants designed to sell power commercially as distinguished from the scores of mills which still take power directly from the streams on whose banks they are located.

That these stations have already the effect of cheapening power to some extent for the manufacturer there is no doubt. The increase of such plants, which is bound to occur, is certain to have a still greater effect in this line, all of which will redound to the advantage of the manufacturer who seeks New England.

Today the rates for large quantities of power vary from 3 mills per kilowatt hour at Rumford Falls, Me., to 1.6 mills in various parts of Connecticut.

If used in large quantities there is without question a considerable saving over steam according to those competent to judge the results.

In order to aid this development the industrial bureau of the New England lines has collected a list of available water power sites in New England and already there have been many inquiries for the same.

It is also about to undertake a careful tabulation of all the development work at present under way and which will redound to the benefit of New England's industries, whose promotion is one of the chief aims of the New England lines.

That manufacturers are beginning to appreciate the advantage New England possesses in opportunities for such development coupled with her supply of skilled labor there can be no question. It was her broad rivers and rushing streams which aided her settlement and stimulated her development in the early days of her history by affording easy means of communication and furnishing power to turn the water wheels of her infant industries. Today these same streams are stored with a dynamic force which when converted into electrical energy will be sufficient to move her mills and be the means of a new industrial growth rich in promise for generations yet to come. And the supply is inexhaustible.

WEIGHED THE ELEPHANT.

A Problem Which a Hindu Prince Was Able to Solve.

There is a story often told in India of Shajee, a Hindu prince, who on a certain occasion showed himself almost as clever as Archimedes.

A high official had made a row that he would distribute to the poor the weight of his own elephant in silver money. But the great difficulty that at first presented itself was the mode of ascertaining what this weight really was. All the learned and clever men of the court seemed to have endeavored in vain to construct a machine of sufficient power to weigh the elephant.

At length Shajee came forward and suggested a plan which was simple and yet ingenious in the highest degree. He caused the unwieldy animal to be conducted along a stage specially made for the purpose by the water-side into a flat bottomed boat. Then, having marked on the boat the height to which the water reached after the elephant was taken out and stowed substituted in sufficient quantity to the boat to the same line. The stones were then taken to the scales, and thus, to the amazement of the court, was ascertained the true weight of the elephant.—Exchange.

Marriages in Burma.

A curious idea among the Burmese is that people born on the same day of the week must not marry and that if they defy the fates their union will be marked by much ill luck. To prevent these disastrous marriages every girl carries a record of her birthday in her name, each day of the week having a letter belonging to it, and all children are called by a name which begins with that letter.

Still Worried.

Both Wrong.

Sandy and his master drove up to the small station as the train approached. "Here's your train, sir," said Sandy. "That is not my train," replied the master, who had his own ideas about correct speech. "But it's the train I am going by." But it happened to be a special train and didn't stop at the station, whereupon Sandy exclaimed: "We're both wrong, for it's neither your train nor the one you're going by, but it's the one that's gone by you!"

"Where there's a winner there's a loser."

"Not always."

"Well, name an instance to the contrary."

Ned Bromley's Assurance

He Got Into His Own Trap, but Got Out of It

By ESTHER VANDEVEER

Ned Bromley was sitting in a trolley car beguiling a long ride by looking up at the signs opposite. Ned was a good natured, devil-may-care sort of fellow, always ready to crack a joke or put himself out to do any one a favor. Lowering his eyes, he saw an elderly gentleman sitting opposite him looking at him. Ned thought, rather disapprovingly. As Ned read his thoughts they were something like this:

"The young man opposite, judging by the fashionable cut of his clothes, is passing that age when his tailor is his most intimate friend. He looks as if he would swear at the least provocation and probably gambles."

Of course, Ned made this up, but the fact remains that disapprobation was plainly marked on the gentleman's countenance. Ned, who was full of Old Nick, was minded to shock the man. Leaning forward, he said confidentially: "I know a place where there's a small game going on. I wouldn't mind taking you around if you like."

The man gave him a withering look, turned, showing as much of his back as possible and made no reply. Ned took the rebuff good naturedly and was thinking how to follow up his shocking process without running the risk of being turned over to the police when the gentleman pushed the button, the car stopped, and he got out. When Ned next turned his glance to where the gentleman had been sitting he saw a fat wallet lying on the seat.

"That comes of no button on the hip pocket," said Ned, who had once lost a pocketbook from that cause; and, taking up the wallet, he left the car and ran after the owner. Unfortunately, the man was not to be seen. The next thing to be done was to examine the contents to learn if there was any address within. Ned came upon a singular bit of information. He found a card on which was written: "This is the body of Archibald Crane, president of the 4th National Bank. In case of accident, illness or death telephone the bank, also my house, No. 742 Lincoln street."

"How easy it is," mused Ned, "to read character from the appearance. Any one would know that was just the kind of man to put such a notice in his pocketbook. But what's this?"

From another division of the wallet he took some bank bills folded together. There were five of them—three twenties, a fifty and a ten, in all $120. There was another roll of ones and twos, making up $7 more.

"I reckon I'll give the old gentleman a chance to worry a bit," mused Ned. "I'll telephone tomorrow at his home after he's gone to the bank or to the bank after he's gone home. Perhaps I'll get some fun out of the old crank after all."

So he pocketed his find and thought no more about it till the next morning, when he fancied the man he wanted was not at home; then after looking in a telephone directory he called up Mr. Crane's residence. A very soft feminine voice asked, "What is it?"

"Is Mr. Crane at home?"

"No; he's gone to the bank."

"Perhaps you had better call up the bank and ask if he is there."

After some questioning as to the cause of this suggestion the lady concluded to do as advised, after which she called the telephone number that Ned had given her. He was waiting and said:

"I didn't wish to scare any one, so I asked you to call up Mr. Crane to assure yourself that he is all right. I've found his body."

"Found his body? My goodness gracious!"

"Oh, you know he's all right."

"Yes."

"Well, what shall I do with his body?"

"What does all this mean? Who are you?"

"I'm Edward Bromley."

There was a pause when the voice asked where Mr. Bromley was, and he replied that he was at the University club and asked whom he had the honor of speaking with and received the information that he was speaking with Miss Hester Crane, Mr. Archibald Crane's daughter.

"Well," continued Ned, "I've found a pocketbook with about $120 and a card giving instructions what to do with Mr. Crane's body if found dead or something."

"You don't mean it?"

"I certainly do."

"I know papa is a bit peculiar, but I didn't think he would put anything like that in his pocketbook."

"I'm in a quandary about the return of the money."

"How so?"

"Well, I saw Mr. Crane sitting opposite me in a trolley car looking at me rather severely. My neck scarf didn't seem to please him or a snake ring I wore on my little finger. I thought I'd shock him and asked him if he'd like to go where a small game was going on."

A ripple of laughter came over the phone at this, then the reply, "You couldn't have done anything more calculated to turn papa against you."

"That's just it. Now, supposing he knows that I have his portmanteau, 10 to 1 he'll think I picked his pocket."

"How can he assume that if you return everything just as you found it?"

"Oh, he wouldn't remember just how much there was in it, and he'll be sure to think he had more than he did have. You see, I wouldn't like to take any risk. To be arrested as a pickpocket would be awful, even as one whose conscience led him to deliver up the goods he had stolen."

"It is complicated. At least it appears to be so. I can readily understand your timidity in the matter."

Now, Mr. Bromley's timidity was all balderdash. He was figuring to hear that sweet voice near by and see if the face and figure were as attractive as he pictured it.

"I might give the pocketbook and its contents to you," he said, "without meeting your father; then he wouldn't recognize me for the man who sat opposite him and asked him to go to a gambling house. Do you see?"

"Yes. That would be a very good way out of it. You might send it to me."

This broke into Mr. Bromley's calculations. It occurred to him that he might as well send his find to Mr. Crane direct. But Ned's wits were sharp enough for the occasion.

"I wouldn't like," he said, "to surrender the property to any one without being sure of what I was doing. You see, I stand in a delicate position. If I knew I was delivering the goods to the owner's daughter I would feel all right about it. I wouldn't even ask a receipt."

"But you don't know me."

The matter was now getting where Ned wanted it. He availed himself of the opportunity without hesitation.

"I would trust any woman with so sweet a voice with untold wealth."

A pleased "Te-he!" came from the other end of the wire and immediately the reply, "Well, you may bring it if you like."

"When?"

"I suppose you prefer to come when papa is not at home?"

"Certainly. I wouldn't meet him for anything."

"Papa goes to the bank a little before 9 in the morning and comes home about 2:30."

"In that case I would better make the return tomorrow morning, say about 11 o'clock."

"Very well, I will be happy to—I mean I will receive it at that time. But what am I to do about the reward?"

"Oh, the reward is in permitting me, a stranger, to return the pocketbook to you in person. I am very anxious to see if your face is as charming as your voice."

"There you will certainly be disappointed. I mean—rather, I don't mean—that my voice is charming—there, you've got me all mixed up."

"Never mind; I shall have the inestimable happiness of seeing for myself."

There was more of this before the receivers were hung up, but so much in the same vein that it would become tiresome through repetition. The next morning at 11 o'clock Mr. Bromley rang the bell of 742 Lincoln street, a handsome stone front residence, and sent up his card. When the young lady came into the room he stood mute with admiration. But his eyes were anything but mute. Indeed, his gaze was such as to make the young lady lower her eyes, but it was nevertheless gratifying.

It is necessary to pass over a few months in the thread of this story, when Mr. Bromley and Miss Crane having become avowed lovers, found it necessary to let the lady's father into the secret that she desired to marry a man whom he was likely to recognize as one who had offered to show him a small game. They put their heads together in an attempt, among other things, to discover a device to prevent the old gentleman's recognition of his would-be son-in-law. The effort was a failure.

"There's only one way to meet the case," said Ned at last.

"What's that?"

"Cheek."

"What do you mean?"

"I'll declare I never met your father before in my life."

Since there was no other way out of the matter Ned arranged to call when the "body of Mr. Crane" was at home, which Ned had not done before. He carved out a new pair of whiskers, had his hair curled and put on a pair of eyeglasses. Moreover he wore as different a suit of clothes from those he had on when he first met Mr. Crane as possible. When introduced to the old gentleman the latter, looking at him scrutinizingly, said:

"Your face is familiar to me, sir."

"I hope you haven't met that fellow who looks so much like me and is always getting me into trouble," Ned broke out. "He's a stool pigeon for a gambling house."

"That's the man," replied the other. "He had the impudence to ask me to go with him to his villainous place."

"What shall I do about it? If the thing goes on much longer I won't have a shred of character left."

Miss Crane went to the window, making a great effort to repress her laughter, while her lover discussed with her father the question as to whether the law could be made available to protect the former against a man of bad character who resembled him.

Notwithstanding the success of this daring stratagem Ned afterward occasionally caught the old gentleman looking at him with an expression indicating that he wasn't quite certain but that he was the man he had met in a street car. However, Ned married Miss Crane, and there was one thing his father-in-law never suspected—that Ned was the person who had returned his lost pocketbook.

SCARES IN LONDON

When Cranks Predicted the Destruction of the City.

TERROR RULED THE PEOPLE.

Bell, a Lunatic, Had the Entire Population in a Frenzy of Fear Awaiting the End by Earthquake in 1761—The River Thames Panic of 1824.

Men, it has been well said, think in herds. It will be seen that they go mad in herds, for innumerable instances can be given of a whole people suddenly shaking off the trammels of reason and running wild under the delusion of some impending calamity.

A panic terror of the end of the world spread over London in 1736 by the prophecy of the famous Whiston, who predicted that the world would be destroyed on Oct. 13 in that year. Crowds of people went out on the appointed day to Islington, Highgate, Hampstead and the intervening fields to witness the destruction of London, which was to be the "beginning of the end."

Again in the year 1761 the citizens of London were plunged into excitement by two earthquake shocks, and the prophecy of a third, which was to destroy them altogether. The first of these shocks was on Feb. 5 and threw down several chimneys; the second was on March 8. Public notice was directed to the fact that there was exactly a month's interval between the two shocks, and a crack brained fellow named Bell was so impressed with the idea that there would be a third in the forthcoming month that he completely lost his senses and ran about the streets predicting the destruction of London on April 5.

As the awful day approached the excitement became intense, and great numbers of credulous people resorted to all the villages within a circuit of twenty miles, there to await the doom of London, Blackheath, Islington, Highgate, Hampstead and Harrow were crowded with panic stricken fugitives who paid exorbitant prices for accommodations in these secure retreats. Such as could not afford to pay for lodgings at these places encamped in the surrounding fields.

As is usual in panics, the fear became contagious, and hundreds who had laughed at the prediction a week before packed up their goods and chattels when they saw others doing so and hastened away. The river was thought to be a place of great security, and accordingly all the available merchant vessels and barges were packed with people, who passed the night between the 4th and 5th on board, expecting every moment to see St. Paul's tower and the towers of Westminster abbey rock and fall amid a cloud of dust. But on the following day the greater part of the fugitives returned, convinced that the prophecy was a false one. A few months afterward Bell was confined in a lunatic asylum, where he died.

Great consternation was caused in London in 1824 by a prediction that on the 1st day of February the waters of the Thames would overflow the whole city of London and wash away 10,000 houses. The prophecy was implicitly believed, and many families packed up their goods and removed into Kent and Essex. As the time drew near the numbers of these emigrants increased. In January droves of workmen might be seen, followed by their wives and children, trudging on foot to the villages within fifteen or twenty miles to await the catastrophe. People of a higher class were also to be seen in vehicles bound on a similar errand.

By the middle of January at least 20,000 persons had quitted the doomed city, leaving nothing but the bare walls of their homes to be swept away by the impending floods. Many of the wealthier class took up their abode on the heights of Hampstead, Highgate and Blackheath, and some erected tents as far away as Waltham abbey on the north and Croydon on the south of the Thames.

On the fateful morning the wondering crowds were astir at an early hour to watch the rising of the waters. It was predicted that the inundation would be gradual, not sudden, so that they expected to have plenty of time to escape as soon as they saw the waters rise beyond the usual mark.

The day grew older, and the Thames flowed on quietly as of yore. The tide ebbed at its usual hour, flowed to its usual height and then ebbed again, just as if twenty astrologers had not pledged their word to the contrary.

Blank were their faces as evening approached, and as blank grew the faces of the citizens to think that they had made such fools of themselves. Night set in, and the obstinate river would not lift its waters to sweep away even one home out of the 10,000. Still, however, the people were afraid to go to sleep. Many hundreds remained up till dawn of the next day, lest the deluge should come upon them like a thief in the night.

On the morrow it was seriously discussed whether it would not be advisable to duck the false prophets in the river. Luckily for them their thought of an expedient which allayed the popular fury. They asserted that by an error they had fixed the date of this awful inundation a century too early. The present generation of cockneys were safe and London would be washed away, not in 1824, but in 1924.—London Family Herald.

AN INSOLENT WRITER.

He Found He Couldn't Dictate to a Typical John Bull.

That sprouting Scotch peer, the Earl of Leven, who rebuked a ship news reporter who approached him by declaring that "no gentleman ever speaks to another without an introduction; it simply isn't done," is an old friend of James Francis Dwyer, the Australian novelist—that is, Dwyer doesn't actually know the Earl of Leven, but he knows his sweetly British sort.

"I ought to," said Dwyer. "I was broke in London and I learned to know the true Briton. Once I answered an advertisement for a literary secretary. To make certain that my letter would be read I wired the advertiser as follows:

"Do not engage a literary secretary until you have read my letter of application."

"That letter was a gem. I thought I would land the place with it sure. I was certain of it when a large, square letter directed me to appear at a named address at a given hour. It was a four penny bus ride, but I didn't care. My fortune was opening out before me. I squandered the fourpence without a miserly thought. A pompous butler ushered me into a black oak library, where the original stuffed model of John Bull sat at a table. I sat down meekly and waited to be spoken to."

"Blam!" He hit the desk with his clinched hand.

"You cannot dictate to an Englishman," said this old image.

"No, sir," I said.

"I tell you," he shouted, "you cannot dictate to an Englishman!"

"Certainly not, I said.

"But you tried to," he said. "You sent me this impertinent telegram. No Englishman would have done that. It was an American trick."

"I tried to soothe him, for I wanted that job. But he got hotter and hotter. Finally he told me outright that he had hired a young man who once had worked for a lord."

"I have sent for you," said he, "and you should be grateful to me in order to teach you a proper respect for the traditions of England and for the British flag."

"You old fossil," said I, "if I had a British flag here I'd tear it in two and choke you to death with it."—Chicago News.

"COOKING A PILL."

That is What Opium Smokers Call "Hitting the Pipe."

The opium smoker in the act of smoking is said to be "cooking a pill." Smokers of tobacco in seeing opium pipes have been misled into the belief that the large bowl of the pipe is filled with opium when really the "pill" is simply pasted over a tiny opening in the cover of the bowl. Heating of the bowl produces dense fumes, which are drawn through the bowl and the stem of the pipe into the smoker's mouth.

Nether does one pipe of opium produce stupor. A "pill" dazes only even an inexperienced smoker as a large drink would effect a person unused to alcohol. The opium users who have been pictured stretched on bunks of opium dens in utter stupor have been saturated with the drug.

Reclining on a bed, the smoker places the layout within easy reach and lights the lamp. Pleasant oil, burning slowly and without evil odors or fumes, is used exclusively. The smoker is then ready to prepare his "pill."

The yen-hok, or dipper, a long, needle shaped instrument, is put into the opium receptacle and turned slowly in the black and sticky substance until a small quantity of opium adheres to the point. It is then placed over the flame of the lamp, and, turning the dipper, the smoker rolls and cooks the "pill" until it is ready for the pipe.

The tiny speck is then thrust into the opening of the bowl, which, held above the lamp, slowly begins to produce opium fumes, which are drawn in by the smoker through the stem of his pipe. The "pill" lasts only from thirty to forty seconds, and to enjoy another smoke the same preparations have to be repeated.—New York Tribune.

Humiliated Hubby.

A newly married couple had had a little disagreement about some cakes which the wife had made. The husband complained that those his mother used to produce were far superior. On the next day the girl set before him a plate of hot cakes.

"Now you have achieved something," he exclaimed enthusiastically. "These are exactly like what mother used to make. How did you do it?"

"I will give you the recipe," replied the wife coolly. "I used margarine instead of butter, eggs a year old, I put alum in the flour and added plenty of water to the milk."—London Tit-Bits.

He Didn't Know Art.

"Where did you get that marble statuette, my dear?"

"Why, at Martino's. Isn't it lovely? And such a bargain! It was marked 'half off.' Didn't you see the tag?"

"Yes, but I thought the tag referred to the clothing."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Mother's Association Held Lawn

Party.

About sixty-five members of the Winchester Mother's Association attended the lawn party on the estate of Mr. Harrison Parker, Main street,

Wednesday afternoon. The day was perfect for the affair, and the gardens and lawns were beautiful in their green freshness and blossoms.

A cobweb party was held for the mothers, with a potted geranium at the end of each thread, which they took with them upon leaving. Refreshments were served during the afternoon. A table for the sale of household articles was placed in the barn and from which the sum of $17 was netted, the proceeds to be used for the work of the Association. A number of plants which were left from the cobweb party were sent to the Winchester Hospital.

The affair was in charge of Mrs.

James E. Corey, and she was assisted by the following ladies: Mrs. Joshua Phippen, Mrs. George W. Apsey, Mrs.

Harry C. Sanborn, Mrs. Lindsay E.

Bird and Mrs. Herbert T. Bond.

It was greatly regretted that Mrs.

WHITING'S MODEL
MILK PLANT.Winchester Residents Will Find it Worth While to Visit This Establishment.

How many Winchester residents are aware of the fact that the milk plant of D. Whiting & Sons at 570 Rutherford avenue, Charlestown is one of the model plants of the world? It is visited daily by a large number of visitors from out of town, and with a view of acquainting their Winchester neighbors with the excellence of the establishment the Messrs. Whiting have set apart next Wednesday, June 25, as a special Winchester day for Winchester residents.

It is a far cry from the fertile grazing lands of New Hampshire and Massachusetts to the refrigerators in Winchester homes; but with the modern processes of transportation and care of milk the product of the cow when delivered in Winchester homes is as sweet and sound as when it leaves the farms in Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

The farmers deliver the milk in large cans and it is shipped in ice refrigerators or cars. On arrival at the Rutherford avenue headquarters, Charlestown, it is carefully inspected and scientifically pasteurized by an approved method of heating to 145 F., this heat being held for twenty minutes. This process does not effect a chemical change in the milk and is a protection against all germs of contagious diseases. The milk is then cooled by passing around cooling coils.

All cans and bottles having been thoroughly cleaned, sterilized and inspected, the milk is then poured into receptacles into the bottle filler and filled automatically in cases of twelve bottles each. The cases of bottled milk are then run on to a slide directly into the refrigerator where they are covered with cracked ice. Cans are filled in a similar manner.

As indicative of the cleanliness that prevails throughout this establishment, it may be stated that every delivery wagon is given a thorough washing every day inside as well as outside.

There are separate rooms for the butter factory, and for the caring of cream, buttermilk and modified milk; and there are chemical and bacteriological laboratories, a laundry, lavatories, shower baths and locker rooms, every employer being required to give particular attention to personal cleanliness.

Under the personal direction and supervision of the owners of this model milk establishment, there is rigid and careful attention given to every detail that will assure perfect sanitary conditions; and these efforts have the hearty support and cordial cooperation of the scores of loyal and intelligent employees.

The McDonald-Weber Co. will serve refreshments on next Wednesday and Winchester residents, the ladies especially, are cordially invited.

WOMEN IN AUTO STRUCK TEAM.

As Messrs. Howard D. Nash and Fred L. Waldmyer were driving over Wildwood street in a democrat wagon Wednesday afternoon they were run into by an automobile driven by Mrs. Eliza T. Symonds of Waverly and the carriage badly smashed and both gentlemen thrown out.

The team was almost opposite Fletcher street and the auto came down that street, turning into Wildwood. As the woman made the turn she turned to speak to a companion in the back seat. Mr. Waldmyer was driving and saw that an accident was unavoidable. He whipped up the horse so that the animal just escaped the auto, which struck the rear wheel of the carriage, raising it in the air and throwing the men out.

Mr. Nash landed on his feet and was not hurt, but Mr. Waldmyer fell heavily on his side and was badly bruised, it being thought for a time that he had broken some of his ribs.

The car was owned by Henry A. Symonds of 174 Lexington street, Waverly. The auto was not injured and the horse was unhurt. The remains of the democrat wagon were taken to the stable.

Mr. Waldmyer was on his way to Wildwood cemetery, going there to attend to the water, being in the employ of the town department.

Kelley—Lehan.

Miss Katherine Elizabeth Lehan, daughter of Mrs. Mary E. Lehan of Washington street, was united in marriage on Wednesday evening at St. Mary's parochial residence to Mr. Edward William Kelley of Arlington. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Nathaniel J. Merritt, rector of the church, at eight o'clock.

The bride was gowned in a handsome dress of white crepe de chene over satin charmeuse, trimmed with lace and pearls. She wore for her only ornament a beautiful pearl pendant, the gift of the groom, and carried a bridal bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Miss Mollie C. Byran of Medford was maid of honor, being gowned in pale yellow charmeuse, trimmed with duchess lace and pearls. Mr. John V. Kelley, a brother of the groom, was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother which was largely attended by guests from Winchester, Arlington and the surrounding towns. Many handsome gifts were received by the couple from their many friends.

After a wedding trip through the White Mountains they will reside in Arlington.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

"God bless our proof reader: we hope he'll take him soon."—Eugene Field. Heaven is the aim of even the STAR's proof reader, but Hades is his home. Words on the proof reader's lips are but the foam of his heart's desire for the law of Lynch. Once upon a time the Spectator was a proof reader on a large daily newspaper and he can assure every good reader of The STAR that the comp., especially the travelling comp., had need to roam afar from The Spectator when he was a proof reader.

The proof reader toils at his "whelming task" And answers all the questions they ask. No subject so tough that his brain will flinch: In the critic's fierce white light he'll bask— And the office boy says: "Don't he have a cinch?"

The time to advertise in The STAR is all the time. The man who fishes longest has the largest basket of fish.

A Winchester sage remarks that one reason why some men are reluctant to give up their seats to women in a crowded car is because they feel that it is expected of them, as a duty.

The Winchesterite who agrees with everybody can make a lot of friends until they find him out.

A Winchester gentleman, though he has been a landsman for more than thirty years, never forgets his sailor days. "I never," said he to The Spectator, "had so vivid an idea of the power of steam as when I was in Europe a couple of years ago. One day I got a good view of a gigantic sailing vessel, and to see those sails raised and lowered by steam power was a sight indeed. You know I'm old enough to have seen plenty of the old-fashioned sailing ships. I know how many men it would have taken to spread or furl those sails—now it was something to see them all obey steam."

"At a beautiful little country church less than 20 miles from Winchester," observed a friend of The Spectator's interested in machinery. "I saw a dozen automobiles. Soon after the service I learned that nine of the autos belonged to farmers." On The Spectator repeating this to a man who knows every country town in New England, he said: "Nobody knows how many farmers are buying automobiles, and for economy not for show. The time saved is a great point, and the cost of keeping the machine in good order is less than many suppose. It will soon be almost impossible for a man who owns a large farm to get along without an automobile."

FIVE YEARS OF SAVINGS BANK LIFE INSURANCE.

In 1907 was effected the passage of the law establishing Savings Bank Life Insurance, and it was prophesied then by critics of the proposed system that no Savings Bank in Massachusetts would ever open an Insurance Department, but June 22, 1913 will be the fifth anniversary of the opening of the Insurance Department of the Whitman Savings Bank. In these five years Savings Bank Life Insurance has grown steadily until today there are four Savings Banks with Insurance Departments, namely: the Whitman Savings Bank of Whitman, the People's Savings Bank of Brockton, the Berkshire County Savings Bank of Pittsfield, and the City Savings Bank of Pittsfield, and fourteen other Savings Banks which are public agencies. More than 200 agencies have been established in factories, shops, and mills for the benefit of the employees, and this co-operation of business men has been most helpful. There are now more than 700 policies in force with insurance to the amount of nearly $3,000,000. The record of these five years has proved the stability, security and permanency of Savings Bank Life Insurance, and made clear that its slogan "Best Insurance at Lowest Cost" is no idle boast.

SEWING AND SLOYD.

The Closing of a Very Satisfactory Year.

Among the varied activities connected with our public schools now drawing to a close are the sewing and sloyd.

The work of the girls is very practical. In the sixth grade, they apply the stitches learned in a home out-fit consisting of a sweeping-cap, duster, iron-holder and dish towel.

The following year, more time is spent in the sewing room and patches, stocking and cloth darts, cotton and flannel seams are made and some of the ornamental stitches applied. The latter part of the year machine stitching is practiced.

The eighth grade pupils cut undergarments and make them by machine. The nightgowns, skirts, aprons and kimonos show the creditable work done in this grade.

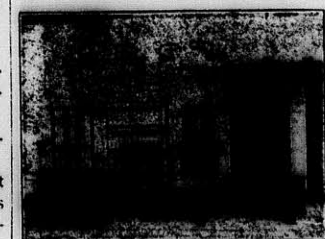

EXHIBIT OF CABINET WORK.

The use and adapting of patterns is taught in the ninth grade. Many of these girls are now wearing simple but attractive dresses made by them during the year.

In the High School, the course is elective and is a continuation of the grade work.

The accompanying cut shows some of the articles made during the present year.

The boy's start manual training in the sixth grade and continue through the ninth, also the first two years in High School.

The courses for each grade have been carefully laid out starting with simple articles in the sixth grade, each new model taking in new tools and exercises, but great care has been taken not to bring in the use of too many new tools in the making of new models.

Each model represents a finished piece of work which is either useful or ornamental.

The sixth grade boys make garden sticks, planters, footstools, shelves, carts, and birdhouses.

The seventh grade make shrub labels, hat racks, tool racks, paper knives, sleeve boards, etc. Extra work taboretts, eighth grade make line winders, brush racks with carved edge, paper knives, bread boards, pen trays, etc. Some of the extra pieces, book cases, chests, stools with woven tops, music racks, etc.

Ninth grade course work consists of articles with various kinds of joints. Some of the articles made are frames, book racks with dovetail joints, umbrella stands, hall trees, cabinets and chests.

The high school work consists mostly of furniture making. Some of the pieces made were Morris chair, hall seat, music cabinet, dressing case, writing desk, table and other useful pieces.

The cut shows some of this year's work.

THE JULY STRAND MAGAZINE.

The Strand Magazine for July contains a notable selection of fiction by such writers as Conan Doyle, Baroness Orczy, L. J. Beeston, E. Nesbit, Mary Tennyson and others. Wendell Phillips Dodge has an appreciative article excellently illustrated, dealing with Julia Marlowe and her work. The question of what kind of a woman a man likes is seriously discussed by Robert Hichens, Max Pemberton, W. W. Jacobs, Frankfort Moore, W. B. Maxwell and other well-known authors.

"The Stranger" is an amusing article by Dr. Norman Porritt, the title indicating the subject with which it deals. Professor John J. Ward has another of his fascinating nature articles, the one this month dealing with "The Life Story of the Lunar Hornet-Moth."

BASE BALL.

Winchester High School was defeated in one of the best-played games of the year at Arlington by Arlington High School, last Thursday afternoon by a score of 1 to 0. From start to finish it was a great pitchers' battle between the wild Chaves and the steady Goddu. The latter pitched one of his best games, and really deserved a win. There was never more than one man on base at the same time, while Winchester had several good chances to score; the necessary hit was lacking, however.

The only winning run of the contest was the direct result of poor backing up. Chaves, the Arlington pitcher, hit over Lett's head for three bases. His return was quick, and was relayed by Goldsmith, who threw to Saltmarsh at third hoping to catch the runner. The ball took a bad bounce on the hard ground, and jumped by Saltmarsh. Goddu rushed in pursuit of the ball, but it was too late. Chaves scoring.

The fielding of the Winchester team was excellent, especially that of Phinpen, Lawson and Penalgan. A great one-hand catch by Penalgan was the feature of the contest. Lowe played a good holding game for Arlington at second base. Only one man, Cousins, was able to connect for two hits.

Chaves was very wild, pitching two to three balls to each batter, but he was just wild enough to be effective. He issued five passes, and struck out fourteen.

Winchester's best chance to score came in the ninth inning, when Goddu singled and stole second. Lawson popped to Lowe. Saltmarsh hit to shortstop, and on a close play Goddu was nailed at third. Currier to Ross. Freeman fanned for the final out.

The score by innings:

Two-base hit Penalgan. Three-base hit Chaves. Stolen bases Goddu, Lawson, Saltmarsh. Left on bases W. H. S. 6; A. H. S. 3. Struck out by Goddu 6; by Chaves 14. Bases on balls, off Goddu or off Chaves 5. Passed balls, Maguire 1; Buttrick 1. Time, 2 hr. 15 min.

STREET WORK.

Winchester, June, 1913.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

To the Tax Payers and Rent Payers of this Town, and to the Voters who gave their time so willingly every Monday and Thursday

The Winchester Star

Published EVERY FRIDAY AFTERNOON

TELEPHONE NUMBER 29

Entered at the post-office at Winchester, Massachusetts, as second-class matter.

Within a comparatively short period there have been eighteen engineers of the New York and New Haven Railroad discharged or suspended for disregarding signals. Modern safety devices do not appear to mean much to many engineers.

The electric car service in Winchester is not keeping up with the requirements. Vexatious delays at turnouts and an uncertain schedule are the chief causes of the trouble. Steps should be taken to improve conditions by double tracking the roads. This is bound to come sometime, and the sooner the better.

Much sorrow is expressed because of the discontinuance of the work inaugurated in Winchester by Mrs. Margaret Lovejoy Weber, especially among the three hundred and fifty or more children whom she had interested in her work. If possible, a town wide movement should be inaugurated to keep her here. The noble work done by her should not be abandoned.

Those persons who are not subscribers to the STAR, can have it sent to their vacation addresses for any length of time desired, by notifying this office. There will be no extra charge for postage. Regular subscribers can also have their papers forwarded to any address, for a long or short time, at no extra expense. It is well to keep in touch with home affairs while away from Winchester.

Newsy Paragraphs.

Dana J. P. Wingate starts on July 1st for Camp Chocoma, Pennsylvania, where he will be a Counselor as he was last summer. Any boy desiring to enter this well known camp, now in its seventeenth year, can obtain full information from Mr. Wingate 8 Stratford road. Tel. 77-W. adv.

Enthusiastic approval has been accorded the Carnegie Museum Alaska-Siberia motion pictures during their past two weeks at Tremont Temple, and the third week will begin Monday, they include many thrilling and spectacular moments in the hunt after big game in the Far North and they were faithfully reproduced by the camera—a permanent record of the habits of the polar bear, walrus, sea-lion, seal, moose, caribou, mountain sheep and other wild life of land and sea.

The Old-Timers ball club won from the All Stars of Winchester at the Highland grounds on the 17th, score 12 to 4. Batteries Richardson and Hanlon for the Old Timers, Johnson and Johnson for the All Stars. The pitching of Richardson was classy, striking out 12 men, and the game was full of pep all the time.

The game was called at the end of the seventh inning and the crowd were given a feed by the Old-Timers. Sandwiches, lemonade, cake and ice cream were served under a tent on the grounds and all enjoyed the good time.

There's nothing slow about the Highlands and there is usually a good ball game on Saturday afternoons.

A whist party in aid of the Cutler Village table at the summer festival of St. Mary's Church, was held Wednesday evening at the residence of Mrs. Richard Glendon, under the direction of Mrs. Joseph E. O'Connor. Souvenirs for the whist were awarded to Miss Emily Murray, Mrs. Patrick Foley, Mrs. Jeremiah Murphy, Mrs. Patrick Cummings, Miss Katherine Feeney, Miss Mary Reagan, Mrs. Henry Blake, James Kenney, Patrick Hogan, Martin Dempsey, Edward Boyle and J. Frank Davis.

Mrs. John Lothrop Brown and family have gone to White Rock, Me. for the summer.

At the annual meeting of the Boston and Tufts Dental Alumni Association, held at Nantasket, Wednesday, June 18, Dr. Alfred G. Richburg, formerly of Winchester was elected president of the association. His many friends will be glad to hear of his elevation to office from his membership on the executive board. Dr. Richburg is a graduate of the local High School, and a graduate of Tufts Dental School, class of '09. He is said to be the youngest president that has held the office.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold A. Gale of Main street left this week for Manomet, where they will spend the summer.

Mr. Charles A. Lane has a most interesting addition to his fascinating office equipment in the way of an aquarium filled with Japanese fan-tails, gold fish and polly-wogs. The sight of the fish eating their breakfast has proved to be a very popular diversion for many of the children.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

The following cases were reported during the week ending June 4:

Measles 2

Whooping Cough 4

SELECTMEN'S MEETING.

19, 1913, finding the alteration of Cambridge street adjoining the lands of Samuel J. Elder and Samuel J. McCall and George A. Fernald to be necessary and that they had laid out and ordered the alterations and issued an order.

The Committee on Ways and Bridges reported that they had replied to Mr. Ginn on his proposition to operate the stone quarry, that this Board was of the opinion that it would not be advisable for the Town to purchase the stone and the equipment without the fee in the land and that they did not care for the equipment; that if Mr. Ginn wished to make the Board a proposition on the basis of allowing them to take stone from the quarry at a price per ton, it would be given consideration, any such price to be based on the Town using its own crusher; also that they would consider a proposition toward the operation of the quarry by the Winchester Stone Company under proper supervision.

A letter was received from the Middlesex County National Bank that they were beginning construction of their sidewalk on Church street and asking that the Engineer give them the proper levels and an estimate of cost for relaying the curbing. The Clerk was instructed to reply that the curbing would be relaid and that the estimated expense would be about $30, for which a deposit would be required.

The Town Engineer reported in the matter of the Shultis drain on Winthrop street that he had visited the premises with Mr. Brown and his formal report was in process; that he had found that the drain through the Shultis property connected with a drain in the Parkway at a point he could not exactly determine and it seemed to him that in view of that connection having been made the Town ought to take the drain out of the Shultis land and lay it down Winthrop street as far as Washington street and connect with the drain there which would cost $700 to $1000. An alternative would be to run the drain along the lot line but the Town Counsel on being consulted would not recommend doing this and he said that the Town having turned in more water through the drain than was provided for him, in the original drainage right, Mr. Shultis had the right to complain. Mr. Brown agreed to see Mr. Shultis and ascertain how he felt about some disposal of the drain along his lot line or increasing the capacity of the present drain, the Town Engineer in the meanwhile to take up the matter with the Park Commission to see whether such drain could be connected with the Parkway drain.

In the matter of complaint of Mrs. Edward Boyle, concerning proposed location for electric light on East street, the Committee on Street Lights to whom it was referred June 9, recommended that the street light be placed half way between numbers 10 and 16 on the southerly side of East street. The recommendations were adopted and the Clerk instructed to order the light so installed.

A letter was received from Mrs. Robert H. Bean, Chairman, Civic Committee "Fortnightly," asking that receptacles for rubbish be placed one near Abare's Drug Store and the other near Knight's Drug Store, and the Clerk was instructed to reply that the experiment had been tried some years ago, that it proved unsatisfactory because the receptacles became filled with offal and such material that the street men refused to handle it, that they were breeding places for flies, etc., and that since there was a Street Department man on the work all the time of cleaning the streets at the Centre, it did not appear that receptacles for waste were advisable at present.

Wm. W. Edmonds, 718 Main street, complained that during the heavy shower of Saturday June 7, the gutter near the bridge on Lake street, overflowed into his premises flooding a small coop and drowning 15 chickens and claiming the cause for the overflow to be the low level of the gutter with no culvert to carry off the water. The Town Engineer reported that examination of the premises showed Mr. Edmonds complaint to be true so far as it related to the condition caused by the overflow and recommended that an outlet be made in the easterly wall of the bridge and that the sidewalk along Mr. Edmonds' property be slightly raised so that no water might reach the stream except by way of the public highway. The recommendations of the Town Engineer were adopted.

A petition was received from the Edison Electric Illuminating Co., for permission to attach its wires to a pole of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., on Dix street at the corner of Pine street, approved by the Town Engineer and granted.

Mr. Herbert L. Cox, of High st. extension appeared before the Board and complained of the condition of that street which had been so washed out as to be practically impassable. The complaint was referred to the Committee on Ways and Bridges.

Warrants were drawn for $331.74 and $10,010.22.

Adjourned at 11.20 P. M.

FRANK R. MILLER,

Clerk of the Board.

JUNE BREAKFAST RESULTS.

The June Breakfast given by the Winchester Visiting Nurses was unusually successful this year, showing the continued interest of the town, and their appreciation of the fact that a little help given by many will secure larger returns financially to the association, and also to the town a sense of good fellowship.

All those who worked for the Breakfast will be glad to know that the treasurer reports all bills being paid—the sum of $821.72, $75 more than last year.

The ladies are to be congratulated upon this good showing, and may look for still larger gains another year.

OBSERVATIONS.

Although we have, or are supposed to have, a street repair gang, I noticed last week several holes in the macadam on Everett avenue that have existed for some time. With both the Superintendent and the Engineer provided with autos it would seem as if a close inspection might be kept and repairs promptly made.

The eight hour law for town employees provides that where a Saturday half holiday is given, the hours may be increased so as to make a forty-eight hour working week. The vote passed in town meeting last year was not carefully considered and this year the employees could not agree at the time of the annual meeting and so stood in their own light. They had had advice.

They do say that the avalanche of letters received by Congressman Detrick on the postmaster appointment were not so much for any candidate as against a certain candidate. However, the selection is a good one and should fit well with the new post office—when we get it.

Apparently cities, towns, railroads, states, the nation and some others are just beginning to realize they have been very extravagant for some time, and that they must economize. This is always the way, but it is easier said than done, to economize. Where would this town cut first if it had to?

The General Court is practically through and it is high time. The only wonder is it has done as well as it has. One cause of its delay has been the poor order maintained by the presiding officers, the poorest since it has occupied the present rooms. If it were not for the Senate we would get much poorer results, as the House acts like a kindergarten, being sadly deficient in leaders and statesmanship. The Governor's given reasons for vetoing the railroad bill were very raw and I think he was misled. He was absolutely right on the Western trolleys bill and I was surprised our representative voted for it. This was a strong veto message and nobody tried to answer it, but the end is not yet, as will be evident at the New Haven's annual meeting next fall. The forty-five Democrats who went back on the party platform they were elected on last fall, which declared directly against control of street railways by railroads, will have to answer to their constituents when they come up for election next fall. I believe this act is another Mellen blunder.

Good bands have become altogether too expensive and are not worth their price, and as the committee is short of funds for the 4th celebration, it might well cut them all out, as a poor band is worth less than nothing. Practically nobody listens to the band excepting in the evening anyway, as the sports always take the crowd in the day time. Next year we should appropriate a little more money for the day.

It looks like an eight million state tax this year. Our share being $28,000.00. ten years ago it was $5,000.00; our valuation has increased fifty per cent, and this tax over two hundred per cent in that time.

John H. Carter.

Accident Narrowly Averted.

A serious accident was narrowly averted at the Centre yesterday morning. The 8.14 express from Woburn was held up after passing the distance signal on the loop to allow one of the northern expresses to go in ahead of it, and the brakes of the train being unable to hold it, the only thing which saved a bad wreck was the safety switch which derailed the Woburn express.

According to reports of the incident the Woburn train had passed the distance signal when the express turned the curve at the highlands travelling at a high rate of speed. The northern train was given the right of way and the home signal set against the Woburn express. Engineer Chase set his brakes but could not hold his heavy train on the stiff grade and slid down over the switch. The switch is made to carry a train straight ahead off the rails if by any means it should come down without its being set right, and the two front wheels of the locomotive ran off the track just as the heavy northern train thundered by.

Had the Woburn locomotive have tipped or not taken the safety rails no one can tell how bad the accident would have been. Engineer Chase had his locomotive in the reverse and the tracks sandbed and apparently, but for his efforts the accident would have occurred, for the northern train, which was late, was travelling so fast that it is doubtful if it could have even slowed down before reaching the other train.

The main line was left clear, but the Woburn loop was tied up for a half hour.

BASE BALL.

On Saturday, June 14th, Winchester visited Stoneham and were beaten by the Calumets 6-5 in a loosely played game. Winchester outbit the Stoneham team, but still failed to win.

Whale Sharks.

While whales are the largest of marine animals, yet certain fish grow to almost as gigantic size. The largest of true fishes are found among the sharks and the largest of these for mable fishes are the whale sharks. These huge fish occur in the waters of India, Japan, South America, Panama, California and the West Indies. The nose is very broad and blunt and the mouth although very wide, is armed only with minute teeth. It is a dark colored creature, marked with small, whitish spots and is perfectly harmless to man, feeding exclusively on small fish. Its huge bulk makes it dangerous when wounded. This great fish reaches a maximum length of seventy feet.

Sacrifice!

There was only one piece of pudding for dinner, and Mrs. Jones divided it between her children, Ned and Grace. Ned looked first at his piece and then at his mother's empty plate. "Mother," he said, "I don't think I can eat my pudding while you haven't any." "Why, Ned," said the mother, much pleased, "how unselfish you are, dear! But, you see, my boy, there is no more pudding." "I know that, mother. You take Grace's!"—London Mail.

Come Up Where You Belong!

In the human body, "man-power" comes from food.

But the food must be right.

The gray tissue cells of Brain and Nerves are composed principally of water, Albumen and Phosphate of Potash. The first two exist in every-day food, but phosphate of potash is frequently lacking.

This necessary element is supplied in

Grape-Nuts FOOD

Made of choice wheat and barley, it contains all the vital mineral salts of these grains, including the phosphate of potash so essential for proper nourishment of Brain and Nerves.

Grape-Nuts food is thoroughly baked, digests easily (in about one hour), and thus forms a perfect complement to ordinary food in the dietary of the average person.

Grape-Nuts—more than any other one factor—supplies both body and brain with nourishment up to the standard of nature's requirements.

If health and the efficiency which comes with it appeal to you try Grape-Nuts!

Ready to eat direct from the package with cream and sugar—and wonderfully appetizing.

"There's a Reason" for Grape-Nuts.

VACATION SCHOOL.

The opening of the vacation school is near at hand and the committee would like to make an appeal for contributions that could be made use of in the school.

Such articles as rafia, seed, ribbons, embroidery silks, silkateen, wax paper, beads, old silk gloves and pieces of percales, muslin, silk or velvets can be made good use of.

Also in the nursery we will need toys of all kinds, picture books and especially a rocking horse and express cart that some child has discarded or outgrown.

Our friends in town have been very thoughtful and generous during past years and the committee sincerely appreciate what has been done.

May those who have in abundance remember that many a little one can be made happy through your gifts of things you do not care for any longer.

SHOT TWELVE YEAR OLD BOY.

Charged with shooting 12-year-old John Daley, a State ward who has been under his protection for the past seven years, Joseph Murray, 43 years old, was arrested on Tuesday evening at the Winchester Hotel by special officer Fred Stevenson. He was arraigned in Woburn Wednesday morning.

About 9:30 persons in the neighborhood of the Winchester Hotel were startled by the report of a revolver shot. Arthur J. Mullen, who conducts a lunch room next door, rushed into the hotel, and, as he entered the hall, saw the Daley boy running downstairs, clad only in his nightshirt, crying out that he had been shot. Blood was streaming from both the boy's legs.

In reply to a question from Mullen as to who had shot him, the lad cried, "Joe Murray did it." Mullen looked up and saw Murray running down the stairway in pursuit of the boy. Seizing the man, Mullen, after a tussle, threw him to the floor and held him until the arrival of special officer Stevenson.

The injured boy was taken to the Winchester Hospital, where Dr. Arthur L. Brown found that a bullet had passed through the calf of his right leg and lodged in the left leg.

According to the boy's story, he had gone to bed in his room on the second story of the hotel, Mrs. Murray, the wife of his alleged assailant, sitting in the room with him. He had almost gone to sleep, he declares, when he heard the report of a revolver and felt a sudden spasm of pain in his legs. He ran from the room in terror, pursued by Murray, who, he declares, fired the shot.

The police found a 38-caliber revolver, with one chamber empty, between the cash and screen of the bathroom window.

Murray had returned to Winchester after an absence of several months. He was taken to the police station, after a severe tussle with the police, his wife trying to aid him to escape.

In court at Woburn, Wednesday, he was held in $2000 bail for the grand jury charged with assault with intent to kill. His wife, Caroline J. Murray was also held, charged with

GRADUATION EXERCISES.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

By JAMES PENALIGAN

Parents and Friends: In behalf of the Class of 1913 it gives me great pleasure to welcome you to these exercises, which bring to a close our career in the public schools of Winchester. The four years between our grammar school graduation and this event have run their course, and it is now our turn to leave the old school in which we have spent so many happy hours.

As we turn to say good-bye, we are beginning to realize—many of us, I think, for the first time—the tremendous importance of these years spent in the high school. They are the foundation, the solid rock, upon which we may construct our careers in life. That this foundation should be good, in fact, even better than good, is apparent to us all. Just as in the case of the lighthouse, the lantern that saves the ships looks to the base for support, so in our lives we must look to the training received during our education, in solving the many problems which the world presents to us. And since it is to our education that we must look, should we not be well prepared to face these problems? It would certainly seem so.

During our course our school accommodations have been enlarged, as has also our already large teaching staff. The scope of instruction in the various courses has been broadened. Practical training in cooking, sewing, and wood-working, as well as in arts and crafts has been introduced, and during the past year a system of regular physical instruction has been inaugurated. So it is apparent that our chances for a general and thorough education have been considerably better than those of former classes.

That we have this excellent preparation is due to you, citizens of Winchester. If our careers are successful much of the credit for their success belongs to you; if, for any reason, we fail in whatever we may attempt, the blame will rest entirely with us. You have done all in giving us a good start that we could reasonably expect, and we wish to thank you, one and all, for the interest which you take in the pupils in your schools. We feel that it is impossible to express adequately the extent of our indebtedness to you, and so I will simply say that it is so great that we may never hope entirely to repay it.

On graduating from the high school some of us will seek further education in higher institutions, but, eventually, we must all enter that limitless school known as the world, with its bustle and bustle, its joys, sorrows, temptations, and innumerable problems. It is in this hard, impartial school that we must make our mark. To aid us in so doing we have selected as our motto, "Progrederet ad Summum," and just as we have followed this motto during our school education, so, in our life's work also we hope to go, "Forward 'till we reach the highest."

THE ART OF PREPARING A MEAL

By MARJORIE BURWELL

When young Mr. Brown came home, as usual, at six o'clock, he found his pretty little wife nearly in tears. She greeted him with a sigh of relief. "Oh, Jack, I'm so glad you've come. I've had a perfectly frightful day. Everything's gone wrong. The new cook has left, and Mary's threatening to go. And I don't know any more about housekeeping than a child. Oh, Jack, I'm a perfect failure."

Of course Mr. Brown was very sympathetic, but he admitted that the case was serious. "Why is it so impossible to get efficient maids?" he wondered.

"That's what I used to say," replied his wife, but I've about come to the conclusion that half the blame must lie in me. And, Jack, I was thinking just now that perhaps we could get Aunt Lucy Hunt to come for a day or so—and show me where I fail. You know I've always thought her a perfect crank about household management and all that,—but perhaps she can help me."

"If you really think it would do any good, Elsie," said Mr. Brown, "we'll ask her to come."

So the next day, directly after luncheon, plump little Mrs. Hunt bustled in. On her advice Mrs. Brown dismissed Mary until dinner time. Then the two women set out for the center of the town to purchase the supplies for dinner. As they were walking along, Mrs. Hunt asked her niece what system she had followed in the selection of her menus. "Why," said Mrs. Brown, "I didn't follow any system. I just thought of things that Jack liked and I liked, and had the cook make them."

"Oh, that's not the right way to do, Elsie," exclaimed Mrs. Hunt. "You should always work out each menu thoughtfully, taking care to make the proportion of carbohydrate foods and protein foods about four to one. The carbohydrate foods, those containing large amount of starch or sugar, for example, bread and cake, are to give heat and energy to the body, and the protein foods such as milk and chicken are to build up the tissues. I have planned the menu for dinner this evening so that the meal will be well-balanced and at the same time not expensive. We're going to have cream of celery soup, broiled cod, rice with tomato sauce, dressed lettuce, and chocolate cream pudding with custard sauce. The cream of celery soup is essentially a carbohydrate food, and cod is largely protein.

Boiled rice furnishes more carbohydrate materials, and lettuce with an olive oil dressing will give the necessary fat. The sweet pudding and sauce are a combination. Cod, you know, is cheap, and is in season the year round.

"And, Elsie, there's another thing,—when you're considering whether a food is cheap or expensive, you must be sure to put the right construction on those words. A food is expensive or cheap in proportion to the amount of nutrition we gain from it. People complain of the 'high cost' of eggs and butter, for instance; but when you consider the amount of nutrition they contain per pound, they are cheap beside other foods less expensive per pound, but also less nutritious.

Then, Elsie, when you have prepared a well-balanced menu, your next care must be the purchasing of your supplies, fresh and sold under sanitary conditions. If you are buying canned foods of any sort, insist on those in which no artificial preservative is used. And see to it that your milk comes from a modern and thoroughly sanitary dairy. Efficiency requires that housekeepers be persistent in their demand for all this."

By this time the ladies had reached the market where the supplies were to be purchased. Mrs. Brown had already in the house enough celery for the soup. She had been intending to throw it away, since it had been left over from the dinner of the night before, and since some of the stalks were rather too large to make a good appearance. But Mrs. Hunt assured her that these stalks would make exactly as good a soup, and that even the fresh leaves might be utilized.

So the first consideration must be the fish. The market man showed them all his cod, but Mrs. Hunt shook her head. "They're not fresh," she said, and went to another store. "How could you tell?" asked Mrs. Brown. "Why," said her aunt, "when a fish is fresh, its flesh is firm, its eyes are bright and clear, and its gills are red."

The materials for the other portions of the meal were soon bought, and the ladies returned to the house and began the preparation of the meal. Mrs. Brown watched her aunt unceasingly, noting how she avoided all unnecessary movements and all confusion. And because she wasted not a second, the dinner was cooked in a miraculously short time. But Mrs. Hunt did not stop her work there. The meal must be made pleasing to the eye, as well as to the palate. She arranged each dish in the most attractive fashion. The soup, with the contrasting celery leaves scattered through it, was already appetizing. The delicately browned cod on its platter she garnished with thin slices of lemon and here and there a sprig of parsley. The lettuce she arranged neatly, with a small golden leaf in the center of each plate, to hold the dressing. The chocolate cream pudding had been poured into fancy moulds, and was growing cool and firm on the ice. Served in sherbet cups, with its creamy custard sauce, it would be a tempting dessert.

After she had given the final touches to the dishes, Mrs. Hunt rang for Mary, gave her directions, and had the soup and fish put in the warming-oven.

By the time the ladies were dressed for dinner, Mr. Brown had come home, and dinner was served. The table, with its white cloth and bright flowers, was a delight to the eye, and each course was perfectly cooked and served.

"Jack," said Elsie, that evening, "what do you suppose our dinner cost? Only fourteen cents apiece. Aunt Lucy isn't a crank at all; she's a perfect dear. I'm going to begin doing things her way. It's so much easier. I've decided not to get a new cook after all, but to try cooking and everything myself, with only Mary to help. We'll just see what careful thought and a striving for efficiency will accomplish in the managing a household."

THE BOSTON FLOATING HOSPITAL.

By MARY E. MARTIN

The Boston Floating Hospital is one of our most prominent institutions, and has played an important part in the lives of many of our children. A scientific hospital housed in a well-designed steamboat, it is unexcelled in the history of charitable endeavor. In its eighteen years of service, it has developed from a hired barge to a steamboat costing $174,000, and having accommodations for two hundred and forty patients.

The Hospital was founded in 1894 by Mr. Rufus B. Tobey. Mr. Tobey, who lives in Quincy, used to go home at night by way of the Dover St. bridge to the old South Boston station. While crossing the bridge he would meet a great many careworn mothers of the tenements, who had brought their babies in their arms in order to give them a breath of the sea air. He was so deeply impressed by these sights that he set to work to provide outings for the mothers and children of Boston. His ideas were made public by items in the newspapers. The work was immediately aided by contributions from individuals, church and social societies, and up to the present time it is aided in this way. A gift of $150 or $100 carries with it the privilege of giving a special name to a day or night as a memorial to or to commemorate the donor's interest.

Class Song

Tune—"Auld Lang Syne."

Composed by Alice Blanche Romkey.
The hour has come to say farewell
To classmates, dear and true,
To sing one song for old times' sake
And thirteen's gold and blue.

Our future work lies all unknown,
Tomorrow is unseen;
Yet through the changing scenes of time
We'll still love old thirteen.

And though our lives be far apart,
Though oceans roll between,
We'll ne'er forget the faithful friends
In the class of dear thirteen.

And "Forward!" will our motto be Until the heights we gain;
But never through all coming years
Shall love for thirteen wane.

Another "Hopeless Case"

He Astonished the Doctors—Recovers Without Operation—Used Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

Mr. James Lettice, of Canajoharie, N. Y., writes:

"Some years ago I was attacked with fearful pains in my back and side. I could not control my kidneys at all, and what came from them was mucous and bloody. I was in a terrible state and suffered intensely. A prominent physician of Albany, N. Y., decided that an operation was all that would save me. I dreaded that and commenced to take Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. I felt better almost immediately. When I had taken about two bottles, the flow from the bladder was much cleaner, the pain stopped, I was saved from the surgeon's knife and am now well."

The above letter was written in 1909. To prove that the benefit he obtained from Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was permanent, I read what he says in a recent letter (in 1912):

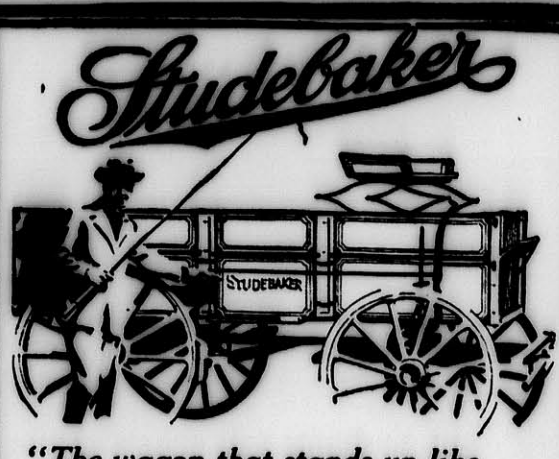

"I am enjoying the best of health. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cured me permanently. I have answered many letters asking about it. I shall keep on praising it."

Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy has had nearly 40 years of great success in Kidney, Liver and Blood disorders. Note a "patent" medicine, but a physician's prescription, prepared for universal use. Write to-day to Dr. David Kennedy Co., Rondout, N. Y., for a free trial bottle and booklet of valuable medical advice. Large bottles sold by 40,000 druggists.

BIBLE STUDY ON WOES, ANCIENT AND MODERN.
Amos 6:1-8—June 22.

"Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live."—Amos 5:14.

IT is safe to say that everybody is seeking good, and not evil. Everybody is seeking pleasure, and not misery—happiness, and not woe. The difficulty is that our judgments are more or less perverted. Some have greater wisdom than others; but there is none perfect, "none righteous, no, not one." All come short of the glorious standard which God has set.

The difficulty is that we were all born in sin, and are all misshapen. Not only our bodies are imperfect, but our brains are unbalanced—some one way, some another. Consequently young men and maidens, looking forth from childhood upon the problems of life, have various conceptions of happiness, and make various resolutions and endeavors respecting the filling of their cup with blessings—long life, riches, honor, etc.

The teachers of our schools have a most wonderful opportunity for influencing the course of humanity. We rejoice that they are striving nobly for the fulfillment of gracious, benevolent ideals, and are using their opportunities for blessing their pupils. Yet evidently many of them have but a slight appreciation of their privileges. Some, of course, like the remainder of the world, are selfish, and think of their work from the business standpoint—so much work, so much pay.

The first and chief responsibility for children rests upon their parents, the majority of whom, no doubt, to some extent recognize that responsibility in God's sight and man's. But they labor under the difficulties of their own ignorance. They know not the proper course to take for themselves. Their lives have been a succession of blunders, and they presume that their children must blunder similarly. Not seeing the principles underlying life's experiences, they are unable to guide their children intelligently. Here teachers find their opportunity. But how little any one seems able to accomplish, and how discouraged philanthropists become!

On the whole, however, a broad view of the past fifty years shows progress in many directions. Our cities are cleaner—both physically and morally—at least so far as outward appearances are concerned. No longer does vice flaunt itself in the face of society. The battle against intemperance and the social evil is making progress in that it has made former conditions impossible. In some states the progress has been more than in others.

New Issues Now—New Temptations.

Our lesson tells of a time in the history of Israel when many of the nation's wisest and most brilliant people had settled down to ease and luxury—self-gratification. They considered that they had won in the battle of life, and would now enjoy the fruits of their diligence. The Lord through the Prophet upbraided them, declaring He was not pleased with such a course. He told them that woes would result.

The mission of Amos was to call attention to the fact that aggressive selfishness had accumulated great riches, that the wealthy were living in luxury, and that these conditions fostered pride and moral laxity amongst the wealthy; while the poor were being filled with avarice, losing respect for God, religion, truth and mercy. Society was on the edge of a volcano, and God declared that an eruption was at hand.

Present Day Conditions Correspond.

Our lesson is not inappropriate to our times. Notwithstanding the progress made, notwithstanding the philanthropic sentiments of many, inside and outside Christian denominations, nevertheless there is danger. First of all, let us consider the danger of the rich. The wealth of today reaches to a certain extent to the very humblest, and scatters blessings. But the bulk of the world's wealth is in the hands of the few.

The inordinately rich are in great danger of injuring themselves. Some cannot devise means by which to consume even their incomes. Luxuries of every kind are tasted in hope of finding happiness. Not succeeding, they still pursue it. Wealth brings increased opportunity for sin in its various forms, including debauchery.

The influence upon the poor is notable. The latter, seeking pleasure, imagine erroneously that the rich and indolent are finding it, while they themselves seek in vain. Thus the poor, surrounded by the wonderful blessings of our day, are often miserable, because their minds are discontented. They desire happiness, and believe that they can obtain it only through wealth. The result is that their hearts are filling with anger, malice, and jealousy of the rich.

Both rich and poor need to learn the great lesson that pleasure lies, not in self-indulgence, but in self-sacrifice. In service of others God's Message to both classes is, "Seek righteousness, seek meekness."—Zephaniah 2:3.

Both rich and poor need to learn the great lesson that pleasure lies, not in self-indulgence, but in self-sacrifice.

In service of others God's Message to both classes is, "Seek righteousness, seek meekness."—Zephaniah 2:3.

People had settled down to ease and self-gratification.

The inordinately rich are in great danger of injuring themselves.

Some cannot devise means by which to consume even their incomes.

Luxuries of every kind are tasted in hope of finding happiness.

Not succeeding, they still pursue it.

Wealth brings increased opportunity for sin in its various forms, including debauchery.

The influence upon the poor is notable.

The latter, seeking pleasure, imagine erroneously that the rich and indolent are finding it, while they themselves seek in vain.

Thus the poor, surrounded by the wonderful blessings of our day, are often miserable, because their minds are discontented.

They desire happiness, and believe that they can obtain it only through wealth.

The result is that their hearts are filling with anger, malice, and jealousy of the rich.

Both rich and poor need to learn the great lesson that pleasure lies, not in self-indulgence, but in self-sacrifice.

SECT. 6. Upon the non-payment of the water rates for sixty days after they are payable, the Collector shall serve a summons upon the delinquent; and, unless said rates are paid within ten days thereafter, together with twenty cents for said summons, the Collector shall notify the Registrar, who shall shut off the water, and it then shall not be turned on until the amount due, together with the twenty cents for the summons and fifty cents for the shutting off and fifty cents for the turning on, is paid. The foregoing provisions shall apply if two or more parties take water from the same service pipes, although one or more of them may have paid the proportion due from him or them. Said summons may be served in any of the ways provided by law for the service of a summons for the non-payment of a tax.

SECT. 7. The Water and Sewer Board may make abatements in the water rates in such cases as they may deem proper; and may shut off the water from any street after notice of their intention so to do.

INSPECTOR OF BUILDINGS.

SECT. 1. His compensation shall be determined by the Board of Selectmen. He shall be familiar with building construction and shall not be interested in any contract for building for the town, or for furnishing materials to the town. The Board of Selectmen shall have power to discharge the Inspector for failure to perform his duties, and to fill any vacancy in his office.

SECT. 2. The Inspector shall keep a record of the business of his office, ascertain all facts and make all returns which shall be required by law. He shall report to the State Board of District Police any violation of the laws of the Commonwealth in relation to the construction of buildings that may come to his notice. He shall, if necessary, enter upon the premises wherein any fire has occurred, in order to investigate the origin of the fire.

BUILDING PERMITS.

SECT. 3. Every person before erecting or altering any building, shall obtain from the Inspector a building permit, first filing therefor an application, in which he shall give a description of the intended building or alteration, shall submit plans and specifications for the same, and state the purpose for which the same is to be used and the dimensions and location of the site.

SECT. 4. The Inspector shall examine all buildings under applications for permits for alterations and make a record of his examination. He shall issue permits for the erection or alteration of buildings in all cases where the proposed new building or altered building will conform to the requirements of this article and to the laws of the Commonwealth, and in such cases only; but permits for his own work or any building in which he is interested, shall be issued only by some disinterested person appointed by the Selectmen for that purpose. No permit shall be valid for a longer time than one year.

SECT. 5. A copy of the plans and specifications of every public building shall be deposited and left on file in the office of the Inspector.

INSPECTION OF BUILDINGS.

SECT. 6. The Inspector shall examine all buildings in course of erection, alteration or repair, as often as practicable, and for that purpose shall have the right of entry thereto, and shall make a record of all violations of this article, with the location of the building where such violations are found, the name of the owner, lessee, occupants, architect and master mechanic, and all other matters relative thereto.

SECT. 7. The Inspector shall examine all buildings reported dangerous, or damaged by accident or fire, and make a record of such examination, including the nature and amount of such damage, with the location of the building, the name of the owner and lessee, and for what purpose occupied, and report the facts to the Board of Selectmen, and, for that purpose, shall have the right of entry thereto.

BOARD OF APPEAL.

SECT. 8. The Board of Selectmen shall annually appoint a committee of three voters of Winchester for the term of one year, or until their successors are appointed and qualified, to be called the Board of Appeal. Drawings of proposed work shall be filed if required. Permits may be revoked by the Board of Health if their conditions are violated. Permits for all plumbing, except for the repair of leaks, must be in the hands of the plumber before beginning any plumbing work.

SEWAGE DISPOSAL.

SECTION 2. Every building, used as a dwelling, tenement or lodging house, or wherein persons are employed, shall be separately connected with the public sewer when such sewer is provided; or if none is provided, with a cesspool constructed of such material and of such capacity as the Board of Health shall direct.

No plumbing shall be connected with the town sewer without the approval of the Board of Health.

No rain conductors, surface or ground water drainage shall be connected with plumbing or drainage pipes which discharge into the public sewer or into cesspools.

Whenever there is a public sewer with which the sewerage system of a building is to be connected, the owner or agent shall before determining the position of the main house sewer, obtain from the Water and Sewer Board the location of the sewer branch which is to serve that building and said connection shall be made in conformity to the rules of said Board.

No sewer from any building shall pass under another building; nor shall a sewer pass within five feet of the outside wall of any building, unless it be of extra heavy cast iron pipe, made with lead joints, thoroughly caulked and tested.

Every building in which gasoline, naphtha or other inflammable compounds are used for business purposes shall be provided with a special trap or separator, so designed as to prevent the passage of oils into the sewer, and shall be ventilated with a separate pipe to a point three feet above the roof. The waste of every washstand for vehicles shall be provided with a catch basin so designed that said cannot pass into the drain. The drains shall, when connected with a cesspool, be provided with a running trap; but when connected with the public sewer a running trap may, at the option of the owner, be omitted; except that in all cases where a running trap has been installed, it shall not be removed without the written consent of the Board of Health. The running trap shall be of the same size as the house sewer, located either outside or inside the foundation walls of the building, but beyond all house connections, and shall be provided with an accessible cleanout.

Soil pipes from water closets shall be not less than four inches internal diameter, except that if it is impracticable to use such pipe, a three-inch soil pipe may, by permission of the Board of Health, be used for one set of bath-room fixtures, which shall comprise one bath tub, one basin and one water closet. Waste pipes from the traps of fixtures, such as sinks, basins, baths or wash trays, shall be of two-inch cast iron with short connections of lead. Such connections shall be of not less than one and one-quarter inch bore, and shall not be branched into each other, but shall be separately connected with the iron pipe.

Connections and changes in direction shall be made with long angle and long sweep bends and Y branches.

MATERIAL OF DRAINAGE SYSTEM.

If wrought iron vent pipes are used, they shall be galvanized. No slip joints, unions or flanges shall be used on threaded wastes or vents, except that slip joints may be used on the house side of trap to connect fixtures.

Lead pipe shall be of the following diameters and weights:

Diameter (inches)	Weight (pound per foot)

No lead waste up to and including two inches in diameter, unless exposed, shall be more than eight feet in length, including inlet and outlet of trap. A three inch or four inch diameter waste shall not be more than two feet in length.

Lead bends and traps shall correspond to the above weights.

Brass sleeves for connecting lead and cast iron pipes shall be extra heavy, at least one-eighth of an inch thick. Brass solder nipples for connecting lead and threaded pipes shall be either cast metal or seamless drawn tubing, size and weight corresponding with pipe to be connected. In connecting lead pipe together, or to brass caking or soldering nipples, full-sized wiped joints shall be used. Clean-outs, plugs, stoppers or any other fittings used in the drainage system shall correspond in weight and material with the above description.

FASTENING PIPES.

SECTION 5. Drain, soil, waste and vent pipes shall be supported every five feet on horizontal runs, and at least once in each story on vertical lines; horizontal runs shall be supported from beneath, or hung from overhead by iron "stirrups" hangers, not less than five-sixteenths of an inch in diameter. Vertical stacks shall be fastened by pipe rest at the floor, or clamps, drive hooks or hangers to the adjacent walls.

TRAPS.

SECTION 6. The waste pipe of every independent fixture shall be furnished with a separate trap, which shall be placed as nearly as practicable to the fixture which it serves. A sink and set of not more than three wash trays, or bathtub and basin, or any two similar fixtures, when they adjoin, may be connected with the house drain through one round trap not less than four inches in diameter if the waste pipes are not more than three feet in length from the floor line to the trap on the bathtub and basin and if the waste centres are not more than five feet apart on the sink and trays. The waste pipe of each fixture shall enter the trap separately, and the waste from the trap must be one size larger than the inlet pipes. Four washbowls or sinks in a continuous line may be connected with the house drain through one four-inch round trap. Lead bends for water-closets or slop sinks shall not be used to connect the waste with other fixtures. Earthen-ware traps shall have heavy brass floor plates soldered to the lead bends and bolted to the trap flange, and the joint made tight with grafting wax or other substance satisfactory to the Board of Health. A trap depending upon concealed partitions to retain its seal shall not be approved, except for earthen ware fixtures where the trap seal is plainly visible. Trap screws for cleaning purpose shall be placed in all metal traps and shall be accessible at all times. All fixture traps shall be so installed that the water seal will protect the trap screw from sewer air. When side clean out traps are placed between ceilings and floors they shall be provided with an accessible and proper safe.

STABLES, GARAGES, LABORATORIES, ETC.

SECTION 7. Drainage of stalls, stable fixtures, garages and laboratories shall be installed in accordance with plans approved by the Board of Health.

CLEANOUTS.

SECTION 8. Every house sewer, soil or waste pipe shall have accessible heavy brass plug cleanouts with iron or brass bodies and taper threads, at such points as the Inspector shall deem necessary. A main cleanout shall be provided at every building below all connections and in as direct a line as possible with the street sewer connections.

VENT, BACK AIR PIPES, ETC.

SECT. 9. Traps shall be protected from siphonage and back pressure by special iron or brass air pipes of the same size as the waste. A continuous system of venting shall be used, and back air pipes shall not be connected to the trap or branched into the waste pipe except where a continuous vent is not practicable. Traps of 8 form shall not have more than twenty-four inches of waste pipe from trap to vent. Round traps not less than nine inches long and four inches in diameter may be placed five feet from the vent pipe. Two water-closets or two other traps on the same level, with not more than two feet of waste pipe and which connect with soil or waste pipe not more than eighteen inches below the top water line of the trap, shall not require other vent than the continuation of the soil or waste pipe full size for its whole length. Lead air pipes may be used for short connections only, and where exposed to view.

SCHEDULE OF BACK AIR PIPES AND VENTS FOR FIXTURES.

Fixtures	Size of Pipe (inches)	Greatest length allowed (feet)	Maximum Number of Fixtures
Baths, basins, sinks, urinals or similar fixtures	1-2	30	3
Water-closets, or slop sinks	2	70	9
	3	70	21
	4	35	3
	5	70	9

Two or more air pipes may be connected, but such connection must be made above the top of the fixture. All vent pipes shall be at least four inches in diameter where they pass through the roof. Vent lines shall be so graded that no condensation will remain in the pipes. In case of batteries of water-closets, the special air pipe from each trap may be omitted, provided the soil or waste pipe, undiminished in size, is continued to a point above the roof, or connected into the main system above all fixtures.

"Bow" venting will not be allowed except by special permission of the Board of Health, in which case the "bow" must be run the full size of pipe as high as the top of the fixture and returned without being trapped.

In buildings where there is only one water-closet and not more than two other traps, and said closet is connected below the traps and all traps are not more than three feet from the main sewer pipe, no back venting shall be required.

When old fixtures are replaced by new ones in plumbing which was constructed prior to the adoption of these regulations, and the traps attached to bath tubs, basins, sinks and wash trays are round traps not less than four inches in diameter and the waste pipe is not over five feet in length between such traps and the main soil pipe or drain, and the main soil pipe extends full size through the roof, a separate air pipe shall not be required. No connection of old plumbing with the public sewer shall be made that does not conform to such requirement.

TESTING AND INSPECTION.

SECT. 10. Pipes or other fixtures shall not be covered or concealed from view until approved by the Inspector of Plumbing. The work shall be examined and tested within two working days after notice that it is ready for inspection. Plumbing shall not be used unless, when roughed in, the wastes, vents, back air pipes and all caulked joints have first been tested in the presence of the Inspector, by water or sufficient air pressure, as the Inspector may require.

When the work in a building is sufficiently advanced so that the water may be turned on to all of the fixtures, the plumber doing such work shall, within five days thereafter notify the Inspector in writing. The Inspector shall within two working days after receipt of such notice examine the work. Should the examination disclose any defects, the plumber shall be notified in writing and required to remedy the same without delay, and he shall again notify the Inspector as before. Should a plumber holding a permit neglect to send the notice as required, or neglect to remedy said defects for a period of more than five days, he shall not be granted any further permits until he shall have complied with these regulations and rules, or until action is taken by the Board of Health, and should such neglect be continued ten days longer, the Inspector shall file a complaint with the Board reciting all the facts of the case. The Board shall then take such action as it may deem advisable.

WATER-CLOSETS.

SECT. 11. Every building for habitation shall have such number of water-closets as the Board of Health may require, but in no case less than one for each tenement. Every building where persons are employed shall have at least one water closet for every fifteen persons employed therein; and in every building where persons of both sexes are employed, separate accommodations shall be furnished for each sex. Every enclosure containing one or more water-closets shall be provided with adequate ventilation to the outer air, either by window or suitable light shaft. No water-closet shall be set in any room or apartment that has not a window having an area of at least two square feet opening directly to the external air, unless there is a pipe of not less than three inches in diameter leading to a heated flue or other vent pipe. Water-closets shall be supplied with water from a tank above, or by flush valves set just above the seat, which in turn are supplied from tank or other adequate supply, capable of delivering five gallons of water to the closet in ten seconds. In all cases the flush pipe shall be not less than one and one quarter inches in diameter. Where local vents are used they shall connect with a heated flue when possible, and shall be not less than two inches for each fixture. All local vents shall be so constructed as not to act as a soil or waste pipe should the fixture become stopped. Connection to the flue shall be made by wrought-iron or cast-iron pipe, properly cemented; other piping may be of galvanized iron.

DRAIN AND OVERFLOW WASTES.

SECT. 12. All drip or overflow pipes from tanks, coolers, safes or fixtures, or waste pipes from refrigerators or other receptacles for the storage of food or provisions, shall be carried to some open sink or place where they may be at all times visible.

No steam exhaust, blow off or drip pipe shall connect with the house sewer, soil, waste or vent pipe. Such pipes shall discharge into a suitable tank or condenser from which a proper outlet shall be provided.

DEFECTIVE PLUMBING, ETC.

SECT. 13. Alterations made in plumbing already in use, except as provided in section nine, shall in the future, be in accordance with these regulations, and such alterations shall be ordered by the Board of Health whenever in their opinion they judge it necessary for the public health and safety. It shall be so adjudged when after examination by the Inspector any old plumbing work is found to be defective.

If the Inspector finds old plumbing to be defective he shall report to the Board of Health the nature of the defects, and furnish the owner with a copy of his report. Should the owner neglect to remedy the defect within the time specified by the Inspector, the Board shall set a time for a hearing, and shall give the owner at least three days notice thereof, so that he may attend and show cause why he should not be required to make the alterations. Thereupon the Board may, if in its judgment the public safety and health so require, order such defect to be remedied.

When buildings which formerly connected with vaults or cesspools, are connected with the sewer, the old connection shall be uncovered outside of the building, a section of the same removed and the ends solidly cemented by the plumber.

The vaults and cesspools shall also be discontinued and filled by the owner with proper materials within three months after the sewer connection is made.

PENALTIES.

SECT. 14. Whoever violates any of the provisions of this article shall be liable to a fine of not more than fifty dollars for each offence.

ARTICLE IX.

REPEAL.

SECT. 1. All by-laws or parts of by-laws heretofore adopted which are inconsistent with the provisions of the foregoing by-laws, are hereby repealed and annulled; but the provisions of the foregoing by-laws, so far as they are the same as the provisions of by-laws heretofore adopted, shall be construed as a continuation thereof, and not as new enactments.

SECT. 2. The repeal of a by-law heretofore adopted shall not affect any act done, ratified or confirmed, or any right accrued or established, nor any action, suit or proceeding commenced or had in a civil case, nor affect any punishment, penalty or forfeiture incurred under such a by-law.

GRADUATION EXERCISES.

This hospital was at first a department of the Lend-a-Hand Society, but later became the Boston Floating Hospital Corporation, a name suggested by Dr. Edward Everett Hale.

During its earlier days of service, the hospital was merely an equipment of the old barge Clifford of Maine, but this was later replaced by a wonderful new boat, presented by Mrs. Sarah E. Potter. This hospital consists of eight wards including the Day Patients' Deck, where the beds are placed, also, for children afflicted with pneumonia and tuberculosis. In the lower part of the ship, there is one ward for patients. Besides this, the important rooms are the kitchen, the laundry, and the linen room. The kitchen is a room of immense size and is supplied with every convenience. The steward's room leads directly off the kitchen. In this room, all the food supplies are stored. The dining-room for all the help and for the mothers and older children also leads off the kitchen.

On the main deck are the captain's office, the resident physician's room, where the records of the patients are kept, the milk laboratory where 1600 feedings are prepared, the pharmacy, and the dining-room for the nurses and doctors. On the floor above this there are six wards, the day patients' deck, the nurses' rest room, the operating-room, the cleansing-room, and sleeping apartments for the nurses and doctors. On the upper deck are life-boats and the pilot's deck.

The medical staff is under the direction of Dr. Arthur I. Kendall, bacteriologist, and two assistants.

The nurses corps was first made up of volunteers or those who were a little experienced in the care of children. Later these nurses were succeeded by graduates from reliable training schools.

Certain rules in regard to the children have to be made. First, no children shall be over five years of age; second, they must be accompanied by mothers, sisters, or grandmothers; third, they must be examined and their clothing sterilized and laundered; and fourth, no treatment is given for contagious diseases. In such cases, the children are sent to a hospital on land.

Careful treatment is given to both weak and sick children. The weak children remain all day on board, are taken home at sundown, and then return the next morning and succeeding mornings until they are strong. The sick children are placed in permanent wards and remain there until they are cured. Besides the treatment given to the children, certain special instruction is furnished to the mothers concerning the care of the children, and they are encouraged not to keep the little ones in the congested parts of the city during the very warm weather.

The "Follow-Up" nurses, as they are called, are also an important factor in the work of the Floating Hospital. They are experienced nurses who are sent to the patients' homes to see whether the doctor's orders are carried out. The following instance among the records of the nurses shows the interest which some of the children have in the hospital. A most lovable little girl, who was born crippled, has her home in a damp cellar in the crowded parts of the city. As the father is dead, her mother is obliged to go out to work in the factories. The cold winter seems long and tedious to the little one, but how she looks forward to the summer when the Floating Hospital starts on its trip! Then through being out in the open-air and receiving the best of care from the nurses and doctors, she will forget all her afflictions.

Should we not rejoice that we have in this nation of ours noble men and women willing to devote their lives in order to restore the health and save the lives of children? Should we not be interested in this notable charity and do what we can to make its work a greater success in every coming year?

THE U. S. RECLAMATION SERVICE

By ARTHUR ADAMS

In 1902, an act was passed by congress and signed by President Roosevelt which brought into existence one of the most valuable of the many government departments, the Reclamation Service.

The object of the act is the reclamation and irrigation of arid land. The necessary funds are supplied by the receipts from the sales of public lands in the several states, minus the five percent reserved for education. The motive is to provide for citizens the opportunity to obtain small farms, where they may support their families. Irrigation makes it possible to practice intensive agriculture to the highest degree. It follows that irrigated regions, under good administration can maintain the greatest number of citizens on the smallest proportionate area. Economic conditions also prevent any one man, or group of men from obtaining control over these small irrigated holdings. The tendency is to subdivide and thus reduce the size of these irrigated farms. In some parts of the arid west, 40-acre tracts are divided into twenties, and the twenties into tens. With high-grade fruit culture even five acres will support a family.

Projects have been developed in the last ten years to such an extent that water is being supplied to almost fourteen thousand of these independent farms. This does not measure the activity of the service,

JAMES HENRY PENALIGAN
Class President

since the works have been planned to cover an area several times as large as that now utilized. At short intervals, additional territory is made available, generally, much more rapidly than the land is brought under cultivation by the farmer. Indeed, the great trouble the service has encountered is not the engineering and construction, but getting the right kind of men to occupy the land, men who can and will make a success of intensive agriculture.

It is perhaps easier to understand the work of the Reclamation Service when it is compared to the work of a city water department. The city water department builds reservoirs and lays pipes so that the people may drink. The Reclamation Service builds reservoirs and constructs series of canals and ditches so that the land may drink. The canals correspond to the mains in the city; the ditches to the pipes. These ditches are built so that they divide the land into squares of about 100 yards on a side. When the land needs water, gates are opened and the ditches are filled. Water is then absorbed by the land.

One of the largest projects is the Sale River project. The main feature of the construction is the Roosevelt dam and reservoir. The height of the dam is 280 feet; or much higher than our Congregational church spire. It contains 330,000 cubic yards of masonry, is 1080 feet long and has a thickness at the base of 165 feet. The resulting reservoir is the largest artificial lake in the world, being over 25 miles long, 2 miles wide and having a maximum depth of 220 feet. As the dam is situated 50 miles from a railroad station the first thing to be done in construction, was to make a wagon road. This road had to pass through one of the roughest pieces of country in the world, and at several places cost $25,000 a mile. In the course of construction a flourishing town sprang up at Roosevelt, as "dry" as the most ardent Prohibitionist could wish, until the dam was completed. Then, it became extremely wet, since the main street was some 200 feet under water. Not only does this dam store up water to be used directly for irrigation, but it furnishes enough hydro-electric power to drive well-pumps which irrigate 40,000 more acres. The total cost of the project to date has been $9,500,000.

Another interesting project is the Uncompahgre project in Colorado. Here was an arid country, the Uncompahgre river not being able to irrigate half its own valley; 18 miles away over a mountain of some 8700 feet altitude was the large Gunnison river, running through a canyon, its energy and water going entirely to waste. To get the water to the Uncompahgre valley, it was necessary to bore a tunnel six miles long through solid rock. The government decided to undertake it and the contract for the construction of the tunnel was let to a private construction company. After a few months of work with practically no progress, they decided to relinquish the attempt. The government engineers then undertook the work and carried it through. After the tunnel had been completed, it was necessary to build a canal 12 miles long through wild, rough country. This work alone if it were not overshadowed by the magnitude of the tunnel construction, would be looked upon as a mighty engineering feat. The tunnel and canal deliver 1300 cubic feet of water per second into the Uncompahgre river, and thus make 203 square miles of the sun-baked desert land, formerly worth nothing, worth from $100 to $500 an acre.

The Shoshone dam, which is the effective part of the Shoshone project in Wyoming, is the highest dam in the world, measuring 325 feet from foundation to crest. This dam is situated in a canyon and the masonry is literally dovetailed into solid granite. The Shoshone dam forms a reservoir 12 miles long and a mile wide, which irrigates 125,000 acres of land extending 50 miles down the river.

The most efficient project is the North Platte, of which the heart is the Pathfinder dam. This dam, with a height of only 210 feet, has a storage capacity of one million acre feet. Its side is ideal, for it is within a narrow granite canyon, which affords the best conditions for the stability and capacity of the dam. It is interesting to note that the waters which are stored in central Wyoming rise in Colorado, and are distributed upon land in Nebraska, 1500 to 2000 feet lower in altitude, and as far as 200 miles from the point of storage.

The afore-mentioned projects are only cogs in the machinery of the Reclamation Service. The following facts give some idea of the vastness of its work, number of projects, 28; acreage irrigated, 3,020,689 acres; tunnels constructed, 72, with a total length of 21.5 miles; total length of canals and ditches built, 7354 miles, and there are many more facts equally impressive.

This all goes to show that in so short years the United States has done as much in reclamation as many foreign countries have done in a hundred years. It can truthfully be said that the west of today owes its very life to the U. S. Reclamation Service.

EMILY BRONTE.

By HELEN SWEENEY

From time to time someone rediscovers genius hitherto carelessly ignored. Then we reflect that genius is liable to be unrecognized until the possessor is forever dead to praise. So it has been with Emily Bronte, who for sixty years has lain forgotten save by a few, in Haworth Church. Now popular interest in her and in her works has been revived by May Sinclair's book, "The Three Brontes." From this book we see Emily Bronte as she lived—and her shy reserve cannot prevent us. We see her tall, strong, and invincible. We see her among her pets, as she worked, as she wrote. We appreciate her absolute loneliness, the flight of her spirit "so superbly independent of the material event." Most of all we feel the intense power of her imagination—her inexplicable genius. That genius, stimulated by nothing, originating only in herself, brings to us a touch of the unearthly before which we must bow.

Emily Bronte was born at Thornton in Yorkshire in 1818. When she was two years old the family moved to Haworth—her life home. This home was a small, stone house situated at the top of a hill, from which the moors rolled away on every side. It was shut in on three sides by the church established was intensified by the cheerless of the stone cutter's mallet as he carved out mottoes for the graves of dead villagers. The same bleakness of atmosphere characterized the interior of the house. A strange, hushed, household was the Yorkshire rectory—the father a cold, self-opinionated recluse, the mother, a frail invalid, dying of cancer. No wonder the six little children—Emily was the fourth—did not know how to play. They read, they discussed them. They took long walks over the moors—timid little creatures stealing forth hand in hand. Or they wrote plays—wonderful plays—with the Duke of Wellington for hero and the Liberal Ministry for genii.

When Emily was seven years old she went with three of her sisters to school at Cowan's Bridge. This school had been established to furnish education to clergymen's daughters, at a low fee. Because of the unhealthy situation—on a marshy site, the school was a trap of infection. After Maria and Elizabeth Bronte had died there, Mr. Bronte took Emily and Charlotte home.

The next few years they spent learning, among other lessons, to care for the house. Then Emily and Anne had a spirited rivalry in writing poetry about an imaginary kingdom called Gondoland.

Charlotte and Emily were now sent to school at Roehead. But Emily's misery at being separated from home was so acute that she was forced to return. To stay there unmolested was her heart's desire. To wander out over the moors in spring, to feel the soft winds, to see the fleecy clouds sailing overhead, to hear the brooks roaring down, to smell the first pungent odor of heather, this was her life.

Charlotte uprooted Emily once more to prepare for her plan of establishing a girl's school. As they must teach languages, they went to Brussels to study. To dwell on Emily's unhappiness during her life at this boarding school is unnecessary, but a stroke of the same fate which always brought her back to Haworth, fell in the death of her Aunt Branwell. So Emily returned to Haworth to keep house for her father and brother Branwell.

At this time she wrote "Wuthering Heights," jotting down parts of it during her idling, just as she studied German, while making bread.

Content as she was in her home, her life was no sinecure, for her father was deeply imbued with the melancholy and cynicism of old age, and Branwell, for whom they had hoped and planned, from whose genius they had expected so much, was hopelessly degraded.

Branwell died in September, 1848, and at his funeral Emily caught a severe cold which rapidly developed into consumption—a disease inherent in her blood. She fought against her illness until December. The very last day she forced herself to get up, even to sew, although her eyes were dim, and her breath came hard. Too late, she consented to see a doctor. Before two o'clock she knew that death had come. Her sisters begged to help her up to bed. She refused. She felt that she must rally all her strength to repel this weakness, to conquer death. In attempting to rise from her sofa she died.

The book "Wuthering Heights" is eternally different from all novels—whether early victorian or present day. It is a strange, wild story, of surpassing savagery in love as well as in hate. Yet in spite of the barbarism of Heathcliff, the degradation of Hindley Earnshaw, the passionate-ness of Catherine Earnshaw, there is a peculiar, convincing quality in it that forces the reader's credence.

The revelation of self comes most completely in Emily Bronte's poetry. These scraps of verse represent her intimate thoughts, scribbled down during the long evenings before the fire. Love of the moor-land breathes from "My Lady's Grace," mysticism characterizes "The Messenger," high courage dominates "Her Last Lines."

From these sources we piece together all we shall ever know about the real Emily Bronte. Life brought her nothing. Yet everything came to her, for through her intense love of life, every experience was hers. A woman, reserved, generous, compassionate, firm,—a woman of "splendid paganism"—this was Emily Bronte. Her own words describe her best—

"In life, in death, a chainless soul
With courage to endure."

ADVANTAGES OF DRAMATICS IN THE HIGH SCHOOL.

BY RAYMOND C. STRAWBRIDGE

Among our many changes in view during the past half century, none is more noticeable than our reversal of attitude toward the drama. Previously it was, by many good people, held in abhorrence; the attendance at plays was looked upon as an evil; actors were universally shunned. Now we have a nation-wide league which encourages attendance at good plays; the people of the stage are everywhere received with respect and honor; we have courses in play-writing in many of our leading colleges; and young people are encouraged by societies, clubs, colleges and secondary schools to take part in amateur plays. That the drama is of unmeasurable value to civilization in the solace it yields, the thought it gives birth to, and the refinement it inspires, is today fully realized. Accordingly, educators in their endless search for methods of broadening the mind in its impressionable stage, are introducing into the schools work along dramatic lines. The study and production of the drama, it is found, tends to the all-round development of personality in the student. At the high school stage, he is most susceptible to these influences.

There is perhaps, no other subject in the school curriculum that combines so many general advantages with the purely academic. It inspires in the student an appreciation of good literature; gives him practice in speaking; develops grace; and broadens his personality.

The literary advantages come first to mind because of their close alliance with the English course. The love and appreciation of good literature is too often lacking in young people. This may be partly due to the way in which the "samples" are put before the student. Too often by the time the study of a work is finished, the pupil is heartily tired of trying to comprehend the viewpoint of some great writer of the previous century. Generally, it is because he lacks interpretation. The words, from his point of view, are meaningless. Hence the work is characterized as "dry." McCutcheon, or Vance, or Chambers is much more interesting. True, perhaps, for the last named are simple enough to interpret.

Now take up any good drama, a Shakespearean play, from the point of view of a character, with "stage business" worked in to some extent; and the work no longer seems a school task, but is full of life and meaning. There is every difference between the study of a play in the classroom and the vivid realization requisite to working it out on the stage. To the portrayal, Macbeth is no longer a paper villain but a living being; his ambitions, his fears, his jealousies become real; and thus we become accustomed to putting ourselves in the places of characters in other books and plays—and they seem more interesting—are better appreciated.

But the student will not stop with the plays given him in class. Finding that these samples are not so bad, he will be tempted to taste more of writings that require the use of some other faculty than that of sight. And with his intellect sharpened by practise in assuming foreign characters, he will be able to interpret his readings. Thus a love for good literature may be instilled.

Another value to participants in dramatic work is the training in speaking. Most of us, energetic enough generally, are absolutely lazy when it comes to talking. It is no wonder our European cousins ridicule our speaking. One cannot speak expressively without an effort. This is true both in ordinary conversation and in public speaking. In the latter the old-fashioned style of declamation has been abolished along with spelling bees and hobbie skirts. Drill for a play is practise in elocution in the best sense, demanding the greatest clearness and range of voice, yet free from the hollow pretensions of declamation; because the speaker really has ideas to communicate to an audience which wishes to hear.

Then the drill will tend to develop grace, that asset which was valued so much by our great grandmothers but which, in these days of tangoing and champion girl athletics, is so often woefully lacking in our young women. Of course, the boys have just as little of this quality, but then, if the average man can avoid stepping on his partner's feet and gown what more can be expected of him? In taking part in a play one learns to watch his moves and not, as our coach used to say, let his feet get so far away that it is necessary to call them up on a phone to find out their whereabouts.

Of course there will be many difficulties, some real, some imaginary. Opponents to the plan will claim that cliques would be developed and jealousies aroused. Doubtless true, if the student were allowed to have complete charge, but teachers' supervision will eliminate this. Then there are always those who cry, "It will take too much time from studies." Allow no pupil to take part in more than one production a year and then only if he has a required standing in studies, and you will find no appreciable drop in scholarship.

But even if there should be a slight falling off the game is worth the candle. The public today is demanding of the schools not only mental training but development of moral judgment, and active personality; and of the three, cultivation of personality is most important. Now among many means of attaining this end—influence of teachers' personality, public debates, athletics, class and social organizations—none is so effective as organized dramatics. One English teacher in speaking of this work says: "I have seen a boy, under the influence of dramatics, so come out of his shell and reveal unsuspected traits of character—command, resourcefulness, energy, usefulness, and responsibility—that teacher and classmates have declared it to be the making of him." This is only one example of what the cultivation of an ability to put oneself into the character of another will do. What can be done for one can be accomplished for others. It is the person who is able to put himself in another's place that is of the most value to civilization. This power makes him more sympathetic, more appreciative and less harsh. Did it ever occur to you that a great deal of our labor trouble and social unrest may be due to lack of sympathy, or appreciation? If the labor leaders would put themselves in the capitalists' place and vice versa, would not an agreement satisfactory to all be reached more quickly?

And not only is this side of the student's character developed, but it is broadened generally. If one would not be a liar, let him portray the character of a liar; a cheat, let him see through the eyes of a cheat, and so on. Such a life he will abhor. And, on the other hand, to bring out the best in the student, place him in the role of a noble character and losing himself in his part he will unconsciously be setting himself an example to follow. The results cannot but be beneficial.

Thus, it appears, dramatics has a wide field of usefulness—both for academic training and character development. The results are almost too good to be true, you say? Well, at any rate it will do no harm to give a fair trial. I hope in the near future to find such a course in the Winchester High School. Then, and only then, can we discover the real extent of the value of dramatic work.

THE POSITION OF WOMEN IN CHINA

BY ALICE B. ROMKEY

The life of the average Chinese woman has, up to the last few years, been monotonous, confined and oppressed.

Of course there have been a few exceptions. The first book in any language for the education of girls was written by a Chinese, Lady Ts'ao, who lived in the time of the Apostle Paul. The first woman's daily newspaper anywhere in the world was started and edited by a Chinese woman, Mrs. Chang of Peking. And in our own time there is the late Empress Dowager, who has been termed the greatest woman of the nineteenth century.

But these are only bright oases in the desert, for the lot of the average woman has been, and is still in many cases, most pitiful. Her advent in the home is marked with sadness. "Only a girl! Another mouth to feed!" is her welcome. When only seven she is separated from the world and childhood friends, even from her brothers, and confined until her marriage in a dark, dirty, stifling dwelling. No fresh air for her! It would be exceedingly immodest for her to be seen out of doors. And how could she take any exercise, for at the age of eight her poor little feet are cruelly bound until they are only three or four inches long. What she suffers during this binding can never be told. The Chinese themselves have a proverb: "For every pair of bound feet there is a bed full of tears." When she reaches seventeen or eighteen years she is married to a man whose name, face and character are all unknown to her until her wedding day. Her life is, if possible, more unhappy after marriage, for she becomes the veritable slave of a tyrannical mother-in-law, and her husband, if by chance he feels any affection for her, is forbidden by custom to show it.

But the old order changeth, yielding place to new. Even in China women's conditions are changing, and changing for the better.

Foremost among these changes is that in regard to education. In 1906, the Empress Dowager issued an edict approving of girls' schools, and immediately such institutions began to spring up all over the empire.

The upper class women have taken an especial interest in this movement, and have sacrificed much for its success. One lady in Honan, who failed to secure financial support for her school, took her own life to try to impress on the people the importance of the education of girls. Immediately memorial services were held for her throughout China, and money was thus raised to endow her school.

The girls themselves are intensely interested and eager to learn, and it is said "that now there is not a prince's palace or an official's home where they are not studying; that now a woman is ashamed if she cannot read, whereas formerly it was held to be a matter of little importance."

Let me give you an account of a day in a certain school. "After breakfast, armed with the broom, dust pan, or duster which bears her name, each student does her share of the daily house cleaning."

"Then the big school room is quiet half an hour for the 'Morning Watch.' At nine o'clock the three men teachers arrive. They conduct prayers with the assembled girls, teachers, and helpers, and the school work of the day begins. Classes move regularly with singing and gymnastics for rest periods and one and one-half hours for dinner, dish washing, and play at noon. At four the officers of the 'School City' meet for business. The policemen bring in all who have broken rules during the day, the court sits in judgment, and the girl who has said naughty words, been noisy at table, or run down the long stairs, must do penance by washing a window, walking about quietly, or sitting in meditation."

Washing clothes, making shoes, play, and supper fill the time until 6.30 when the older girls sit with groups of the smaller girls and help them with the hard characters until time for evening prayers. Then comes the early bedtime, the younger girls going at seven and the older ones an hour later."

They have commencement days in China, just as we do here. "At the Kucheng school recently, well prepared essays were given on the following topics: 'China's Noted Women,' 'The Superior Advantages of Girls Attending Christian Schools,' 'Knowledge is Power,' 'How the Gospel Has Benefited Chinese Women,' 'Our Debt of Gratitude to God.'"

Foot-binding is now speedily becoming a thing of the past. In the great crusade against it, the Empress Dowager helped greatly by issuing a decree forbidding further binding. The upper class women have unbound their feet, and done all possible to restore them to their natural shape and size. Just imagine a group of women comparing their feet to see whose are the largest.

Another important change is in the realm of courtship and marriage. The girls are in revolt against the old customs. They do not object so much to being betrothed to any unknown man, but they do demand that he shall, at least, be their social and intellectual equal. Some of them are taking desperate means to free themselves from distasteful marriages. One spring nine young girls in Canton drowned themselves for just such a reason. The old forms of courtship, too, are yielding. The betrothed couple are now, sometimes, allowed to see each other before marriage, to exchange photographs, and even to talk to each other, across the room, if some older person is present.

The Christian Chinese girls are even more protected than the heathen. The father of a Christian girl may not marry his daughter to a heathen unless it is impossible to get a Christian, nor to any man of known bad character. He may not dispose of her to be a second wife, neither can he compel her to be betrothed to one to whom she herself has a well-founded antipathy. If he does not regard the welfare of his girls in these matters, the church steps in in their behalf.

In respect to her relations with the outside world, women's conditions are also changing. The old idea of confinement is losing its force and girls are frequently seen on the street and in audiences with men. They are no longer known as a certain man's sister or such a man's wife or daughter, but have names and individualities of their own.

That the women of China are also beginning to take a remarkable interest in public affairs is shown in the account given by Mrs. Chauncey Goodrich of Peking of a meeting of women held in the capitol in January, 1911.

"Two ladies, Mrs. Feng and Mrs. Kung, both wives of high officials, were at the head of the movement. When they heard that the Christian people of England were anxious that no more opium should be imported into China, they decided to call a meeting of Chinese women who would express the sentiment of the Chinese people. The meeting was held in an official building next door to that of Prince Shun, brother of the Regent. Eight hundred women were present, most of them wives and daughters of officials or of the better classes. Mrs. Feng, in a touching address, describing the horrors of the ravages of opium, with tears streaming down her cheeks, reminded the women again and again that the 'Christians of England are on our side.' Most of the ladies signed their names and within six weeks' time they had secured the signatures of 3,152 women and girls."

Thus the position of the Chinese woman is changing from that of an unhappy, foot-bound slave to that of an educated, respected and honored woman. And this is only the beginning, for in the New China which is dawning woman will be of marvellous power and influence. And her influence will be felt, not only in every conflict for the rights of her sex, but in all great questions which arise in the progressive commonwealth.

WINCHESTER TRUST CO.

Handsome Building to be Open for Business Tuesday.

Safety of deposits, comfort of depositors and architectural charm appear to be the key notes of the Winchester Trust Company's new building which will be opened for business early next week. The modern banking house, at its best, combines utility and esthetics. As Winchester people have watched the structure of Dorset marble and colonial brick rise in the past few months there has been a growing appreciation of an important addition to the institutions of the town.

To many the name of "The Winchester Trust Company" will come as a surprise. The removal of the banking facilities and force from the somewhat restricted quarters on Main street means the passing of the Middlesex County National Bank whose entire business is to be taken over on July 1, by the newly organized trust company. The reasons for this change of organization are stated by an officer of the bank to be two-fold: to gain such benefits as come from the trust company's broader charter and to forestall a possible invasion of this territory by an outside trust company. A feature of trust company operation which it is planned especially to emphasize is the safe deposit business for which very ample facilities have been provided in the new building. At a time when the large trust companies are very active in establishing branches or affiliated companies in the smaller communities, it was thought desirable to give Winchester people the advantages of trust company service directed and managed by local men.

The Winchester Trust Company has been incorporated with a capital stock of $100,000 and a surplus $25,000. The officers are the same as of the Middlesex County National Bank.

A Striking Exterior

While the architect, Edwin R. Waite, of Winchester, has avoided the error of designing a pretty facade unrelated to the interior he has, nevertheless, succeeded in securing for the new bank a very imposing exterior. The structure is placed on a lot that is about 80 by 115 feet. Upwards of $2,500 has been spent in grading the land and making the surrounding harmonious. The feature of the front is the great Doric pediment supported by four massive columns, each 18 feet high and 26 inches in diameter at the base. The portico thus created is dignified and beautiful and thoroughly consistent with the interior. The entire construction has cost $55,000.

A Spacious Tasteful Interior

The amplitude and tastefulness of the banking rooms behind the front justify the assertion that few institutions in New England will be more commodiously and comfortably housed than the Winchester Trust Company. The architect has tried to steer between the extremes of lavish display of materials unsuited to a commercial establishment and the meretricious cheapness that is characteristic of some structures of the kind. Outside of Boston and a few other large cities it is rare to find a banking house as large and imposing as this; few, if any, according to the judgment of two well known architects who have inspected it, are in better taste.

The main room, which is 40 by 40 feet and 22 feet high, is effective with its combination of light tinted surfaces, mahogany wood work and simple well proportioned grill work. It is also a model of convenience and comfort to the patrons of the institution and the working force.

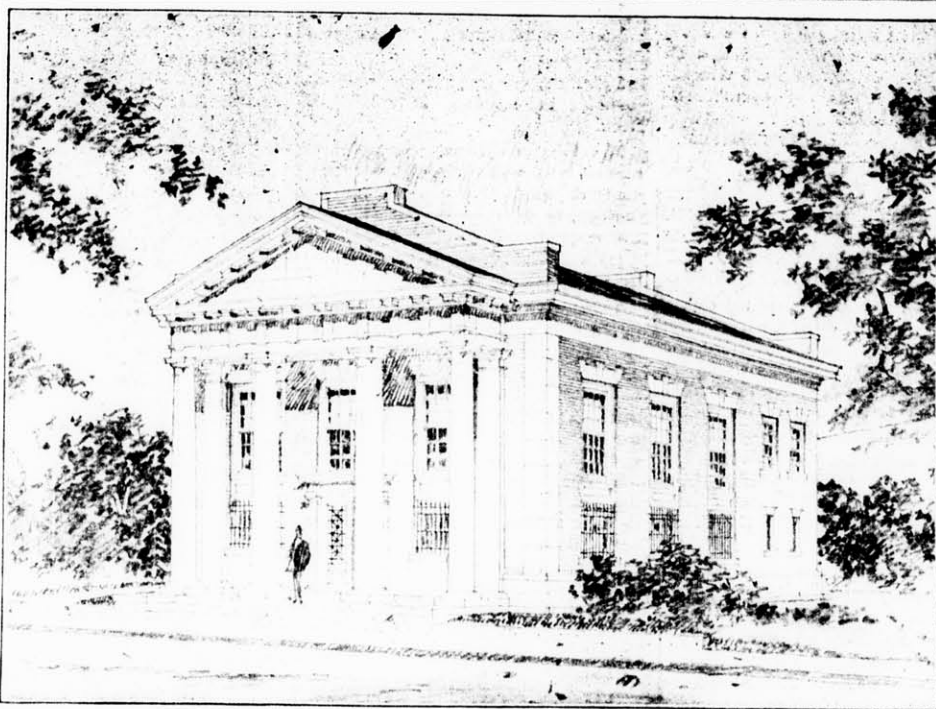

Grill work extends along the left hand side as one enters, giving the customary cages for the receiving and paying tellers, which are reached by the public with the minimum of effort, and the bookkeepers' desks. At the end of the enclosure toward the street is a compartment for the cashier's desk. Beyond the bookkeepers is a door leading into a small room where one of the bank officers may consult with a client in proper privacy.

To the right of the entrance is a large open space containing a table at which customers will fill out deposit slips and endorse checks. From this it is only a step across to the tellers' cages.

A Charming Appointed Ladies' Room

Just beyond this open space there has been set off for the special benefit of feminine depositors a prettily decorated and equipped ladies' room—one quite up to the standard of any of the Boston trust companies. In this are writing desks, toilet facilities and other appointments which will greatly add to the comfort of banking in Winchester.

The main wall, opposite the door, on which the visitor's eye rests first, is divided in its upper part into three large panels of which the two outermost are left severely plain, while the central panel bears a handsome clock, set in white marble from which an eagle and other symbolic emblems have been carved in high relief. This panel in an architectural sense is the key piece of the structure. The architect's idea is that although the eye will fall there first other features of the interior must come up to its standard that there will be no disappointment as one surveys the massive beams of the ceiling, the spacious square headed windows, the white marble floor or the green marble used in the interior trim and particularly over and around the door of the big steel vault which is directly under the clock.

Vault a Model of Safety

This placing of the bank vault door in a very conspicuous place is in accordance with present day practice in bank architecture. Many people still need a visual demonstration of the precautions that are taken to prevent the bank robberies that were once very common but which have been rendered by inventive skill a thing of the past. The door of the Winchester Trust Company's vault is of the latest construction of laminated plates of steel and iron eight and one half inches thick. The introduction of a layer or two of iron amidst the sheets of case hardened steel is a recent device by which in the highly improbable event of a burglar's working through the steel with an acetelene flame or with the electric arc he would be baffled by the peculiar clogging slag which cast iron forms. Experiments with plate of this kind have shown that it requires actually tons of acetelene and oxygen to work through, making surreptitious cutting of the plate an obvious impossibility. The combinations are "timed" and are of the most ingenious character and are, of course, connected with an electric signal system. The interior walls of the vault, which is 8 1/2 by 14 feet, are of burglar proof construction.

Safe Deposit Boxes and Storage Vaults

The vault, besides containing the usual receptacles for the trust company's cash and other valuables, has a section devoted to safe deposit boxes for rent of customers. This is a feature which will be greatly appreciated in Winchester where many well to do people will find it convenient to have their valuable securities close at hand.

Two other forms of safety deposit service will be instituted.

In the basement is a carefully protected vault, 15 by 16 feet, which will be reserved for storage of silverware, jewels and similar small articles. Under the main banking room is large compartment, 30 by 30 feet, in which, at a very moderate rental, may be stored objects of art, costly furniture and similar domestic accessories which during the owner's absence from home should be placed under proper surveillance in a fireproof building.

Director's Room in Colonial Style

On the second floor is a large director's room, 16 by 26 feet, with light colonial finish, a delightfully proportioned fireplace, solid mahogany table and every other accessory required for comfortable transaction of the company's business.

Fire Hazard Eliminated

Great pains have been taken to reduce the danger from conflagration to a minimum. The building is protected by ample space from neighboring buildings. Fire proof construction has been used throughout the only possible combustible material being a small amount of wood used in the interior trim. The heating system is of the most modern and safest type.

The erection of this model bank building was entrusted to F. C. Alexander, contractor. Through his efforts the work has been completed in time for the opening reception which will take place Saturday, June 28, the actual opening of the business occurring July 1.

ARLINGTON'S NEW TOWN HOUSE.Samuel J. Elder Delivered
Dedication Address.

At the dedication of the new Town House of Arlington on Wednesday, Hon. Samuel J. Elder of Myopia Hill delivered the oration. His remarks to the people of Arlington were both instructive and inspiring, and embodied with them was much which will undoubtedly prove of interest to Winchester residents. Following is Mr. Elder's speech:

Ladies and Gentlemen:—

I am sincerely gratified by your invitation to take part in the dedication of your new Town House. Winchester and Arlington are very close kindred and I think we of the former place may well claim to be fellow townsmen. An early recollection of my residence here having pointed out to me the old gray stone wall from the Upper Mystic to Church street as the ancient boundary of Menotomy.

One of our oldest inhabitants living always in the same house is said to have been a citizen of four townships. Edward Everett, living in the same house was certainly a citizen both of Charlestown, West Cambridge and Winchester. For many years the two towns were in the same legislative district which I had the honor of representing at the time of my one and only candidacy for office.

To go back still further before the days of the town the Commonwealth, the Colony or King, this territory was under the rule of the same people. The site of her last abode is still pointed out on the hill this side of the Winchester line, and just above and overlooking the place where your magnificent pagoda opened this present celebration. The teeming lake furnished her people with abundant food, they roamed the hills and forests with no suspicion of town lines to come, their women tilled the fields, their medicine men raised herbs, as the story goes, of every known variety, on the banks of the little stream which well nigh follows the boundary of the two towns and empties into the Lake. How difficult it is to place ourselves back over the years which have intervened when there were no roads or trolleys or shoes or mills or churches or schools. When the scream of the steam whistle, and the gong of the trolley, and the honk of the motor horn were unknown in the land; when the stillness was broken only by the wild goose or the cry of the fox or the bark of the wolf. The genius of the sculptor has caught the genius of the place. In the midst of the stress and strain of modern living, near the School and the Library and the Town House, close by the crowded road, he has placed the perfect figure of the kneeling master of the hills. The sun of the forest is not worrying much about books or schools or town affairs, or politics or philosophies or home or foreign missions. Athletic rank and contest do not excite him, the evening paper will not bring him the result of the race or game or standing of the local club. He has no aspiration to serve his people on the hill in Boston or on the banks of the Potomac. He will make no swift flight across the continent nor across the sea. He stoops beside the fountain and raises the cooling water to his lips, his little figure, perfect in its pose, and forever restful, in its still strength, links the present to the past. The hand of the sculptor tells us the story and the bronze will forever speak to us and those who come after us.

Thorvaldsen gave to Lucerne the figure of the dying lion, and immortalized in stone the valor of the Swiss guard. Jallin has given to Arlington and to the world a living figure which portrays an epoch in history and a departed race. You are bringing to a close the ceremonies of dedication which began three weeks ago. They have indeed been most signal and significant; rarely has a building been dedicated to the uses of the public with so much of brilliancy and beauty. You have not been content with formal service of dedication with the presentation and acceptance of the keys of the edifice, with the words of the architect and the poet, with the presence and speech of the highest officers of the Commonwealth, but have brought into your service the pomp and pageantry of the past. As one recalls the brilliant kaleidoscope of color on the shores of the Mystic and seeks apt words for its description he is brought to the silence of Mulvaney in "Soldiers Three" who could only wet his lips, make a few articulate sounds and then succumb to a gorgeous memory.

You remember that a facile writer in attempting to describe the World's Fair at Chicago two decades since said that he was in the hopeless position of the early New Zealanders who, being taught figures, could never get beyond eighty-four. If anything was in the hundreds or thousands or millions they said it was eighty-four. And so of your ever to be remembered pageant it runs into the tens of thousands, but paucity of speech brings to our lips nothing but eighty-four. We shall always fancy as we look down to the Lake and its shores the nymphs and the naiads, the heralds and the graces, the flower maidens and the procession of the hours, the coming and going of the seasons the sweep of the winds, Ceres and the tragedy of

MACK SENT FOR WHITTAKER.

Somerville Boy May Join the Athletics and Be Sent to the Raleigh for Experience.

Walter Whittaker of Somerville, who pitched sensational ball for the Worcester Academy team the past season, has received a letter from Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics to sign a contract. He left Boston for Philadelphia the first of the week.

Connie Mack heard of the former Somerville High player's ability through his son, Roy, who attended Worcester Academy this year, and played second base. At Worcester Academy Whittaker was the leading twirler.

WALTER WHITTAKER

Whittaker will not sign a contract until he consults Connie Mack in Philadelphia. He has not had enough experience to play with the Athletics, and the Athletics' manager intends to send him to Raleigh, which nine is being managed by Earl Mack, another son. Before leaving, Whittaker stated that he would not sign a contract for Raleigh until he is sure of making good, as in that case he does not wish to lose his amateur standing.

Young Whittaker started pitching three years ago for Somerville High, and his work was sensational in the Suburban League. He twirled nine games and won eight, losing to Medford High. That summer he pitched for the Winchester town nine and made the same record as he did at Somerville High. The next year he did not have such a good season because of a sore arm, but he managed to win five and lost five.

At Worcester Academy Whittaker was considered the premier pitcher. He pitched two games against Cushing Academy, Dartmouth '16, Hotchkiss, Pomfret and Worcester Tech and did creditable work. In the final game of the season against Cushing Academy he did his best work, shutting out the Ashburnham nine without a hit or a run. It was the first no-hit no-run game he ever twirled.

CARD TO CLASS 1913.

A FOUR YEAR GROWTH.

In the fall of 1909 a vacuum cleaning business was started by Wm. Homer Colgate with a portable electric vacuum cleaner. The cleaner was operated by him after school hours.

To-day the business consists of two departments: the original vacuum department, with an equipment of seven cleaners, and an Oriental rug department where Native Armenian weavers are employed to repair and wash Oriental rugs.

This business might also be said to have a sales department because Mr. Colgate besides carrying a small stock of rugs to sell, co-operates with importers and wholesalers, selling both domestic and oriental rugs direct to patrons. This process avoids the middleman and means a great saving to his customers.

PER CENT OF FAILURES IN HIGH SCHOOL REMARKABLY SMALL.

The per cent of failures in the year's work just completed in the high school is 5.9. This is considerably lower than the average per cent of failures in high schools and speaks well for the work done by both pupils and teachers. The plan of sending weekly reports to the parents of pupils not up to the passing grade, which has been in operation for the past two years, does much toward maintaining a satisfactory standard and preventing ultimate failures.

HEVEY — MURPHY.

Mr. Michael Edward Hevey, son of Mr. Edward H. Hevey of 34 Tremont street, and Mary Margaret Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Murphy of 396 Main street, were united in marriage at St. Mary's parochial residence on Wednesday Evening. The couple were attended by Mr. William H. Hevey, brother of the groom, and Miss Theresa Murphy the bride's sister. Mr. and Mrs. Hevey will reside at Nashua, N.H., where the groom is engaged in the electrical business.

SUNDAY EVENING—FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

The service of song will center on the love of Jesus and the pastor, Rev. F. W. Hodgdon, will speak on "The Friendship of Jesus." This will be the last service in which Mrs. Margaret L. Weber, Director of Music, will participate. At the close of the service fitting testimonial to her work in this community will be given and resolutions presented for adoption.

WINCHESTER BOY LEADS.

The Boston Journal Pony Contest is interesting a great many Winchester people on account of the plucky struggle that one of her ten year old boys, Benjamin Drisko of Lloyd St. is making. This week he has risen from second to first place with a record of 187,775 votes. During last week he turned in 52,000 votes which won for him a camping outfit. Earlier in the contest he won a special prize of a camera. Such persistent work is certainly praiseworthy and Winchester people should see to it that this lad holds first place on July third when the prizes are awarded.

BASE BALL.

The baseball game Saturday June 28th, will be with the Malden Athletics with Somerville, the former Winchester pitcher, in the box for Malden. He will be backed by as strong a team as Malden has had in a number of years and will probably "work his head off" to win. "Bill" Coady will be on the "job" as umpire which will be pleasing news for the "fans." It is a good day we look for a big crowd, so get down early if you want a seat.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE.

The servant problem is one which like Banquo's ghost persistently refuses to "down." Every now and then some theoretical social economist or some practical experimenter feels certain he has solved it and presents to the world a diagram of his discovery, but unhappily when the harassed housekeeper has made a practical test it is only to realize that "Hope told a flattering tale." Now a good Winchester gentleman gives The Spectator to understand that he is persuaded that the secret of retaining household servants and obtaining from them willing and faithful service lies in treating them not as menials, but with the same consideration that is accorded to stenographers and other office employees. Then also he opines that while fair wages should be given at the start the pay should be voluntarily advanced as a recognition of satisfactory service. By systematic observance of these essentials, this good Winchester gentleman believes any housekeeper will experience no difficulty in obtaining acceptable servants and retaining them as long as desired. It is possible, perhaps even probable, that in some instances these methods might work out in practice, but that they would invariably do so is an assumption refuted by the experience of many a discouraged housekeeper here in Winchester and elsewhere. Instead of appreciating not being treated as a menial too many of the typical servants would presume upon the consideration shown them to exact still greater privilege while too often the voluntary increase of wages would result in further pecuniary expectation. One of the main underlying causes of the difficulty in the servant problem is to be found in the steadily expanding opportunity for female employment in factory and clerical work. Years ago there was no demand for one such employed where now ten are employed. The more intelligent and better educated class can readily secure positions as stenographers, telegraphers or salesmen while those not fitted for such duties can as readily find employment in factories. In either field the pay is equal or higher than that of the average house servant, while the worker feels more independent than she would do in the latter station. So this Winchester gentleman and the other solvers notwithstanding, while this situation continues the servant problem will not be effectually and permanently solved.

Views of cultured ladies and gentlemen are sufficiently unanimous to suggest that a movement which might almost be termed a "classical renaissance" now accompanies the strong tendency in favor of technical, commercial, and modern systems of education. "Modern languages and history are admirable studies," says Oscar Browning, "but a well trained classic is better prepared for dealing with them than anyone else. I owe my proficiency in French, German and Italian to my classical training. The Greek language is the most perfect expression of the subtlest thought and emotion of the most gifted nation of whom we have any knowledge. The study, even the temporary and superficial study, of it leaves an indelible impression. It is the 'deed breathing' of the mind. He who knows most of Greek will know most of everything." The Spectator wants to emphasize that the study of Cicero, Livy and Tacitus has had a profound effect on American history. They inculcate the dignity and importance of human affairs, the recognition of which is the first qualification for a leader of men. These studies produced the Ciceronian statesmen of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, to whom our country owes so much. Science is not an education and never can be, mathematics is not an education and never was; the only education worthy of the name of literature and literary education to be sound, solid and enduring must be founded upon the classical languages, and especially on Greek. A learned educator deprecates the existence of "two opposing systems of education for youths up to eighteen. The alleged fact that a greater capacity for acquiring general knowledge is to be found among classical students," he says, "does not in itself form a proof that classical studies are the best mental gymnastic. It must be remembered that by far the greatest and most valuable academical prizes have been allocated to this particular sphere of learning, and 'just as where the carcass is there will the eagles be gathered together,' so where the emolumenta have been, thither do the cleverest students concentrate their intellectual force." This educator advocates a "grand trunk" system of education, in which one dead language, one modern language, history, geography, mathematics, English literature, natural science and manual training should all gain a proportionate place.

We do not have to travel many miles away from Winchester to realize that pleasures would be greater and confidence in mankind more abiding if there was more evidence of consideration for those who follow. Last summer The Spectator visited, very briefly, a mountain resort where everything is exquisite. The spot is much too beautiful to exclude chance visitors, and while they are not encouraged, they are tolerated. For the benefit of picnic crowds who are always in evidence, tables are provided in retirement and large receptacles furnished for discarded boxes and bits of refuse. Conspicuously posted is the request to use them, and leave nothing around. But, alas for human nature! Pincickers who are a bit fastidious, even in the open and come prepared to enjoy a dainty spread, are forced to make the rounds and select a table which has been used by a group with some thought for those who come next. It positively shocks to see the litter of paper and mussy bits of food left by departing groups who walk away as contentedly as if they were resigning a miracle of neatness to the newcomers. Yet each morning the space allotted for this purpose is scrupulously prepared for the visitors who seek its hospitality. Peanuts are right edible, and most of us like them pretty well—upon occasion. An occurrence on a trolley car here in Winchester recently brought forth a blend of amusement and protest. A young man had a pocketful of peanuts, which he ate, one after another, rapidly but very furtively, dropping each shell supposedly on the floor, but in reality in the lap of a woman who got the full benefit. She was none the worse for the rain of shells, and the greatest protest was against the nussy, inconsiderate habit. It almost seems the limit of civility to exact that when a newspaper is read it shall be left neatly folded and ready for the next member of the family to whom it is a pleasure to find it uncrumpled and looking as it had recently come from the press. Yet that is the order enforced in one Winchester home where failure to abide by the ruling calls forth the significant comment: "Where is your courtesy?" It is one of the small things, but when one thinks of a paper crisp and inviting in its first folds, or torn and crumpled by a careless reader, the order has some meaning after all. It is a pleasant courtesy to extend to those who follow, and small trouble. Hardly a day passes that The Spectator does not see some thoughtless person cast banana skins, orange peels or remnants of all sorts of wrappings into the street. These are very unsightly and need not be present to offend fastidious Winchesterites if there was due regard for the rights of those who follow.

The second instalment toward stocking Spy Pond, Arlington, with water fowl has arrived in the form of two hatchlings of wild ducks. In the lot are two old ducks and two drakes and 16 ducklings. The broods have been placed on the island on Spy Pond. The older ducks have been wing-clipped so that they cannot fly. It is the intention of the Middlesex Sportsmen's Association to erect a hatchery on the island at an early date and a house for the geese and ducks that are now making their home on the island. Signs warning against shooting have been placed about the pond and a strict watch will be kept over the birds to see that they are not disturbed.

Since the advent of the hot days this June the Middlesex Fells reservation has been alive with bands of gray squirrels that frolic among the huge branches of the gigantic elm trees near the automobile thoroughfare. Within the last year the Metropolitan Park police have used every effort to stop the amount of petty hunting by foreigners and it is believed that the strict enforcement of these rules had brought the increase in animal life in the woodlands around the small waterways.

One of the objections frequently raised against the pasteurization of milk is that the heating produces changes in the chemical composition of the milk which makes it unsuitable for infant feeding and therefore inferior to raw milk as a food. The United States Department of Agriculture has just completed an exhaustive series of experiments which prove that perfectly pasteurizing milk at a temperature of 145 degrees for thirty minutes does not cause any chemical change and that such milk is as suitable for infant feeding as is raw milk.

JOHN W. SMITH.

John W. Smith, aged 80 years, who won fame as an associate of William Lloyd Garrison and others during Civil War days in the anti-slavery movement and who had since become a well-known temperance advocate, died last Saturday at the home of his daughters Mrs. John Macmaster and Mrs. E. Moreland, 51 Cutting street. He had been in ill-health for six months or more. Mr. Smith was born in Paisley, Scot., April 15, 1833, and at the age of 9 embarked on a sailing vessel for America. He was married in Boston, coming to Winchester in 1898. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were the parents of three children, but their son, William R. Smith, died several years ago. Mrs. Smith is also dead. During the anti-slavery agitation in Boston Mr. Smith was a member of the mob which broke down the door of the courthouse and rescued a negro. He was formerly in the printing and drug business in Boston, but retired many years ago.

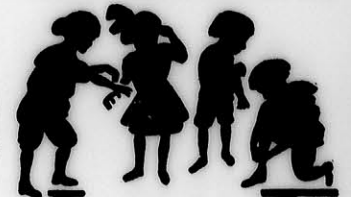

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 at the residence of his daughters, with whom he had lived of late.

GIRL ACCIDENTLY SHOT.

Last Friday afternoon while Ruth Barnard, the nine-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Barnard of Main street, was outside the residence of her aunt, Mrs. William R. Cowdery of Mystic avenue, she was shot through the arm by the bullet from a small caliber rifle. For a time the affair was shrouded in mystery, the young lady being treated by a physician and taken to her home. Investigation revealed that a man on the hill above the house was shooting sparrows, which were eating grain in a henyard, and it is thought that one of the bullets struck the girl. She is reported recovering nicely.

Mrs. William R. Chamberlain and daughter Elizabeth have gone to Portland, Me.

Mrs. John A. Caldwell and family are at their cottage at Lake Sunapee, N. H., for the summer.

Why Should a Chicken Lay a Soft-Shelled Egg?

Because, Willie, the chicken don't know how to create a hard shelled egg unless it has some food with lime in it.

So chicken-raisers often provide limestone gravel, broken oyster shells or some other form of lime.

Let the chicken wander free and it finds its own food and behaves sensibly.

Shut it up and feed stuff lacking lime and the eggs are soft-shelled.

The Old Aberjona.

Winchester, Mass., is a place of renown, Where the old Aberjona glides gently down,

That watered great cities where thousands of souls Drank from the lillies that did spread in the foam.

For fifty-five years I have lived near this stream,

Though the lark or the linnet I never have seen,

There was beauty enchanting in these maids of sixteen

That roved on the banks of that ancient old stream,

But now 'tis deserted and can't be praised any more.

The fishes can't live there and the fair maids do not rove.

When the valleys are filled up and the hill tops brought low

We'll be free from the bondage of those who love gold.

Now silent in sorrow this river remains

To mourn the losses she had sustained; The perch and the pickerel and the bass was her game

That did sport in the waters of her dear old domain.

She had a little sister that run down bounding from the falls,

The Indians named her "Ha-ha, ha-ha," the echo was so plain,

The whin-poor-will is silent now since she was put under ground,

The town buried her so costly that nobody hears the sound.

Michael O'Connell

ARLINGTON'S NEW TOWN HOUSE.

Proserpine, the Flowering of the Seed and the Harvest Dancers. The Lake and shore can never again be mere Lake and shore, but will always resound with music, be instinct with beauty and be peopled with the hues of a fabled past.

There will always march before our eyes the history of our own by-gone days; the Norsemen will sweep across the Lake and Columbus will discover the new world; the Mayflower will thread its way into the harbor and the Pilgrims devoutly land upon the shore. Squa-Sachem and her chiefs, the Puritans and their austerity, will stand before us; Paul Revere will make again his midnight ride; the Minute Men will gather on the green; the old men of Menotomy will seize the supply train and the red coats will be swept back along the road. Lafayette will come again in a rickety coach; the old town will be re-enacted before our eyes; the dark days of the Civil War will come and Arlington will again pour out its full quota to the preservation of the country. The present will be linked with the past, and the children's blood will warm and their cheeks flush at the deeds of the fathers. It has indeed been a signal celebration and as red letter day will linger in the history of the town.

Arlington has much occasion for pride as well as gratitude in the reception of this gift. It does not come from outside hands. It is not a cold and studied benediction. It comes from the warm heart of the ones who have been nurtured on its soil; it is a gift of love, gratitude and affection.

More than a century and a quarter ago Nathan Robbins became a settler in the Second Parish of Cambridge. His wife, too, was a descendant of one of the first settlers. Nathan Robbins, their son lived where his father and mother had lived, and throughout a long, laborious life was a citizen of West Cambridge. His brothers, Amos and Eli, though living and doing their life work in the metropolis of the country, never forgot the town of their birth. The widow of one has given to the town the magnificent library which marks the eastern boundary of this civic square, and now Winfield Robbins presents to the town this house for the Town's life and activities. Born in New York, college bred, widely travelled, a man of many lands and languages; scholar and citizen of the world, he was no stranger to the home of his forebears. The salt, unblinded, estranging seas never estranged him. In his later years the instinct of home brought him back to the old town and made it the object of his benefactions. To his taste and judgment is largely due the serene dignity and many of the treasures of the library vander, and now to his generosity the town owes this magnificent gift.

With modesty which well becomes him, he dedicates it to the memory of his father, and with wisdom he leaves to his kin-women, life-long residents of the town, the final word as to the form and structure of the memorial. Well was his confidence placed! Though by the terms of his will much or little of his fortune might have been devoted to the gift, they with free hand, have placed all at the disposal of the town. For him and to the artist in some whom they have selected, you owe the grace and dignity of this building. They tender it to you today with no reserves and no conditions. It is a noble gift, nobly given, and the town in accepting it pledges itself anew to the privileges which underlie New England life. It pledges itself and the generations yet to come to the industry and fair dealing which marked the lives of the givers and made the gift possible. It pledges itself to the ideals of government which the Town House and the town meeting of New England have always typified, to liberty which is not license, to the self-denying ordinance which sub-ordinates the individual to the common weal; to obedience to law and constituted authority; to that justice for all which prohibits privilege to the few; to that charity and justice and sound judgment which must ever find their source and well spring in the faith, devotion and religion of the fathers.

It was my fortune recently to visit the Eternal City for the first time. Standing on the Capitoline Hill I looked through the Forum and down the Sacred Way. Close at hand were the temples of Saturn and Vespasian, the Rostrum and the Arch of Severus, the temples of Castor and Augustus, the Arch of Titus, the Home of the Vestals, and towering over all were the palaces of the Caesars. The scene marked the climax of pagan civilization. In the distance stood the massive and magnificent ruins of the Coliseum where the populace by the tens of thousands gloated over the blood and death of men and of beasts. Rome was mistress of the world. It brought to the imperial city the wealth and treasures of every land. Its buildings and its monuments were the work of slaves. This was its civic center. It proudly said that it sat upon its seven hills and ruled the world; that to be a citizen of Rome was nobler than to be a king.

Hence to a New England town, the way is long in time and space. Here is your civic center. Here is your forum. Church and library and school and town house are your monuments. They are not the work of slaves, but the gifts of generous and devoted sons and daughters. Your rule is that of justice and of right. Past these monuments sweep not the Via Sacra, but the road made sacred by the lives and blood and fortitude of your fathers.

How marvelously the world has changed! Honest toil has taken the place of pillage; Charity the place of cruelty. Debate has taken the place of force; equality of men the place of serf and noble; study the place of surfeited idleness and law the place of despotism.

Into this heritage of liberty under law we have come; liberty which is ours without alarm from the cradle to the grave, and under law which we ourselves impose. A monument to that liberty and to that law which comes nearest to us in our daily lives is the edifice in which we are assembled. It stands for the New England town meeting. It has come down to us unutilized and secure from the earliest days. Within its walls the humblest citizen is secured a hearing. No despot silences its deliberations or thwarts its decisions. It has furnished the model for Commonwealths and states and for the Republic itself. Such is the edifice which you dedicate today; not merely a structure of mortar and of stone, useful and beautiful as it is, but a monument to three centuries of self-restrained democracy, a temple of assurance for the centuries yet to come.

Winchester ought to feel proud of the new Winchester Trust Company's new building. It is an ornament to the town. The residents should consider the efforts of the directors by opening accounts there, and by so doing show that such an institution is appreciated, not only as a depository for money but for the safe storage of valuables.

GAS REDUCTION.

The time is very near now when the several towns and communities of Winchester, Wedgemere, Arlington, Arlington Heights, Belmont, Waverly and Harvard will share in the reduction of the price of gas which goes into effect July 1st. After this date, the gross price will be $1.25, which with the ten cents per thousand cubic feet discount, brings the net price to each consumer down to $1.15 per thousand cubic feet. Taking into consideration the increased price of coal, the high price asked for hard wood by the coal and the cost of kerosene together with its odor, danger of fire and general inconvenience, gas is left as the one all-round fuel for cooking that is now supplied to those living in the territory of the Arlington Gas Light Company at a price that is within the reach of all classes.

The economy, cleanliness and convenience of gas as a fuel combined with its quick, prompt and exact service, render it equal to every occasion and its use is greatly appreciated by both mistress and maid.

The Arlington Gas Light Company has just placed into commission its huge gas holder that has been for some weeks under process of construction. It is a storage holder for 500,000 feet of gas and it is of ample capacity to take care of the increasing output for some time to come. It is a visible assurance of a continuance of good and dependable service fully adequate for every demand.

A MEETING OF APPEAL.

Last Tuesday evening the choir of the First Congregational Church invited the music committee to meet with them in the church to discuss the future of the choir and the reconsideration of the resignation of Mrs. Margaret Lovejoy Weber.

About fifty members of the choir were present—and the hope of the meeting was to impress upon the committee the great value of the work of the last two years which has been due entirely to Mrs. Weber and their deep regret at any thought of her leaving and their earnest hope that the committee may find it possible to let her continue her work, so splendidly begun.

Many members of the choir gave their personal testimony as to what the work had meant to them, and of their deep love and devotion for Mrs. Weber, and out in their plea that the work may continue without a change in leadership. For such a change would mean a severe check to the work and might result in its complete termination.

Among those who spoke, were Mr. David Witmer, Miss Edna Hawes, Mr. Edward Noyes, Mr. Richard Cort, Miss Frances Elder, Mr. Dean Wheatley and Mr. James Eckman.

SUNDAY SHOOTING.

Giovanni DeAngelis, who was shot last September by a fellow countryman, was himself arrested by the police on Sunday charged with shooting Nicholas Ianuzzi, aged 35, of 38 Tremont street. Ianuzzi was shot through the right shoulder and was taken to the Winchester hospital, where it was found that the bullet had gone nearly through his body. It was removed by Dr. A. L. Brown, and he will recover.

It appears that DeAngelis and his uncle, Dominic DeAngelis, 45 years, also of Florence street, visited the Ianuzzis during the afternoon. A discussion arose and DeAngelis drew a revolver and shot Ianuzzi. A general mix-up followed and the men were separated and the DeAngelis returned to their home.

The police were notified and officers Harrold and Cameron visited the scene and arrested the participants. Ianuzzi being taken to the hospital.

In the Woburn court Monday DeAngelis waived examination and was held in $2000 bonds for the grand jury, charged with assault with intent to murder. His uncle, Dominic DeAngelis, was fined $10 for assault, and Florio Constantino, another Italian who was mixed up in the affair, was fined $25 for threatening to shoot another man.

The 8th and last recital of the season by pupils of Mrs. Lewis, was held in Christain Science Hall, Woburn, Tuesday evening, June 24th.

BURGLARS VISIT TOWN.

Burglars visited Winchester sometime between last Wednesday and Monday night breaking into the residence of Mr. Stanley R. Miller of Lagrange street. The family left their home on Wednesday, and on Monday night Mr. Miller returned unexpectedly to find that thieves had entered and done considerable damage. About $25 or $30 worth of unused postage stamps of various denominations were taken, also several valuable stickpins. The greatest damage was done by the intruders prying open the drawers of the bureau and chiffoniers, they being forced with chisels, badly damaging and splitting them. This damage will probably amount to a greater sum than the value of the goods taken. Entrance was made by means of a cellar window, which was forced by the chisel. As yet the police have no clew in the matter. It was discovered on Wednesday evening that the residence of Mr. T. W. Gilson on Everett avenue had been entered by thieves during the absence of the family. It is thought this break was done by the same gang which entered the Miller house on Lagrange street. Mr. Gilson's family left town last Saturday. So far as has been ascertained no large amount of loot was taken by the thieves.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE DEPARTMENT.

Conducted by Winchester League.

At the convention in St. Louis last week the National Women's Trade Union League adopted significant resolutions concerning Woman suffrage—Too long to quote here as a whole the following extract shows the tenor of the resolutions:

Whereas, The most costly production of any nation, and its most valuable asset is its output of men and women; and the industrial conditions under which over 6,000,000 girls and women are forced to work are an individual and social menace; and

Whereas, Working women as an unfranchised class are continually used to lower the wage standards of men, and as during the recent uprising of working women to better their economic conditions it has been conclusively demonstrated that the political powers of the employers are persistently used so as to defeat the organized efforts of their unfranchised class; and

Whereas, A group of women of leisure, who by accident of birth have led sheltered and protected lives and know nothing of the danger and hardships confronting the working women, and who never through experience have had to face the misery that low wages and long hours produce, are carrying on an active campaign of propaganda to defeat the efforts of working women to obtain this essential instrument of their industrial freedom; and

Whereas, Every thinking working woman realizes her individual and social responsibility toward controlling these conditions for herself, her fellow workers and the coming generation, and wants the power the ballot will give her and her fellow workers, therefore be it

Resolved, That the National Woman's Trade Union League of America in convention assembled representing the organized working women of America, hereby solemnly protest against the active opposition of these women of leisure, who persist in selfishly obstructing the efforts of the organized working women to obtain full citizenship, thereby making the struggle for the protection of the working people's homes immeasurably more difficult; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to all anti-suffrage headquarters, the press, the National American Woman Suffrage Association, The Woman's Journal and the International Suffrage Alliance.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE.

The famous "Meistersingers," Boston's greatest vocal organization, will enter upon the week of their annual summer engagement at B. F. Keith's Theatre Monday afternoon. "In The Wild Woods" this year's scenic production far exceeds those of the past two seasons, and in beauty and realism is far ahead of anything ever before shown in vaudeville. Surprise follows surprise in starting rotation, and the brand new program of songs offered this year is by far the best "The Meistersingers" have ever used. Edwin Stevens, the popular legitimate star, will appear in a dramatic and musical playlet assisted by Tina Marshall, called "The Troubles of R and J," and other features will be Muller and Stanley, a couple of nuts, with a new and very original line of material; Ismed, the sensational Turkish pianist from Constantinople, who has a really novel turn; Harvey DeVora Trio in songs and dances, with little John Doe, the diminutive comedian Moore and Irving, two newcomers from the West; Lewis and McCarty, another new act that is said to be out of the usual run, Alexander Brothers, muscular marvels, and others to be announced later.

Editor Hoag Confesses

"For many years, as Editor and Proprietor of the Pine Plains, N. Y., Herald, I have advertised Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. While I enjoyed not only the business relationship but the personal friendship of Dr. Kennedy, I have never, until now, paid him a long standing obligation. For many years, as my friends so well know, I suffered excruciating pains from rheumatism. Many were the nights when it was impossible to sleep. Without much faith, I admit, I tried as a sort of last resort, a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, just as thousands of others had done before, and like them I found permanent relief. Favorite Remedy has stood the test of time and I believe it is the best medicine in existence for effectually expelling the cause of rheumatism—uric acid. My regret is that I have neglected to make this frank confession long ago. It makes my kidneys do their work properly, tones up the liver and makes one feel that life is worth living. I publicly and earnestly advise all my friends who are suffering from troubles that arise from unhealthy kidneys and liver, to get a bottle of Favorite Remedy at once. There is no use in putting it off as I did. S. T. HOAG, Editor."

Write to Dr. David Kennedy Co., Rondout, N. Y., for free sample bottle and free medical book containing valuable information. Large bottles sold by 40,000 druggists.

"That's the sixth Studebaker we've passed—the only kind to invest in"

"The only kind—because, as I always say, when a man puts money in a thing he wants to know that he's going to get the worth of it out again."

"That's plain business as I look at it."

"That's why I say the price doesn't tell you anything at all. There's only one thing that talks—except the wagon itself. That's the name of the maker."

"When you buy a Studebaker you're buying a vehicle that has behind it and in it sixty years of experience—sixty years of success—and sixty years of reputation for the square deal. That's why a Studebaker always looks good to me."

"My father used to say that Studebaker honor was as sure as a United States bank note. He was talking after having used Studebaker vehicles since he was a lad, and he told me his father before him said, 'Be safe—get a Studebaker.'"

"Vehicle builders can't hold that sort of reputation nowadays without delivering the goods. A Studebaker wagon has the best in it. That's why a man gets the most out of it—why it's always an economy."

"Dealers may say to you something else is 'just as good.' But when you buy a Studebaker, you're making a safe investment every time."

A HINDU IDOL.

Its Strange History Caused Mrs. Carnot to Order It Destroyed.

When Mrs. Carnot, widow of Sadi Carnot, died and her will was read a clause in it caused considerable comment. This was to the effect that a certain small Hindu idol carved from a hard stone which would be found among her property must be taken out and crushed until completely destroyed. Many marveled at this apparently singular request, for the idol seemed a harmless, ugly little thing, but its instructions were carried out to the letter.

The idol had been presented to Sadi Carnot years before he had ever thought of the presidency of France by a friend who had brought it from India. Later he learned that there was a legend attached to it which asserted that whosoever would retain it in his possession would rise to the fullest height of power in his chosen profession, but die of a stab wound when at the zenith of his career.

M. Carnot traced the history of the idol and found that for 500 years the rulers who had possessed it had all died either in battle or by assassination from stab wounds. Yet he laughed at the story, called the facts adduced by his search a mere chain of coincidences and retained the idol. He died by a dagger in the hands of an assassin; hence Mrs. Carnot's strange request.

LURE OF THE MISTS.

Curious Experience in the Clouds in an Aeroplane.

It was at Manchester. Aeroplanes were sweeping the skies in the circuit of Britain race. Vedrine had climbed, and impatient at the rules that made him wait ten minutes before taking up the race, went about idling in French. One of the officials asked him what kind of a trip he had had. Vedrine's answer was to hold up his hands expressively.

He was quiet for many seconds, then he said:

"I was blanketed in clouds so that I could not see ten meters before me. Below me was nothing but rolling mist that gradually took on all fanciful shapes and colors. I caught myself wanting to descend, to drop suddenly into it and see what it was like. To escape this feeling I flew higher and higher, until, venturing to look down again, I saw wonderful lights and shadows that never before had been revealed to me from the sky. I saw a dreamy city, a wonderful mirage, and I believe I would have forgotten everything but those exquisite colorings, released my levers, and"—(He laughed.) "But I was fortunate, for I became sick—as sick as a dog—away up in the clouds."—Edward Lyell Fox in Harper's Weekly.

Cheapest Hams Ever Sold.

Sometimes an error creeps into the published announcement of a big store, due to the negligence of the proofreader or to the compositor in the printing office of the paper. It is rarely funny in its results, although it may make humorous reading when first issued. One day a department store in New York advertised "Sugar-Cured Hams at 4c a lb." Rather cheap, you say? Well, 130 odd persons thought so too, for that was the number that asked for the ham at this ridiculously low price the morning the ad appeared. It transpired that the printed proof O. K'd by the grocery buyer and sent down to the newspaper office for insertion in the day's issue read "14c a lb." The first numeral had simply dropped out of sight; 125 sales were made at a loss of 10 cents per pound—Woman's Home Companion.

Monte Carlo Robbers.

"They are greater robbers at Monte Carlo," said a traveler, speaking of high charges, "than anywhere in the world. The German tourist is sneered at in Monte Carlo because when he enters a barber shop he always asks what the charge is to be before he sits down in the chair. But what is a man to do in barber shops, where it is no uncommon thing to be charged $2 or $3 for the simplest operation?"

"And it's the same thing in the hotels. I know a man who took a suit at a Monte Carlo hotel without asking the price of anything—and in the restaurants of such hotels it's a common thing to find no prices even on the menus. Well, when this man came to pay his bill it was enormous. But he paid it. Then he said:

"Have you any twenty-five centime stamps?"

"Yes, monsieur," said the clerk.

"How many do you wish?"

"My friend smiled blandly.

"Tell me first, please," he said, "what you charge for them here?"—Exchange.

BROOKLYN TABERNACLE

BIBLE STUDY ON

THE VICTORIES OF FAITH.

Acts 7:9-16; Hebrews 11:20-22—

June 29.

"This is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith"—1 John 5:4.

We live in a day when faith is greatly discounted. People seem disposed to say, "I care not what a man believes. If only his life be honorable."

By this generally is meant that faith is of no consequence. Those who so hold usually put honor of men as the highest goal. Their sentiments, translated into plain English, would be, "With all your getting, get money and prosperity; for without these, you will never prosper in the present life."

The Bible standpoint, however, is the very reverse of this. God's Word puts faith first, and builds character upon that faith. God declares that no human being can do perfect works.

Hence He has not made works the standard. Faith is God's standard, and He assures us that whoever has the proper faith must necessarily have works to correspond.

In line with this principle, we note that God's favorites of the Bible have all been men of faith. Their faith did not make them perfect, nor were their works always acceptable in God's sight. But He punished them for evil works, and rewarded them for faith. Thus we find in the Bible record that some of God's favorites committed grievous sins and made serious mistakes. Nevertheless, they maintained God's favor, by reason of their faith. Of all religious books ever written the Bible is perhaps the most candid. It tells of the mistakes and the sins of the very men which it holds up as examples. Yet the Bible inculcates the highest possible standards of righteousness, in word, deed and thought.

The Faith Before Christ Came.

The first proclamation of God's purposes respecting humanity was made to Abraham. After Abraham had manifested his faith, God declared that He would greatly bless him and his posterity, so that through him would eventually come children who would accomplish the great work of blessing mankind, and who would rescue all from the power of sin and death. "In thee and in thy Seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed."

For years God tested Abraham. Yet "his faith staggered not." After Isaac had been born and as yet had no child, God directed that this son of promise be sacrificed. What a grand development of faith Abraham had acquired when he was ready to obey, accounting that God was able to raise Isaac from the dead! O the blessing of such faith!

It was the same with Isaac and Jacob. That promise influenced the whole course of their lives. Although they understood practically nothing of how God would accomplish so great a blessing, yet their faith laid hold upon the fact. It made them more like God. It shaped every interest of life.

By and by, Israel was called the people of God. The Covenant of Sinai pledged them to be a holy nation. God covenanted with them that if they would keep His Law blamelessly, He would fulfill in them the Promise made to Abraham. He knew that imperfect men could not keep His perfect Law; but He let them try, thereby learning the lesson. Through that lesson He would give instruction to the angels respecting His righteousness, and also to Spiritual Israel, whom later He would develop and through whom the blessing actually would come.

During the Jewish Age, God blessed those Israelites who shared Abraham's faith. St. Paul could enumerate a considerable number who pleased God because of their faith. Those Ancient Worthies, although they will not be the Seed of Abraham in the highest sense, on the spirit plane, will be the seed of blessing on the earthly plane—the channel through which blessings will ultimately come to all nations.

Faith Since Christ Came.

Christ's coming did not change the Divine Purpose, and therefore did not change the faith of God's people. Jesus and the Apostles believed and taught the very Gospel which St. Paul says, God preached to Abraham.

(Galatians 3:8) The Message still was that all the families of the earth would be blessed through Abraham's Seed. But there was an additional feature to be proclaimed; namely, that God had begun the work of providing this Seed—Messiah. God had sent His Son into the world, that He might become the Seed of Abraham on the spirit plane, and eventually fulfill every feature of the original Promise.

Later, under the guidance of the Holy Spirit, the Apostle instructed the early Church that The Messiah would not be one person, but many. Not Jesus alone would be the Seed of Abraham, but Jesus the Head and the Church the Body, would be that Seed. Jesus was represented by the head of Isaac, and the Church by his body, as St. Paul says, "We, brethren, as Isaac was, are the children of Promise."

It has taken the entire Gospel Age to develop this Body, the Church.

This is "the faith once delivered to the saints," the hope set before us in the Gospel, which sanctifies our hearts.

The Water and Sewer Board may charge the Fire Department the sum of fifteen dollars annually for each and every hydrant established within the limits of the town; and for water supplied to fountains, and for other public purposes, they may charge the department of the town for which the water is used the same rates as individuals or corporations would be charged for like purposes.

SECT. 17. The Water and Sewer Board may grant an application for an extension of the water pipes on an unaccepted way, if, in their judgment, the increase in the value of the land abutting on or reached from such way, due to the extension of the water service, will be sufficient to yield an increase in taxes, exclusive of water rates, equal to six per cent, at least on the cost of such extension.

ARTICLE VII.

REGULATIONS FOR THE INSPECTION AND CONSTRUCTION OF BUILDINGS.

INSPECTOR OF BUILDINGS.

SECT. 1. The Board of Selectmen shall annually, in April, appoint an Inspector of Buildings for the term of one year from the first day of May following or until a successor is appointed and has qualified in his stead. His compensation shall be determined by the Board of Selectmen. He shall be familiar with building construction and shall not be interested in any contract for building for the town, or for furnishing materials to the town. The Board of Selectmen shall have power to discharge the Inspector for failure to perform his duties, and to fill any vacancy in his office.

SECT. 2. The Inspector shall keep a record of the business of his office, ascertain all facts and make all returns which shall be required by law. He shall report to the State Board of District Police any violation of the laws of the Commonwealth in relation to the construction of buildings that may come to his notice. He shall, if necessary, enter upon the premises wherein any fire has occurred, in order to investigate the origin of the fire.

BUILDING PERMITS.

SECT. 3. Every person before erecting or altering any building, shall obtain from the Inspector a building permit, first filing therefor an application, in which he shall give a description of the intended building or alteration, shall submit plans and specifications for the same, and state the purpose for which the same is to be used and the dimensions and location of the site.

SECT. 4. The Inspector shall examine all buildings under applications for permits for alterations and make a record of his examination. He shall issue permits for the erection or alteration of buildings in all cases where the proposed new building or altered building will conform to the requirements of this article and to the laws of the Commonwealth, and in such cases only; but permits for his own work or any building in which he is interested, shall be issued only by some disinterested person appointed by the Selectmen for that purpose. No permit shall be valid for a longer time than one year.

SECT. 5. A copy of the plans and specifications of every public building shall be deposited and left on file in the office of the Inspector.

INSPECTION OF BUILDINGS.

SECT. 6. The Inspector shall examine all buildings in course of erection, alteration or repair, as often as practicable, and for that purpose shall have the right of entry thereto, and shall make a record of all violations of this article, with the location of the building where such violations are found, the name of the owner, lessee, occupants, architect and master mechanic, and all other matters relative thereto.

SECT. 7. The Inspector shall examine all buildings reported dangerous, or damaged by accident or fire, and make a record of such examination, including the nature and amount of such damage, with the location of the building, the name of the owner and lessee, and for what purpose occupied, and report the facts to the Board of Selectmen, and, for that purpose, shall have the right of entry thereto.

BOARD OF APPEAL.

SECT. 8. The Board of Selectmen shall annually appoint a committee of three voters of Winchester for the term of one year, or until their successors are appointed and qualified, to be called the Board of Appeal. In case of doubt as to the true meaning, intent or application of any section of this article either the Inspector or any one aggrieved by the ruling of the Inspector thereon, may by petition bring the matter before said Board for determination. The Board shall thereupon give a hearing on such petition and determine the true intent, meaning and application of any section of this article. A decision of a majority of said Board shall be binding on all parties affected thereby.

DEFINITIONS.

SECT. 9. In this article, unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires: — "Cellar" means a basement or lower story, of which one-half or more of the height from the floor to the ceiling is below the level of the street, if adjoining, or if not on a street, below the average grade of the ground outside the wall. "Foundation wall" means that portion of any external wall below the level of the street curb, or, if not on a street, below the grade of the ground outside the wall, and that portion of any partition or division wall below the basement floor. "Division wall" means every wall built in order to be used as a separation of two or more buildings. "Partition wall" means any interior wall of masonry in a building. "External wall" means every outer wall or vertical inclosure, except a division wall, of any building. "Height" of a building means the distance from the top of the outside foundation wall, to the highest part of the roof. SECTION 11. No building already erected, or hereafter built, shall be altered in such manner that, as a whole, it will not conform to the provisions of this article as to new buildings. This section shall not apply to single or double dwelling houses retained as such.

BRICK OR STONE WALLS.

SECTION 12. In all buildings having masonry walls, the brick or stone shall be solidly laid in lime or cement mortar. No stone walls shall be less than eighteen inches thick, if of rubble, or sixteen inches thick, if of blocked stone backed with brick.

In such buildings, all foundation walls, if of brick, shall be at least four inches thicker than the walls directly above, and shall be bracketed out eight inches at least at the base, or rest on a concrete footing eight inches wider than the wall, and one foot thick. Where rubble is used, the wall shall be thoroughly bonded. Foundation walls shall also be thick enough to resist lateral pressure, and the Inspector may order an increase of thickness for that purpose. They shall be laid solid in cement mortar, at least one-half cement to one-half lime, and shall rest on a footing course of large stone or Portland cement concrete, in either case at least eight inches wider than the wall, and at least twelve inches thick. Such walls, if of rubble stone, shall be at least twenty inches thick, and shall also be as many inches thick, less ten, as the wall is high in feet. If of block stone, they may be six inches less in thickness than is required for rubble walls, but shall be at least eighteen inches thick and at least four inches thicker than the wall above.

SECTION 16. In all buildings of more than two stories, the brick external and division walls shall be not less than twelve inches thick throughout the three upper stories and throughout every two stories below shall be four inches thicker than the wall directly above. Not more than twelve feet shall be counted as a story; but tenement or apartment houses of not more than four stories may have external and division walls not less than twelve inches thick.

SECTION 17. Vaulted walls shall contain, exclusive of withes, the same amount of material required for solid walls, and shall be tied together with ties not more than two feet apart every five courses.

SECTION 18. The walls of brick buildings, except dwelling houses, shall be anchored to each other at all corners, every ten feet in their height, by tie anchors, made of at least one and one-quarter inch by three-eighths of an inch wrought iron.

SECTION 19. Each floor and also the roof of all masonry buildings, except dwelling houses, shall have its beams so tied to the walls and to each other with wrought iron straps or anchors, at least one and one-quarter inches by three-eighths of an inch in section, as to form continuous ties across the building not more than eight feet apart. The walls running parallel with the floor joist shall be properly tied to the floor beams once in eight feet by iron straps or anchors of the size above specified.

PROJECTIONS.

SECTION 33. No bay window or other structure, except a cornice, shall be placed upon any building so as to project over any public way or square without the permission of the Board of Selectmen, given after due notice and hearing, and then only in such manner as shall be approved by the Inspector.

LEADERS AND SNOW BARRIERS.

SECTION 34. Water from the roof of a building now or hereafter erected shall not be allowed to flow upon or across the surface of a sidewalk. No person shall permit a leader or conductor from the roof of such a building owned by him to be so placed or maintained as to direct a volume of water upon or across the surface of a sidewalk.

All stud walls and partitions shall have the space between the floor joists immediately under said walls and partitions, and between studs from the under side of said floor joist to a line four inches above the top of said joist, filled solidly with brick and mortar, or some other incombustible material. If such stud wall and partition shall rest on a solid timber or joist, said filling shall be placed from the top of said timber or joist to the same height as above described. When there is no wall or partition below, a strip of metal two inches wider than the said studding may be substituted for filling above described.

SECTION 46. All chimneys hereafter erected shall be constructed of brick, stone or other non-conducting fireproof material laid solid in mortar at least as good as best lime-mortar. Brick chimneys shall be plastered outside below the roofing, except when the brick work is exposed. The walls of all smoke flues shall be eight inches thick or lined with terra-cotta or tile flue linings. Every chimney not attached to a brick wall shall be built so that the centre of gravity of each section shall be six inches inside the chimney walls at the base.

SMOKE PIPES.

SECTION 51. No smoke-pipe shall pass through a stud or wooden partition of any kind, whether the same be plastered or not, unless guarded either by metal collars, with suitable holes for ventilation, or by a soapstone ring. All smoke-pipes passing through closets shall be enclosed in metal pipes with a ventilated air space of at least two inches all around.

No earthenware pipe shall be used for horizontal flues.

No woodwork shall be placed at a less distance than six inches from any metal flue or smoke pipe.

SECTION 52. The smoke-pipes of any hot-air, steam, hot-water heater or other furnace passing beneath wooden beams or ceilings, shall be kept at least twelve inches therefrom, but the pipe may be placed within eight inches of the beam or ceiling if the woodwork shall be protected by a tin shield suspended at least two inches below said beams or ceilings. All other smoke-pipes shall be kept at least ten inches below any wooden beam or ceiling.

FURNACES.

SECTION 53. Tops of furnaces shall be at least one foot, six inches below any wooden beams or ceilings.

Vernon Street; thence running easterly parallel to and thirty feet distant from Mt. Vernon Street to Washington Street; thence running southerly on Washington Street to the southeasterly corner of the Town Hall lot; thence running by the southerly boundary of the Town Hall lot extended to the pond; thence running due south to the parkway; thence by the parkway and Walnut Street to land of the Boston and Maine Railroad; thence across said land of said Boston and Maine Railroad to the point of beginning.

SPECIAL CONSTRUCTION.

SECTION 62. The erection of any building of a kind obviously not contemplated by the preceding sections of this article shall be subject to such analogous restrictions as the Inspector may require.

SECTION 63. The use of various forms of masonry construction such as concrete, concrete blocks, terra-cotta or hollow tile blocks, etc., not expressly provided for in this article shall be subject to such restriction as the Inspector may require in order to conform to the standard of strength and safety otherwise required by this article.

PENALTIES.

SECTION 64. Whoever violates any of the provisions of the preceding sections of this article shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars for each offence.

ARTICLE VIII.

REGULATIONS RELATIVE TO PLUMBING AND DRAINAGE.

PERMITS.

SECTION 1. Upon application of a registered master plumber, on a form furnished by the Board of Health, said board shall grant a written permit to do the plumbing described therein, when in conformity with the law. Drawings of proposed work shall be filed if required. Permits may be revoked by the Board of Health if their conditions are violated. Permits for all plumbing, except for the repair of leaks, must be in the hands of the plumber before beginning any plumbing work.

SEWAGE DISPOSAL.

SECTION 2. Every building, used as a dwelling, tenement or lodging house, or wherein persons are employed, shall be separately connected with the public sewer when such sewer is provided; or if none is provided, with a cesspool constructed of such material and of such capacity as the Board of Health shall direct.

No plumbing shall be connected with the town sewer without the approval of the Board of Health.

No rain conductors, surface or ground water drainage shall be connected with plumbing or drainage pipes which discharge into the public sewer or into cesspools.

Wherever there is a public sewer with which the sewerage system of a building is to be connected, the owner or agent shall before determining the position of the main house sewer, obtain from the Water and Sewer Board the location of the sewer branch which is to serve that building and said connection shall be made in conformity to the rules of said Board.

No sewer from any building shall pass under another building; nor shall a sewer pass within five feet of the outside wall of any building, unless it be of extra heavy cast iron pipe, made with lead joints, thoroughly calked and tested.

Every building in which gasoline, naphtha or other inflammable compounds are used for business purposes shall be provided with a special trap or separator, so designed as to prevent the passage of oils into the sewer, and shall be ventilated with a separate pipe to a point three feet above the roof. The waste of every washstand for vehicles shall be provided with a catch basin so designed that said waste cannot pass into the drain. The waste pipe from the sink of every hotel, restaurant or other public cooking establishment shall be provided with a grease trap. The waste from every fixture, except refrigerators and other receptacles in which provisions are stored, shall be connected directly with the drain pipe.

DRAINAGE SYSTEM.

SECTION 3. The drain, from a point ten feet outwardly from the inside of the wall, shall be of cast iron, and of not less than four inches in diameter. It shall continue, with a one-quarter inch rise at least per foot, to and through the roof or the side of the house to a height of eighteen inches at least in any case, and to a height of eighteen inches above the top of any window or opening within twelve feet of such drain; and if the roof is used for clothes drying or other purposes, such drain shall extend to a height of eight feet at least above the roof. The connection between said drain and the earthen sewer pipe shall be made with Portland cement and shall be approved by the plumbing inspector before being covered. Lateral branches of soil or waste pipes, if more than 20 feet in length, shall be extended undiminished in size, and shall in no case be less than four inches in diameter where they pass to the outer air.

The drains shall, when connected with a cesspool, be provided with a running trap; but when connected with the public sewer a running trap may, at the option of the owner, be omitted; except that in all cases where a running trap has been installed, it shall not be removed without the written consent of the Board of Health. The running trap shall be of the same size as the house sewer, located either outside or inside the foundation walls of the building, but beyond all house connections, and shall be provided with an accessible cleanout.

Soil pipes from water closets shall be not less than four inches internal diameter, except that if it is impracticable to use such pipe, a three-inch soil pipe may, by permission of the Board of Health, be used for one set of bathroom fixtures, which shall comprise one bath tub, one basin and one water closet. Waste pipes from the traps of fixtures, such as sinks, basins, baths or wash trays, shall be of two-inch cast iron with short connections of lead. Such connections shall be of not less than one and one-quarter inch bore, and shall not be branched into each other, but shall be separately connected with the iron pipe.

Connections and changes in direction shall be made with long angle and long sweep bends and Y branches.

MATERIAL OF DRAINAGE SYSTEM.

SECTION 4. Drain, soil, waste and vent pipes and connections, which collectively make up the drainage system within the building, shall be constructed of the following material: extra heavy cast iron, galvanized wrought iron, lead and annealed "iron size" brass pipe. Cast-iron pipe and fittings shall be of a grade known to the trade as extra heavy, plain, and shall be uncoated until approved by the Inspector. All joints in cast-iron pipe shall be made with oakum and lead, run full, calked gas and water tight, and left clean without paint, putty or cement, until approved by the Inspector.

Extra Heavy Cast-iron Pipe shall be of the following diameters and weight:

Diameter (inches)	Pounds per foot
2	5 1-2
3	9 1-2
4	13
5	17
6	20
8	33 1-2
10	45

Wrought iron soil or waste pipes shall be used only with the written permission of the Board of Health and under such conditions as that Board may direct.

If wrought iron vent pipes are used, they shall be galvanized. No slip joints, unions or flanges shall be used on threaded wastes or vents, except that slip joints may be used on the house side of trap to connect fixtures.

Lead pipe shall be of the following diameters and weights:

Diameter (inches)	Weight (pound per foot)
1 1-4	2 1-2
1 1-2	3
2	4
3	6
4	8

No lead waste up to and including two inches in diameter, unless exposed, shall be more than eight feet in length, including inlet and outlet of trap. A three inch or four inch diameter waste shall not be more than two feet in length.

Lead bends and traps shall correspond to the above weights.

Brass sleeves for connecting lead and cast iron pipes shall be extra heavy, at least one-eighth of an inch thick. Brass solder nipples for connecting lead and threaded pipes shall be either cast metal or seamless drawn tubing, size and weight corresponding with pipe to be connected. In connecting lead pipe together, or to brass caking, or soldering nipples, full-sized wiped joints shall be used. Clean-outs, plungers, stoppers or any other fittings used in the drainage system shall correspond in weight and material with the above description.

FASTENING PIPES.

SECTION 5. Drain, soil, waste and vent pipes shall be supported every five feet on horizontal runs, and at least once in each story on vertical lines; horizontal runs shall be supported from beneath, or hung from overhead by iron "stirrup" hangers, not less than five-sixteenths of an inch in diameter. Vertical stacks shall be fastened by pipe rest at the floor, or clamps, drive hooks or hangers to the adjacent walls.

TRAPS.

SECTION 6. The waste pipe of every independent fixture shall be furnished with a separate trap, which shall be placed as nearly as practicable to the fixture which it serves. A sink and set of not more than three wash trays, or bathtub and basin, or any two similar fixtures, when they adjoin, may be connected with the house drain through one round trap not less than four inches in diameter if the waste pipes are not more than three feet in length from the floor line to the trap on the bathtub and basin and if the waste centres are not more than five feet apart on the sink and trays. The waste pipe of each fixture shall enter the trap separately, and the waste from the trap must be one size larger than the inlet pipes. Four washbowls or sinks in a continuous line may be connected with the house drain through one four-inch round trap. Lead bends for water-closets or slop sinks shall not be used to connect the waste with other fixtures. Earthen-ware traps shall have heavy brass floor plates soldered to the lead bends and bolted to the trap flange, and the joint made tight with grafting wax or other substance satisfactory to the Board of Health. A trap depending upon concealed partitions to retain its seal shall not be approved, except for earthen ware fixtures where the trap seal is plainly visible. Trap screws for cleaning purpose shall be placed in all metal traps and shall be accessible at all times. All fixture traps shall be so installed that the water seal will protect the trap screw from sewer air. When side clean out traps are placed between ceilings and floors they shall be provided with an accessible and proper safe.

STABLES, GARAGES, LABORATORIES, ETC.

SECTION 7. Drainage of stalls, stable fixtures, garages and laboratories shall be installed in accordance with plans approved by the Board of Health.

CLEANOUTS.

SECTION 8. Every house sewer, soil or waste pipe shall have accessible heavy brass plug cleanouts with iron or brass bodies and taper threads, at such points as the Inspector shall deem necessary. A main cleanout shall be provided at every building below all connections and in as direct a line as possible with the street sewer connections.

VENT, BACK AIR PIPES, ETC.

SECT. 9. Traps shall be protected from siphonage and back pressure by special iron or brass air pipes of the same size as the waste. A continuous system of venting shall be used, and back air pipes shall not be connected to the trap or branched into the waste pipe except where a continuous vent is not practicable. Traps of 8 form shall not have more than twenty-four inches of waste pipe from trap to vent. Round traps not less than nine inches long and four inches in diameter may be placed five feet from the vent pipe. Two water-closets or two other traps on the same level, with not more than two feet of waste pipe and which connect with soil or waste pipe not more than eighteen inches below the top water line of the trap, shall not require other vent than the continuation of the soil or waste pipe full size for its whole length. Lead air pipes may be used for short connections only, and where exposed to view.

SCHEDULE OF BACK AIR PIPES AND VENTS FOR FIXTURES.

Fixtures	Size of Pipe (inches)	Greatest length allowed (feet)	Maximum Number of Fixtures
Baths, basins, sinks, urinals or similar fixtures	1 1/2	30	3
Water-closets, or slop sinks	2	70	9
	3	70	21
	4	70	3
	5	70	9

Two or more air pipes may be connected, but such connection must be made above the top of the fixture. All vent pipes shall be at least four inches in diameter where they pass through the roof. Vent lines shall be so graded that no condensation will remain in the pipes. In case of batteries of water-closets, the special air pipe from each trap may be omitted, provided the soil or waste pipe, undiminished in size, is continued to a point above the roof, or connected into the main system above all fixtures.

"Bow" venting will not be allowed except by special permission of the Board of Health, in which case the "bow" must be run the full size of pipe as high as the top of the fixture and returned without being trapped.

In buildings where there is only one water-closet and not more than two other traps, and said closet is connected below the traps and all traps are not more than three feet from the main sewer pipe, no back venting shall be required.

When old fixtures are replaced by new ones in plumbing, which was constructed prior to the adoption of these regulations, and the traps attached to bath tubs, basins, sinks and wash trays are round traps not less than four inches in diameter and the waste pipe is not over five feet in length between such traps and the main soil pipe or drain, and the main soil pipe extends full size through the roof, a separate air pipe shall not be required. No connection of old plumbing with the public sewer shall be made that does not conform to such requirement.

TESTING AND INSPECTION.

SECT. 10. Pipes or other fixtures shall not be covered or concealed from view until approved by the Inspector of Plumbing. The work shall be examined and tested within two working days after notice that it is ready for inspection. Plumbing shall not be used unless, when roughed in, the wastes, vents, back air pipes and all caulked joints have first been tested in the presence of the Inspector, by water or sufficient air pressure, as the Inspector may require.

When the work in a building is sufficiently advanced so that the water may be turned on to test the fixtures, the plumber doing such work shall, within five days thereafter, notify the Inspector in writing. The Inspector shall within two working days after receipt of such notice examine the work. Should the examination disclose any defects, the plumber shall be notified in writing and required to remedy the same without delay, and he shall again notify the Inspector as before. Should a plumber holding a permit neglect to send the notice as required, or neglect to remedy said defects for a period of more than five days, he shall not be granted any further permits until he shall have complied with these regulations and rules, or until action is taken by the Board of Health, and should such neglect be continued ten days longer, the Inspector shall file a complaint with the Board reciting all the facts of the case. The Board shall then take such action as it may deem advisable.

WATER-CLOSETS.

SECT. 11. Every building for habitation shall have such number of water-closets as the Board of Health may require, but in no case less than one for each tenement. Every building where persons are employed shall have at least one water closet for every fifteen persons employed therein; and in every building where persons of both sexes are employed, separate accommodations shall be furnished for each sex. Every enclosure containing one or more water-closets shall be provided with adequate ventilation to the outer air, either by window or suitable light shaft. No water-closet shall be set in any room or apartment that has not a window having an area of at least two square feet opening directly to the external air, unless there is a pipe of not less than three inches in diameter leading to a heated flue or other vent pipe. Water-closets shall be supplied with water from a tank above, or by flush valves set just above the seat, which in turn are supplied from tank or other adequate supply, capable of delivering five gallons of water to the closet in ten seconds. In all cases the flush pipe shall be not less than one and one quarter inches in diameter. Where local vents are used they shall connect with a heated flue when possible, and shall be not less than two inches for each fixture. All local vents shall be so constructed as not to act as a soil or waste pipe should the fixture become stopped. Connection to the flue shall be made by wrought or cast-iron pipe, properly cemented; other piping may be of galvanized iron.

DRIP AND OVERFLOW WASTES.

SECT. 12. All drip or overflow pipes from tanks, coolers, safes or fixtures, or waste pipes from refrigerators or other receptacles for the storage of food or provisions, shall be carried to some open sink or place where they may be at all times visible.

No steam exhaust, blow off or drip pipe shall connect with the house sewer, soil, waste or vent pipe. Such pipes shall discharge into a suitable tank or condenser from which a proper outlet shall be provided.

DEFECTIVE PLUMBING, ETC.

SECT. 13. Alterations made in plumbing already in use, except as provided in section nine, shall in the future, be in accordance with these regulations, and such alterations shall be ordered by the Board of Health whenever in their opinion they judge it necessary for the public health and safety. It shall be so adjudged when after examination by the Inspector any old plumbing work is found to be defective.

If the Inspector finds old plumbing to be defective he shall report to the Board of Health the nature of the defects, and furnish the owner with a copy of his report. Should the owner neglect to remedy the defect within the time specified by the Inspector, the Board shall set a time for a hearing, and shall give the owner at least three days notice thereof, so that he may attend and show cause why he should not be required to make the alterations. Thereupon the Board may, if in its judgment the public safety and health so require, order such defect to be remedied.

When buildings which formerly connected with vaults or cesspools, are connected with the sewer, the old connection shall be uncovered outside of the building, a section of the same removed and the ends solidly cemented by the plumber.

The vaults and cesspools shall also be discontinued and filled by the owner with proper materials within three months after the sewer connection is made.

PENALTIES.

SECT. 14. Whoever violates any of the provisions of this article shall be liable to a fine of not more than fifty dollars for each offence.

ARTICLE IX.

REPEAL.

SECT. 1. All by-laws or parts of by-laws heretofore adopted which are inconsistent with the provisions of the foregoing by-laws, are hereby repealed and annulled; but the provisions of the foregoing by-laws, so far as they are the same as the provisions of by-laws heretofore adopted, shall be construed as a continuation thereof, and not as new enactments.

SECT. 2. The repeal of a by-law heretofore adopted shall not affect any act done, ratified or confirmed, or any right accrued or established, nor any action, suit or proceeding commenced or had in a civil case, nor affect any punishment, penalty or forfeiture incurred under such a by-law.

Messingwell's Failure

He Kept His Promise Faithfully

By CLARISSA MACKIE

The telephone bell rang sharply, and the girl at the typewriter paused and drew the receiver to her ear. She frowned as she recognized the voice at the other end of the wire.

"Perhaps you better talk to Mr. Messingwell; wait a moment, please," she said, pressing a button at the side of her desk. She hung up the receiver, but did not resume her interrupted occupation. From behind the closed glass door of her employer's private office came the deep bass murmur of his voice as he talked with Rudolph Fearing.

Suddenly she caught her breath as Messingwell's voice rang suddenly sharp and distinct to her listening ears. "Very well, Fearing; if you don't hear from me by noon you can do your worst—and go to the devil afterward!" Then she heard the receiver slammed on its hook and the creak of his chair as he swung away from his desk.

Emily Carman had been Alden Messingwell's chief clerk for two years.

It was a losing game for Messingwell. He had come at the bidding of a dying father to carry on the long established business of Messingwell & Co., which old Messingwell and a spendthrift younger son had managed to involve almost to the point of failure when a death stroke had fallen low. The younger son had taken himself as far away from the tottering business as his means would permit, and so Alden was left with his promise to fulfill to the best of his ability.

"I'll do the best I can, father," he promised. "I'm not a good business man—doctors seldom are, you know—but as long as I have a penny to my name the old sign shall swing above the office door."

His father had begged him to keep up the appearance of prosperity. "The business will come back again, Alden. Just give it a chance to recover from the depression."

The depression was a thing of the past, and prosperity was abroad in the land, and there still remained the decaying business, perhaps a little strengthened here and there, but bound to die in the near future. The machinery in the long mill buildings was out of date, and Messingwell's methods were hopelessly old fashioned.

The week before Alden had closed down the mills and given the hands two weeks' vacation. The notice tacked on the door spoke of an "inventory" being taken, but Rudolph Fearing had laughed as he read it and promptly bired all of the Messingwell hands for his own modern, up to the minute factories. He knew that Alden had not the money to pay his workers another week's wages; that there were no orders on his books; that failure was staring the unfortunate physician in the face.

Emily Carman knew all these things and so she hesitated before she turned the knob that opened the door between her office and Messingwell's. At last she summoned courage and slipped inside, standing with her slender, erect figure beside him.

"Did you call me, Mr. Messingwell?" she inquired.

He swung about and turned a pale, despondent face toward her. "No, I didn't call, Miss Carman. But," he paused for an instant and looked in her face for the flash of sympathy he had never failed to find there, and again he was rewarded, "did you know Fearing had bought up every obligation we owe?" he asked bluntly.

"I heard it yesterday," she said steadily.

"He gives me until noon to settle, then he will close me up for good. I've made a mess of it all!" he ended with sudden passion. "I ought to have hired a manager and kept out of it myself."

She permitted a little silence to follow in order that he might recover his poise. Then she said: "Of course it seems hard to let the business go to a man like Rudolph Fearing, but every firm must come to an end some day, timely or otherwise. If you sell all the buildings, machinery and fixtures I have calculated there would be enough to wipe out all the obligations and leave a clean record for the firm of Messingwell & Co."

His astonishment was genuine. "You have calculated?" he repeated. "You have estimated the possibility of my giving up—you have seen what a blanked failure I am?" He smiled bitterly and turned his eyes away from her.

"It isn't failure to withdraw from business because one cannot honorably carry it on," she returned with spirit. "If failure is the ultimate end, why not draw out before it actually happens and thus frustrate the end?"

He shook his head hopelessly. "I promised father I'd hang on to the business as long as I had a penny. I haven't got much now, but I think I know how I can save Fearing off for awhile."

"You cannot do it, Mr. Messingwell," said Emily sadly. "If he holds all the notes you can't force him to arbitrate." "I'll borrow the money from somebody and pay him off," replied Alden, reaching for his hat. "We'll struggle along somehow for another month, and if Sherwood will only make in a few orders on this trip we may be able to start up once more."

"Who are you going to borrow it from?" asked Emily, and so much a part of his business and she now became that Alden Messingwell did not consider whether his chief clerk was overstepping the bounds of her position or not. Only those two knew the real situation of the Messingwell mills.

"I'll go to Giles. He offered to put me on my feet once before," Alden stood with his hand on the doorknob.

"At ruinous interest, and he'd sell you out to Mr. Fearing without the slightest compunction," exclaimed Emily.

"I've got to do something," cried Alden and left the office.

Half an hour later he came back, white and shaking. He beckoned Miss Carman into his office and closed the door. "He turned me down—he turned me down, Miss Carman," he gritted between his teeth. "He treated me as if I had been a beggar suing for alms, and he talked loud enough to inform his whole office force the nature of my errand. That is the man my father set up in business—who might have been drawing kerosene in a country grocery to this day if father had not helped him!" He threw himself down in the chair and pulled the telephone toward him. "By the way, Miss Carman, please type a notice that owing to business troubles I must discontinue the entire office help from tomorrow night. Bring it here and I'll sign it and put it up in the main office. I shall be glad if you will stay with me until matters are closed up, if you will do so."

"Certainly," said Miss Carman and left the room to do his bidding. As she closed the door she heard Messingwell telephoning to his lawyer.

It was an eventful day in the mill offices. The startling notice of dismissal agitated the half dozen men and women at the various desks, and there was little work done that afternoon. Emily Carman made up the weekly pay roll and discovered that it amounted to exactly $85 more than the balance in the bank. That was a paltry $8.00 and ought not to be touched if they were going into the hands of a receiver.

But it didn't go into the hands of a receiver, for somehow Messingwell's lawyer got an extension of time from Fearing and in the meanwhile got in touch with an official of the trust and offered the Messingwell mills and enviable site for sale, and the trust accepted the offer and paid a sum sufficient to clear the good name of the old company and leave the erstwhile doctor a little balance to start him once more in his profession. As for Rudolph Fearing, it was the worst turn of business he ever attempted, for in course of time the trust forced him to the wall, and he had to sell out or go under, so he sold out and became a manager in what had formerly been his own business.

The last day of office work came for Emily Carman when the affairs of Messingwell & Co. were finally wound up. She had accepted a position with the trust when the mills should start up again, but she looked very downhearted as she closed the desk where she had sat so long with Alden Messingwell's responsibilities heavy on her young shoulders.

As she leaned weakly against her desk his deep voice suddenly pronounced her name, and she looked up to see him standing in the doorway looking down at her with a queer expression in his grey eyes.

"Miss Carman, to hark back to the day when we dismissed the clerks, will you please explain how you managed to pay them off with a sum aggregating $90 when you didn't have a penny in the cash drawer and the bank account was tied up?"

She steeled her voice with difficulty. "Why—why, Dr. Messingwell? (giving him the title that was his once more) I knew it was only a temporary embarrassment, and so—so I happened to have some money saved and I was glad to do it," she ended breathlessly.

"I know you were glad to do it, Miss Carman. You're been the pluckiest little partner that a man ever had! I've been going over things and I find that you haven't drawn half of the salary coming to you, besides advancing $90 that last day. You've borne my responsibilities and—and—" He could not control his voice and it broke strangely.

"Please don't say any more. I have not missed the money, and some day when things go better you can pay it back. Now I must go." She held out her hand. "I wish you much success, Dr. Messingwell, and—"

He held her hand tightly and looked down at her flushed face and suddenly confused eyes. Gone was the demurely quiet, young business woman, and in her place was the loveliest, shrinking girl imaginable.

"Emily," said Messingwell at last, "success won't mean anything to me unless you are my partner in it. Do you understand what I mean, dear?"

Her face drooped until he could see nothing save her crown of lovely hair, so he was emboldened to take her in his arms and explain to her what he really meant—as if she did not know! "Could you—would you marry such a fool as I am, darling?" pleaded the doctor in her pink ear. "I've made a failure of the business, and I don't blame you if you haven't faith in me."

Suddenly Emily looked up and her eyes were filled with happy tears. "Alden," she interrupted, "have you failed in everything?"

He looked deep down in her eyes and then kissed her lips. "My failures have been small indeed, dear, beside the winning of your love," he said tenderly.

A CURIOUS COURT

It Is Held Annually When France Pays Tribute to Spain.

PRICE OF AN ANCIENT PEACE.

After More Than Five Centuries Three Calves Are Still Humbly Presented Each Year to the Haughty Descendants of the Victorious Spaniards.

Every year there takes place in the Pyrenean highlands a remarkable fête. It is held at the boundary stone of San Martin, which separates the French valley Barreton from the Spanish valley of Roncal. Every year the representatives of the French peasants assemble there in order to pay the Spaniards a tribute, which consists of three calves of the same age and the same color, and the delivery of the calves is accompanied by ceremonies which sufficiently indicate that the old inhabitants of the Roncal valley were once victorious over their neighbors.

At 9 o'clock in the morning the mayors of the various villages in the Barreton valley, bravely adorned with their blue, white and red scarfs of office, march up to the boundary stone. In front of the column walks a lad, with a pike, from the point of which dutters a little white pennon as a gage of peace. The three calves are dragged in the rear of the procession at the end of long ropes. Calves and scarfs take up their position by the stone and await the arrival of the Spaniards.

They are soon visible in the distance. In front walks a man clad in sheepskins, who waves a red pennon at the end of a pike as a sign of war. Behind him walks the alcalde of Isaba, the principal village in the valley of Roncal, and following him come the alcaldes of the other villages, their staffs of office in their hands. The bulk of the procession consists of shepherds, stern looking fellows armed with old sabers and matchlocks.

The alcalde of Isaba is all glorious to behold in a long black garment fastened by gold buttons, a tall white ruff, tight fitting knee breeches, red silk stockings and buckled shoes. A sombrero covers his head, and in his hands he holds the staff adorned with silver knobs, the emblem in Spain of magisterial dignity.

As soon as the Spaniards reach the rendezvous the alcalde of Isaba steps to the front and addresses them in solemn ceremonial style:

"Are you come to pay tribute and swear friendship according to old custom and tradition?"

"That is the reason of our coming," answer the French.

Then the two standard bearers approach the boundary stone and lay their pikes crosswise upon it. After a few moments the Spaniard takes his up again, sticks it into French soil and then places it as before on the stone. On the cross formed by the two shafts the representatives of the two valleys swear to keep the peace with loyal mind.

Then follows the delivery of the three calves to the Spaniards. They are examined by a veterinary surgeon and accepted, after which all present take up their stations under a shady oak, and, following the example of the good St. Louis of France and Alfonso the Wise of Spain, the alcalde of Isaba enthrones himself among the gnarled roots of the oak and proceeds to act as a magistrate.

Shepherds and netherds pass before him and prefer their international complaints. The judge listens to both sides, bids them bring forward their witnesses and delivers judgment without delay, inflicting a fine on one, awarding compensation to another, punishing one and affording satisfaction to his victim.

After all the quarrels are settled the alcalde undertakes the appointment of the pasture guardians for both valleys, so that he enjoys even greater authority in the township of Barreton than the president of the republic himself. Finally, they all betake themselves to Spanish soil, where a Homeric feast is set out and fill into the night the banquet goes on, the descendants of the old warlike mountain peoples drinking together in brotherly unity in commemoration of the conclusion of the peace of 1375 and the installation of the above ceremonies.

About 300 years after this treaty had been made the French began to refuse to pay the tribute and after some negotiations they consented to continue it in more modern times they tried to get the tribute commuted to a sum of money but the Spaniards declined, but agreed to forego the firing of guns in the direction of France as being a wound to French amour propre.—London Spectator.

FOOLED THE OFFICIAL.

Clever Trick a Daring Dacoit Played Upon an Englishman.

It was years ago in Burma. The English government was having trouble with a certain princely rascallat named Boh Toh, "the most daring and enterprising of the Dacoits." A heavy price had been set upon the rebel's head, but still Boh Toh was cunningly elusive.

At last, hard pressed, Boh Toh tried a new tack. He walked straight into the office of the commissioner.

"I am Boh Toh," he said simply. "I have come to surrender."

Exactly what he had counted on now happened. Fourteen years' experience with eastern subtlety and intrigue had taught the commissioner to be wary.

"Thank you," he said. "We will now proceed to discover who you really are and what you really want. Tell me, what do you expect to get out of this?"

"Ten thousand rupees," said the Boh quietly.

The commissioner, although a cool man, was a little staggered. "I don't quite follow," he murmured.

"Yet it's quite simple," whispered the Boh. "The government promises 10,000 rupees to the man who brings you the head of Boh Toh. I give it to you."

"Capital," was the wary answer. "But as you lose your head what good does the money do you?"

"My wife and children get the money."

"Pretty good, my man, but not quite good enough. Ten thousand rupees will be nothing to Boh Toh."

"If it were not I should not be here. I am sure to be captured. My family might as well have the money while I can still command it."

"But why shouldn't I keep the money? I hand your head over, you know."

"Because you are an English gentleman. I chose my man, you see."

The commissioner mused awhile. Then he broke silence. "Look here, I know you are not the Boh. That is quite clear. I don't care who you are, but tell me frankly what you want."

The Burman hesitated awhile. Then he said: "You are right. But my life is worth as little as the Boh's. I have betrayed him and robbed him. He has sworn revenge. Give me an escort as far as Mandalay. Here, take these notes for 1,000 rupees—he had laid them on the table—and keep them if in twelve days' time I do not tell you how and when you can capture the Boh. Keep them till the Boh is caught if you prefer."

The commissioner thought hard and in silence for quite two minutes.

"I agree," he said at length.

So the Boh was safely escorted to Mandalay. Later the commissioner received a letter from him.

"You may keep those rupees," it ran, "which I, Boh Toh, left with you twelve days ago. I told you the truth. You would not believe me. The English government likes truth, and it likes money, but they never want both. I think, at the same time."—Youth's Companion.

The Most Crowded Street.

The supreme sensation of New York's east side is the sensation of the astounding population. The most populous street in the world—Livingston street—is a sight not to be forgotten. Compared to this, an uptown thoroughfare of crowded middle class flats in the open country is an uninhabited desert. The architecture seemed to sweat humanity at every window and door. The roadways were often impossible. The thought of the hidden interiors would not bear thinking about. The fancy shunned them—a problem not to be settled by sudden municipal edicts, but only by the edicts of generations.—Harper's Magazine.

Heroism of an Indian.

A few years ago in northern Mexico a truck carrying a load of dynamite for use at a mine was suddenly discovered to be on fire at a village station. The risk was imminent, so the driver of a locomotive engine picked the truck up and ran it away into the country at all the speed he could put on. He bade the brakeman jump off and save himself, adding, "I go to my death." When he had got a mile away the dynamite exploded. Every window in the village was broken, and he was blown to atoms, but the inhabitants were saved. He was a pure blooded Indian.—"South America," by James Bryce.

A Man Hater

Bitter Experience Made Her One

By MARTHA A. HARDING

My father died when I was six years old and my mother two years later. At my mother's death I went to live with my aunt. She had made an unfortunate marriage in her youth and had been divorced. Her husband was still living, and she did not marry again. One matrimonial experience was quite enough for her. But she possessed a fortune, and her husband, who was a lawyer by profession, was on the watch for any technicality that would enable him to get any of it. For instance, the laws of the state in which she lived required that the husband should join with the wife in conveying real estate. My aunt owned the house in which she lived, and her husband would not join in a deed conveying it unless she would give him half the amount of the purchase money.

My aunt did not wish to sell her house, but the matter opened her eyes to what she had to fear from her husband, especially if he outlived her. I was to be her heir, and she dreaded lest he should attempt to break any will she should make in my favor with a view to depriving me of my inheritance.

Her fears did not end here. Suppose I should have the ill luck she had experienced in making a marriage. The idea was horrible to her. Scarcely a day passed that she did not remind me of the dangers incurred in taking a husband and always ended by advising me to lead a life of spinsterhood.

These constant admonitions served to defeat the purpose for which they were intended. The quickest way to get a young person to do anything is to warn him or her against it. Youngsters wish to see "the folly of it" as well as their seniors. There is another adage that works in connection with this one. "Stolen fruit is the sweetest." I not only wished to marry because my aunt warned me not to do so, but I was ready to enter upon a love affair without her knowing it.

I was but seventeen when I met Charlie Edson, and he showed a predisposition in my favor. He was half a dozen years older than I and was considered a fine young man by all who knew him.

Nevertheless I question if our intimacy would have ripened into love had I not told him that my aunt was opposed to my marrying any one, and I expected to be an old maid. My aunt's action had the same effect on Charlie that it had on me. He began to make love to me at once, and I experienced the delightful sensation of eating stolen fruit.

This was enjoyable only for a short time. Love leads to matrimony, and the first thing I knew my delight was turned to worry. My lover, who was more far-sighted than I, inferred that if I took a step toward marriage without my aunt's consent she might cut me off from my expected inheritance. I did not think she would do that, but the possibility of her doing it troubled me. Charlie was a clerk with a salary of $70 a month, and he at least had sense enough to know that marriage between us on such an income meant hard times ahead.

But when two persons are violently in love with each other prudence hides her face. After much tribulation we did what many youngsters have done before us to their cost. We went to a parson and got married, he alone knowing of the marriage. Then I went home and Charlie went home, and where there was worry before there was now misery.

It happened soon after this that my aunt's divorced husband attempted by process of law to get possession of a certain piece of property she owned by means of a paper he had induced her to sign when they were living together, or, rather, the attempt was to levy blackmail, since he offered to withdraw the suit if she would pay him a stipulated sum. This act so infuriated her, so filled her with horror at what she called the iron chains of matrimony that she sent for her attorney and made a new will, which prevented my getting possession of her estate after her death in case I was then married. Her object was to save me from the iron chains, and this was the only way she could effect that object.

No sooner had she made this new will than she informed me of the fact. Imagine my astonishment and my chagrin. My first impulse was to throw myself into her arms and confess, but I remembered that I had a husband with whom to consult, so I only said: "Well, aunt, I suppose that makes me an old maid."

"Rather say it insures you from the persecution of some demon of a man." When I told Charlie of what had happened he was sick at heart, blaming himself for having deprived me of a fortune. But we were both young and full of vigor, and before the end of our interview we agreed that we would rather have each other than the fortune, and since we couldn't have both we were satisfied. Our financial outlook was not pleasing, but there is more zest in having a world to conquer than having a conquered world. Our chief concern was what to do in the immediate future. If I confessed to my aunt what I had done she might tell me to go to my husband and suffer the consequences of my deception. We are all prone to put off an evil day, and Charlie and I concluded to keep our secret and live the lives we were living apart till such time as we could see our way to set up housekeeping in its simplest form.

It was a long while before my aunt recovered from the effects of her husband's attempt sufficiently to cease talking about it, inveighing against matrimony and an occasional remark to me:

"If ever I catch you listening to the poisoned words of any young rascal I'll turn you out of the house." But after a while she ceased to get wrought up over it and in time not to speak of it at all.

Then the old lady was taken with an illness from which she was not destined to recover. She had been very good to me and loved me very dearly. I felt it my duty as well as my choice to devote myself to her comfort. While doing this it was impossible for me to meet my husband except at long intervals and then for brief interviews. My aunt was very exacting and kept me with her nearly all the while. Moreover, I would not for the world have her discover that I had repaid her kindness to me by rejecting her wishes for me and deceiving her in doing it. So anxious was I to save her this disappointment that I pretended to agree with the repugnance to marriage she had expressed and declared that I would never marry. In this falsehood my conscience was soothed by a mental reservation. What I meant was that I would not marry a second time.

I supposed that this satisfied my dear aunt, for she never again referred to the subject either generally or pertaining especially to me. But from this time forward I judged that she was chiefly concerned for herself, for she was failing every day, and the affairs of this world seemed to be receding further and further from her. For a week before her death she knew that her end was approaching and for the first time seemed concerned about leaving me to live alone.

One day shortly before her death she said to me: "You are looking pale and thin. I am wearing the life out of you. I wish you to go out this afternoon and not return till it is dark."

I protested that I was perfectly able to bear the strain and did not need an outing, but she insisted on it, and since she was in no condition to be opposed I assented. I was not sorry to be sent out and went at once to a telephone, where I called up Charlie, and we spent the afternoon together. I did not get back to the sick chamber till an hour after dark.

I was met in the hall by the trained nurse, who told me that my aunt was dead.

Notwithstanding that the event was expected I was shocked, especially that I was away when it occurred. I was doubly pained when the nurse told me that my aunt had called for me and seemed much disturbed that I had not left word where I was going. The poor woman seemed to have something of importance to say to me before she died that she would not confide to any one else.

The day after the funeral I took my aunt's will—she had turned it over to me soon after being stricken by her last illness—and in company with my husband went to her attorney to turn it over to him and confess that I was a married woman and could not inherit under its provisions. He looked at it, noting its date, signature and other points with that method common to those of his profession, then, going to his safe, opened a drawer, and, taking out a document, brought it to us.

"I have a later will here," he said. "A later will!" I exclaimed. "Surely that can't be. My aunt gave me this one when she was taken ill and cannot have made another."

"Nevertheless she did, and that on the afternoon she died. I was telephoned for and went to her immediately. This is the result."

He handed me a bit of paper, on which was scarcely a hundred words, leaving to me my aunt's estate without any condition whatever. I read it and handed it to Charlie. Then we both looked at each other—I through wet eyes—and Charlie took me in his arms.

"What do you suppose my aunt wished to say to me before she died?" I asked the lawyer promptly.

"This will can have brought here," he replied, "indicated you in case you were married. Your aunt wished me to draw a new will compelling you to marry in order to inherit under it. I suggested that it might complicate matters for you and result in turning her estate over to her husband. I therefore suggested the simpler form. I think that what she wished to say to you was that she dreaded leaving you unprotected; recalled what she had said to you about marriage and hoped you would find a good husband."

"I have already found one," I replied, and my assertion turned out to be true. My aunt's husband endeavored to break the will on the ground that the testator was not of sound mind when the will was made and had influenced her to leave all to me.

It was fortunate that I had a husband to look out for my interests, or I am sure my property would have gone either to the man my aunt most wished should not have it or to the lawyers and the chancery courts. Charlie made an admirable manager for the business, very sensibly compromising with the husband for a small sum in cash.

The moral of my story is "do not decide from a single experience," and the moral of my experience is "do not act clandestinely in a case of especial moment, if at all."

THE CUTTLEFISH.

Its Queer Ink Sac and Its Ability to Change Its Color.

Sepla is a peculiar animal substance obtained from the ink bags or ink sacs of cuttlefish.

The cuttlefish are a group of singular sea creatures allied to slugs, snails, oysters and other so-called "shell fish."

The cuttlefish has a sort of shell beneath the skin (sold under the name of "cuttlebone"), a pair of large eyes and a horny beak. Like all molluscs, they have no real limbs at all, but from around the head there spring eight or ten long tentacles, each armed with numerous suckers.

By forcibly squirting out the sea water which it has taken in the sepla can shoot backward through the water with great speed. The sepla is interesting, too, as being able to change its color in a measure so as to harmonize with its surroundings. Just under the topmost layer of skin there are distributed all over the surface of the body a number of cells, containing a dark pigment. When these cells are expanded the surface of the body becomes darkly spotted, but as they are contracted the creature looks paler.

Though best developed in the sepla and its nearest allies, nearly every member of the cuttlefish group possesses an ink sac. The ink sac contains the dark pigment secreted by a special gland. When discovered or pursued by an enemy the sepla discharges some of its ink through a sort of funnel or tube. The pigment mixes with water very quickly and forms a dark cloud of laky water, beyond which the sepla will dart into safety.

Sepls are often caught in nets with fish. The fishermen, desiring the cuttlefish, throw them out upon the beach, and then they may be seen lying in tiny pools of dense black liquid and continually oozing out more ink in a vain attempt at concealment.—Chicago Tribune.

BROKE IT GENTLY.

He Didn't Know Exactly What to Do, So They Came to His Rescue.

A young author and critic, who has come to be an authority upon a certain modern phase of education, went a few days ago to deliver his first lecture at a girls' school. He had lectured before, but never at a young ladies' seminary, and as two white frocked, curly haired ushers led him out to the platform and he sat down beside the matronly principal among the women who made up the faculty and faced a sea of girls' faces he was young enough to feel a bit of embarrassment himself.

It was rather difficult at first, but once the lecture was started things went all right. He finished what he had to say and sat down. The audience and the matronly principal and the women who made up the faculty clapped their hands enthusiastically. Then the applause died down and silence settled upon the lecture hall. The young man sat on waiting for some one to say something, dimly conscious that a move of one kind or another was expected of him. But his lecture was finished. He had said all he had to say. There were no questions from faculty or students. A few of the girls began to giggle, but no one spoke.

The young man became unpleasantly aware that he was expected to do something and to do it at once, but he did not know what to do. He reflected uneasily that he did not know the etiquette of a girls' school anyhow. And then there was a signal from the principal and a move in the audience, and the prettier of the two girl ushers approached him, a little embarrassed, a little shy, determined to do her duty. "I'm so sorry, Mr. B., she murmured, "but I'm afraid you'll have to—you'll have to start right this minute if you want to make your train!"—New York Times.

Careful With Their Lemons.

"In English inns," said a man who had just returned from a long coaching trip in England, "they do not use lemons in our haphazard fashion. They make the use of one more or less of a solemn rite. I remember asking for a 'horse's neck' in a little inn in the north country. The landlord had never heard of the drink, and I explained to him that it was ginger ale with a lemon peel in it. He went back to the bar and returned presently with an empty tray. 'I'm very sorry, sir,' he said, 'but we haven't got a lemon open just now.'"—New York Tribune.

His Disease.

When Lord Chancellors Campbell, then plain Campbell, married Miss Scarlett and departed on his wedding trip, Justice Abbott observed when a cause was called on in the bench: "I thought, Mr. Brougham, that Mr. Campbell was in this case." "Yes, my lord," replied Brougham; "but I understand he is suffering from Scarlett fever."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Would Be Terrible.

"The doctors are going to operate on her." "What's wrong?" "Something about the coat of her stomach. I understand." "I hope they don't find it out of style. She'd never get over that."—Kansas City Journal.

The Spirit of Love.

You will find as you look back upon your life that the moments that stand out above everything else are the moments when you have done things in a spirit of love.—Henry Drummond.

Dispatch is the soul of business, and nothing contributes more to dispatch than method.—Lord Chesterfield.

CHANCE FORECASTS.

Writers of Old Who Dimly Pointed to Modern Inventions.

Chance phrases in the literary works of other days describe with uncanny exactness inventions of far later times. For instance, we find in the "Prolusions" of Strada the Roman, which were published in the year 1617, what might be held to embody a crude description of wireless telegraphy.

Strada represents two friends as carrying on a correspondence by means of a "certain loadstone which has such virtue in it that, if it touches two needles when one of the needles begins to move, the other, although at ever so great a distance, moves at the same time and in the same manner."

In 1674 Robert Hooke published a work wherein he observed that as glasses improve the vision so ways might be found to improve our other senses. "It is not impossible," says he, "to hear a whisper a distance of a furlong, and perhaps the nature of the thing would not make it impossible although that furlong should be ten times multiplied." This seems to be a fair forecast of the telephone.

In "Gulliver's Travels" Swift causes his hero to relate in the voyage to Laputa that the astronomers there "have likewise discovered the two lesser stars or satellites which revolve about Mars." This has been held to constitute a satire on sham science. Nevertheless Professor Asaph Hall a few years ago discovered the two tiny satellites.

It was more than 1,700 years ago that Lucian gave an account of the manner wherein the inhabitants of the moon drank "air squeezed or compressed into a goblet" so that it formed a kind of dew. This clearly suggests liquid air.

The same writer in "Vera Historia" humorously and at some length describes an aerial ship the sails of which were inflated by a whirlwind, thus impelling it through space to the moon.—Harper's.

SYSTEMS IN GAMBLING.

Monte Carlo Just Smiles at Them and Keeps on Winning.

There are only two games played at Monte Carlo—roulette and a simple card game called trente et quarante. One is assured that these games are played quite fairly and that the percentage in favor of the bank is 61 to 60. Whatever it may be, this certain percentage in favor of the tables overcomes all systems that human ingenuity can work out by any law of averages. M. Blanc will permit you to play any way you like, and to double your bet as often as you like until it reaches 6,000 francs at roulette or 20,000 francs at trente et quarante. Then you must begin over again, for it is quite clear that if one were permitted to double indefinitely it would only be a question of time and sufficient money to put M. Blanc out of business.

Thus it happens that M. Blanc, who takes no chance, wins against all those who are permitted to take any sort of chance they like. Sir Hiram Maxim disposed of all systems when he shattered a popular delusion in these words: "If red has come up twenty times in succession it is just as likely to come up at the twenty-first time as it would be if it had not come up before for a week. Each particular coup is governed altogether by the physical conditions existing at that particular instant. The ball spins round a great many times in a groove. When its momentum is used up it comes in contact with several pieces of brass and finally tumbles into a pocket in the wheel which is rotating in an opposite direction. It is a pure and unadulterated question of chance, and it is not influenced in the least by anything that has ever taken place before or that will take place in the future."—Melville Davison Post in Saturday Evening Post.

Bringing Up a Dog.

A writer in Country Life in America gives some advice on the bringing up of a dog. As he tells it, the process looks easy enough. The first and most important lesson for a pup to learn is to stop anything he may be doing when you say "Stop" and to continue when you say "All right." If well learned this will explain to him all future commands. After this comes the lesson to lie down when you command "Down" and to stay down while you leave him. For this latter it is best to let him to something and then if he does not drop when you call "Down" from a distance return quickly and, scolding, push him down forcibly. A caress and a taste of food should be his reward if he does right.

Old Time School Hours.

In Scotland, up to the middle of the eighteenth century, the usual school hours were from 6 a. m. till 6 p. m., with two breaks of an hour each. Some schools opened an hour earlier and worked so long as daylight lasted. No alteration in the hours was made on Saturday, and even on Sunday a certain amount of school work was done. The holidays were restricted to a day at Candlemas and at Whitsun, and a fortnight in the autumn.

Good Time Coming.

"I tell you, Binks," said the millionaire, with great gusto, "talk about your fun! There's none to equal that of earning a million dollar by dollar." "By ginger," said little Binks, "what a lot of fun there is ahead of me!"—Harper's Weekly.
